The Proposed Phase-out of Jamaica High School (28Q470)

I. Description of the subject and purpose of the proposed item under consideration.

Jamaica High School (28Q470, “Jamaica High School”) is an existing high school located at 167-01 Gothic Drive, Jamaica, NY 11432, within the geographical confines of Community School District 28. It currently serves students in grades nine through twelve. On December 20, 2010, the New York City Department of Education (DOE) issued an Educational Impact Statement (“EIS”) proposing to phase out Jamaica High School based on its poor performance and the DOE’s assessment that the school lacks the capacity to turn around quickly to better support student needs. This amended EIS corrects typographical and formatting errors, clarifies the methodology for calculating utilization rates, corrects utilization rates, corrects the grade spans identified for Queens Collegiate in one table, updates the number of high school seats being created in Queens, corrects the projected enrollment for Community Leadership in one table, and corrects the list of schools in Queens offering Bilingual Spanish programs.

If this proposal is approved, Jamaica High School would no longer admit new ninth grade students after the conclusion of the 2010-2011 school year. Jamaica’s enrollment would decrease gradually over the next three years. The school would complete phasing out in June 2014. Current students would be supported as they progress towards graduation while remaining enrolled in Jamaica High School, except as noted below. In cases where students do not complete graduation requirements by June 2014, the DOE will help students and families identify alternative programs or schools that meet students’ needs so that they may continue their high school education after Jamaica High School completes phasing out. As described in more detail below, current students in the Jamaica High School Gateway program would have the option to receive an administrative transfer to a stand-alone Gateway school that the DOE is proposing to open in September 2011. The existing Gateway program at Jamaica High School would close effective September 2011.

Jamaica High School is located in building Q470 and is currently co-located with Queens Collegiate: A College Board School (28Q310, “Queens Collegiate”), Hillside Arts and Letters Academy, (28Q325, “Hillside Academy”), and High School for Community Leadership (28Q328, “Community Leadership”). All three schools are new and are in the process of growing to full scale as they each add a new grade of students annually. Currently, both Hillside Academy and Community Leadership each serve ninth grade and will expand to full scale, grades 9 -12 in the 2013-2014 school year. Queens Collegiate currently enrolls students in sixth grade, and grades 9-11; when the school completes its expansion in the 2012-2013 school year, the school will serve students in grades six through twelve.

In 2009-2010, Q470 had a target capacity of 2,116 students, and the building enrolled 1,574 students, with a utilization rate of 74% of target capacity. This current year, there are 1,586 students projected to be enrolled in the building, yielding an estimated utilization rate of 85% of target capacity. This means that the building is underutilized and has extra space to accommodate additional students. If this proposal is approved, the other schools located in Q470 would continue serving their current students and would add one grade per year as they continue expanding to full scale.

In a separate EIS posted on December 20, 2010 and amended on January 19, 2011, the DOE is also proposing that the current Gateway program at Jamaica High School become a stand-alone high school (28Q350) and open in the Q470 building serving students in grades 9-12 grade during the 2011-2012 school year. If approved, that school would continue serving students in grades 9-12 as Jamaica High School phases out. This school will enroll new ninth grade students through the Educational Option Admissions method as part of the High School Admissions Process. Current students in the Jamaica Gateway program would have the option to transfer into the new school beginning in September 2011.
