Go Green!

In an effort to help create a cleaner and healthier New York City, please take only one copy of this Directory home with you. Find us online at www.goingforme.org

NEED A HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA?

If you are 15-21 years old and have fallen behind in credits, it's not too late to graduate. New York City has several schools and programs to help you get back on track to graduate and prepare you for life beyond high school, whether your next step is college, work, and/or a training program.

If staying in your current high school is no longer the best option for you, then use this directory to find additional options for you to earn a high school diploma or a high school equivalency diploma so that you can find your way onto college and a career path. Learn more at: <http://www.goingforme.org>

USING THE ADDITIONAL WAYS TO GRADUATE DIRECTORY

Schools and programs are listed alphabetically by borough. Each borough's section is marked with a color indicator at the top of the page. Note: the information listed in this directory is accurate at the time of publication but may be subject to change. For the most up-to-date information, contact the school or program directly.

Location

Every borough section starts a map marking the location of each school in that borough. You can find the best route from your home to a school by subway or bus on the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) website at www.mta.info or through www.hopstop.com.

School Name

Every borough section features an index on the reverse side of each map. Schools within a borough are listed from alphabetically, along with the corresponding page number. There is a full alphabetical index of all schools (in all five boroughs) on pages 105 of this directory.

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

If you reside in New York City, are under 21 years of age, and have not received a high school diploma:

- You have a right to attend school and receive a free public school education from kindergarten to age 21 or receipt of a high school diploma, whichever comes first, as provided by law; students who have been determined to be English Language Learners are entitled to bilingual education or English as a second language program as provided by law; students with disabilities who have been determined to be in need of special education are entitled to a free appropriate public education from age 3 until age 21, as provided by law
- You have the right to re-enroll in high school at any time, until the end of the school year in which you turn 21
- You have the right not to be involuntarily transferred to a non-diploma granting or part-time program
- You have the right to be provided with the Discipline Code and rules and regulations of the school
- You have the right to know what is appropriate behavior and what behaviors may result in disciplinary actions
- You have the right to due process of law in instances of disciplinary action for alleged violations of school regulations
- You have the right to know the procedures for appealing the actions and decisions of school officials with respect to your their rights and responsibilities
- For a complete description of your rights and the applicable procedures, please refer to Chancellor's Regulations A-240, A-443 and A-450
- You may not be barred from attending classes solely due to age (unless you are over 21 years old), lack of credits, poor grades, truancy, irregular attendance, or failure to pass Regents or RCT examinations
- If you are transferring to a high school equivalency program or another school, you have the right to attend your current school until registered or enrolled at the new school or program

Moreover, you have these rights even if you:

- voluntarily dropped out
- are currently enrolled in a high school equivalency program
- already have a high school equivalency diploma (also known as GED®) or IEP diploma
- were in an involuntary setting, such as a correctional facility or substance abuse program
- have been subject to discipline by your school
- were referred to alternative educational options, such as a high school equivalency or vocational program

Each school year officially begins on July 1. If you will turn 21 on or after July 1 and have not yet received a high school diploma, you are entitled to attend school until the end of that school year. If you are 17 years of age or younger and will turn 17 on or after July 1, you are legally required to remain in school full-time until the end of that school year, unless you have completed a high school or equivalency diploma¹. For Chancellor regulations, visit: <http://schools.nyc.gov/RulesPolicies/ChancellorsRegulations>

If you are having difficulty in school, you may be eligible to receive special instruction and/or services, which may include academic intervention services, student support services, guidance services and/or educationally related support services. Every student or parent has the right to request, at any time, an evaluation to determine whether a student needs special education services. Ask your guidance counselor how to request an evaluation or make a request for an evaluation by writing directly to the Committee on Special Education. For contact information on Committees on Special Education, visit: <http://schools.nyc.gov/Academics/SpecialEducation/>

¹ A District 75 student is eligible for summer school services if his/her 21st birthday occurs between July 1st through August 31. However, the District 75 student will not be eligible to continue school in September of the upcoming/next school year. A District 75 student whose 21st birthday occurs between September 1st and June 30th is eligible to attend school during that period but will not be eligible to receive summer school services during July/August of that year.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT OPTION

NEW YORK CITY HIGH SCHOOL ADMISSIONS PROCESS

Eligible students apply to New York City high schools through the high school admissions process. For general information, visit: <http://schools.nyc.gov/ChoicesEnrollment/>

TRANSFER HIGH SCHOOLS

Transfer Schools are small, academically rigorous, full-time high schools designed to re-engage students who are behind in high school or have dropped out. Students between the ages of 16 to 21 who have completed at least one year of high school, are eligible for Transfer Schools. Students attend full time during the day to earn a high school diploma. The number of credits required for entry varies by Transfer School, who determine admission criteria individually.

The essential elements of Transfer Schools include:

- a personalized learning environment
- rigorous academic standards
- student-centered pedagogy
- support to meet instructional and developmental goals
- focus on connections to college
- students graduate with a traditional high school diploma

YOUNG ADULT BOROUGH CENTERS (YABCs)

Young Adult Borough Centers are evening academic programs designed to meet the needs of high school students who might be considering dropping out because they are behind or because they have adult responsibilities that make attending school in the daytime difficult. Students between the ages of 17.5 and 21, who are in their fifth year of high school and have earned at least 17 credits, are eligible to attend a YABC. Students attend part time and in the evening to earn a high school diploma. Students graduate with a diploma from their home school after they have earned all of their credits and passed all of the required exams while attending the YABC. Students who are registered in a YABC program remain assigned, for all accountability measures, to their sending school. Attendance is strictly monitored and documented by the YABC program.

To be eligible, students should:

- Be enrolled in a New York City high school.
- Be at least in his or her fifth year of high school
- Have earned at least 17 credits toward high school graduation
- Have completed the school year in which he or she turns 17

ACCELERATED ACHIEVEMENT SCHOOLS

Accelerated Achievement Schools are small, academically rigorous, full-time high schools designed to meet the needs of first-time ninth graders who are entering high school over-age. Students who meet the admissions criteria for Accelerated Achievement schools must enroll through the high school admissions process. For more information on the high school admissions process, please visit: <http://schools.nyc.gov/ChoicesEnrollment/High/Admissions>.

LEARNING TO WORK (LTW)

Learning to Work is designed to enhance the academic component of select alternative high schools and YABCs. Department of Education (DOE) staff and a partnering community-based organization (CBO) operate them jointly, with staff located at the program site.

The goal of LTW is to help students overcome obstacles that have impeded their progress toward a high school diploma and to lead them toward rewarding employment and educational experiences after graduation.

Services are available on-site to all enrolled students and include: career exploration/development, individual and group counseling, academic support, subsidized internship placement, and college preparation and counseling.

A key aspect of LTW is the Primary Person Model, whereby each student is matched with an advisor who provides support in setting goals, assessing progress, and accessing special services. Students begin working with an advisor immediately upon entering the program and continue through all program phases and after graduation.

Principles of youth development philosophy inform all aspects of the LTW model. Youth development is an approach that emphasizes the strengths of young people instead of a simple disciplinary response to them. This perspective emphasizes providing young people with opportunities and support to enable them to grow, develop their skills, and become healthy, responsible, and caring youths and adults.

LTW is not a separate program from the additional high school and program options; rather, it is an integral component of the academic program at each participating site.

PATHWAYS TO GRADUATION (P2G)

Pathways to Graduation (P2G) is a District 79 program that prepares students, ages 18-21, to take the TASC™ exam (formerly known as the GED® test) and earn a high school equivalency diploma. The TASC™ exam has 5 sections and is 7 hours long. It is currently administered in English, Spanish, and Braille.

In addition to earning a high school equivalency diploma, P2G students are offered services to help them prepare to advance to college and career opportunities. College and Career Coaches help students plan for their futures, and the Workforce Development program offers professional training and paid internships. Classes are held in diverse settings, such as hospitals, non-profits, community centers, and high school buildings.

P2G has locations throughout the five boroughs and are offered to New York City residents at no cost to students. To enroll, students should visit a Referral Center for High School Alternatives. Find locations on page 104 of this directory. For additional information, visit Path2Grad.org.

REGISTERING FOR A SCHOOL OR PROGRAM

If you have questions or want help choosing a school or program, you can meet with a guidance counselor at your current school or contact a school or program directly for more information. You may also visit a Referral Center for High School Alternatives or a Family Welcome Center, where an experienced New York City public school counselor or social worker can provide additional assistance. Staff members at Referral Centers and Family Welcome Center are prepared to help you re-enroll in school.

Depending on the school/program option you are interested in, your next steps may vary:

OPTION	WHAT TO DO NEXT:
TRADITIONAL HIGH SCHOOL	Visit a Family Welcome Center to register for a traditional high school. See pages 103 for locations and contact information.
TRANSFER SCHOOL	Speak to your guidance counselor at your current school or contact a Transfer School directly to schedule an intake interview
YOUNG ADULT BOROUGH CENTER (YABC)	Meet a guidance counselor at your current high school to obtain the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • YABC Guidance Referral Form Y-1 • YABC Course Requirements Form Y-2 • A copy of your transcript • Your immunization records Complete the first two documents with a guidance counselor, and then bring all completed documents directly to the YABC that you want to attend. Eligible students who are not currently enrolled in high school must go to a Borough Enrollment Office to be enrolled in a high school. For questions, concerns, or to make an appointment, please contact the YABC AP Supervisor at the YABC site. YABC AP supervisors are generally available by telephone from 1:00pm-9:00pm.

HIGH SCHOOL EQUIVALENCY PROGRAM	Speak to your guidance counselor at your current school or visit a Referral Center to find a program near you

REFERRAL CENTERS FOR HIGH SCHOOL ALTERNATIVES

Located in every borough, Referral Centers for High School Alternatives help students navigate their educational options. Each referral center has guidance counselors and social workers who provide immediate support and guidance for students to determine and pursue their next steps. While Referral Center staff cannot directly enroll students Transfer School or YABCs, they can help narrow down the options. When the best option is a high school equivalency diploma (formerly GED®), Referral Center staff enroll students in Pathways to Graduation. Students under 21 can visit a Referral Center if he/she lives in New York City, doesn't have a high school diploma, and still wants to pursue a high school credential.

Referral Centers can help you:

- Learn about your rights as a NYC Department of Education student
- Plan to overcome any barriers that prevent you from coming to school
- Understand your high school transcript
- Explore all possible paths to a high school diploma or enroll in high school equivalency program
- Get referrals for childcare, social work and drug treatment

If you are 21 or older, visit <http://adulthoodnyc.org> for free educational services through the Office of Adult and Continuing Education (OACE).

Please bring a photo ID and your most recent transcript, if you have them. If you have a copy of your individualized education plan (IEP), please bring that too. If you don't have access to them, staff at the Referral Center can still help you. If you do not have a photo ID, ask the School Safety Agent at the entrance to call the Referral Center so that someone may accompany you to the center. Students can visit a Referral Center without a parent/guardian. Students who are 17 years old or younger will need parent/guardian consent to enroll in any alternative school or program.

FAMILY WELCOME CENTERS

(formerly known as Borough Enrollment Offices)

Family Welcome Centers staff members are available to address the enrollment needs of all New York City families with children in pre-kindergarten through high school, including students: new to the City, moving to the City soon, or whose assigned school presents a documented hardship (such as travel, safety, or medical hardship)

For more information on what to bring when you visit a Borough Enrollment Office, visit: <http://schools.nyc.gov/ChoicesEnrollment/NewStudents>

For Referral Center and Family Welcome Center locations, please see 103-104 in this directory.

Admission Information

Here you can learn about the various processes used to consider applicants for admission. Each Transfer School determines admissions criteria individually.

SPECIAL EDUCATION SERVICES

Students with disabilities may apply to any high school, program, or high school equivalency program listed in this directory. These students should follow the same steps outlined in this directory as their non-disabled peers in order to participate in the admission process for a school or program. Once a student is accepted to a high school, the school will implement the student's Individualized Education Program (IEP). The IEP team at the school will welcome the student and family, and together will review the IEP to ensure that all of the student's needs are met. In some cases, the IEP team may convene to refine the IEP to better meet student needs. High school students receiving Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) or Special Class (SC) services do not necessarily attend classes as a cohort. Each student will have individualized services in accordance with his/her IEP, and may have combinations of these services for all or part of the day, as appropriate. For more information, visit www.nyc.gov/schools/Academics/SpecialEducation.

SITE ACCESSIBILITY

The New York City Department of Education (DOE) is committed to ensuring that its programs, services, and activities are accessible to students with disabilities, including students with mobility impairments or other physical disabilities, in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Our school buildings cover several levels of accessibility. The DOE continually reviews its schools to determine which schools are functionally accessible. Each school or program in this directory indicates the Site Accessibility status. There may be multiple school programs within a school building. This Directory lists whether a school is functionally accessible or not functionally accessible.

Functionally accessible schools are schools in which an individual with a disability may enter and access all relevant programs and spaces in the building, including science laboratories, library, cafeteria, auditorium, and the gymnasium. In some cases school classes or activities may be relocated to accommodate access. At least one restroom is accessible.

Schools that are not functionally accessible cannot provide access to all relevant programs and spaces within a building.

If you have specific questions about site accessibility, you should contact the school for more information. Some schools are located in partially accessible buildings that do not provide access to all relevant spaces and services in a school. For example, these schools may be in partially accessible buildings and may or may not have an elevator ramp, but may be able to meet limited mobility needs.

For additional information regarding the accessibility status of new schools, please contact the school directly or contact the DOE's Office of Space Planning at SpacePlanning@schools.nyc.gov. For more information about accessibility in New York City public schools, look up the List of Accessible Schools at www.nyc.gov/schools/Offices/OSP/Accessibility.htm.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNERS

English Language Learners (ELLs) may apply to any of the programs listed in this Directory as all New York City Department of Education schools provide a range of supports and services for ELL students to develop their English proficiency and prepare them for success in school, college, and/or careers.

There are three different ELL service delivery models offered in New York City public high schools:

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE (ESL)

Freestanding English as a Second Language programs provide all language arts and other subject area instruction in English through the use of specific instructional strategies focused upon developing English proficiency. ESL programs may vary; some schools may offer stand-alone ESL classes while others may incorporate ESL instruction into subject area classes. Support in the native language may also be available with these programs.

TRANSITIONAL BILINGUAL EDUCATION (TBE)

Transitional Bilingual Education programs include language arts and subject matter instruction in the students' native language and English as well as intensive instruction in English as a Second Language. As the student develops English proficiency using the strengthened knowledge and academic skills acquired in the native language, instruction in English increases and native language instruction decreases.

DUAL LANGUAGE (DL)

Dual Language programs are designed to integrate English Language Learners with English-proficient students to receive content instruction in English and a target language. The goal of the Dual language program is to ensure that students graduate bilingual, biliterate, and bicultural. Ultimately, they graduate with a seal of biliteracy.

For the most up-to-date information regarding ELL services at a school, please contact schools directly. For more information about services and supports for English Language Learners (ELLs), call 212-374-6072 or visit the Office of English Language Learners website: www.nyc.gov/schools/Academics/ELL

SERVICES FOR STUDENT PARENTS

If you are pregnant or have children, you have the right to stay at your school. You are legally required to attend school through the end of the school year in which you turn 17 years old.

Living for the Young Family through Education (LYFE) is a program that provides free childcare to children of student parents enrolled in New York City Department of Education schools. Certified teachers and caregivers at each LYFE childcare site provides safe, nurturing, and meaningful early childhood learning experiences for infants and toddlers—and help their parents do the same at home. Licensed social workers facilitate weekly individual and group sessions to connect student parents to quality referral services. Staff also collaborates with school/community partners to ensure that student parents stay on track toward graduation while successfully transitioning into parenthood.

Run by the New York City Department of Education’s District 79, the LYFE program makes it possible for student parents to stay on track toward graduating from high school (or completing a high school equivalency diploma) by providing consistent, high-quality childcare, academic guidance, and social advocacy services.

To enroll in LYFE, you must:

- Be enrolled in a New York City Department of Education school or program (including high school equivalency programs at Pathways to Graduation sites). Staff can confirm whether or are a New York City public school student.
- Have a child between the ages of 8 weeks to 3 years. (Your child must be at least 8 weeks old and have all age-appropriate immunizations to be enrolled. Your child can remain enrolled in the LYFE program until the end of the school year in which s/he turns three years old.)

To enroll in LYFE you will need:

- Your child’s birth certificate
- Your birth certificate
- A current Child & Adolescent Medical Examination form for your child
- A Current record of your child’s immunizations
- Your OSIS number

In some cases, your child can go to the LYFE childcare center while your paperwork is sorted out.

You can enroll your child in any LYFE site. You do not have to attend the same school as the LYFE site in which you wish to enroll your child. To find a LYFE location nearest you:

- Visit the LYFE locations map online at <http://lyfenyc.org/>
- Contact the LYFE Central Office at 212-609-8520
- Call a Referral Center in your borough and say you have a question about LYFE
- Go to the “LYFE Program Site Directory” at the end of each borough’s section in this directory
- Ask a staff member at your current school

To find out more information about how to enroll in LYFE, visit: <http://lyfenyc.org/>

SCHOOL PERFORMANCE

The New York City Department of Education collects information about school practices and student outcomes, which can help identify each school's strengths and areas for improvement. This Directory contains some of this information, which is listed on school pages and explained in more detail below. If you have any questions about school performance information, please speak to your school's guidance counselor or visit schools.nyc.gov/Accountability.

NEW YORK STATE ACCOUNTABILITY

The New York State Education Department (NYSED) determines the accountability status of schools based on its own set of measures. For more information about New York State Accountability, visit the NYSED website: <http://data.nysed.gov/>

PLANNING FOR COLLEGE AND CAREERS

Your Decisions Matter: Plan Your Path to Career & Life Success

Your responses will help you as you consider your school or program choices.

PLANNING FOR COLLEGE AND CAREERS

Checklist: Informing Your School / Program Choice

As you review this Directory, look for schools that will prepare you for success in college and other postsecondary opportunities.

Use the checklist below to consider whether each school or program will:

- Provide the opportunity for me to:

- Take classes that match my interests.
- Engage in coursework and activities that build on my strengths and support my academic, career, and social/personal development.
- Incorporate technology into my learning experiences.
- Take challenging courses that will prepare me for college. (Challenging coursework includes advanced placement classes, four years of math, four years of science, and meaningful electives.)

Easy classes will NOT help me prepare for the challenging coursework required in college and the knowledge and skills needed in other postsecondary opportunities and the world of work.

- Assist me to become a lifelong learner by encouraging me to:

- Develop good study habits.
- Manage my time effectively to complete all assignments successfully and on time.
- Learn when and how to ask for help, including asking teachers questions during and outside class.

- Encourage me to participate in meaningful after-school and extracurricular activities, clubs, sports, internships or job opportunities, and mentorships that match my interests and help me develop my ability to work with others, manage responsibility, and lead others.

- Provide access to a guidance and advisory program with dedicated guidance and college counselors and other staff who will work closely with me each year of high school to build a successful plan for life after high school, as they help me:

- Learn all about the requirements needed to graduate from high school and the requirements that I will need to stay on track to success in college and the career of my choice.
- Further explore my interests and strengths; learn about college and career opportunities; and to learn all about the college application and financial aid process.
- Develop a career portfolio by assisting me with career and college exploration tools such as CareerZone at www.nycareerzone.org.

- Provide opportunities for college campus visits in and outside of New York City each year; take campus tours and ask current college students questions about their postsecondary experiences.

- Encourage me to ask adults questions about planning for after graduation by:

- Talking to my parents/caregivers, mentors, and teachers about my plans for after graduation.
- Finding people who have my dream job or study at my dream college and asking them for advice and tips on how they achieved their own success.

- Encourage the meaningful participation of my parents/caregivers on my path to success in high school and beyond.

Think Ahead!

Overview

ELLIS Preparatory Academy serves a 16 to 21-year old newly arrived immigrant English language learner student body, many of whom have interrupted or otherwise limited formal educations. In addition to meeting New York State Regents exam requirements, ELLIS students prepare and present two academic portfolios each year and participate in internships for three years. As an extended-year school, the ELLIS school year lasts from September through July. Enrichment opportunities are available through taking CUNY College Now courses. In the summer, highly motivated students can participate in College Now institutes and scientific research internships at area universities. College is clearly articulated as the goal for ELLIS students, and over 50% of the inaugural class of 2012 was accepted to four-year colleges.

Overview

In partnership with Good Shepherd Services, the YABC at DeWitt Clinton High School focuses on the needs of students who are over-age and under-credited. Our goal is to provide a nurturing, engaging and safe academic and social environment that promotes learning so that students can , earn their high school diploma, and gain the skills necessary to become functioning members of society. In keeping with this goal we design rigorous standard-based and student-centered curriculum that will keep students engaged in school and attending classes regularly . Additionally, we maximize the chances for students’ success by creating partnerships. Each student is assigned both an academic and advocate counselor who work together to mentor students, monitor their progress , and develop strong relationships with the students’ families.

Community-Based Organization Services All students are eligible to receive: individual & group counseling, career exploration (including resume preparation & job readiness workshops), paid internships, outside agency referrals, postsecondary planning , SAT prep, college & technical training program exploration, college planning & exploration (including college visits/tours, as well as support with financial aid & college applications), community-building trips/activities, overnight leadership retreats.

High School Equivalency Programs

Bronx Pathways to Graduation/Referral Center at Bronx Regional High School

To enroll in Pathways to Graduation (formerly known as GED® Plus), students must first visit a Referral Center for High School Alternatives. At the Referral Center, students will meet with a Referral Counselor one-on-one, receive an overview of their options, and discuss their academic history, future goals, and additional supports needed. When appropriate,

Referral Counselors will enroll students in Pathways to Graduation.

Referral Centers for High School Alternatives provide advice on high school alternatives, help students enroll in High School Equivalency programs, when appropriate, and connect students to related support (such as childcare, counseling and drug treatment). You should go to a Referral Center if you are under 21 years old, live in New York City, don't have a high school diploma, but want to continue your education and need additional support to reconnect with school. Referral Centers can help you:

- Learn about your rights as a NYC Department of Education student
- Plan to overcome any barriers that prevent you from coming to school
- Understand your high school transcript
- Explore all possible paths to a high school diploma or enroll in a High School Equivalency program
- Get referrals for services like childcare, social work, and drug treatment

Overview

Pathways to Graduation prepares students to earn their High School Equivalency Diploma (formerly known as a GED®) and pursue college and/or a career. Students 18-21 years old can choose to participate in a full-time or part-time program. Students who are 17 years old may only enroll with parent or guardian permission. Final determinations are made on a case-by-case basis. The Bronx has one Pathways to Graduation Hub with multiple satellite locations.

Enrollment & Admissions Information

To enroll in high school equivalency programs, students must:

- Be 18-21 years old (or 17 years old with extenuating circumstances, parental/guardian consent, and administrator approval)

Overview

The Downtown Brooklyn YABC approaches learning in many ways. We understand that each student has different strengths and areas for development and we use different approaches – from group work and lecturing to the use of SMART Board technology and hands-on learning – as ways to help our students retain and remember what is being taught in each class. The Department of Education works in conjunction with Good Shepherd Services to ensure that every student gets as much support as they need at the Downtown Brooklyn YABC. Each student is treated as an individual and has several people advocating for them: from their advocate counselors and guidance counselors to the Dean of Students, the Assistant Principal, Program Director and the rest of the faculty. Speciality classes include Culinary Arts, Physics, and Marine Biology

Overview

We are a program whose mission is to encourage young people to earn their high school diploma using different methods of instruction in a social environment that facilitates lifelong learning and self-sufficiency. We work every day, in partnership with CAMBA, to make certain that our students’ educational experience is a positive one. Many of their strengths have gone under-recognized and underutilized. Therefore our goal is to enhance their personal competencies through social skill building and character development. Our students have the courage to walk into our program after facing failure elsewhere, and we are there to empower them to succeed.

Community-Based Organization Services All students are eligible to receive: a primary person, an individualized service plan & goals interview, attendance outreach, individualized & group counseling, postsecondary planning, college & career exploration (including college fairs, college visits & career goal-setting), paid internships, resume development & writing, mock interviews, weekly job readiness workshops & seminars

Brooklyn Pathways to Graduation Referral Centers

Pathways to Graduation

Preparing for high school equivalency and beyond

To enrol in Pathways to Graduation (formerly known as GED® Plus), students must first visit a Referral Center for High School Alternatives. At the Referral Center, students will meet with a Referral Counselor one-on-one, receive an overview of their options, and discuss their academic history, future goals, and additional supports needed. When appropriate,

Referral Counselors will enroll students in Pathways to Graduation.

Referral Centers for High School Alternatives provide advice on high school alternatives, help students enroll in High School Equivalency programs, when appropriate, and connect students to related support (such as childcare, counseling and drug treatment). You should go to a Referral Center if you are under 21 years old, live in New York City, don't have a high school diploma, but want to continue your education and need additional support to reconnect with school. Referral Centers can help you:

- Learn about your rights as a NYC Department of Education student
- Plan to overcome any barriers that prevent you from coming to school
- Understand your high school transcript
- Explore all possible paths to a high school diploma or enroll in a High School Equivalency program
- Get referrals for services like childcare, social work, and drug treatment

Enrollment & Admission Information

To enroll in High School Equivalency programs, students must:

- Be 18-21 years old (or 17 years old with extenuating circumstances, parental/guardian consent, and administrator approval)
- Visit a Referral Center for High School Alternatives for intake

Overview

Pathways to Graduation prepares students to earn their High School Equivalency Diploma (formerly known as a GED®) and pursue college and/or career. Students 18-21 years old can choose to participate in a full-time or part-time program. Students who are 17 years old may only enroll with parent or guardian permission. Final determinations are made on a case-by-case basis. Brooklyn has two Referral Centers with multiple satellite locations.

Overview

Edward A. Reynolds West Side High School is dedicated to developing economically self-sufficient, socially-conscious, critical-thinking citizens. We strongly believe that every student is capable of achieving success in a nurturing environment that respects individual effort and achievement. We provide an atmosphere which features small class sizes, a supportive “family group” and opportunities for student internships and parental involvement. West Side High School provides an environment that serves students who have been turned away or turned off by other schools. We expect all of our students to be ready for college upon graduation. Since 2012, our school received national recognition for healthy eating and physical activity programs and policies that meet or exceed standards set by the Alliance for a Healthier Generation’s Healthy Schools Program.

Overview

Forsyth Satellite Academy gives young adults who have been unsuccessful in traditional high schools the opportunity to earn their high school diploma in a smaller, student-centered environment. We are a diverse community of learners and believe in the power of knowledge, words, art, relationships and non-violence. We nurture self-determination, hope and confidence in our students. Our classes are designed to re-awaken students’ love of learning and foster a sense of community. Our curriculum encourages students to make connections between academics and their experiences outside of school. We firmly believe that education is liberation. As a Performance Based Assessment school, students must take and pass the English Regents and present portfolios in Global Studies, US History, Math, and Science to meet graduation requirements. Forsyth Satellite Academy is a school where growth and effort lead to achievement and success.

Overview

We offer a personalized, interdisciplinary education to a diverse student body. We emphasize core values, participatory democracy, inquiry-based learning, performance-based assessment, and community service. As part of our mission and commitment to diversity, we serve transfer students who are seeking an alternative to their current educational setting. The James Baldwin School is partnered with the Coalition of Essential Schools and Expeditionary Learning Outward Bound, whose school design principles shape and support our academic program and community values. All new students go on an Outward Bound camping trip that builds trust and community bonds. Each student has a personal advisor for support and an advisory group called Crew. There are weekly Town Meetings and our schedule has longer classes to allow in-depth learning. Our students present performance-based assessment tasks to graduate. Our college program includes classes at New York City colleges, trips, and assistance with financial aid and applications. Our core values are Respect for Humanity, Intellect, Diversity, Truth and a Commitment to Peace, Justice and Democracy.

Overview

Satellite Academy is transfer high school devoted to transforming young minds and lives through education. We are located in the heart of midtown Manhattan. Our school is dedicated to providing students who are at least 16 years old with an opportunity to earn their high school diploma in a smaller, student-centered learning community. Our mission is to help students improve their attendance, become active learners and graduate with full capability for future success. We accept Regents Exams from other schools, but only offer Performance Based Assessment Tasks (PBATs) at our school. These PBATs count the same way as Regents Exams do towards a high school diploma, we just think it is a better way to demonstrate knowledge in a subject. We have partnerships with various organizations where students have access to fitness activities.

Programs Senior seminar, New Student Orientation Semester, Advisory Group, Interdisciplinary Courses, Fitness Activities Off-Campus, Conflict Resolution, Portfolio & Performance-Based Assessment, Dance Classes, Internships, Student Leadership

Partnerships Morningside Center for Teaching Social Responsibility, New York University, Columbia University, Teachers College, Queens College, The Art of Stepping, Arts Connection, Irondale, Manhattan Theater Club, Basketball City, Planet Fitness, Ramapo for Children, & AMC Theaters.

Overview

The Urban Academy High School offers a small, personalized educational setting for students interested in a challenging, college-oriented curriculum. Students explore and discuss ideas, conduct research, debate and evaluate information. Inquiry-based classes, community service internships, field trips, and the opportunity to take classes from selected colleges are central to the school's program. The school uses performance-based assessment to graduate its students. Students need to be able to function in an educational environment that emphasizes independent work and research and need to articulate a commitment to participate in the educational culture of the school.

NOTES

MANHATTAN

High School Equivalency Programs

To enroll in Pathways to Graduation (formerly known as GED® Plus), students must first visit a Referral Center for High School Alternatives. At the Referral Center, students will meet with a Referral Counselor one-on-one, receive an overview of their options, and discuss their academic history, future goals, and additional supports needed. When appropriate,

Referral Counselors will enroll students in Pathways to Graduation.

Referral Centers for High School Alternatives provide advice on high school alternatives, help students enroll in High School Equivalency programs, when appropriate, and connect students to related support (such as childcare, counseling and drug treatment). You should go to a Referral Center if you are under 21 years old, live in New York City, don't have a high school diploma, but want to continue your education and need additional support to reconnect with school. Referral Centers can help you:

- Learn about your rights as a NYC Department of Education student
- Plan to overcome any barriers that prevent you from coming to school
- Understand your high school transcript
- Explore all possible paths to a high school diploma or enroll in a High School Equivalency program
- Get referrals for services like childcare, social work, and drug treatment

Overview

North Queens Community High School (NQCHS) is a small transfer school designed for young people who, after initial enrollment in 9th grade at a high school within the Queens community, have been truant or dropped out of school. Jointly operated by the New York City Department of Education and SCO Family of Services. NQCHS is designed to provide intensive support and services to students to ensure continued attendance in school. Each student is assigned an Advocate Counselor throughout their time at the school. Each counselor works with no more than 25 students. The school is ungraded and committed to heterogeneous grouping that integrates a challenging, standards-based instructional model with the best practices in youth development. With an accelerated credit program, students will have the opportunity to earn additional credits. Our students will participate in employment readiness and skills development programs.

Overview

The staff at VOYAGES South (Viable Option for Young Adults to Grow, Excel, and Succeed) understands and appreciates that the traditional high school is not right for everyone. As such, we have created a small transfer school to serve as an option for students to continue in the pursuit of their educational goals. Our school serves students who are over-aged and under-credited and have been unsuccessful in their previous high schools. VOYAGES South will build upon the unique talents and strengths of each student and provide every student the support needed to maximize their individual academic, emotional and social potentials. Our students will leave us with the knowledge and skills necessary to secure a successful and satisfying post-secondary education and career.

The Learning to Work (LTW) program assists students in overcoming obstacles that impede their progress toward a high school diploma. LTW offers academic and student support, career and educational exploration, work preparation, skills development, and internships that prepare students for rewarding employment and educational experiences after graduation. These LTW supports are provided by a community-based organization (CBO) partner.

The LTW partner for VOYAGES Preparatory is Queens Community House.

Overview

The staff at VOYAGES (Viable Option for Young Adults to Grow, Excel and Succeed) understands and appreciates that the traditional high school is not right for everyone. As such, we have created a small transfer school in partnership with Queens Community House to serve as a Viable Option for Young Adults to Grow, Excel and Succeed. VOYAGES will build upon the unique talents and strengths of each student and provide every student the support needed to maximize their individual academic, emotional and social potentials. Our students will leave us with the knowledge and skills necessary to secure a successful and satisfying postsecondary education and career.

High School Equivalency Programs

Pathways to Graduation

Preparing for high school equivalency and beyond

To enroll in Pathways to Graduation (formerly known as GED® Plus), students must first visit a Referral Center for High School Alternatives. At the Referral Center, students will meet with a Referral Counselor one-on-one, receive an overview of their options, and discuss their academic history, future goals, and additional supports needed. When appropriate,

Referral Counselors will enroll students in Pathways to Graduation.

Referral Centers for High School Alternatives provide advice on high school alternatives, help students enroll in High School Equivalency programs, when appropriate, and connect students to related support (such as childcare, counseling and drug treatment). You should go to a Referral Center if you are under 21 years old, live in New York City, don't have a high school diploma, but want to continue your education and need additional support to reconnect with school. Referral Centers can help you:

- Learn about your rights as a NYC Department of Education student
- Plan to overcome any barriers that prevent you from coming to school
- Understand your high school transcript
- Explore all possible paths to a high school diploma or enroll in a High School Equivalency program
- Get referrals for services like childcare, social work, and drug treatment
