The Office of English Language Learners is pleased to invite you to

Everything You Want to Know in One Evening: Information Session for Parents of ELLs

As your child begins the school year, do you have questions about one or more of the following?

- programs for your child
- the kindergarten intake process
- special education referral
- gifted and talented assessment
- specialized high schools
- GED programs
- the college application process
- adult education

Join us as we host conversations around the City on these and other important topics.
