Overview

The mission of A. Philip Randolph Campus High School (APRCHS) is to provide the highest quality education to students in order to provide them with the skills and experiences necessary to prepare them to succeed in our nation’s top competitive colleges and universities. APRCHS provides its students with the opportunity to pursue academic excellence by participating in advanced courses of study in our medical, engineering and humanities academies. Students in the academies are expected to complete rigorous coursework in their respective fields that will better prepare them for their collegiate experiences in these areas. Students who distinguish themselves in their coursework have the opportunity to enroll in free college courses through The City College of New York (CCNY) and Touro Colleges, participate in special programs such as the Gateway Pre-med Honor Society and apply for internships. APRCHS offers a wide range of extracurricular and athletic activities to broaden and engage our students outside of the classroom. Our after-school activities range from activities such as musical and arts productions to exciting Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) activities such as the FIRST Robotics Competition.

Overview

Central Park East High School (CPEHS) encourages students to work together for the good of the community. This spirit of unity is reflected in the peer tutoring and leader programs CPEHS offers students to help them with their Advanced Placement, Honors and regular academic classes. Students prepare for Regents and the SAT through a rigorous curriculum, after-school tutoring and weekend preparation programs. Community service opportunities include volunteering in soup kitchens, helping out at the ING marathon and assisting the elderly. College application processes are carefully overseen by our college counselor. Students' accomplishments are rewarded with multiple trips, school events and honors.

Overview

We provide a small school setting in which students learn about health-related issues facing our community. Our goal is that each student will understand and internalize the physical, emotional and academic qualities of health that are developmentally appropriate to his or her age. We prepare our graduates for careers in health care through our use of a health-themed curriculum and mentoring programs with health professionals supported by community partnerships. These opportunities promote awareness of healthy lifestyles and ensure that our students become agents of change in the community.

Overview

We are a small 6-12 secondary school that prepares all students for college and careers. We set high standards and work with all of our students to help them meet these standards. With no more than 25 students per class, teachers are able to provide personal attention in a respectful environment. Our staff makes sure that we know every student well. We assess our students by challenging them to use what they have learned in creative ways to complete interesting projects. Students, staff, families and community members all see themselves as part of a team whose main goal is the success of every individual student.

Overview

Essex Street Academy prepares all students for success in college and careers by treating them as individuals with specific strengths and needs and appealing to their intellectual curiosity. We offer elective courses that challenge students to develop their own ideas and push them to learn by doing. Students design and conduct experiments, develop historical theses, analyze works of literature and develop solutions and proofs for mathematical problems. Small class size makes a personalized approach to education possible, enabling teachers to develop an individual relationship with each student. At Essex Street Academy, our students are active, not passive, learners and graduate from our school confident in their ability to tackle any problem they encounter.

Overview

At FHS, we graduate lifelong learners who are leaders in their communities. We are a small school with teachers who care deeply for our students and work their hardest to nurture them for the opportunities that await them after graduation. Since a college degree is an essential ingredient for success, we prepare our students academically, socially and emotionally to meet the demands of the world through project based learning, art integration with studio classes, a College 101 course and a four year Advisory program. We foster a college-going culture and provide a great deal of support to our students for college and career readiness. In choosing FHS, you are choosing to join a dynamic learning community, to think deeply about yesterday, today and tomorrow, and to envision how to make a positive difference in the world.

Overview

We enjoy an international reputation as the first and foremost high school dedicated to nurturing students gifted in the arts. Our mission is to provide an opportunity for students to pursue both a rigorous conservatory-style training and a challenging academic program. Our building features world-class facilities including a concert hall; art, dance, music, recording and theater studios, science and computer labs, and an art gallery. Almost all of our graduates continue their studies, gaining admission to highly selective schools. Our graduates have distinguished themselves in virtually every field, including the arts and sciences, medicine, law, business, education and public service.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Students have a daily program that includes both a multi-period conservatory studio block and a full college preparatory academic course load. The studio majors are: Dance, Drama, Fine Arts, Instrumental Music, Technical Theater and Vocal Music. Each studio has a four-year sequence of courses and opportunities for students to participate in performances and exhibitions. Students completing the applicable NYC Studio Comprehensive exam receive a special endorsement on their diploma. Honors courses are offered in all academic areas starting in the freshman year, leading to a full complement of Advanced Placement courses.

Overview

We offer an academically challenging Career and Technical Education program focusing on the culinary arts and finance. Since we believe that food is fundamental to personal, social, economic and ecological health, the themes of food and finance are integrated into our curriculum and school environment. Cornell University, our lead partner, brings expertise in science, sustainable food production, nutrition and other topics. Students develop critical thinking skills while engaged in projects, portfolio development, internships and entrepreneurial ventures. In addition to the state diploma requirements, students are expected to take a series of industry-recognized certification examinations.

Overview

The Harvest Collegiate School offers a rich and challenging intellectual education that engages students in the natural process of experience, questioning, the pursuit of precision and reflection—how people really learn. We believe in cultivating students' power to produce and reflect, rather than simply consume, as a fundamental way of being in the world. We aspire to being and contributing creatively to a 'sane society,' one of peace, growth and joy. We believe all young people flourish in conditions that challenge and support. We prepare students for success in college and for participatory leadership that promotes values of active responsibility for mankind and our world.

Overview

Henry Street School for International Studies is a unique small school founded by the Asia Society. While in pursuit of knowledge about other world regions, including their histories, economies and world languages, students acquire the knowledge and skills needed to prepare for college and/or careers. Teachers and other adults who make up the learning community forge supportive relationships with students and parents while providing challenging and engaging learning experiences. Our school partners with various community, arts and business organizations to help students achieve success. Our theme of international studies extends beyond the classroom, where students participate in ongoing 'Advisory Day Out' excursions where the multiculturalism of NYC becomes the classroom.

Overview

The High School for Arts, Imagination and Inquiry is a learning community in which deep engagement with works of art integrated across the curriculum enhances the intellectual rigor expected of all students. This work is based on the philosophy of Maxine Greene, Philosopher-in-Residence at Lincoln Center Education (LCE) and the exploration of the LCE Capacities for Imaginative Learning which comprise our academic language used to support student success. Through our Restorative Practices, we work to foster the sense of self-worth, empathy and agency necessary for students to become participatory citizens who will create a more just, humane and vibrant world.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Arts and Inquiry-based instruction is integrated across the curriculum; Instruction for the arts integration units is collaboratively planned and taught with Teaching Artists from Lincoln Center; Upper grade students are eligible for internship opportunities at Lincoln Center; Tuition-free college courses are offered on-campus through John Jay College of Criminal Justice, The City University of New York (CUNY) and College Now programs

Overview

At the High School for Dual Language and Asian Studies, Chinese (Mandarin) speaking English Language Learners and English proficient students can learn both languages while preparing for college and careers. The school has a challenging curriculum that includes enriched math and science courses and opportunities to participate in a variety of Advanced Placement (AP) classes by junior year. Asia-related topics are woven into the academic curriculum in all the subject areas. Dual Language students are expected to exceed city and state standards and demonstrate positive cross-cultural behavior while achieving skills that are needed for today's global market. English proficient and English Language Learners are integrated during instructional times and there is instruction in both languages. All students are expected to comprehend, speak, read and write in English and Chinese by the time they graduate.

Overview

The mission of the High School for Environmental Studies (HSES) is to reach high standards of excellence by providing a unique, challenging curriculum. We combine environmentally-infused courses with applied-learning experiences and hands-on programs that incorporate the rich diversity of New York City. It is the further mission of our school for families, students, administration and staff to collaborate to identify issues, define goals, formulate policies and implement activities. Our Environmental Seminar provides all freshmen with individualized attention and helps students to develop their skills in an environment that fosters risk-taking and independent growth. Everyone in the HSES community is committed to excel, as all learners are challenged, motivated and provided with an open avenue of communication.

Overview

We believe that education is not a solitary endeavor; students and teachers must be active learners. We strive for excellence through a challenging, innovative, student-centered curriculum where students develop analytical skills to become critical, independent thinkers and lifelong learners. Students gain knowledge about the public sector, law and their ability to make positive changes in the community. Parents, caregivers and staff work together to provide students with opportunities to become invested in their communities through service learning, internships, mentoring programs and partnerships. Their experiences allow them to apply their academic knowledge to real-life settings.

Overview

High School for Mathematics, Science and Engineering at City College (HSMSE) is a specialized high school combining a rigorous program in science, technology, engineering and mathematics with an ambitious humanities curriculum. Our goal is to teach social, technological and analytic skills in order to facilitate the development of the next generation of leaders. Our collaborative approach to education fosters a supportive community which raises the performance level of each individual. In our labs and classrooms, students learn by doing. Skilled and committed faculty teach with rigor and passion for their subjects. Housed in a dedicated building on The City College of New York campus, HSMSE gives students an early taste of college life as they eat in the college cafeteria and study in the college library. Newly-built science and engineering labs offer up-to-date equipment, and all classrooms have internet access and computers or laptop carts. Students are drawn from all five boroughs of NYC and hail from diverse ethnic backgrounds. When students graduate, they are prepared for college and for life beyond by HSMSE's in-depth approach to learning. New York State Regents exams, while required, are viewed as minimal competencies which our students are expected to master. Our curriculum exceeds the state standards in every way.

Overview

The Lower Manhattan Arts Academy (LoMA) is a small, multicultural school where the focus is on academic excellence through the arts. Every aspect of LoMA's design, structure and practice supports each student's intellectual, emotional and cultural growth with the ultimate goal of seeing that he or she succeeds in a four-year college or career. As an arts school, LoMA integrates visual and performance elements into the curriculum through three approaches. Students have the opportunity to work with artists during academic classes to create high quality, standards-based performances of learning. Our school has partnerships with many Lower East Side arts organizations so that every student takes part in an Extended Day Program at least twice a week. We are an intimate, nurturing school with a large number of adults watching over and taking care of our students.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Twelve-hour-per-week internships for all seniors; Artists-in-residence in many classes; Project-based learning in academic classes; Daily Advisory classes, Daily reading period, College classes at New York University (NYU) and John Jay College, Extensive after-school tutoring, Museum visits, Free performances at cultural institutions, About 40 school trips a year; After completing a 9th grade rotation of all of the arts, students select a major in art, music, dance or drama: priority in selection is given based on attendance and timeliness

Language Classes: Spanish

Advanced Placement Classes: Calculus AB, Physics B

Online Advanced Placement Classes: English Language and Composition, Spanish Language and Culture

Extracurricular Activities and Clubs

Overview

The Clinton School believes that students who are prepared for college must have an education that encourages them to take risks as they produce and perform. Our college preparatory curriculum relies on our expertise in developing writers and building a tight-knit community. As we evolve and grow, Clinton remains committed to developing students who can think analytically and write creatively in a wide range of genres. Our arts programming builds on our 25 years of experience in visual and performing arts on a middle school level. We are also deepening our existing partnerships with City Center, Theater for a New Audience, Dancing Classrooms and the Associated Press, and taking advantage of our proximity to new cultural partners. Our academic core is based on the International Baccalaureate Diploma Program. The IB Diploma is a good fit for our diverse community, and for the creative, confident, thoughtful and self-motivated learners that have always been successful at Clinton. Beyond the IB, we offer opportunities to take college courses at neighboring universities.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: International Baccalaureate Diploma Program and corresponding exams at the end of 12th grade, Free college courses at neighboring universities, International Travel, Special Arts Programs, Music, Internships, College Mentoring

Overview

Our mission is to provide a high-quality education for all levels of English Language Learners (ELLs) by integrating the arts and academics. We strive to expand our students’ cultural horizons while maintaining an intensive academic curriculum. By studying the arts, students become active participants in their own education and therefore have a better understanding of academic lessons and how to apply them outside the classroom. Our students graduate with strong academic skills that lead to success in their post-secondary education and career path.

Overview

Manhattan Center for Science and Mathematics is a traditional, college preparatory high school. Our school is proud to provide students with challenging curricula in a close-knit environment. Course offerings and high standards enable students to competitively apply to the nation’s most selective colleges and universities. Our teachers know our students individually, providing each one with personalized attention and guidance. Student programs focus on four years of science and math with a broad base of liberal arts. Most students take Advanced Placement courses beginning in grade 10. Many students take college courses through the College Now program while in high school. In collaboration with major universities, we provide our students with the opportunity to study abroad in Singapore, Vietnam, the Netherlands and China. In school and abroad, our students participate in scientific research with university mentors, some of which research has resulted in publication.

Overview

Our school was founded in September 2004 with the help of Replications, Inc., a non-profit organization dedicated to the creation of new, small, successful schools. Our school is based on the same concepts of the nationally renowned Mott Hall Middle Schools. Utilizing a challenging curriculum, our emphasis is on academics, college and career preparation. Students use laptops and engage in cutting edge technology in the classroom as active participants, sharing their learning and education. Experiential, hands-on learning is an important part of the school's curriculum. We are committed to helping students develop into leaders, independent thinkers and enthusiastic lifelong learners.

Overview

The mission of Murry Bergtraum (MBHS) is to equip our students with the skills needed to obtain entrance into post-secondary institutions and the knowledge needed to be self-sustaining once they gain admission. The focus of our Ninth Grade Academy is to provide academic support in a small nurturing environment which will provide students with the skills and resources needed to graduate from high school in four years. The Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) program is an integral component of our Ninth Grade Academy. As students progress, internships and mentoring opportunities support our academic goals with real-world experiences as we work to develop tomorrow's leaders. The Syracuse University Project Advance Academy (SUPA), a STEM program, emphasizes analytical and critical thinking skills through an early reinforcement of college learning strategies for our students across a rigorous curriculum. The academic advancement of our students is supported by relationships established with our corporate and academic partners, which are at the foundation of our program.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: MBHS students enter the Ninth Grade Academy and have the opportunity to transition into one of three Small Learning Communities; SUPA Academy students have the opportunity to participate in educational science programs at the American Museum of Natural History and the Financial Women's Association, and students take Syracuse University courses beginning their junior year; Our students work directly with our Learning Leader Volunteers in packaging their on-campus summer scholarships program applications for major universities, including Syracuse University to enhance college readiness; Students participate in College Impact Day at Deloitte Consulting, New York University Medical School High School Fellows Program, Pascal Mathematical Competition, New York University Math Circles Program, and the Rockefeller University High School Science Program; Other highlights include honors classes, College Now, AVID, Virtual Enterprise, College Summit; On-site Syracuse University courses for college credit; College counseling, Performance-based assessments, Tutoring, Internships, Mentoring; Saturday and after-school academic programs

Overview

We offer a unique program that uses the city's museums to enrich the curriculum. We currently partner with the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Museum of the City of New York, Japan Society, the Rubin Museum of Art, and Museum of the Moving Image, who each become extensions of our classrooms, affording the hands-on experience needed to make learning deep, challenging, and engaging. By studying in class, museums, and other institutions, students learn to emulate the work of scholars in the fields of science, history, technology and the arts. Classroom instruction draws upon learning that takes place in the field, and deepens it with content that compels questioning, reflection and insight.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Museum-based study (modules projects) culminates in student presentations in the study of World Religions, Evolution, Imperialism, Geology, Urban Structures, Forensics, US History & Cultures and others; College-preparatory experiences, including a College Institute seminar and College Now program at Baruch College
Language Classes: Japanese, Spanish

Overview

Repertory Company High School for Theatre Arts offers a full academic program and comprehensive theatre arts classes for students who aspire to work in the field either as actors or behind the scenes. Our location, in the heart of the New York City theater district of Times Square, supports our school focus. Our small classes allow our students to experience all aspects of theatre from production to performance. Students can participate in the many student productions, including comedy or classical drama, student written works and a school-wide musical production each year. Our students maintain high academic standards and possess the willingness to explore all the imagination and creativity of theatre arts.

- Stuyvesant offers sophisticated research programs in science, computer science, mathematics, and the social sciences. They begin with introductory research classes in the earlier grades, and grow in complexity as students develop more advanced skills and understanding. Science research, for example, begins in 9th grade with honors experimental research biology, continues with similar high-level courses in chemistry & physics, and culminates in the senior Intel/Siemens research competition class. In addition, a wide array of science electives enhances students’ academic opportunities in these field. This highly successful sequential approach has resulted in 13 Intel semifinalists (and the 3rd-place national winner) in 2012 and ten semifinalists in 2013, leading the nation in this category for both years.

Overview

This is a small Career and Technical Education (CTE) high school with big dreams of helping students prepare for health careers in not only in pharmacy and dentistry, but also in many other Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) areas. The focus on STEM helps students market their skills in the growing job industries. Our unique project-based instructional approach uses activities that engage students’ interest and motivation as they solve problems using an inquiry approach. These activities are designed to answer a question or solve a problem and generally reflect the types of learning and work people do in the everyday world outside the classroom.

Overview

Unity Center for Urban Technologies is a small community of learners. We take pride in our nurturing environment where all students can reach their fullest potential. We stress the importance of a student-teacher connection as the most effective way to provide guidance and support to all of our students. We strongly believe that our young people can develop and enhance their skills at their own pace, in a supportive setting. At Unity, students are engaged in a challenging Common Core Learning Standards-aligned academic program that enables our students to successfully enter higher education programs and achieve their career goals. Unity's teachers and administrators examine all assessment data in order to develop alternative academic programs to strengthen student performance. We utilize differentiated instruction and technology to deliver a diversified curriculum, as well as offer enrichment programs that promote creativity and student engagement.

Overview

The Urban Assembly Maker Academy (UA Maker) prepares students for college and careers by focusing on industries that creatively use technology to solve problems. Students will use technology everyday in a highly personalized environment that engages professionals at the top of their fields to guide project-based learning. Our school features new kinds of classroom experiences that recreate what the workplace looks and feels like for tech professionals. We support and empower students to become the next generation of designers and inventors. In challenge-based courses, students tackle real problems in the world and, as they experiment with solutions, develop the skills, tools, and habits of inquiry to be tomorrow's "makers," contributing to the internationally booming "Maker Movement."

Overview

Urban Assembly New York Harbor School focuses on Marine Science, Marine Technology and Marine Policy. We believe in learning by doing. Students should expect to spend time outdoors in sites all over New York Harbor, in all seasons – rain, snow or sunshine. With our partners, we work to develop authentic activities on, around and related to the water that create a sense of responsibility and connection to New York Harbor and develop a new generation of maritime advocates, enthusiasts, workers and decision-makers. New York Harbor School’s location on Governors Island is easily accessible from Lower Manhattan, Brooklyn and Staten Island.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Incoming students attend a weeklong orientation program on Governors Island in the summer before 9th grade. All 9th graders take a yearlong field class called Introduction to New York Harbor. At the end of 9th grade, each student chooses one of the following Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs of study in marine science and marine technology: Aquaculture, Marine Biology Research, Marine Systems Technology, Ocean Engineering (submersible robotics), Professional and SCUBA Diving and Vessel Operations. Each program of study concludes with a senior internship at a relevant maritime or marine-related business in the New York City area. Students graduate with a Regents diploma.

Language Classes: Spanish

Advanced Placement Classes: Calculus AB, English Literature and Composition, Environmental Science

Extracurricular Activities and Clubs

Maritime: Aquabotics, Fishing, Boat Building, Marine Systems Technology, Vessel Operations; Sustainability: Composting, Garden, Harbor Corps, Harbor Seals; Other: National Honor Society (NHS), National Park Service, Newspaper, Student Advisors Instilling Leadership (SAIL), Yearbook

Overview

The Urban Assembly School for Green Careers (UAGC) focuses on Environmental Engineering, Horticulture, Energy-efficient Building Design and Energy Management. We seek students who are highly motivated, active learners. Students are expected to be inquisitive, innovative and like working in teams to pose and solve problems in all content areas. Through our challenging curricular model, Learning Cultures, students will participate in both Responsibility Groups and Unison Reading in every class to further develop their leadership, cooperative problem-solving and written and verbal communication skills.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: All students must choose a Career and Technical Education (CTE) Program of Study (POS), which is 7 credits in either the Green Buildings or Green Spaces program. Both programs prepare students for college, apprenticeship programs and careers in such majors/fields as Green Design, Energy-efficient Building and Retrofitting for Increased Performance, Energy and Facilities Performance Management, Renewable Electric Power, Horticulture, Urban Forestry, Urban Agriculture and Landscape Architecture. A Program of Study includes work-based learning and internship opportunities. Students who successfully complete a POS receive a special industry and college-approved credential on their high school diploma as well as a variety of industry certifications. Our college office provides career-related internships, career-placement, summer learning opportunities and internships and college prep opportunities and support. Students have the opportunity to earn free college credits through the College Now program.

Overview

The Young Women's Leadership Schools (TYWLS) were established to nurture the intellectual curiosity and creativity of young women by supporting the 'whole girl' in order to maximize academic achievement, social emotional well-being and postsecondary success. Our school is supported by Young Women's Leadership Network and its CollegeBound Initiative in order to replicate the best practices of private and independent girls schools. TYWLS of East Harlem opened in 1996 as the first in the network. TYWLS strives to instill in students a sense of self-efficacy and community responsibility: characteristics which will support them as they become the leaders of the next generation.
