Dear Families,

A high quality early childhood education provides a critical foundation for future success. The Mayor and I believe that all children in New York City deserve the opportunity to attend a high quality pre-kindergarten program.

Currently, the New York City Department of Education offers full-day and half-day pre-kindergarten options in public schools and community-based organizations across the City. The Mayor and a team of dedicated experts are working hard to create more full-day options in order to improve access to high quality programs for all families.

I encourage you to apply for pre-kindergarten using the list of programs in this Directory. We expect to announce new full-day programs in April 2014. We will provide an opportunity for you to apply to the new programs before the school year begins. You can sign up for regular updates by texting "prek" to 877877 or visit www.nyc.gov/schools/subscribe.

We invite you to attend an information session in March to learn more about pre-kindergarten programs and the application process. You can find a list of sessions on the inside front cover of this Directory. If you have any questions, please call (718) 935-2009.

Best of luck to you and your child as you embark on the pre-kindergarten journey.

Sincerely,

Welcome to New York City Public Schools!

If you live in New York City and your child is turning four years old in 2014, then your child is eligible to attend free Universal Pre-Kindergarten (UPK) programs offered by the New York City Department of Education (NYCDOE).

This book provides details about how to submit an application for pre-kindergarten (pre-k) in September 2014, as well as the different program options available for the 2014-2015 school year. If you have any questions about Pre-Kindergarten Admissions, call 718-935-2009 or visit www.nyc.gov/schools/prek. We are excited to welcome your child to our schools and look forward to helping you along the way!

Navigating Pre-Kindergarten (Pre-K) Admissions

1. Get to Know Pre-K Admissions

Before you start exploring your pre-k program options, it's important that you get to know how it works:

Public School and Community-Based Organization (CBO) Pre-K Programs

Pre-k programs are available at public schools and community-based organizations (CBOs); there are separate application processes for each. Public schools and CBOs offer a variety of program structures including full-day and half-day (morning or afternoon) programs. Families should consider both public school and CBO program options as they are applying to pre-k. See below for more information.

Public School Pre-K Programs

See page 3 for details

- Apply between March 3 – April 1, 2014
- Apply online at www.nyc.gov/schools/prek or in person at an Enrollment Office
- Admission is not first-come, first served

Community-Based Organization (CBO) Pre-K Programs

See page 78 for details

- Ongoing application process
- Contact CBO programs directly to apply
- Admissions priorities vary by program; typically, first-come, first-served

2. Consider Your Child's Needs

Why Pre-K is Important

Pre-k programs are important because they create a foundation for your child's future success. Pre-k programs in New York City base their curriculum on New York State's Pre-Kindergarten Foundation for the Common Core which is aligned to the kindergarten to grade 12 learning standards. In pre-k, your child will learn: pre-reading and basic math skills, creative thinking and problem solving skills, and social skills. To find out more about what your child will learn in pre-k, check out the Pre-K Learning Resources for Families on page 104 or visit www.nyc.gov/schools/earlychildhood.

Services for Students with Disabilities

All families interested in applying to pre-k, including families of students with disabilities, should apply to pre-k according to the public school and/or CBO application process. Some families may need to work with their local Committee on Special Education (CSE) or Committee on Pre-School Special Education (CPSE) to identify an appropriate placement that meets the needs of their child. Check out page 99 for more information about how to get the supports your child needs to succeed in school.

Supports for Students Whose First Language is not English

Some programs offer bilingual programs and/or other supports for pre-k students who speak languages other than English at home. For more details about supports for non-English speakers, please see page 100.

3. Explore Your Options

Use This Directory

Read through this book to familiarize yourself with the distinctions between the two pre-k program options; public schools and CBOs. This book provides a list of both public school and CBO options. This book also includes district maps of all public schools that offer pre-k programs.

Visit Programs

Visiting programs of interest is a very important part of applying to pre-k. To find open house and tour schedules for public school programs, contact schools directly or visit www.nyc.gov/schools/prek. To visit a CBO program, contact the site directly to schedule a time to visit. When you visit, ask questions about the school's academic program and parent community. It's also important that you know how long it takes to travel from your home to the school or CBO. The New York City Department of Education does not provide transportation for pre-k students.

Public School Pre-K Programs

All public school pre-k programs are located in New York City Department of Education elementary schools. If you are interested in applying to a public school pre-k program, please review the information below. Remember, community-based organizations (CBOs) have a different application process. Please see page 78 for more information.

Public School Pre-K Calendar

Application deadline is April 1, 2014

Pre-registration is from June 9 – June 20, 2014

Public School Pre-K Admissions

Here are a few important facts that you should know before you start exploring your public school pre-k options.

- Pre-k is free. You do not have to pay to attend the public school programs listed in this directory.
- Public School Pre-K Admissions is not first-come, first-served. All applications received by the deadline will be treated the same.
- Programs can be half-day (2 hours and 30 minutes) or full-day (6 hours and 20 minutes). Half-day programs may take place in the morning (AM) or afternoon (PM).
- There is no guarantee of a placement in a public school pre-k program. The New York City Department of Education makes every effort to maximize the availability of public school pre-k programs, but the number of applicants typically exceeds the number of seats available in popular programs.

How Public School Pre-K Admissions Works

Learn About Admissions Priorities

Students are considered for placement at each program they list on their application based on a priority order called Admissions Priorities. Students who fall in the first priority group will be considered for placement first; students in the second priority group will be considered next; and so on, until all seats have been filled. For the full list of public school Pre-K Admissions Priorities, see page 103.

Living in the zone of a particular school, having a sibling* who attends a school, and not having a pre-k in your zoned school are all factors that impact which priority group your child falls into for each school on your application.

If there are more applicants than seats within a given priority group, seats will be assigned by random lottery to members of that group.

*A sibling is defined as a brother or sister (including half-brothers, half-sisters, stepbrothers, stepsisters, foster brothers, foster sisters) of the applicant, who lives in the same household. To receive sibling priority, a sibling must be pre-registered or enrolled at the school at the time of application submission and in grades K-5 in September 2014. Schools are responsible for verifying sibling status before assignments are made.

How Public School Pre-K Admissions Works

Consider Your Public School Program Options

Before you submit your application, we recommend using this directory to determine where you would like to apply and then visit schools you're planning to list on your application.

1. Find Your Zoned School and Your School District: Your zoned school and school district are determined by your home address. If you don't know which school is your zoned school, or which district you live in, call 311 or visit www.nyc.gov/schools/schoolsearch and enter your home address.
2. Review Public School Program List: The list of public school pre-k programs starting on page 9 includes the following information for each school: school name, DBN (school code representing the District, Borough and Number for the school), address, and phone number. You will need to know this code when you complete your application. This list also provides the number of available seats in each public school program (AM, PM, and Full-Day) for the 2014-2015 school year, as well as the lowest priority group that matched to each program for the 2013-2014 admissions process.

Apply

From March 3, 2014 through April 1, 2014, you can apply to public school programs that you believe would be a good fit for your child. You will be asked to rank programs in order of preference, so make sure you know which programs you'd like to list on your application first.

There are two ways to complete your pre-k application:

1. Online at www.nyc.gov/schools/prek or
2. In person at an Enrollment Office

The online and paper applications are the same; you should submit only one application. Please do not submit your application by mail or to a school. Remember, there is a separate application for CBOs, please see page 78 for more information.

Application Tips

Before you submit the application, review the application tips below:

- Get an application receipt. If you do not receive a receipt, there may have been a problem with your application submission.
- You must list the older sibling's school in Section 3 of the application in order for your child to receive sibling priority to attend his or her older sibling's school. All sibling information is verified by the school before offers are made.
- You must list a school more than once if you are applying to more than one session at that school. Check the program list to see which sessions (AM, PM, and/or Full Day) are offered at the schools you are interested in.
- Do not list Community Based Organizations (CBOs) programs on your public school pre-k application. For information about how to apply for CBO programs, please see page 78.

2013 Results by Seat Type (AM, PM, Full-Day): This section provides the overall results of last year’s Pre-K Admissions for all public school pre-k programs. You will find the following information in this section:

- Total number of seats at each school by seat type (AM, PM, Full-Day) for the 2013-2014 school year.
- Lowest Priority Group Matched by seat type (AM, PM, Full-Day) for the 2013-2014 school year: The Lowest Priority Group Matched is meant to give you a better sense of your child’s likelihood of admission to a pre-k program for 2014-2015 school year based on last year’s admissions process.

The first school listed in the sample above, P.S. 004 Duke Ellington, has “2-zoned” in the “Lowest Priority Group Matched (AM)” column. This means that in 2013, only children living in the school’s zone (priority groups #1 and #2) were admitted to the school’s morning (AM) pre-k program. In the “Lowest Priority Group Matched (PM)” column, the program is listed as “Did not fill.” This means that, in 2013, the school still had seats available in the afternoon (PM) program after admitting applicants in all priority groups.

How to Read the Public School Pre-K Program Lists

COMMUNITY BASED

PROGRAMS

Community-Based Organization (CBO) Pre-K Programs

Community-Based Organizations (CBOs) are independent organizations that contract with New York City to provide free pre-k programs to children and families. CBOs have a separate application process from the public school pre-k programs. Continue reading for more details about how the CBO application process works as well as how to find a program.

CBO Pre-K Admissions

Learn about CBO Pre-K Programs

Families interested in applying to CBO pre-k programs should consider the following as they research options:

- Most CBO programs admit students on a first-come, first-served basis. Some programs reserve seats for children already enrolled at the CBO as three-year-olds.
- Some CBO programs may have eligibility requirements. Contact individual CBOs for program-specific admissions information and criteria.

Find a CBO Pre-K Program

For the list of CBO pre-k programs offered in the 2014-2015 school year, please see page 80 of this directory. Programs marked with (FD) provide a full-day of programming for families. Those marked with an asterisk (*) have income eligibility requirements in some or all classrooms. Other CBOs may provide additional services for children and families to make a longer day of care and education for children. For information about what to consider when choosing a CBO program, visit:

www.nyc.gov/schools/Academics/EarlyChildhood/ParentResources.

Here's how you can find a list of CBO Pre-K Programs near you:

1. Call 311 or 718-935-2009 and providing your zip code and/or street address.
2. Visit www.nyc.gov/schools/prek
3. Visit NY City Map at <http://gis.nyc.gov/doitt/nycitymap>
 - a. Click on the "Search for a Location" field at the top of the screen.
 - b. Enter an address and click on "Search." A map will appear showing the area surrounding the address.
 - c. Go to the bottom right of the screen and click where it says "Show Additional Data on Map." A menu will appear. Scroll down to the section entitled "Education," and click on "Universal Pre-K" and/or "Head Start Program".
 - d. The map will show CBOs and public schools in the area that offer pre-k. If you click on one of the programs, the program's name and address will appear.
4. Contact the Early Childhood Education Field Office in your borough (see the list on the following page).

Once you identify CBO programs of interest, call or visit the sites to learn more about their services.

New CBO pre-k programs will be added in summer 2014. Please use the resources provided above to access an updated list of programs after the first week of June 2014.

CBO Pre-K Admissions

Families must contact programs for more information about eligibility requirements, additional services provided, hours of operations and admissions processes. If at the time of application a preferred CBO program does not have availability, please review the CBO pre-k program list starting on the following page, the NY City Map (see page 78), or contact an Early Childhood Education Field Office for additional support in your search.

Submit an Application

You can get the CBO application at any CBO program site or you can download the form online at www.nyc.gov/schools/prek. You may apply to multiple CBO pre-k programs, but you should complete a separate application form for each program. You must deliver a hard-copy version of the application to each site as there is no online application for CBO programs. Some CBOs may allow you to submit via email or fax, so please contact the CBO before submitting your application.

Register for a CBO Program

If you are offered a seat at a CBO pre-k program and you would like to accept, you must submit all registration documents to the CBO. CBOs will provide you with this information. You can also find a link to the list of documents CBOs may require during the registration process at www.nyc.gov/schools/prek. Some CBOs may require additional documentation. Families will be notified about additional paperwork by the CBO directly.

Families of Students with Disabilities

All families interested in a pre-k program for the 2014-2015 school year should participate in the application process described in this directory. Some families may need to work with their local Committee on Special Education (CSE) or Committee on Preschool Special Education (CPSE) throughout the application process to identify an appropriate placement that meets the needs of their child. CSE and CPSEs are located in the same buildings. To learn more about submitting an application for students who require special education services, please read the sections below:

Families New to Special Education

If you believe your child has a disability and may need special education services, you can request an evaluation in writing at your local CSE or CPSE. You can bring a written request, or work with staff at the CSE or CPSE to create a request for an evaluation. CSE and CPSE locations are listed below. To find more information about Special Education evaluations, contact your local CSE or CPSE, or visit: www.nyc.gov/schools/Academics/SpecialEducation.

Students with an Individualized Educational Program (IEP) or an Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP)

If your child has already been evaluated by a CPSE and currently has an Individualized Education Program (IEP), please review this section for more details about how to apply for pre-k:

- If your child currently has an IEP that recommends Related Services or Special Education Itinerant Teacher (SEIT) services, please use the standard application process described in this directory.
- If your child has an IEP for a Special Class or a Special Class in an Integrated Setting for a full or half day, please contact the CSE or CPSE.

If your child has received Early Intervention services and has an Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP), your child will need to be evaluated by your local CSE or CPSE to determine eligibility for services. If your child is eligible, the CSE or CPSE will develop an IEP with recommended services for pre-school special education. To find more information about Special Education evaluations, contact your local CSE or CPSE, or visit: www.nyc.gov/schools/Academics/SpecialEducation

Families of Students Whose First Language is Not English

Some schools offer bilingual programs and/or other supports for pre-k students who speak languages other than English at home. Please contact schools for more information about available services and programs that meet the specific linguistic needs of your child. New York City public schools offer three types of bilingual programs to support students learning English: English as a Second Language (ESL), Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE), and Dual Language (DL), detailed below.

- English as a Second Language (ESL): Freestanding English as a Second Language (ESL) programs are offered in all New York City public elementary schools. These classes are taught in English with targeted native language support. All public schools offer ESL classes; content courses incorporate ESL strategies to help students learn English and the subject matter.
- Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE): Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) programs are designed to support students as they transition from classes/subject matter taught in both English and the native language to classes taught primarily in English. Students also receive ESL in this program model. As the student develops English proficiency, instruction in English increases and native language instruction decreases.
- Dual Language (DL): Dual Language (DL) programs provide instruction in two languages (half in English, half in the target language). The goal of these programs is to enable all students to become bilingual. These programs support both English Language Learners (ELL) students in need of English language instruction and English-speaking students who are interested in learning a second language. ELL students and English-speaking students act as linguistic role models for each other, and through their interactions, language development in both languages is supported. ELLs in this program also receive ESL.

Glossary

In this Directory, you may come across terms that are new to you. This glossary provides brief explanations for several of those terms and will help you navigate Pre-K Admissions.

Committee on Preschool Special Education: The Committee on Pre-School Special Education (CPSE) coordinates special education evaluations and services for children ages 3-5. Regional offices serve families in their local school districts.

Community-Based Organizations

Community-Based Organizations (CBOs) are independent organizations that contract with New York City to provide free pre-k services to children and families.

Community School District

New York City is divided into 32 jurisdictions called districts, or Community School Districts.

District Borough Number (DBN)

A District Borough Number (DBN) is a 6-digit code used by the Department of Education to track schools. The first two digits of the DBN refer to the Community School District; the letter refers to the borough where the school is located (e.g. Q = Queens); and the last 3 digits are the school's P.S. number.

Individualized Education Program (IEP)

An IEP documents a student's eligibility for special education and describes services to address and meet the student's unique educational needs. IEPs are required by state and federal laws and must adhere to state and federal regulations.

Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP)

An IFSP is a plan for special services for young children with developmental delays. An IFSP only applies to children from birth to three years of age. Once a child turns 3, an Individualized Education Program (IEP) is put into place.

Non-zoned school

Non-zoned schools are schools that do not have a zone and give priority to applicants based on sibling status, district of residence, and in some cases, other criteria. They are also called "choice schools."

OSIS number

OSIS refers to the 9-digit number used to identify a student. The number is located on the student's report card, transcript, placement letter, and other official school documents regarding the student. It is also known as a student ID.

Sibling

A sibling is defined as a brother or sister – including half-brothers, half-sisters, stepbrothers, stepsisters, foster brothers, foster sisters – of the applicant, who lives in the same household. To receive sibling priority for pre-k admissions, a sibling must be pre-registered or enrolled at the school at the time of application submission and in grades K-5 in September 2014. Schools are responsible for verifying sibling status before assignments are made.

Special Education

Specially designed instruction to meet unique needs of students with disabilities, whose educational needs cannot be met without an individualized education program (IEP). The purpose of special education is to minimize the impact of the disability and maximize opportunities for learning.

Glossary

Waitlist

Waitlists are maintained by schools in which there are more applicants than seats. Additional information about the waitlist process will be available in early June, 2014.

Zoned School

A zoned school gives priority to students who live in a designated nearby area, known as a zone. A student's zone is determined by his or her home address.

Universal Pre-Kindergarten (UPK)

Universal Prekindergarten (UPK) is a free New York State early childhood initiative, administered in New York City by the New York City Department of Education in public schools and community-based organizations. UPK provides four-year-old children access to 180 days of comprehensive early childhood education that promotes physical health and social-emotional development, curiosity and creativity, as well as language, literacy, pre-reading, math and critical thinking skills.

Public School Pre-Kindergarten Admissions Priorities

Students are admitted to public school pre-k programs in the below priority order. For more details about Admissions Priorities, please see page 3.

1. Zoned students with a sibling at the school;*
2. Other zoned students;*
3. In-district students with a sibling at the school who have no zoned school or whose zoned school has no pre-k program;
4. In-district students with a sibling at the school who are zoned to a different school which has a pre-k program;
5. In-borough students with a sibling at the school;
6. Out-of-borough students with a sibling at the school;
7. In-district students with no zoned school or whose zoned school has no pre-k program;
8. In-district students applying to a school other than their zoned school;
9. In-borough students;
10. Out-of-borough students.

*Not applicable for Non-Zoned Schools

Throughout New York City, there are schools without a zone called Non-Zoned Schools. For Non-Zoned Schools, the first two Admissions Priorities above do not apply. District 1 (Lower East Side, Manhattan), District 7 (South Bronx) and District 23 (Brownsville, Brooklyn) are choice districts, which means they do not have zoned schools.

Remember, if there are more applicants than seats within a given priority group, seats will be assigned by random lottery to members of that group.

Pre-Kindergarten Learning Resources for Families

Research¹ shows the short-term and long-term benefits of high quality pre-kindergarten on the lives of young children. Pre-Kindergarten builds a solid foundation for children as they begin elementary school and for life.

Pre-k programs in public school and community-based organization in New York City select curriculum based on the New York State Pre-Kindergarten Foundation for the Common Core and use research-based instructional practices grounded in how young children learn. The Pre-Kindergarten Foundation for the Common Core covers five areas of learning and describes what children are expected to know and be able to do at the end of their pre-k year.

In pre-k, children:

- Learn how to become involved in learning and acquire knowledge (i.e. children build curiosity and persistence, learn to take initiative, etc.)
- Develop physically which allows them to engage in everyday activities (i.e. painting develops muscles and improves eye-hand coordination needed for writing)
- Advance their social and emotional skills, learning how to form positive relationships at home, at school and in the larger community (i.e. children become self-aware, learn how to empathize with classmates, share and take turns, etc.)
- Construct meaning and communicate understanding of what they are learning (i.e. children listen to various texts, ask questions and communicate their understanding of information using their building vocabulary)
- Acquire knowledge about the world around them and develop skills to apply what they know (i.e. children understand relationships between numbers, compare and contrast sizes of objects, make predictions about the future, etc.)

Curriculum and instruction in pre-k provides ample opportunities for students to engage in active, hands-on exploration, discovery, critical-thinking and problem solving through a combination of child-initiated and teacher-directed experiences.

Early Childhood Parent Guides, in various languages, are available to you from the Office of Early Childhood Education. These Parent Guides provide you with information on what children learn in pre-k and resources you may use to support your child's learning at home and on the go.
