

At Evergreen Middle School, we believe that children learn best by doing. Students love the urban exploration and hands-on learning opportunities at Evergreen. Classes feature fieldwork, experiments, and group projects. Afterschool and lunch time clubs allow children to pursue their passions. Parents like our school's focus on developing independent, responsible thinkers. Our advisory program allows students to get to know their peers, develop their leadership skills, and solve problems with their classmates. Advisory also allows students to develop a close relationship with an adult member of our staff as well as participate in a student-selected community service project.
