School Mission Statement

P.S. 64, the Joseph Addabbo School, is a neighborhood school where children unite as learners. We strive as a staff and community to ensure that each child succeeds in all academic areas. At P.S. 64, we believe that thinking and learning along with self-respect and respect for others, never end.

Principal's Statement

At P.S. 64, the Joseph P. Addabbo School, we teach to the individual needs of each and every student. The Balanced Literacy and Everyday Mathematics curriculum allows us to teach students in small groups throughout the school day. We have high expectations for all students and through our daily assessments are able to target the individual strengths and weaknesses of each student. Each week, teachers collaboratively plan future lessons based on their students' assessments and needs. This type of targeted instruction is what makes P.S. 64 a school of academic excellence.

Special Academic Programs

Special Academic Programs include Voyager Universal Literacy, Voyager Passport, Project Arts, Kids on the Move, Penny Harvest, Club Program, and AIS Before School and After School Programs.

Extracurricular Activities

A Conflict Resolution Program in conjunction with a formal peer mediation program enhances problem solving between students. P.S. 64 offers a variety of enrichment programs. The programs for the 2005-2006 school year are: Ballroom Dancing, Basketball, Chorus, Keyboard, Garden Club, and drama. All students receive art, music and gym.

Community Support

Many volunteers work at our school each day helping in classrooms, lunchroom, and the library. Penny Harvest supports families and organizations in need within our community. Our P.S. 64 Chorus visits with local senior groups, the children's hospital and sick children in the neighborhood. We participate in the NY Cares program in the fall.

Parent/School Support

P.S. 64 holds a "Meet the Teacher Night" in the fall. Family Reading and Math nights are held throughout the year. Support staff conduct workshops for parents. The Parent Coordinator works with our active PA and conducts ESL workshops twice a week. Parents are also invited to be a member of our Chorus and Drama Club.
