School Mission Statement

The mission of PS 3 is to provide children with an interactive learning environment, one that takes into account the strengths and needs of each individual. We recognize that each child deserves respect, encouragement, and the opportunity for creative self-expression. We encourage children to learn from other children of different ages, abilities and backgrounds. Bias based on race, class, gender or sexuality is actively discouraged. We support each teacher's creativity and dedication. We work to create an atmosphere of cooperation and clear communication among teachers, administration, students and their families.

Principal's Statement

PS 3 is a school that stresses creativity, individuality, and social awareness. The academic program is challenging. Students are encouraged and expected to think, and to take responsibility for their learning. The arts form a vital part of the curriculum, both in the classrooms and in the art studio, movement, music and clay programs. Family participation is integral to every aspect of school life.

Special Academic Programs

Our approaches to curriculum are: balanced literacy, with an emphasis on process-writing; mathematics instruction for both understanding and computational facility; arts-integration throughout the curriculum; technology in an up-to-date computer lab, as well as in classrooms; science with an environmental focus; many field trips!

Extracurricular Activities

There is an parent-administered after school program with a full range of activities from homework help to gymnastics and a literacy-based Virtual "Y" after school program. We participate in programs offered by New Victory Theater, Theaterworks, Days of Taste, and partnerships with a range of dance companies.

Community Support

PS 3 has many N.Y.U. student teachers and America Reads/America Counts tutors. We also have student teachers from Bank Street College and CUNY. We receive support from the Greenwich House Music School, Everybody Wins-Power Lunch program, NYU's Wallerstein Environmental Education Collaborative, Learning Leaders, Emigrant Savings Bank and Book Pals.

Parent/School Support

PS 3 families work closely with teachers and participate regularly in class events. Families organize and run major fund-raising events such as the Fall Festival and the Antiquarian Book Fair. These funds are used to support arts and academic programs. Parents publish a monthly newsletter, and were awarded a Parent As Arts Partners grant.
