

Class: RTI

2016

TEACHER'S NAME: Ms. Tang, Shwu

ABOUT ME:

My name is Ms. Tang, Shwu. I have been working in schools for over 25 years. My roles change from special education teacher to bilingual teacher, education evaluator, and IEP teacher. This year I am the SETSS teacher. I will be working with students who are entitled to Special Education Teacher Support Services. I provide pull out and push in services to students who need academic intervention.

In the past years, it had been a wonderful experience to watch children grow and improve in various areas. They just made me feel better about myself, because I learned so much from them.

MISSION FOR THE CLASS:

Children learn through different modalities. I will make every effort to help them to learn and elicit their motivation for learning. Students at lower grades will learn basic reading, writing, and math skills through drills. Upper graders will improve their comprehension, reasoning, inference skills through in-depth discussion, and vocabulary growth. They will learn math concepts through concrete hands on activities and observations.

My Schedule:

Tuesday

Thursday

Book List:

- The Little Soul and The Sun
By Neale Donald Walsch
- Because of Winn-Dixie
