School Mission Statement

The mission of Bedford-Stuyvesant Preparatory High School is to provide a safe, nurturing environment where students, staff and parents work cooperatively to promote academic, social and emotional growth, enabling students to achieve excellence and to prepare for integration into the greater community. We see our graduates as role models for future generations of students.

Principal's Statement

BSPHS focuses on the individual educational needs of students. This alternative high school has a strong guidance component, small classes & innovative educational strategies to ensure success. Parental participation is strongly encouraged and we emphasize interaction with local community based organizations. We are a community of learners that offers a variety of methodologies to ensure the success of students. The classrooms are equipped with instructional materials, computers and televisions. In addition, each department has access to a SmartBoard® to enhance instruction through technology.

Special Academic Programs

Principal's Academy, PM and Saturday School, College NOW, a Student Literary Arts Magazine (SLAM), Art Gallery, Culinary Arts Club and community partnerships are implemented to enhance academic achievement and increase student involvement.

Extracurricular Activities

BSPHS offers many opportunities for students to grow outside the classroom. We have a basketball team, a co-ed softball team, bowling team, drama club, art club, computer club, a culinary arts club, and a Student Literary Arts Magazine (SLAM), newspaper club yearbook, and peer mediation.

Community Support

Ongoing collaboration with Bedford Stuyvesant Restoration, Brooklyn College, Medgar Evers College, New York Technical College, the Brownstoners of Bedford Stuyvesant and Concord Baptist Church.

Parent/School Support

Monthly parent teacher/meetings are convened. Parents are actively involved on the School Leadership team. PA meetings are conducted monthly. The parent coordinator provides parent/student advocacy.
