School Mission Statement

The Manhattan Middle School for Scientific Inquiry – MS 328, offers a rich educational environment that prepares students to become lifelong learners and engaged members of society. As caring and respectful individuals, they will be able to participate successfully in a rapidly changing world. Teachers use research-based teaching methodologies and engage students in independent and cooperative projects, incorporate technology in their lessons, and establish partnerships with the community. At MS 328, students and teachers form a learning community of creative problem solvers, as well as innovative decision makers who possess and share their academic, social and technological knowledge. Parents, staff, and the community work together to promote these ideals to ensure that each student has the opportunity to reach his/her fullest potential as a responsible member of our diverse society.

Principal's Statement

The Manhattan Middle School for Scientific Inquiry - MS 328 - has approximately 600 students enrolled. There are forty-six New York State certified teachers on staff. At MS 328, we address the individual needs of students. Every student is assigned to an academic team. The teams communicate with parents on a regular basis to inform them about the academic progress of their child. In addition, teams plan on-going school activities such as assemblies, field trips, and special events. Visitors are always welcome

Special Academic Programs

Using technology, MS 328 is focused on bringing mathematics and science to life for our students. Literacy across the curriculum ties together the various disciplinary areas. Our Social Studies curriculum provides our students with a solid grounding in history. By connecting to students' lives, we build a better understanding of our communities, city, and world.

Extracurricular Activities

In addition, MS 328 provides a variety of educational experiences including educational and recreational field trips, sports, advanced courses, and guest speakers to supplement and enrich our curriculum.

Community Support

MS 328 has partnerships with organizations that help to enrich our instructional program and allow our school community to reach high levels of academic and professional excellence. These organizations include Columbia University, Museum of National History, NYPD, ACDP-CBO, and School-Based Health Clinic - New York Presbyterian Hospital.

Parent/School Support

We invite our family members, friends and community to take part in helping our students become excellent human beings by becoming involved in the development and progress of our community. We hope you enjoy our school website and find it to be useful. Please visit it often as information will change from time to time. We look forward to your input, questions or
