

Argumentative Essay Rubric

Cisco Networking Academy

Instructor:

Part of Paper	Exceeds Standard (85-100)	Meets Standard (75-85)	Almost meets Standard (75-65)	Does not meet Standard (65-55)
Assignment	Student completely fulfills assignment requirements.	Student completely fulfills assignment requirements.	Student partially fulfills assignment requirements (almost all)	Student's work in no way relates to assignment.
Claim-20pts	Student's claims are a clear, arguable, well developed, and definitive statement of position.	Student's claims are a clear and arguable statement of position.	Student's claims are a clear, arguable statement of position	Student's work does not make a claim
Development-40pts.	Student's paper demonstrates a logical, mature, and thorough development of points that support the claims.	Student's paper demonstrates adequate development of points that support the claims.	Student's paper demonstrates an adequate development of points that support the claims.	Student's paper does not present any evidence of development of points that support the claims.
Evidence/Analysis-40pts.	Student presents relevant and fully analyzed textual evidence to support the claim following the evidence.	Student presents relevant and adequately analyzed textual evidence to support the claim.	Student presents relevant and partially analyzed textual evidence to support the claim.	Student provides no textual evidence to support the claim.

WHST.11-12.9. Draw evidence from informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.