The Amended Proposed Co-location of a New High School, New School 1 (02M533), with Washington Irving High School (02M460), Gramercy Arts High School (02M374), High School for Language and Diplomacy (02M399), International High School at Union Square (02M438), and The Academy for Software Engineering (02M546) in School Building M460, Beginning in 2012-2013

I. Description of the subject and purpose of the proposed item under consideration.

On December 22, 2011, the New York City Department of Education (“DOE”) issued an Educational Impact Statement (“EIS”) proposing to open and site New School 1 (02M533, “New School 1”), a new high school, in school building M460 (“M460”) located at 40 Irving Place, Manhattan, NY 10003, located within the geographical confines of Community School District 2 (“District 2”). If this proposal is approved, New School 1 would be co-located with Washington Irving High School (02M460, “Washington Irving”); Gramercy Arts High School (02M374, “Gramercy Arts”), an existing high school that serves students in grades 9-12; the High School for Language and Diplomacy (02M399, “Language and Diplomacy”), an existing high school that currently serves students in grades 9-11; International High School at Union Square (02M438, “International”), an existing high school that currently serves students in grades 9-10; and The Academy for Software Engineering (02M546, “Software”), another new high school proposed in another EIS posted concurrently with this proposal. Language and Diplomacy and International are both currently phasing in, gradually growing to full-scale as they each add a new grade of students annually. They both will serve students in grades 9-12 at full scale. In addition, M460 houses a Young Adult Borough Center (“YABC”). A “co-location” means that two or more school organizations are located in the same building and may share common spaces like auditoriums, gymnasiums, and cafeterias.

The DOE is now issuing an amended EIS. The amended EIS clarifies that the nurse’s office is operated by a school-based health center (“SBHC”) and that this proposal is not expected to impact the SBHC, but does not significantly revise the proposal itself.

In a separate EIS posted on December 22, 2011, the DOE proposed to phase out and eventually close Washington Irving. Also in a separate EIS posted on December 22, 2011, the DOE proposed to open and co-locate an additional new high school, Software, in M460. These proposals are also being amended to clarify the impact of each proposal on the SBHC. These amended EISs can be accessed on the DOE’s Website at <http://schools.nyc.gov/AboutUs/leadership/PEP/publicnotice/2011-2012/Feb2012Proposals>.

The proposed co-location of New School 1 in building M460 is part of the DOE’s central goal to create new school options that will better serve future students and the community at large. New School 1 would offer a rigorous academic program, with a Career and Technical Education (“CTE”) course of study and prepare students for post-secondary work. New School 1 would admit students through the Citywide High School Admissions Process, and would have a limited unscreened admissions method, giving priority to Manhattan students or residents. New School 1 would open during the 2012-2013 school year, when it would serve approximately 105-115 students in the ninth grade. New School 1 would gradually phase in by adding one grade per year. The school is expected to reach full scale in 2015-2016 and would serve approximately 420-460 students in grades nine through twelve.

In the event that the phase-out of Washington Irving is not approved, the DOE would re-examine the availability of space in the building, and may, as appropriate, revise its proposal to co-locate New School 1 in M460. Such a revised proposal would be described in a revised EIS. Washington Irving currently serves a total of 1,039 students in ninth through twelfth grades. Washington Irving is co-located with Gramercy Arts, Language and Diplomacy, International, and the YABC in school building M460.

If the Panel for Educational Policy (“PEP”) approves the proposal to phase out Washington Irving, the school will no longer admit new ninth-grade students after the end of this school year. However, Washington Irving will continue to serve students currently enrolled in the school. Washington Irving’s enrollment will decrease gradually over the next three years, and the school will complete phasing out in June 2015.
