Overview

The School for Global Leaders is a small middle school that opened in 2008. We are currently known for our outstanding work in Common Core Standards and service-learning. The school is partnered with Columbia University Teachers College Reading and Writing Project to provide rigorous and individualized reading and writing programs. Students have opportunities to research and become actively involved in addressing world problems that they care about. Global Leaders enthusiastically participate in Integrated Projects Week (IPW), in which students work with one another on service learning projects. Past projects have included a live puppet show about local poverty, a food drive benefiting City Harvest, a simulated Global Leaders News broadcast, online public service announcements, and the relighting of a community apartment building with energy efficient light bulbs. At the School for Global Leaders, learning and fun go hand in hand.

Overview

Our goal at the Dock Street School is to foster curiosity, independence, and problem solving in young people so that they are able to adapt to an ever changing and complex world. By providing a rigorous, nurturing, college preparatory education with a strong emphasis on science, technology, engineering, the arts and math (STEAM), we seek to prepare our students to be reflective, life-long learners. At Dock Street School, students will engage with an authentic STEAM curriculum and work closely with our partners (New York University-STEM Robotics, Brooklyn Bridge Conservancy, St. Ann's Warehouse) on hands-on collaborative projects both during the day and after school. Students will also have access to our state-of-the-art music and dance facilities and participate in a wide array of creative and visual arts programming including music and dance instruction. Through these enriched academic experiences, students will build upon their existing critical thinking skills and become decision makers who are able to act responsibly and compassionately toward their communities.

Overview

James P. Sinnott has a Magnet program focused on health and health professions. There is also a Wellness committee which focuses on a month by month health theme that is engrossed in the culture of the school. Students are able to participate in health-related internships/externships. We also have a Cohort of Dual Language Students, Honors Students, Dancers and Law Enforcement Explorers. Additionally, as participants in New York City's iTeach / iLearn program, students receive a laptop computer for daily use in each class and all classrooms are outfitted with SMART Boards. Parents are always invited to our school to help build culture and celebrate our students. We strive to achieve academic excellence, we provide our students with a stable, secure, and structured learning environment and the highest quality standards-based classroom instruction. A wide variety of support and intervention services like School Response Team are available. We proudly obtained the 21st Century Grant and are able to offer dance in our dance studio, karate in our dojo, and Brooklyn Ballers.
