RESOLUTION ON SEWARD PARK URBAN RENEWAL AREA (SPURA)

WHEREAS: District 1 Schools have experienced the fastest growth of any school district in its kindergarten enrollment and;

WHEREAS: District 1 neighborhood has experienced and continues to experience a substantial residential development that will further contribute to increasing school enrollment and;

WHEREAS: District 1 through this development is undergoing substantial gentrification resulting in the displacement of many District 1 families and eroding the economic diversity that has been the hallmark and pedagogic underpinning of many of the District's educational achievements and;

WHEREAS: District 1 schools are experiencing overcrowding and the lack of adequate facilities and that no new school has been built in District 1 for more than half a century and many District 1 Schools are nearly a century or more old and;

WHEREAS: The Seward Park Urban Renewal Area is under intense planning for redevelopment that could add upwards of 1,000 families to the area further straining the crowded and aging schools of District 1;

the Community District Education Council of District 1 THEREFORE RESOLVES:

THAT The Seward Park Urban Renewal Area be redeveloped to include a new District 1 K-8 school in addition to affordable housing and;

THAT District 1 be redistricted so that all of SPURA and the new school are within District 1.

Citywide Community District Education Council
Individual Performance Report

CEC District 1 Council Resolution Calling for an End to the Test-Score Based Accountability System and for the Development of a New Accountability System for Our Students, Teachers and Schools.

WHEREAS the New York City Department of Education's current accountability system relies predominantly (85% of the school report card) on standardized test scores in English Language Arts and Mathematics and the scores from consecutive years are used to measure "Annual Yearly Progress (AYP)";

WHEREAS the standardized test scores are the primary means by which determinations on students' grade promotion, teacher performance, and principal's bonuses are made;

WHEREAS the standardized tests currently in use are NOT designed to assess students' academic progress or to evaluate teacher effectiveness, and experts say that one year's test scores at the school level are primarily random,

WHEREAS it is difficult to determine whether an increase in state test scores is due to an increase in efforts spent on test preparation, to tests becoming easier, or to students' learning;

WHEREAS the recent attempt by the NYS Department of Education to counteract test score inflation resulted in a drastic shift in the number of students reported as performing below grade level, grade level, with 58% below proficiency in English Language Arts (ELA), down from 31% the prior year and 46% below proficiency in Math, down from 18% the prior year;"

WHEREAS the number of students who tested in Level 1 on the ELA test increased from 12,000 to 63,000 citywide from 2009 - 2010;

WHEREAS in 36% of elementary and middle schools, two thirds of the students are not meeting standards in ELA;

WHEREAS according to the more reliable National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) exams, New York City has not narrowed the achievement gap significantly in any subject or grade since 2003;

WHEREAS many cities have outpaced New York City in gains on the NAEP scores during this time period, revealing how Klein and Bloomberg's

Citywide Community District Education Council
Individual Performance Report

claims of exceptional progress are exaggerated;

WHEREAS according to the NAEPs, NYC's rankings in student achievement have fallen further behind those in other cities since 2003 among all groups, including Black, Hispanic, poor and non-poor students;

WHEREAS according to the NAEPs, NYC is the only city tested in which the average scores of non-poor students' scores have declined since 2003;

WHEREAS there are a large number of families in the City who were led to believe their children were proficient when they were not;

WHEREAS at a third of New York City high schools, a majority of the graduates who go onto one of the City University of New York colleges require remedial work;

WHEREAS there is a dire and urgent need for an assessment system that truly measures our students' achievement, our teachers' performance, and our schools' quality;

WHEREAS such an assessment system must be comprehensive and holistic and must not rely on any one particular metric as the major indicator of success;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the New York City Council join with the Campaign to Save Our Schools in calling upon the NYC Department of Education to respond quickly and concretely to this crisis by:

immediately developing and implementing a plan for intensive academic services for all students who scored at Level 1 and Level 2, including those now in high school;

providing comprehensive support and guidance to the city's most struggling schools, working with parents and school communities to implement these proposals by prioritizing and targeting financial and program resources to serve the students and schools of greatest need, and take forward steps with the students and schools it serves to make this right a reality;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the City Council join with the Campaign to Save Our Schools to demand that the DOE suspend all high-stakes policy decisions based on standardized test scores and overhaul the current accountability system and develop a more holistic and comprehensive system that does not rely on any one particular metric, such as standardized test scores;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the new accountability system must be inclusive, drawing on resources and expertise available among teachers, administrators, education experts and parents.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that students throughout the system be provided with more individualized attention, including smaller classes particularly in the city's most struggling schools;

Resolution of the Community District Education Council for District One

Re: The Placing of Charter Schools in District One

WHEREAS: It has been district One's experience that Charter Schools cannot be relied upon to be good neighbors and to act with integrity, truthfulness and transparency; and

WHEREAS: The placement of Charter Schools into District One School buildings has resulted in overcrowding, damage to other school programs and the forced removal of our most vulnerable students and the programs that serve them; and

WHEREAS: The Board of Education continues to promulgate flawed information in its Blue Book and space and educational needs assessments and make decisions based on this flawed information for political reasons; and

WHEREAS: The CDEC has set as District One's priorities the improvement of our existing middle school programs and the expansion of existing schools already approved by the District One Community District School Board; therefore RESOLVED: The CDEC of District One continues to oppose the expansion of Girls Prep Charter School in District One and opposes the placement or expansion of any other Charter School programs in any location in District One.

Resolution of the Community district Education Council for District One

Re: NYS Test Scores

WHEREAS: The NYS Education Department has raised the “cut scores” for NYS’s high stakes 3rd through 8th grade ELA and Math tests resulting in failing grades for many of NYC’s elementary and middle schools and;

WHEREAS: The NYC Mayor, School Chancellor and many school leaders have relied almost exclusively on these test scores to assess educational progress and claim progress for political purposes and;

WHEREAS: The CDEC of District One along with many educators have for a long time contended that test prep is not the same as education and that NYS high stakes testing is not a substitute for authentic assessment, therefore RESOLVED: We told you so!
