School Mission Statement

PS 11 believes in the ability of each and every child to reach his/her true potential within a diverse community of learners. PS 11 strongly believes in instruction that is assessment driven and requires children to be actively engaged in their own learning. We, at PS 11, understand the importance of demonstrating, not demanding, what children need to do to become successful learners. We are dedicated to children understanding the process as well as the product. We also believe that children need to become actively involved in their growth socially. They need to be able to talk out disagreements and compromise when necessary. The staff is also involved in their own growth as learners, and there is both an understanding and expectation that teachers reach out to other teachers, the administration, and staff developers to improve their practice.

Principal's Statement

The William J. Harris School, PS 11, is an exciting learning community where each child has the opportunity to participate in a literature-based, arts and curriculum integrated environment. Our school philosophy and culture support a standards-based education that is demanding, rigorous, and focused on the learner. Our goal is to empower our learners with highly developed thinking skills, meaningful strategies, enriched curriculum content and an understanding of process that will enable them to successfully undertake academic initiatives.

Special Academic Programs

Chess in the Schools; Extended Day Literacy and Math Program; TERC math; Gifted Program; Teachers College Reading and Writing, K-3 lower class sizes; Flamenco Dancing (2nd grade); Ballroom Dancing (5th grade); Music and the Brain (K-2); Chorus; Big Brother/Big Sister; Juilliard School (various grades); Circle in the Square (3rd & 4th grade).

Extracurricular Activities

Extensive after-school program: Language Instruction, Chess, Sports and Clubs in Art, and Extended Day Literacy sessions and Math workshops with NYU.
