School Mission Statement

P.S. 91Q is an inclusive school community dedicated to helping all children attain high academic standards. This is achieved through programs and curriculum of high scholastic excellence and a nurturing environment. We strive to develop life-long learners who will be productive citizens in the world community.

Principal's Statement

Our vision of P.S. 91 is of a school where children take pride in learning: where each child receives the attention, encouragement, praise and acknowledgement he/she needs to develop into a whole person, prepared for the future and for a global outlook; where the school knows that the task of educating the community's children is a complex one and must be approached on different levels; where the focus is on the highest standards; where curriculum is based on individuality; where the strategy is to create a school spirit on which to build higher goals, including compassionate behavior, and respect for each other's cultural diversity.

Special Academic Programs

We are pleased to continue our partnership with "Midori and Friends." We are continuing a partnership with Columbia Teachers College Reading and Writing Project.

Extracurricular Activities

Students are exposed to the arts through programs with the NYC and Metropolitan Operas, Lincoln Center, the Museum of Modern Art, the Museum of Natural History, and others. Students participate in an after-school literacy and math program.
