Overview

For nearly a century, Abraham Lincoln High School has been a leader in New York City education. Lincoln alumni have gone on to great success in every imaginable field. This great tradition and the legacy of our namesake still resonate at Lincoln today. Abraham Lincoln High School is a community where all members help one another pursue their potential. Through our partnership with Johns Hopkins University's Talent Development High Schools, we offer Small Learning Communities (SLC). Our ninth and tenth grade Academies feature a block schedule in which teams of teachers meet with guidance counselors to discuss and support each student's academic performance and socio-emotional development. The first two years at Lincoln are dedicated to meeting high school graduation requirements, while the junior and senior years in the upper academies are devoted to college and career readiness in the sciences or humanities. Lincoln provides students with the individualized attention of SLC, as well as the assets, resources, and facilities of a large comprehensive high school. We offer a state-of-the-art photography studio, two animal science labs, a vast library, multiple computer labs, spacious grounds, three gymnasiums and a swimming pool. Our extensive elective course offerings, including Advanced Placement and College Now classes, empower our academic achievers to complete up to a year of college credit during their secondary studies. Lincoln is a school where students have every opportunity to pursue their potential.

Overview

We are a small learning community with the belief that excellent teaching, close relationships and high expectations lead students to college and careers. We are dedicated to creating a calm, respectful learning environment for students and their families. We work closely with families to ensure that all students learn to be positive members of our school community. Classes are student-centered and project-based, with a heavy focus on building skills in the following areas of communication: writing, presentation and self-expression through the arts. Participation in an Advisory program allows students to develop close relationships with peers and teachers, undergo personal growth, and embark on college trips starting in the ninth grade. We seek parents and students who are interested in belonging to and shaping a close-knit school community.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Advisory with Community Service Trips, Writing in each class, Partnership with Urban Word NYC (students write and publish a book yearly), Creative Writing, Journalism, Art Electives, Senior Internships, College Now, Partnership with East Brooklyn Congregations, Exhibition-based Academic program (grades primarily based on student exhibitions/projects)

Overview

The Academy of Urban Planning helps students use their leadership abilities to achieve academic success. We work to forge a lasting spirit of community where students, parents and guardians are welcome, teachers and staff work collaboratively and all are engaged as partners to provide an exemplary education for our students. We provide students with the academic and social tools they need to pursue goals by stimulating their interests in learning, discovery and self-expression. The urban planning, theme-based curriculum takes students out of the classroom and into their communities to develop skills that will move them toward higher education and careers, while at the same time tapping into their innate curiosity towards the world around them.

Overview

We are 'The Pride and Joy of Bed-Stuy!' With effective instruction, along with a welcoming learning environment, we are committed to developing young citizens who are prepared socially and academically for the 21st century. We are organized into four Small Learning Communities – Law, Business & Technology, Entertainment Arts and Freshman Prep. Our Small Learning Communities are aligned with our belief that children enjoy learning with curricula that are relevant, differentiated and speak directly to their interests. A CARE Center was created to provide wrap-around services to meet our students' needs. Students are also provided with Career and Technical Education opportunities.

Overview

Brooklyn Collegiate: A College Board School is a community that consists of a diverse student and staff population. The staff is committed to helping our students master the challenging curriculum, guiding them to college entrance and preparing them for success. Our students learn to think critically, communicate effectively and remain open to new experiences and ideas. They are trained to become lifelong learners who are receptive to a wide range of ideas and beliefs. In turn, a strong school community of families, teachers and staff, equally committed to these high ideals, supports our students and provides a solid foundation for their success. We accept students of all levels who are committed to working hard.

Overview

Our motto is 'academic, creative and professional preparation for the 21st Century.' We provide our students and families with a small, personalized high school experience. Student learning is applied to the real world through research, experimentation and project-oriented work. Their learning is then displayed in written, visual and oral exhibitions. Every student is also part of our Advisory-Family program, which investigates critical issues in teen lives and creates a strong peer community. In addition, our students receive intensive career and college preparation with an arts/media specialization via electives, trips and internships. Students are required to complete an individualized graduation portfolio. Our goal is to help our students reach their potential and nurture their development through student-centered learning approaches, multiple supports and most importantly, strong relationships.

Overview

We help new learners of English develop the language and academic skills necessary for success in college and careers through content-based English as a Second Language. Students and teachers work collaboratively on authentic, experiential, interdisciplinary projects which they present to their fellow students, their teachers, the larger school community and outside visitors. All students complete a twelve-week career internship in a field of interest. We are an iZone 360 and Digital Ready school and take pride in incorporating technology into every class. Teachers and students use computers and iPads extensively in their work. The Brooklyn International High School is an Apple Distinguished Program, recognized by Apple for innovation, leadership and educational excellence. We believe that our students' and families' native languages and cultures are an asset to our school and we are proud to learn from and about them.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: English and home language skill development, computers available for every student, extensive use of iPads, authentic project-based learning, career internships (courts, law firms, museums, wildlife centers, hospitals, schools, technology, newspapers, laboratories), portfolio assessment, College Now, Project Advance (through Syracuse University), St. Joseph's College Bridge Program

Overview

The Brooklyn Latin School offers a liberal arts curriculum with an emphasis on the classics. Students are required to complete four years of Latin, history, mathematics, English, science and at least two years of a World Language. Assessments include Socratic Seminars, declamation (public speaking exercises), labs, math expositions and problem sets. Students can expect a strong emphasis on structured writing and public speaking, as well as an overarching practice of the kind of analytical thinking that will ensure that they are prepared for the challenges of college and careers.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: The Brooklyn Latin School (TBLS) offers the prestigious International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma Programme; In addition to challenging classwork, IB stresses independent thinking and community engagement; All students are expected to complete an extended independent essay, on a subject of their choosing, the completion of which correlates closely to college-level research writing; In addition, students are required to engage in a total of 150 hours of Creativity, Action and Service (CAS), which may include volunteering or engaging meaningfully with the community outside of TBLS.

Overview

At The Brooklyn School for Global Studies, all of our students are college bound. Our mission is to provide students with a rigorous and challenging curriculum that will help them become lifelong learners and critical thinkers. Through our partnership with the College Bound Initiative (CBI) and our elective classes that focus on academic and social skills, all of our students graduate career and college ready. Our early college awareness program has students going on college trips and meeting one on one with our college guidance expert. Technology, arts and media are infused into the curriculum to give students a well-rounded education. At The Brooklyn School for Global Studies, we believe in the power of education and the long lasting effect it has on not only the individual but the community at large.

Overview

We use math to develop a framework for understanding the world around us and we use research to validate our theories about how the world works. Brooklyn School for Math and Research wants each of its graduates to make significant contributions to the world. To make that happen, we provide our students with the support and training they need to master mathematics and research. Every student develops competence, confidence and critical thinking skills—tools that drive their success in college, university and careers.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: First-year students are programmed for three periods of mathematics, as well as an Advisory course; In addition to comprehensive course work in mathematics, all students are expected to complete a final research paper by their senior year on a topic of their choice; This capstone project will be closely aligned to college-level research writing and supervised by the English Language Arts Department; Special programs include SAT prep courses, free college credit courses at CUNY City Tech (College Now), College Summit

Overview

Our school offers students an intellectually challenging curriculum focused on Latin American and Caribbean studies, college and career preparation and community activism. Our classes emphasize college-level writing and analytical skills, as well as cultural awareness and celebration, which are integrated into the entire curriculum. We partner with Sarah Lawrence College to provide writing workshops. Our school was co-founded by Cypress Hills Local Development Corporation (CHLDC), a community-based organization. CHLDC provides opportunities for all students to be involved in the community and complete community service projects focused on critically analyzing impacting community issues.

				10	5	16
Program Description: A discipline-based music education that includes large ensemble, small ensemble, solo performance training and musicianship. Audition Information: For pitched instruments - prepare two major scales of your choice. Play at least one of the scales up and down two octaves. For non pitched instruments (percussion) prepare two rudiments of your choice in time with a strong steady pulse at a medium tempo. Murrow will provide piano, double bass, tuba, percussion (drum kit) and amplifiers. The student must bring a copy of the music they are performing for the adjudicating teacher. The copy will be returned to the student after the audition.
Studio Theatre	K57P	Performing Arts	Audition	9	32	424
Program Description: A sequential course of study focusing on acting, scene study, dramatic literature, playwriting, and performance. Audition Information: Students will be asked to perform a one-minute monologue from a play chosen by the applicant. The monologue must be memorized and should be age appropriate. Students will be asked to perform an improvisational pantomime from a list of scenarios supplied at the audition.

ELA and Math test results will not be the sole, primary or major factor in admissions decisions, consistent with applicable law. Instead, multiple measures, which may include State test results, will be used to make admissions decisions for screened/audition programs.

Overview

FDNY High School works in collaboration with the New York City Fire Department to offer an exceptional educational institution while introducing the occupational benefits of the Fire and Emergency Medical Services (EMS). Upon passing the New York State EMS Certification Exam in the twelfth grade, our students may have the opportunity to roll into a full-time position with the FDNY. By doing so, they will also understand the benefits of a career in civil service. In addition, all students will be prepared to pursue a post-secondary education as they enter their young adult life. Our students will study courses dealing with biology, life-saving skills, human anatomy, fire science, extinguishing agents and their chemical make-up, and official procedures for becoming a NYC Fire Fighter. Our graduates go on to work as EMTs and Fire Fighters for the FDNY.

Overview

The Frances Perkins Academy (FPA) engages students' interests and passions to prepare them for college and career success. With a low teacher-to-student ratio, students receive personalized guidance and support. One day a week, students participate in a College and Career Advisory, in which they experience project-based learning, college and career exploration, field trips, public presentations (exhibitions of learning), and internships. Students earn credits and prepare for the New York State Regents exams through traditional coursework, small group tutoring, after-school programs and online learning.

Overview

“Democracy cannot succeed unless those who express their choice are prepared to choose wisely. The real safeguard of democracy, therefore, is education.” —Franklin Delano Roosevelt. To this end, we at Franklin Delano Roosevelt High School provide our students with an extensive range of academic courses and extracurricular activities. The introduction of grade-level communities provides the benefit, focus, and intimacy of a small school while still maintaining the choices, options and diversity of a large comprehensive high school.

Overview

The High School for Civil Rights is a dynamic institution dedicated to providing high-quality educational programs, as well as an emphasis on issues relating to civil rights awareness. With a staff of experienced professionals teaching courses such as Constitutional Law, Immigration Law and Civil Rights Law, our school provides students the opportunity to extend their knowledge beyond the typical high school program. Students have the opportunity to travel to courthouses in New York and Washington DC, compete in Moot Court competitions, and serve as judges, attorneys, jurors, bailiffs, and clerks in the Academy’s Youth Court. We also have a courtroom available for mock trials and law-related classes. Whether plans are to attend a two-year college, a four-year university or enroll in a law enforcement or legal training program, the High School for Civil Rights provides students with the academic background and workplace exposure for success.

Overview

We are located in Williamsburg. Our school's partnerships with colleges, corporations and community organizations provide students with many opportunities to work in business settings. We prepare all students to participate fully in the complex world they will enter upon graduation. School service, community service projects and internship requirements help our students hone the skills they need to achieve excellence. We utilize a project-oriented, student-centered approach, which focuses on helping students create and reach their own goals. Using a hands-on approach, students learn to analyze information, research issues and solve problems as productive members of society.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Students may receive CTE endorsement in Academy of Hospitality and Tourism, CISCO; Students may also major in music; Our performing arts department consists of concert bands, two jazz bands, two choral ensembles, two dance ensembles and numerous chamber groups; No previous experience is necessary to join the performing arts department; The instrumental, choral and dance programs draw from all three campus schools, allowing students to perform at their ability level regardless of age or experience; All musical ensembles compete annually at the New York State Music Association festival

Overview

Juan Morel Campos Secondary School works to balance experiences in the arts with college readiness activities for all students. Every student at Campos takes daily talent classes of their choice; students become musicians, singers, dancers, actors, and visual artists. Partnerships with major community arts organizations and the College Bound Initiative (CBI) ensure that students also connect their learning to the real world. For example, students conduct gallery openings at professional galleries throughout the city and begin visiting colleges as freshmen. In addition, an in-house CBI counselor ensures that students are prepared for college acceptance and enrollment upon graduation. We are small enough to give every student the attention they deserve while being large enough to offer a wide variety of courses and activities during and after the school day. Beginning early in high school, students at Campos visit colleges, earn college credits through AP and CUNY courses, play sports, take on leadership roles, participate in a wide variety of after-school activities, learn about careers in the arts, and are surrounded by teams of adults who offer all of the academic and social support they need to succeed in school. We are prepared to serve any student and value a diverse and richly talented school community.

Overview

Khalil Gibran International Academy (KGIA) offers students the opportunity to study the Arabic Language and Culture and explore careers that require bilingual and bi-cultural and multicultural skills such as international business, diplomacy, linguistics, journalism and other related fields. In developing these skills, students will be well prepared for college, careers and positions as civic leaders in their community. Our students graduate with an understanding of different cultural perspectives, a love of learning and a desire for excellence. We are committed to providing a challenging education where students can reach their full potential and become leaders who will impact the world around them. In 2014-2015 KGIA will be in its third and last year of the accreditation process to become an International Baccalaureate World school.

Overview

The Kurt Hahn Expeditionary Learning School provides a challenging project-based academic curriculum in a supportive environment and prepares students to be our next generation of informed, skilled and courageous leaders. Students engage in a wide range of real-world experiences through frequent out-of-school fieldwork opportunities in academic classes, public sharing of portfolio work, and Crew, a community-based leadership class. Intensive ‘Explore Week’ courses throughout the year introduce students to college and career opportunities. Students, families and staff are committed to academic achievement, leadership development and public service.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Three times a year, students host parents for student-led conferences to show their best work and set goals for personal growth. This hallmark of our school builds terrific public speaking skills and self-confidence. All students attend a 5-day Adventure Course during 9th grade to build school culture and promote strong individual leadership development, a trip that alumni call 'life changing.' Families follow up-to-date academic progress anywhere using an online grading system. Students complete a senior thesis that teaches college-level research skills and promotes students taking action on local issues, which alumni call 'transformative.' College credit is earned through College Now.

Overview

Lyons Community School provides a broad, stimulating experience in the liberal arts, preparing students for college, healthy adulthood and lifelong learning. Our Field Studies program integrates weekly field trips for all students into a challenging Regents-based curriculum. Students have regular conferences with their faculty advisor in order to discuss academic goals and progress. A wide array of elective classes allows students to pursue their individual academic interests and goals. Courses taught by visiting artists and a solid physical wellness program (including sports, fitness and dance) support our mission of building 'mens sana in corpore sano' – a sound mind in a sound body.

Overview

Origins High School prepares students for success in college by building on strengths and being attentive to individual needs. We make it a priority to know students and families well through our Advisory program. Our inquiry-based curriculum asks students to develop questions, conduct research and prepare in-depth projects that exhibit their learning. Origins’ challenging liberal arts education is grounded in small group work, reading analysis and an emphasis on writing. Students present portfolios of work to panels of teachers and community members twice a year and as a graduation requirement. At Origins, we graduate students that are active, confident learners and problem-solvers.

Overview

At Park Slope Collegiate, you will collaborate, innovate, and inquire. Our students collaborate by participating in seminar discussions in classes such as Brooklyn History and Economics and by performing scenes with peers in English Language Arts and Social Studies. They innovate by creating original sculptures in Studio Art, experimenting with different musical genres in Guitar Ensemble, and producing their own digital shorts in Spanish Film. Finally, they engage in inquiry by developing their conceptual understanding of and their ability to apply mathematics ranging from Algebra to Calculus, and by investigating the theories and practices of the sciences ranging from Chemistry, Physics, Marine Biology and Computer Programming to Food and Environmental Science.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Four years of Science and Mathematics required; Junior and Senior course offerings include Physics, Marine Biology, Computer Programming, Calculus, Brooklyn History, Guitar Ensemble, Spanish Film, College Advisory; Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) starting in Freshman year

Overview

The School for Democracy and Leadership is a 6th-12th grade school that cultivates strong leaders and learners in our world. Our students have exciting opportunities for internships, mentorships, college exploration and student governance, supported by various partnerships. We emphasize student choice, parent and community participation and the development of personal potential through student government. At Town Hall meetings and Change Projects, students work toward transforming a part of their community. Our students take what they learn at School for Democracy and Leadership far beyond its halls – to college, their communities, the city and their future careers. They will be a positive force in the world, capable of influencing change and contributing constructively to democracy in our society.

Overview

SCCS is a small 6-12 school focused on student excellence, where young people have the opportunity to focus seriously on their academic and creative work and engage in rigorous inquiry in a community-oriented environment. Our emphasis is on project-based learning that challenges students to question, discuss, collaborate and solve problems—a curriculum that prepares students to be competitive scholars and citizens in the modern world. The arts, critical literacy, and technology are infused into all that we do, and students are challenged to be critical and creative thinkers, problem-solvers and active participants and leaders in our community. We believe that technological skills are critical to students' future success; every classroom is equipped with Smartboards, Document Cameras, and multiple computers, so our students are developing 21st century technology skills in every class. SCCS is also housed in a brand-new, state-of-the-art building that benefits from a professional auditorium, cutting-edge science and computer labs, art and music rooms and a full-scale gymnasium. We believe that the key to achievement is to involve not only our students but also their families—parents appreciate our focus on collaboration and communication, and can expect regular contact with our school.

Overview

The Urban Assembly School of Music and Art prepares students for college and the world of work. Our program integrates literacy and the arts into all aspects of our instructional program. Students learn to be critical thinkers and creative communicators. They learn to process and analyze complex information, view information in context, connect it to prior learning and convey their ideas in a purposeful and convincing manner. Our program capitalizes upon our students' love of the arts and their desire to engage in self-expression. We create an environment where students understand the practical relevance of their learning to be able to fulfill their visions for the future.

Overview

Our school is an all-girls school designed to encourage and foster the achievement of young women in math, science and technology. Our challenging curriculum uses interdisciplinary, inquiry-based models of learning that actively engage all students in their academic classes. Through our partners, students can participate in a range of internships. Our partners also connect our students with role models and mentors who inspire them not only to challenge their self-perceptions but also the stereotypes that currently exist for women in math and science today. Additionally, our after-school programs provide unique opportunities for students to explore their interests in fields involving math and science. Our graduates possess the skills needed to be successful in future careers and college and to make choices that positively impact their lives.

Overview

The Urban Assembly School for Collaborative Healthcare (UASCH) recognizes that healthcare is changing with more healthcare professionals working in collaborative teams. As a Career & Technical Education (CTE) high school, we prepare students for college and careers with a broad and deep focus on unique pathways. Coursework is as challenging as it is supportive, with a strong emphasis on cross-curricular and project-based learning, including community action projects focused on health issues in NYC. A member of the highly successful Urban Assembly network of schools, U.A.S.C.H. features strong partnerships with top-tier healthcare facilities that work closely with staff to bring timely healthcare topics into the classroom and expose students to modern healthcare facilities. Graduates will be ready to serve any number of critical roles in the increasingly collaborative field of healthcare.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: CTE healthcare focus with three career pathways: (1) Business of Healthcare, which is the administration and management of healthcare; (2) Clinical Healthcare, which is direct treatment of patients; and (3) Community Healthcare, which focuses on proactive care, disease management and health outreach/education; Regents prep curricula, Rigorous project-based instruction, Internships and work-based learning, Academic advisement, Community action and service; Advisory

Language Classes: N/A (Expected: Spanish and Spanish Native Language Arts)

Advanced Placement Classes: As the school expands, it will offer AP courses.

Extracurricular Activities and Clubs

Student clubs and organizations will be connected to the health career pathways: Future Business Leaders of America, Future Health Professionals, HealthCorps. Interested students will also be able to participate in the campus JROTC program.

Overview

The Urban Assembly School for Law and Justice (SLJ) prepares students for college and beyond through a challenging academic program with an emphasis on law and justice. Students are supported throughout their academic careers with dedicated teachers, a nationally recognized college and career readiness curriculum, and a vast array of student opportunities. SLJ graduates are strong readers and writers who think critically, work cooperatively, and question constantly. SLJ students participate in the democratic process through involvement in Student Council, Town Hall meetings and Youth Court. Through integrated partnerships, supportive relationships, and academically rigorous course-work, students will develop strong communication skills and an understanding of the role law plays in society. SLJ is committed to involving families and community members with an open door policy, frequent home contact, and monthly family events. Every student has an advisor who is the liaison between the family and the school.

Overview

It is our goal to provide a challenging academic program in an environment that fosters self-awareness and strong work habits, producing graduates who are fully prepared for higher education and careers. We provide a rich canvas of opportunities for students to share ideas with each other, the staff, and the outside community. Our students participate in project-based learning in their classes and demonstrate mastery of the materials through academic portfolio assessment. The Advisory program is the heart and soul of our school, offering students an opportunity for personal development and academic growth while building close relationships within the school community. Our staff makes every effort to know each student and family well through small class sizes and a personalized approach to education which provides a structure for success.

Overview

Partnered with the World Monuments Fund and the Park Avenue Amory, Williamsburg High School for Architecture and Design (WHSAD) has a unique curriculum that focuses on architectural preservation. Our inter-disciplinary concentration on Architecture, Studio Art and the Visual Arts threads artisan skills training and internship experiences throughout core academic content areas. All of our students are given the opportunity to participate in paid internships with industry partners. The alignment of architecture and design with core academic areas prepares our students for multiple college and career pathways in architecture, design and other related professions. Students from WHSAD can earn up to 6 college credits upon graduation from our program.

Academic Opportunities

Program Highlights: Students may receive CTE endorsement in Architectural Drafting & Architectural CAD/CADD; As part of our studio and portfolio requirements, students are challenged to build working prototypes of their designs. This course of study has made our students highly desirable for paid internship positions with industry partners; Students are also given opportunities to engage in the ACE mentoring, SkillsUSA and College Now programs

Language Classes: Spanish

Advanced Placement Classes: Calculus AB, English Language and Composition, Human Geography, Spanish Language, United States History

Extracurricular Activities and Clubs

Students organize to establish clubs that interest them. Students have organized clubs such as the video game club, architecture club, photography club, peer tutoring, and skateboarding club. WHSAD invites honor roll students to free incentive field trips at the end of each marking period. Past trips have included court-side seats to a Brooklyn Nets basketball game, ice skating at Central Park, as well as Broadway plays and musicals.

Overview

Nestled at the hub of one of the country's most vital arts centers, we offer a challenging curriculum in a small school setting. We provide an education rich in math, science, technology, literature, world history and current events. Students conduct original research, tour museums and explore New York's cultural life. Each grade takes an annual, overnight trip — freshmen participate in Living Environment labs in the wilderness of Upstate New York and upperclassmen visit colleges. Hands-on learning, supportive relationships, small classes, individual attention and regular tutoring are the underpinnings of a program focused on developing the skills required for success in college.

Overview

The Young Women's Leadership Schools (TYWLS) were established to nurture the intellectual curiosity and creativity of young women by supporting the 'whole girl' in order to maximize academic achievement, social emotional well being, and post-secondary success. TYWLS is supported by Young Women's Leadership Network and its CollegeBound Initiative in order to replicate the best practices of private and independent girls schools. TYWLS of Brooklyn opened in 2008 as the fifth school in the network. TYWLS strives to instill in students a sense of self-efficacy and community responsibility, characteristics which will support them as they become the leaders of the next generation.
