Special Education and Differentiation Professional Development Workshop Offerings

Professional development offerings that will help schools prepare for and develop Kindergarten programs to include ALL the students in their community. This professional development opportunity will teach school-based teams how to use the Continuum of Services to best address student needs, ultimately building Kindergartens that utilize flexible services and student-centered planning processes. Participants will learn how to plan lessons incorporating Universal Design for Learning and collaborative teaching methods to build effective school-wide practices. By participating in the varied menu of workshops, school teams will learn how to implement collaborative planning structures in order to provide direct and indirect services, develop effective individualized programs for students, and use Tier 1 adaptive materials and supports in general education classrooms.

Workshops are targeted for the following participants

- Administrators
- Members of the IEP Team or Child Study Team
- Early childhood general education teachers
- Early childhood special education teachers working in general education classrooms
- SETSS teachers
- Related Service providers providing push in services to general education classrooms
