

Health, Wellness, and Green Space

Get ready for NYC Public Schools next
Climate Action Day on Wednesday, April 17

Climate action and wellness are linked by a common goal:
healthy students and healthy school environments.

That's why on April 17th, the theme of Climate Action Day is "Health, Wellness, and Green Space."
Schools will plan activities to promote outdoor learning and play, and stewardship for open green spaces.

Join with students across NYC to keep our communities clean, green, and safe for future generations!
