Citizenship - to empower all stakeholders with duties, rights and privileges

Achievement - to persevere and complete a task successfully

Respect - to treat all stakeholders with regard, empathy, esteem, consideration, and tolerance

Principal's Statement

JHS 194 is a learning community in which the administration, staff, and parents work collaboratively. Students are given opportunities to participate in a comprehensive academic program. We provide team teaching, AIS services, extended day classes, test prep sessions, and enrichment programs to support student achievement. The curriculum is enriched with technology, including three wireless labs and classroom carts, SmartBoards, instrumental music including orchestral and jazz bands and visual and performing arts classes. We have a dance studio and provide extracurricular activities in dance, book clubs, yearbook, math club and a Science Olympiad Team.

Special Academic Programs

JHS 194 offers talent programs in music, art dance and drama and will offer Regents Earth Science to students in the Scholars program in 2007-08. In addition there are extended day and Saturday academic remedial and enrichment programs including test prep and play rehearsals.

Extracurricular Activities

During the school year the non-academic activities include: Extended-day music and art portfolio classes, book clubs, dance team and CHAMPS sports program. Students may also take advantage of the programs offered by our Beacon Center after school, in the evenings and on Saturday.

Community Support

Our school has developed partnerships with City Harvest, Toys for Tots, the American Heart Association, AmeriCares and others. We are a YMCA-sponsored Beacon School.

Parent/School Support

PTA meetings include workshops on adolescent behavior, promotional guidelines, high school information, and parenting. Important events are highlighted in the monthly principal's letter and calendar, and on our website at jhs194.com.
