School Mission Statement

Our school mission is to assure that the teachers, parents, and community work together to produce literate, caring, responsible citizens who meet the high standards necessary for success in the technological world of the 21st century.

Principal's Statement

PS 145 participates in School-Wide Programs. Our instructional program includes a daily 120 minute literacy block and two periods of Mathematics in all grades, a discovery-based Science program linked to the Botanical Garden, the integration of Technology in the classroom, and an extensive Arts program. Our support programs in grades 1-5 include daily academic intervention and enrichment activities, and an after school program. We offer additional support to our ELL students and their parents through our Saturday Institute. All staff participates in the comprehensive professional development program designed to meet the rigors of the curriculum.

Special Academic Programs

Our Arts program, funded through Tax Levy, Project Arts and Title I funds, include choral music, band, drama and the visual arts. We will showcase a culminating event, "Night of the Arts" in the spring. Our Health and Fitness Academy has expanded classroom activities to address diet, exercise and sports.

Extracurricular Activities

"Olympic" field days, an annual trip to Albany to meet with the State Legislators, awards assemblies and multicultural festivities throughout the school year enhance our extra curricular program. Educational field trips during the school year and our Saturday Institute provide enrichment in the arts through visits to museums, theaters, etc.

Community Support

We have a partnership with Bushwick Leader HS, and a growing partnership with community-based organizations such as Ridgewood/Bushwick Senior Citizens Center, Buena Vida, the Parks Department, the Health Department, the Brooklyn Historical Society and Stages of Learning.

Parent/School Support

PS 145 provides ESL classes for parents three times a week. The Saturday Family Institute provides classes in ESL and Word Processing. Nutrition classes, in collaboration with Cornell University, are offered to address the obesity problem and healthy eating and cooking. In addition, two special interest workshops are provided monthly.
