

Diversity in Admissions Pilot

Academy for Careers in Television (30Q301)

High School Application Program Code Q01A

Academy for Careers in Television and Film (TvF) aims to serve a community that is reflective of the city's diversity, culturally and socioeconomically. TvF will be piloting a new admissions policy starting with students applying this fall to enter ninth grade in September 2018. The pilot will foster a model of inclusive education at the school.

The mission of this Career and Technical Education (CTE) high school is to provide a quality high school education, a bridge to higher education, and meaningful preparation for careers in film and video production. In doing so, we seek to engage students with crafts and career paths within the film and television industry. Students also participate in a customized college preparatory academic program and receive highly personalized instruction. The academic courses at TvF are organized around the knowledge, skills, and work habits students need in order to be successful in competitive four-year universities. TvF students are offered Advanced Placement and CUNY College Now to earn free college credits while still in high school. Student support is two-pronged: a hands-on and collaborative instructional approach for academic support and a robust advisory program for social and emotional support.

As part of the admissions pilot, the school will give priority to applicants eligible for Free Lunch (based on family income) for up to 63% of seats. Families of students who meet are eligible for Free Lunch, and all other interested students, are encouraged to apply by placing program code Q01A on the High School Application. The application is due to school counselors on December 1.
