The Proposed Grade Truncation of the Secondary School for Law (15K462) to a 9-12 School

I. Description of the subject and purpose of the proposed item under consideration.

The Secondary School for Law (15K462) is an existing 6-12 school located at 237 7th Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11215, in Community School District 15. It currently serves students in sixth through twelfth grade. The Secondary School for Law is co-located in Building K460 with two other 6-12 schools, the Secondary School for Research (K464), the Secondary School for Journalism (K463), and an Alternative Learning Center (“ALC”). “Co-located” means that two or more school organizations are located in the same building and may share common spaces like auditoriums, gymnasiums, and cafeterias. This is a proposal to implement a “grade truncation,” meaning that the Secondary School for Law would no longer serve grades 6-8, phasing out one grade each year, beginning with the sixth grade. In the 2011-2012 school year, the Secondary School for Law would serve students in grades seven through twelve. In 2012-2013, it would serve students in grades eight through twelve, and in 2013-2014 and future years, it would serve students in grades nine through twelve.

This proposal is not expected to impact current middle school students enrolled at the Secondary School for Law, with the possible exception of students who do not meet promotion requirements at the end of the proposed truncation. Under this proposal, at the close of the 2010-2011 school year, all eighth graders who meet promotional standards would transition to the ninth grade from the Secondary School for Law, and students in the sixth and seventh grades who meet promotion requirements would remain at the school until the completion of the eighth grade.

Only a small number of students who attend middle school in grades 6-8 at the Secondary School for Law historically transition to the high school. Additionally, the Secondary School for Law has been unsuccessful in recruiting and retaining middle school students, which has resulted in a 64% decrease in the number of sixth-grade students enrolled at the Secondary School for Law over the last five years. As a result, the school has faced a number of instructional and operational challenges, which will likely remain should the school continue on its current trajectory.

Very few of the students that wish to attend middle school in District 15 rank the Secondary School for Law on their middle school application. As enrollment continues to dwindle at the Secondary School for Law, the school will lose the resources necessary to sustain a high-functioning learning environment. As a result, the learning outcomes for students in the building could be severely compromised. Continuing to allocate space and resources to a school that does not attract students is neither efficient nor equitable. It is critical to assess each school's capacity to serve the needs of its students when making decisions regarding space and facilities. This truncation proposal, if approved, would ensure that available resources are better aligned to students' needs.
