Service Requestor / Contract Manager	Division of Contracts and Purchasing Contact
Jessica Kaplan Deputy Executive Director Office of Curriculum, Instruction & Professional Learning Division of Teaching and Learning	Joy Gentolia, Director Instructional Service Procurement

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested on behalf of the Division of Teaching and Learning to contract with the vendors listed above to provide systemwide literacy professional development services. These services will be provided at the discretion of participating schools, central offices operating on behalf of schools, or consortiums of schools.

DISCUSSION

To help ensure that its students achieve the higher standards in literacy that adoption of Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS) requires, the DOE must acquire professional development services for its teachers, leaders, coaches, administrators, and support staff. These services will increase literacy content and pedagogical knowledge, support the implementation of CCLS, and align resources to improve student achievement. These services will also support schools and learning communities as they plan and conduct effective instruction and professional development in literacy.

Contracted vendors will provide high-quality, needs-based, and CCLS-aligned professional development and support instruction for teachers and other staff covering kindergarten through 12th grade. Services will focus on literacy content, pedagogy, citywide core curriculum programs, research, and best practices and will include institutes, workshops, seminars, coursework, conferences, walk-throughs, and intervisitations.

It is necessary to contract for these services because the DOE does not possess the expertise necessary to meet the objectives of this program.

In response to the solicitation, vendors proposed for one or both of these focus areas:
1) Literacy Professional Development and 2) Literacy Consultants/Coaches.

Proposals were evaluated by a minimum of three evaluators. The evaluation committees included a principal, a teacher, senior instructional coaches, and program directors. Proposals were scored based on program plan (25 points), organizational capacity (25 points), pricing (25 points), and demonstrated effectiveness (25 points). Successful vendors were required to achieve a minimum score of 80 points.

Twenty vendors were recommended for contract awards under previous RAs and two are recommended here.

The recommended vendors' services introduce shifts in pedagogy and provide direction on efficient and effective ways to use student data to inform instructional practices and improve student achievement. Professional development offerings will provide specific support to schools and teachers for implementing all or some components of reading and other components of literacy instruction in ELA and content area classrooms, including foundational literacy skills. Program delivery methods include customized workshops, support, and coaching.

Manhattanville College offers literacy professional development through their Rose Institute for Learning and Literacy (developed in partnership with the Reading Reform Foundation) in the form of coursework and coaching for a cohort of reading specialists, coaches, and classroom teachers, K-2, in the Spalding approach to reading, spelling, writing, and comprehension. Spalding is an Orton-Gillingham-based systematic multisensory approach to literacy instruction for all students, including those with reading difficulties. Manhattanville's programs will enable participants to implement this specific methodology in their teaching classrooms and sites. Training consists of two methodology courses, the Writing Road to Reading Parts 1 and 2 (worth 3 graduate credits each) and one year-long practicum/coaching experience (worth 7 graduate credits). The yearlong practicum/coaching experience is divided into two graduate courses: Reading Reform Foundation of NY Practicum I (3 credits) and II (4 credits).

Pricing for Manhattanville College included a 26 percent discount off of their standard published tuition rates. The total cost per participant for the Advanced Certificate in Science of Reading is $8,643, or $665 per credit. (It should be noted that in the tuition rate does not include materials.) This compares favorably to the published rate of $11,635 or $895 per credit. Upon completion of the program, each participant will receive an Advanced Certificate in Science of Reading; Manhattanville College's proposal thus presents a service model that may be considered unique. Thus, while Manhattanville College's pricing is higher than the other vendors in this category, pricing has been determined to be fair and reasonable.

The Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania (UP) offers literacy PD via the Penn Literacy Network (PLN). PLN's two 34-week, on-site, grade-level program options (PreK to grade 4, and grades 5-12) provide credit-bearing coursework and coaching to educators aimed at improving literacy instruction and student outcomes across content areas. Participants investigate the PLN Frameworks of the Five Reading Writing Talking Processes, the Four Lenses of Learning, and the Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS). Areas of focus include foundational literacy, successful textbook reading, writing informational and persuasive papers, note making, response building, and research writing. Each program combines theory and research with the practical implementation of strategies and approaches. Participants try out activities in their classrooms and reflect on their implementation through journals, course discussions, and a final curriculum project. UP's hourly pricing was negotiated from $1,077 to $489 per hour for a 55 percent price improvement. Prices have been determined to be fair and reasonable based on a comparison of hourly and tuition rates for like services.

The estimated annual contract amount for both vendors is based on the minimum amount for new vendors for Literacy Professional Development requirements contracts of $30,000.

Background checks including VENDEX, the Uniform Commercial Code, the Federal Tax Lien, and the System for Award Management identified no significant adverse information. Both vendors have therefore been determined to be responsible to provide approved services.

The MTAC process is the preferred procurement method as this process allows the DOE to award contracts for similar services to multiple vendors in order to meet demand for such services and to offer a choice among vendors.

As a part of the MTAC process, all service requests over $25,000 must go through a competitive process for procurement of services. Users will be required to create a scope of services and conduct a mini-solicitation process among the awarded vendors in their component areas. Vendors will be required to provide a statement of work and pricing based on their contracted services, which will be evaluated and scored by the user. Upon completion of this mini-solicitation process, schools will be able to secure services via purchase order. This process is to ensure competition among the large number of vendors who have been awarded contracts as a result of this procurement. Future RAs for these services will be submitted in batches as new providers are presented for award of contracts.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested on behalf of the Division of Teaching and Learning to contract with Kenneth Baum to provide systemwide mathematics-related professional development services. These services will be provided at the discretion of participating schools, central offices operating on behalf of schools, or consortiums of schools.

DISCUSSION

To help ensure that its students achieve the higher standards in mathematics that adoption of Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS) requires, the DOE must acquire professional development services for its teachers, leaders, coaches, administrators, and support staff. These services will increase math content and pedagogical knowledge, support the implementation of CCLS, and align resources to improve student achievement. These services will also support schools and learning communities as they plan and conduct effective instruction and professional development in math.

Vendors will provide high-quality, needs-based, and CCLS-aligned professional development and support instruction for teachers and other staff covering prekindergarten through 12th grade. Services will focus on math content, pedagogy, Citywide core curriculum programs, cognitive development, research, and best practices, and will include institutes, workshops, seminars, coursework, conferences, walk-throughs, and inter-visitations.

It is necessary to contract for these services because the DOE does not possess the expertise necessary to meet the objectives of this program.

Vendors proposed for one or more of the following components: 1) Mathematics Professional Development and 2) Mathematics Consultants/Coaches.

Proposals were evaluated by a minimum of three evaluators. The evaluation committees included a principal, a teacher, senior instructional coaches, achievement coaches, and program directors. Proposals were scored based on program plan (25 points), organizational capacity (25 points), pricing

(25 points), and demonstrated effectiveness (25 points). Successful vendors were required to achieve a minimum score of 80 points.

Sixteen vendors were recommended for contract awards under seven previous RAs and one is are recommended here.

Kenneth Baum will provide research-based, on-site, job-embedded coaching that increases the capacity of school leaders for grades 6-12 to refine curriculum (including lessons, units, projects, and rubrics) and assessments to match the Common Core Mathematics Standards. Services are delivered via planning meetings, classroom observations, lesson modeling, co-teaching, and feedback sessions designed to develop math content knowledge and pedagogical skills of key math teachers and school-based math coaches to improve student achievement.

Kenneth Baum's average hourly pricing was negotiated from $250 per hour to $143 per hour for a 43 percent price improvement. Pricing was determined to be fair and reasonable based on a comparison with hourly rates for like services by vendors contracted under this solicitation.

The estimated contract amount for Kenneth Baum is based on the minimum amount for new vendors for Mathematics Related Services and Professional Development requirements contracts of $30,000.

Background checks, including VENDEX, the Vendor CIP Report, the Uniform Commercial Code, the Federal Tax Lien, and the System for Award Management, found no significant adverse information. Kenneth Baum has therefore been determined to be responsible to provide approved services.

The MTAC process is the preferred procurement method as this process allows the DOE to award contracts for similar services to multiple vendors in order to meet demand for such services and to offer a choice among vendors.

As a part of the MTAC process, all service requests over $25,000 must go through a competitive process for procurement of services. This process ensures competition among the large number of vendors who have been awarded contracts as a result of this procurement. Future RAs for these services will be submitted in batches as new providers are presented for award of contracts.

DISCUSSION

This Request for Bids (RFB) was advertised for seven days in the City Record and on the DCP web site. The RFB consisted of the following six geographically defined aggregate classes: Class 1 – the Bronx, Class 2 – Queens, Classes 3 through 5 – Manhattan, and Class 6 – Brooklyn and Staten Island. Each class received eight bids.

Parsons Commercial, the low bidder on all six classes, is recommended for award. A qualification meeting with Parsons determined that this vendor satisfied the requirements of the RFB and has the organizational capacity to service the contract. A review of Parsons' financial statements revealed no risk associated with doing business with the company. VENDEX shows no cautions or liens for this vendor. This vendor has had no previous contracts with the DOE.

Reference checks done with the Nassau County Department of Public Works, the Herricks School District, and the Malverne Union Free School District indicate satisfactory performance by Parsons. A background check on Parsons identified no significant adverse information. As such, Parsons has been determined to be responsible.

Contract estimates are based on previous usage. Unit prices on this contract are approximately 40 percent lower than previous competitively awarded contracts, which were bid in 2012. On average, Parsons' prices are approximately 50 percent lower than those of the next lowest bidder. Based on the receipt of several bids and the competitive nature of the procurement, these prices have been determined to be fair and reasonable.

DISCUSSION

This contract covers two kinds of fire safety personnel: Fire Guards for Impairment, who serve during any condition in which a fire protection system cannot perform its function, and Place of Assembly Safety Personnel, who serve as needed during events that include large gatherings of people.

A Request for Bids (RFB) was advertised for seven days in the City Record and on the DCP web site. The RFB consisted of five geographically defined aggregate classes: Class 1 – Manhattan, Class 2 – the Bronx, Class 3 – North Brooklyn, Class 4 - South Brooklyn and Staten Island, and Class 5 – Queens. At least 14 bids were received for each class.

Dreamland Security Services, a minority-owned business enterprise (MBE) and the second low bidder on all five classes, is recommended for award. DSF determined that Dreamland satisfied the bid requirements and has the organizational capacity to service the contract. A review of Dreamland's financial statements revealed no risk associated with doing business with this vendor. VENDEX shows no cautions or liens for this vendor. This vendor has not had prior contracts with the DOE.

Reference checks done with the Riverfront Library, the A. Holly Patterson Extended Care Facility, and Bay Ridge Security Services indicate satisfactory performance by Dreamland. A background check on Dreamland identified no significant adverse information. As such, Dreamland has been determined to be responsible.

Contract estimates are based on previous usage. Unit prices on this contract are approximately two percent higher than under the previous, competitively awarded contract, which was bid in 2013. Based on the competitive nature of this procurement, these prices have been determined to be fair and reasonable.

Contract Manager	Lead Contracting Officer	Division of Contracts & Purchasing Contact

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Bard College to provide a college preparatory program for 264 first-year students and 283 second-year students at Bard High School Early College campus locations in Manhattan and Queens.

DISCUSSION

Bard College (BC) joined the early college movement in 1979, when it merged with Simon's Rock, the nation's first private, residential early college. Since 2001, the leadership of BC has partnered with the DOE to operate two New York City campuses, one each in Manhattan and Queens, to provide innovative public-private early college partnerships for public secondary education students in New York City.

Bard High School Early College (BHSEC) equips a diverse group of students for college-level work through a rigorous 9th and 10th grade college preparatory program that transitions directly into two years of a liberal arts and sciences college curriculum, culminating in 60 transferable college credits and a tuition-free Associate in Arts degree from Bard College, awarded concurrently with a high school diploma.

BC, having developed and pioneered the high school early college model, is uniquely qualified to partner with the DOE to administer this program, and has a record of demonstrated success: 93 percent of BHSEC students earn associate's degrees, 96 percent of the BHSEC Manhattan and Queens 2015 graduates continued on to four-year institutions of higher education, and 97 percent of the 2005-2009 BHSEC Manhattan graduating classes completed bachelor's degrees within six years.

BC has provided these services free of charge for students at BHSEC's two campuses in the past. BC is requesting $795,000 in funding to cover a portion of its costs and a $50,000 per-school operator fee for a total amount of $895,000 for the one-year term of this contract. The requested funding will bring the funding for BHSEC campuses in line with support provided by the DOE to the City University of New York (CUNY) for its early college program.

The $895,000 cost to the DOE represents three percent of the value of Bard College's $27,868,922 'in-kind' contribution, represented below as a calculation based on Bard's current college tuition fees, as well as teacher and student services:

Annual In-Kind Contribution	Value
Bard College Credits $1,538/credit; 30 credits for 264 first-year students; 30 credits for 283 second-year students	$25,238,580
Bard HSEC Instructional Costs (in excess of New York City DOE Per Pupil Fair Student Funding)	$2,220,342
Bard College EC Network Team* Allocation for Two NYC Campuses (in excess of $100,000 operator fee)	$ 410,000
Total Annual In-Kind Contributions	$27,868,922

*The BCEC Network team supports the HBSECS and serves as a liaison to Bard College and to the NYCDOE.

This contract is retroactive because it is necessary to pay BC for services that began at the start of the 2015-2016 academic year.

Prices were analyzed by comparing the labor rates for Bard College employees with DOE rates for similar services and/or job titles and other higher education and K-12 operational, support, and instructional labor rates. On this basis, BC's pricing for this contract has been determined to be fair and reasonable.

A review of BC's background in the City's VENDEX files, the DOE's own procurement files, and federal debarment databases identified noteworthy information for Bard College by the United States Department of Labor's Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) database. On May 7, 2014, an OSHA inspection stemming from a complaint cited Bard for asbestos-related violations in which Bard was initially penalized $40,000, which was settled for $24,000. Bard also took corrective actions in order to address the violations. The OSHA database now shows this case is closed. In light of the resolution of this matter, the DOE does not believe it precludes a determination that the vendor is responsible.

The Committee on Contracts approved this negotiated service contract on February 12, 2016 on the basis of continuity and vendor being uniquely qualified.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Measure Excellence Consulting, LLC (Measure Excellence) to implement the Data Wise Improvement model that uses data to inform instruction. Services are to be provided to all DOE Renewal Schools.

DISCUSSION

Measure Excellence is the only certified vendor and project team member of the Data Wise Improvement Process that originated out of Harvard University. Their train-the-trainer model will support on-going experiential training.

Measure Excellence will implement the Data Wise model for all Renewal Schools and Receivership Schools. Data Wise uses research-based protocols and a wide range of data sources from daily class work to annual standardized tests to observation of teaching practice in order to improve instruction and student outcomes. This model will support the turnaround of underperforming schools. These sessions are being provided to Directors of Renewal Schools, teachers, and Office of Renewal School (ORS) central team members.

After evaluating the Data Wise model in eight different schools, Scholars at the Harvard University Graduate School of Education have deemed it very successful for struggling schools. ORS selected the Measure Excellence on the basis of the vendor's extensive experience and unique expertise and qualifications.

This contract is retroactive because it was necessary to begin providing these services at individual Renewal Schools at the start of the 2015-2016 academic year making their procurement via an RFP impractical. The vendor intends to submit a proposal for an MTAC for these services. Any of the same or similar services rendered subsequent to the expiration of this Negotiation Services contract will be procured either through an RFP or by leveraging the competitive MTAC mini-bid process.

The total program cost is $131,950, of which $119,000 covers the salary and benefits of two consultants who administer and oversee this program. Other costs include program supplies ($6,650), operating cost ($3,950), and shipping of the program supplies ($350). Salaries and benefits constitute 90 percent of the budget and account for an hourly rate of $429 per consultant. Based on comparable services being provided via MTACs that range from $200 to $729 per hour, Measure Excellence's proposed rates have been determined to be fair and reasonable.

A review of the Measure Excellence's background in the City's VENDEX files, DCP's own procurement files, and federal debarment databases revealed no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible with respect to this contract.

The Chancellor's Committee on Contracts (COC) approved contract negotiations for this work on January 15, 2016.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with New York State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, Inc. (NYSAHPERD) to provide teachers with professional development and resources to implement developmentally appropriate, sequential, and standards-based physical education programs.

DISCUSSION

NYSAHPERD is the New York State branch of the Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, Inc. (AHPERD), a not-for-profit professional organization that supports health and physical educators by offering resources, professional development (PD), and annual statewide conferences that bring together health and physical educators.

The Office of School Wellness Programs (OSWP) partnered with NYSAHPERD over 10 years ago when it began supporting K-12 physical education teachers in implementing the Physical Best curriculum and FITNESSGRAM assessments. FITNESSGRAM is a health-related, criterion-based assessment, which seeks to minimize comparisons between children and, instead, supports them as they pursue personal fitness goals for lifelong health. Unlike many traditional fitness assessments, FITNESSGRAM measures participating students based on individual performance and personal improvement. FITNESSGRAM completion is also a compliance metric for principals and the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene uses the data to monitor trends and inform larger public health efforts.

NYSAHPERD's Physical Best curriculum enables students to learn why physical activity is important, and how it benefits them now and for a lifetime. Emphasizing participation in a wide variety of enjoyable physical activities (traditional sports, non-traditional sports, and fitness activities), Physical Best promotes individual choice and making connections to real opportunities for remaining active for lifelong health and wellness.

NYSAHPERD is the only organization in New York State that offers all National Standards and Grade-Level Outcomes for Physical Education in-person workshops and is thus the only provider that meets the requirements of the Physical Education Works initiative recently instated by the Chancellor and the Mayor.

As services began at the start of the 2015-2016 academic year, a procurement via a Request for Proposals (RFP) was impractical. A negotiated services agreement is necessary in order to process payment for services already in progress.

NYSAHPERD's proposed pricing for these services compares favorably to previously approved pricing for competitively procured, comparable services. On this basis, NYSAHPERD's pricing for this contract has been determined to be fair and reasonable.

A review of NYSAHPERD's background in the City's VENDEX files, the DOE's own procurement files, and federal debarment databases found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible with respect to this contract.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with SHAPE America (SHAPE) to provide physical education teachers with professional development and resources to implement developmentally appropriate, sequential, and standards-based physical education programs.

DISCUSSION

The Society of Health and Physical Educators (SHAPE) America is the national professional association that establishes learning standards for health and physical education professionals. SHAPE provides a menu of professional development delivered by nationally recognized experts in physical education.

Building on a successful pilot training in June 2015, the Office of School Wellness Programs (OSWP) proposes to contract with SHAPE for additional professional development for 450 physical education teachers during the current fiscal year. OSWP's review of DOE vendors with existing contracts that provide similar services found that SHAPE offers all National Standards and Grade-Level Outcomes for Physical Education in-person workshops and is thus the only known provider that meets the requirements of the Mayor's and Chancellor's recently instated Physical Education Works initiative.

As services began at the start of the 2015-2016 academic year, a procurement via a Request for Proposals (RFP) was impractical. A negotiated services agreement is necessary in order to process payment for services already in progress.

SHAPE's proposed pricing for these services compares favorably to previously approved pricing for competitively procured, comparable services. On this basis, SHAPE's pricing for this contract has been determined to be fair and reasonable.

Below is a cost breakdown of services:

Task	Price	No. of Sessions	Total Amount
Implementing the National Standards and Grade-Level Outcomes for Elementary Physical Education Workshop	$3,250	8	$26,000
Implementing the National Standards and Grade-Level Outcomes for Secondary Physical Education Workshop	$3,250	6	$19,500

TOTAL			$61,750

A review of SHAPE's background in the City's VENDEX files, the DOE's own procurement files, and federal debarment databases found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible with respect to this contract.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Teachers College, Columbia University (Teachers College) to provide 100 DOE K-8 Principals with its Reading and Writing Project via principals conferences.

DISCUSSION

Through its Reading and Writing Project (TCRWP), Teachers College is collaborating with the DOE to provide three conferences each to 100 principals of K-8 schools. These conferences present an overview of methods and curriculum in writing, especially as they pertain to supporting schoolwide reform in writing instruction.

These conferences typically begin with a 45-minute keynote address by a TCRWP leader, which provides insight into the foundational principles and expectations of writing workshop implementation. The keynote address is followed by smaller study groups of approximately 20-25 participants each, led by TCRWP leaders and staff developers. These study groups provide school leaders with a fast-paced overview of the information their teachers have learned during their grade-level courses, in order to develop knowledge of workshop teaching for supervision purposes and to allow participants to ask questions and engage in conversations with their peers.

After the keynote address and the study groups, principals choose from a variety of 45-minute workshops whose sessions are more specific to particular aspects of workshop teaching, curriculum, or supervision. Two rounds of such workshops are offered during a principals' conference.

The Office of Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Learning (CIPL) selected TCRWP to provide these services on the basis of the vendor's extensive experience and unique expertise providing PD to New York City teachers and instructional leaders.

Services were scheduled to begin at the start of the 2015-2016 academic year so as to build on the aforementioned work. However, the contract used to pay for services prior to this year had expired; therefore, this contract is retroactive.

Services rendered subsequent to the expiration of this Negotiation Services contract will be covered by Teachers College or other vendors with the applicable MTAC.

Teachers College's proposed rate of $900 per participant is within the range of prices for comparable services under the Literacy Professional Development MTAC. On this basis, pricing has been determined to be fair and reasonable.

A review of Teachers College's background in the City's VENDEX files, DCP's own procurement files, and federal debarment databases found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible with respect to this contract.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Teachers College, Columbia University (Teachers College) to provide professional learning support to over 250 teachers as the planning and implementation stage of the new High School Writing Curriculum.

DISCUSSION

In the spring of 2015, together with the Division of Teaching and Learning, TCRWP co-authored and supported the production of the DOE High School Writing Curriculum. A four-day professional development series was then created for the 2015-16 school year to support schools as they implement the new writing curriculum and tailor their practices to advance high school students' writing and literacy skills development.

The High School Writing Curriculum Series aims to provide staff development to teacher leaders and administrators in DOE high schools so that classroom teachers in each school are able to implement a Common-Core-aligned writing workshop curriculum across entire schools, ensuring consistency across individual grade levels and from grade to grade. This course will provide hands-on support in how to use the curriculum, how to design writing lessons across a unit of study, and how to offer writing lessons that improve student achievement. The Office of Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Learning selected the TCRWP on the basis of the vendor's extensive experience and unique expertise providing PD to New York City teachers and instructional leaders.

Services were scheduled to begin at the start of the 2015-2016 academic year so as to build on the aforementioned work. However, the contract used to pay for services prior to this year had expired; therefore, this contract is retroactive.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Silicon Valley Mathematics Initiative (SVMI) to provide mathematics performance tasks and supporting materials to be used in the Annual Professional Performance Review (APPR) process, in compliance with New York State Education Law.

DISCUSSION

In April 2015, New York State passed Education Law §3012-d, mandating significant changes to the ways in which classroom teachers throughout New York State are evaluated and supported. Under the new law, the State continues to differentiate teacher effectiveness using four rating categories: Highly Effective, Effective, Developing, and Ineffective. In addition, however, the local Measures of Student Learning (MOSL) component of this law requires that the Department provide New York City schools with performance tasks and supporting materials.

The Office of Periodic Assessment (OPA) determined that SVMI has the necessary content area expertise to provide the additional services mandated by the change in State law. The requested negotiated services contract will allow these services to be provided until a new Multiple Task Award Contract (MTAC) solicitation offers a viable list of alternative contracts.

A contract is necessary for these services because the DOE does not have the capacity to develop these types of assessments in-house. This contract is retroactive because an arbitration decision announced by the New York State Education Department on June 15, 2015 included a directive requiring districts to renegotiate their APPR plans with local unions for implementation during the 2015-16 school year. Due to time constraints, DOE applied and was approved for a waiver allowing a one-year extension to continue to operate under the predecessor Education Law §3012-c.

An analysis of the costs of having this development work done by other large vendors currently under contract with the DOE or by smaller vendors that were previously considered for the same scope of work revealed that SVMI's prices were lower than those of any of these vendors. In addition, none of the currently contracted vendors were determined to have the capacity to provide the quality of service or level of content expertise required by the DOE. SVMI's prices have therefore been determined to be fair and reasonable.

TASKS	TOTAL AMOUNT
Assessment Development	$30,000
Rubric Development	$35,000
Field Testing & Student Response Samples	$38,000
Student Response Annotations & Teacher Scoring Guidelines	$50,000
TOTAL	$153,000

A review of SVMI's background in various databases, including the New York City Transit and New York State Worker Compensation Board debarment lists, VENDEX, and VCIP, revealed no significant adverse information. SVMI's performance of these services under previous contracts has been satisfactory. This vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

The Committee on Contracts approved this contract on February 12, 2016 on the basis of time constraints.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with the vendors listed above for the provision of on-site vision screening, on-site optometric exams and eyeglass distribution to students who are determined to be in need following the screening process. The vision screening program, which is operated in cooperation between the NYCDOE's Office of School Health and the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, has been expanded to serve students in approximately 130 Community Schools as part of a wider scope Mayoral program for Community Schools aimed at achieving certain outcomes by the end of the 2016 - 2017 school year.

DISCUSSION

In July 2015, the Office of School Health (OSH) was awarded approximately $2 million to provide vision screening to all students and optometry exams and eyeglasses to all students who need them in the 130 NYC designated Community Schools. OSH proposes to operate a model similar to DOHMH, whereby vision screening services are provided by Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) employees, optometry services are provided by DOE contracted optometrists and eyeglasses will be donated through an agreement with an outside vendor to be determined. It is expected that approximately 60,000 Community School students will receive screening for the purpose of detecting students' inherent vision abnormalities. Subsequently, the program will provide remedial action through optometric exams and glasses to an estimated 15,000 students who fail the screen. The expectation is that eyeglasses will be provided to students by the end of the 2016 - 2017 school year.

Due to unforeseen delays in coalescing the necessary program staff within DOHMH, we are operating under a restrictive timeframe to meet the February 1, 2016 deadline for commencement of the program. The program anticipates contracting 6 Optometrists to satisfy demand in the field in early February, In order to complete the exams and deliver glasses to all eligible students within this school year, it is necessary to immediately expand optometry capacity beyond existing staff.

Vendors were selected on the basis that they are the only vendors known by the vision screening program office to have an existing operation and readiness to offer these specific services in school settings. Due to the time constraints associated with the program deliverables, it was not feasible to bid out the services to other vendors. Moreover, other vendors would have to develop an operation model for these services, whereas the selected vendors will be able to leverage their long-standing relationships with both DOHMH's vision program and NYC schools, which is key for implementing these activities timely, efficiently and optimally. It is expected that DOHMH will have the necessary staff in place and will deliver services for the vision screening program beyond the proposed contract period.

It is necessary to contract for these services because the DOE does not possess the expertise and the resources necessary to meet the objectives of this program. The DOE advertised its intent to negotiate contracts with the above named vendors; inviting others to note any expressions of interest to provide these services in the future.

The estimated contract cost of $594,990 is based on the negotiated per-student cost of $20 for eye examination, $40 for labor costs and eyeglasses for a minimum of 10,000 Community School students over the contract period. Additionally, each vendor has agreed to deliver these services to an additional 5,000 students, on an as-needed basis, for the same per-student fee, with potentially 5,000 more students served. Thus, the estimated contract expenditures will not increase. Beyond the initial 10,000 students, the vision program will discretionally choose the vendor that would be in a better position to serve any particular site.

The DOE compared the negotiated costs with OSH's historical costs for providing these same services. DOE's costs which include staff expenses, optometrist fees and eyeglasses are estimated to be $25 per student. The negotiated price of $20 per student is 20 percent lower than the DOE's internal cost for the work. The pricing can therefore be determined to be fair and reasonable.

A review of the vendor background information for the six Optometrists, including VENDEX, VCIP, the Federal Debarment EPLS site, and the New York State Department of Labor, has revealed no significant adverse information. In addition, OSH personnel have confirmed that these vendors have provided satisfactory service. These vendors have therefore been determined to be responsible.

A formal Letter of Intent was received from Ageless Eye Care P.C. of Chicago in response to the negotiated services notice in the City Record. OSH determined that there was insufficient time to evaluate this vendor's proposal in time to participate in the current vision screening program. Since the program is at capacity this year, OSH would reach out to the vendor after such time as they have assessed future needs for the program. Additionally, OSH will invite the vendor to participate in a separate grant-funded program through the Fund for Public Health in New York/NYC.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to extend the DOE's use of the Department of Citywide Administrative Services' (DCAS) contract for web-based comprehensive legal research with Thomson Reuters dba West Publishing Corporation (Westlaw) to December 31, 2016. DCAS has not confirmed whether another extension or a new multi-year requirements contract is imminent; therefore, another extension may be necessary after this extension term expires.

DISCUSSION

The DOE's Office of General Counsel (OGC) will use this contract as a cost-effective vehicle to perform legal research on behalf of various DOE offices. Westlaw is a web-based legal research platform that can be customized by practice area for various OGC end users and offers news aggregation, a greater variety of legal databases and tax information, and content such as summaries and analyses covering public sector labor law, tools for training and sharing internal knowledge, and tools for legislative journals, committee reports, and floor testimony. These features will allow OGC staff to operate more efficiently in the research process.

A Request for Bids was not conducted because the required specialized services are available through this City contract.

A background check of Westlaw, including a review of federal debarment, VENDEX, and DCP's own records, revealed no significant adverse information; moreover, Westlaw has provided satisfactory service under its City contracts. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

The monthly pricing for this extension represents an increase of three percent over that of the base contract for these services, which DCAS originally procured competitively in 2011. As this increase compares favorably with inflation and price indices over the same period, pricing for this contract extension has been determined to be fair and reasonable.

Authorization is requested to contract with Morningside Center for Teaching Social Responsibility (Morningside) to provide teacher guides, textbooks, and ancillary materials to public and participating non-public schools.

DISCUSSION

Morningside's The 4Rs (Reading, Writing, Respect & Resolution) integrates social and emotional learning into language arts content, developing students' reading and writing skills as they learn critical life skills. This program is used for teaching students in grades PreK-8 the skills of building community, understanding and handling feelings, listening, assertiveness, problem-solving, dealing with diversity, and making a difference. Morningside's other program, Restore 360, creates a sense of community among students in grades 6-12, builds their social and emotional skills, and provides a positive alternative to punitive discipline policies that can lead to suspension.

As Morningside is the sole provider of these materials, a competitive procurement is impractical.

A background check conducted on Morningside using the New York State Division of Corporations website, the Federal Debarred List, and VENDEX revealed no significant adverse information. Accordingly, this vendor has been determined to be responsible.

The estimated contract amount is based on historical usage by schools. Morningside has offered the DOE the lowest prices available to any of its customers. Pricing has therefore been determined to be fair and reasonable.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with the Museum of Science, Boston (MSB) to provide kits that include teacher guides, storybooks, and ancillary materials to public and participating non-public schools.

DISCUSSION

MSB's Engineering Is Elementary program for students in grades 2-5 teaches students problem-solving, critical-thinking, and reasoning skills. The program helps students develop essential understandings about engineering and is designed to integrate with science. Students in grades 6-8 use MSB's Engineering Is Everywhere program to explore real-world problems, develop communication skills, and apply STEM knowledge. These two programs will be part of the DOE's Core Curriculum Implementation Unit's Summer in the City Curriculum.

As MSB is the sole provider of these materials, a competitive procurement is impractical.

The estimated contract amount is based on the Core Curriculum program office's estimated usage as required for the Summer in the City program.

MSB is offering the DOE the lowest prices available to any of its customers. Pricing has therefore been determined to be fair and reasonable.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with VB Teaching Tools (VBT) to provide manipulative assessment materials kits to public and participating non-public schools.

DISCUSSION

VBT produces a manipulatives kit that is used in the administration of the ABLLS-R assessment. ABLLS-R is a one-to-one oral inventory type of assessment used specifically for students with autism. Behavior Analysis, Inc. is the sole provider of the assessment, but VBT is the sole provider for the manipulative kits utilized during the assessment. The kits include dolls with clothing to test fine motor skills, emotion matching cards, objects for sorting, and other manipulatives aligned to the performance prompts in ABLLS.

As VBT is the sole provider of this manipulative kit a competitive procurement is impractical.

A background check conducted on VBT using the New York State Division of Corporations website and the Federal Debarred List revealed no significant adverse information. Accordingly, this vendor has been determined to be responsible.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested on behalf of the Office of Pupil Transportation (OPT) to purchase SnoClaw Flex-Trax tire straps from Patent Development Company, LLC, in a pilot program to make the operation of school buses safer in snowy conditions. This purchase will be conducted via a sole source goods agreement with the manufacturer and sole distributor.

DISCUSSION

OPT is conducting a pilot study to test adaptive devices for tires on school buses providing service in Staten Island. These items are needed to address safety concerns related to buses getting stuck in the snow due to the borough's challenging terrain. If this pilot proves successful, OPT may proceed with issuing a formal procurement for the rest of the City. The DOE is seeking alternatives to snow chains, which have been historically used and can destroy pavement.

OPT's market research of snow chains and related products for use on school bus tires determined SnoClaw straps to be the only available item that fit school bus wheels (Type A and Type C), provide the required level of performance; and satisfy the need for quick temporary installation. DOE's bus service providers will be responsible for installing devices, making easy and quick installation a critical specification. Other brands required alterations, tools, or driving over socks or boots for installation, or they were for one-time use only.

OPT's market research found that SnoClaws:

- are installed and removed while the bus is stationary;
- require no alterations or tools for installation;
- are reusable and storable when not in use; and
- have list prices that are comparable to or less expensive than all other brands, including those whose features do not meet the DOE's specifications.

Although one other brand of straps is initially less expensive, a new set is required after each use.

Patent Development Company is the manufacturer and sole distributor of this product, making a Request for Bids impractical. The DOE plans to purchase up to 621 units at various prices, depending on the size of the strap, for an estimated total expenditure of $99,743. As manufacturing and delivery of an order of this size can take 4-6 weeks, OPT under its own authority ordered 177 units at a cost of $24,348, allowing OPT access to these straps during the current winter season.

The retail cost for each unit ranges from $162 to $295, depending on the size. Patent Development is providing a fixed 25 percent discount on each item and does not charge for shipping as long as delivery is made to a central location or locations in close proximity to each other. The vendor has provided in writing that no other school district or municipality pays a lower than the DOE. Prices have therefore been determined to be fair and reasonable.

A sole source procurement was publicly advertised in the City Record and on the DOE's website. The DOE received no response to this announcement.

A review of Patent Development's background, including VENDEX, VCIP, the Federal Debarment EPLS site, and the New York State Department of Labor, revealed no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Child Mind Institute (CMI) to provide trauma-related intervention services in over 100 public schools throughout the City.

DISCUSSION

CMI provides workshops and training for students, school personnel, and their families as part of its Trauma Response Services program. Services are provided in the form of emotional support, training to manage multiple sources of trauma, behavioral intervention, free user-friendly educational materials, and consultation for difficult cases within a school or district. These services are conducted in small groups during the summer and fall sessions. The program's goals are to:

- Increase awareness of children's mental health issues, specifically risks related to traumatic events;
- Decrease stigma and other barriers to care;
- Reduce exposure to stressful/traumatic events;
- Facilitate early detection of problematic reactions to stressful/traumatic events; and
- Provide effective treatments to children and families in need.

This contract is retroactive due to a delay in the approval of the allocation by the Mayor's Office of Contract Services.

DCP reviewed the vendor's background in the DOE's files and the VENDEX system and found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

A competitive sealed bid was not done for this procurement and a contract for these services is necessary because the City Council discretionary allocation specifically names this vendor for the amount stated above. To have these services provided by another party would be contrary to the allocation process.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to enter into an agreement with Expanded Schools, Inc. (formerly known as the After School Corporation) to provide technical assistance with program planning and development as part of the New York State Expanded Learning Time (NYSELT) program.

DISCUSSION

The New York City Department of Education (DOE) intends to extend learning time for over 4,400 middle school students with three key elements required in an expanded school day: increased time for individualized literacy instruction; increased exposure to the arts; and increased time to enhance academic growth mindsets and prepare for high school choice. The DOE will partner with Expanded Schools, an organization dedicated to expanding learning time, to improve student achievement and enable a well-rounded education.

Expanded Schools will provide intensive and targeted technical assistance, coaching, and consultation on and off site to four of the schools in the NYSELT program. Expanded Schools will also participate in Project Management that includes assisting the DOE in the preparation of all NYSED grant-related documents, including the submission of the proposal and reports, preparing and facilitating regular meetings with the DOE and ITS technical assistance partners (Generation Schools and the National Center on Time and Learning), and monitoring program compliance with NYSED grant requirements through site visits and narrative and fiscal report reviews.

A competitive sealed bid was not conducted for this procurement and a contract for these services is necessary because the Expanded Learning Time grant specifically named this vendor for the amount stated above. To have the services provided by another party would be contrary to the grant. Pricing for the contracted services was established as part of the grant submission and award.

A review of the vendor's background, including DCP's files and VENDEX, found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Pathway to the Arts (Pathway) to provide extended school day services in support of the Extended School Day/School Violence Prevention Program Grant in District 9.

DISCUSSION

Pathway to the Arts provides students in grades 9-12 with instruction in the arts, focusing on visual arts, spoken word/poetry, and West African drumming. The program model blends standard curriculum with arts enrichment in order to develop creative thinking and problem solving. Pathway's programs encourage students to focus on creating rather than merely absorbing knowledge, and thereby feel excited about what they are learning. Services will be provided at the High School for Excellence.

This contract is retroactive because the State did not release grant funding until July 2015. Once funding was approved, additional time was required to review the revised work plan and budget.

A competitive sealed bid was not done for this procurement and because the Extended School Day/School Violence Prevention Grant named this vendor for the amount stated above. To have the services provided by DOE staff or another vendor would be contrary to the grant. Pricing for the contracted services was established by the grantor in the grant award and has therefore been determined to be fair and reasonable.

The contract manager's office has experience with the vendor providing these services and confirms that it has performed satisfactorily. A review of information regarding the vendor's background in the VENDEX system and in DOE's files found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Strategic Inquiry Consulting, LLC (Strategic) to provide professional development at several persistently underperforming high schools as part of New York City's High School Achievement Initiative (HSAI).

DISCUSSION

Strategic will collaborate with the DOE to implement a rigorous high school turnaround model in an effort to accelerate improvement across a selection of underperforming high schools. The program model, Strategic Inquiry, consists of a set of design principles (teams, targets, tasks, and training) for organizing and developing teacher teams within each school. Training will be centered around Writing Is Thinking through Strategic Inquiry (WITSI), an expository writing program that targets students' deficiencies and improves reading comprehension. Teachers are instructed on identifying students' challenges and supporting students in need.

WITSI offers a series of three professional development sessions in the teaching of writing in one school or at a central location for up to 30 participants.

- Session 1 focuses on the teaching of sentence-level foundational skills;
- Session 2 focuses on paragraph skills; and
- Session 3 focuses on the essay.

Advanced topics include note-taking and research. All sessions are tailored to the specific needs of each site and materials are adapted for each offering.

The grant application to NYSED included proposed pricing for all five years of the program. Should funding be made available for the renewal terms, contract amendments would not be required, as all estimated annual expenses are being proposed in this RA for Panel approval. The agreement will also include language that makes it clear that all options to renew are contingent upon funding being made available from the NYSED School Improvement Grant award for that option year.

This contract is retroactive because funding for the program was not received by the program office until December 2015.

A review in the DOE's files and VENDEX regarding the vendor's background found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

A competitive sealed bid was not done for this procurement and a contract for these services is necessary because the NYSED School Improvement Grant specifically named this vendor for the amount stated above. PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with Purelements: An Evolution in Dance (Purelements) to provide services under the 21st Century Community Learning Center Grant to 300 students in four schools located in District 1 in Manhattan and Districts 17 and 23 in Brooklyn.

DISCUSSION

Purelements is a creative arts organization that offers students activities that enrich their cultural experiences and build life skills such as critical thinking, problem solving, and understanding historical context. The arts programming component includes visual arts, theatre, chorus, and capoeira (a Brazilian martial art that combines dance, acrobatics, and music). Students participate in the recruitment process and choose from among the programs offered.

Purelements' after-school and regular-day school sessions are 45 minutes long. At the middle school level, one adult supervises up to 10 students; in high schools, the ratio is one adult for every 15 students.

This contract is retroactive because the vendor was late in submitting requested work plans and budget documents; in addition, these documents required multiple rounds of revisions.

A review of the vendor's background in DOE's files and VENDEX systems found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

A competitive sealed bid was not conducted for this procurement and a contract for these services is necessary because the 21st Century Community Learning Centers Grant specifically named this vendor for the amount stated above. PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with the Jacques Exclusive Caterers (Jacques Catering) to provide catering, delivery, set-up, and clean-up services to the New York City Regional Adult Education Network of the Office of Adult and Continuing Education.

DISCUSSION

The Regional Adult Education Network (RAEN) is a system set up by the New York State Education Department (NYSED) to provide staff development resources to adult education practitioners and thus improve NYSED-funded adult education and family literacy programs. RAEN provides technical assistance in coordination with the NYSED Office of Adult Education's Program and Policy Unit to help adult education programs meet statewide benchmarks on the National Reporting System's (NRS) core indicators. RAEN seeks to plan and deliver research-based professional development and training, and effective communication links to State- and federally-funded agencies providing adult literacy services below the post-secondary level.

Jacques Catering was listed in the Minority and Women-Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) Utilization Plan, as required by Article 15-A of the New York State Executive Law. Upon submission to NYSED, the MWBE utilization plan was approved for Jacques Catering to cater and provide delivery services, set up refreshments for all-day Professional Development (PD) trainings, and clean up PD sessions for RAEN.

This contract is retroactive because the NYSED did not approve the MWBE utilization plan until December 2015.

A review of the vendor's background, including DCP's files and VENDEX, found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

A competitive sealed bid was not conducted for this procurement and a contract for these services is necessary because the Regional Adult Education Network Grant specifically named this vendor for the amount stated above. DISCUSSION

The Regional Adult Education Network (RAEN) is a system set up by the New York State Education Department (NYSED) to provide staff development resources to adult education practitioners and thus improve NYSED-funded adult education and family literacy programs. Upon submission to NYSED, the MWBE utilization plan was approved for Splex One to provide video production, graphic design, and other services to RAEN.

Services include recording RAEN weekly professional development sessions and teacher leader videos at adult learning center sites across the City. SPLEX One manages pre-production planning, recording, and post-production editing for all NYC RAEN videos using its own equipment. Completed Teacher Leader training videos are posted on the NYSED-run website www.teachingtocoreny.org. The scope of work also includes hosting, editing, and maintaining NYC RAEN website www.newyorkcityraen.org. Maintenance includes the weekly uploading of content, revising and editing the platform on an ongoing basis, and archiving past content as needed.

This contract is retroactive because the NYSED did not approve the MWBE utilization plan until December 2015.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to contract with the Urban Office Products, Inc. (Urban Office Products) to provide supplies to the New York City Regional Adult Education Network of the Office of Adult and Continuing Education.

DISCUSSION

The Regional Adult Education Network (RAEN) is a system set up by the New York State Education Department (NYSED) to provide staff development resources to adult education practitioners and thus improve NYSED-funded adult education and family literacy programs. RAEN provides technical assistance in coordination with the NYSED Office of Adult Education's Program and Policy Unit to help adult education programs meet statewide benchmarks on the National Reporting System's (NRS) core indicators. RAEN seeks to plan and deliver research-based professional development and training, and effective communication links to State- and federally-funded agencies providing adult literacy services below the post-secondary level.

Urban Office Products was listed in the Minority and Women-Owned Business Enterprises (MWBE) Utilization Plan, as required by Article 15-A of the New York State Executive Law. Upon submission to NYSED, the MWBE utilization plan was approved for Urban Office Products to provide office furniture, office supplies, paper products, and janitorial supplies to RAEN.

This contract is retroactive because the NYSED did not approve the MWBE utilization plan until December 2015.

A review of the vendor's background, including DCP's files and VENDEX, found no significant adverse information. The vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.

A competitive sealed bid was not conducted for this procurement and a contract for these services is necessary because the Regional Adult Education Network Grant specifically named this vendor for the amount stated above. To have the services provided by another party would be contrary to the grant. Pricing for the contracted services was established as part of the grant submission and award.

PURPOSE

Authorization is requested to extend the DOE's use of a New York City Law Department (NYCLD) e-discovery contract to provide staffing for forensic investigations. The NYCLD originally contracted with DTI of Washington, LLC (dba EED, a DTI Company) (DTI) via a negotiated acquisition process for web-hosting central repositories and consultant/expert and data processing services in the field of litigation support. The NYCLD subsequently extended its contract with DTI for these services and the DOE seeks to extend the term of its use of this contract by one year.

DISCUSSION

The Office of Special Investigations (OSI) uses this service provider to complete forensic analyses and reports from electronically stored information (ESI) on employee misconduct cases. In order to maintain the integrity of these investigations, the ESI analyses must be completed by a forensic technical expert, who may be required to testify at administrative trials.

In-house personnel with the required certifications have historically conducted these forensic investigations. At present, neither the OSI nor the DOE's Division of Instructional and Information Technology (DIIT) employs an individual with the requisite certifications. OSI has experienced recruitment and retention challenges with employees who maintain forensic analysis certification. The use of this contracted service provider allows greater spending flexibility and cost containment while performing a limited number of mandated investigations each year.

This contract is retroactive because the NYCLD did not anticipate a need for the vendor's services past the April 30, 2015 expiration date of the previous contract. However, the NYCLD determined that it was necessary for DTI to provide these services immediately to avoid a backlog and to provide continuity of services, making a new procurement via a Request for Proposals (RFP) impractical.

The NYCLD intends to procure these services via an RFP and award multiple vendors; the resulting contracts will cover any of these services rendered after the expiration date of this contract extension.

The DOE did not procure these required specialized services competitively because they are available through this City contract per Section 3-11 of the DOE Procurement Policy and Procedures and it is not in the interest of the DOE to contract separately for these services, as the DOE benefits from the lower costs through aggregate purchases made possible by the NYCLD contract.

OSI chose to contract with DTI primarily due to the vendor's past satisfactory performance evaluations. For the NYCLD's negotiated acquisition, DTI's prices were compared to the prices normally paid for the same or similar services; the NYCLD determined that DTI's prices are within the range of prices normally paid by the NYCLD and are therefore fair and reasonable. On the basis of this finding, which pertained to an estimated NYCLD expenditure of $500,000, the DOE has determined that pricing for the $100,000 in estimated DOE expenditures is also fair and reasonable

A background check, including a review of federal debarment, VENDEX, and DCP's own records, revealed no significant adverse information; the vendor has therefore been determined to be responsible.
