Name _____ Class _____

As you read the assigned novels, keep mind the following focus question: “How do individual experiences mold your perception of others and the world?” Use the spaces provided to take notes about the characters and their situations in the books. How did their inner perceptions influence the decisions they made, the way they interacted with other characters, the way they handled the problems they faced, etc. These notes will help you prepare for your first writing assignment when you return to school in September.
