School Mission Statement

P.S. 277, The Evelina Lopez-Antonetty Children's Literacy Center, believes that all children can achieve high academic and social standards as part of a community of learners.

It is our mission to provide a learning environment that is child-centered and promotes students' self-confidence through the extensive use of developmentally appropriate activities. The school, the parents, and the community form a true partnership that assists in achieving the mission of the school.

Principal's Statement

P.S. 277, The Dr. Evelina Lopez-Antonetty Children's Literacy Center, founded on August 25, 1999, is rooted in the beliefs of its namesake: supporting and nurturing children, serving the community, and meeting challenges with determination and vigor. We work as a school family to provide a learning environment that is child-centered and promotes self-confidence. Our staff, parents, and community form a partnership toward the development of vibrant, capable lifelong learners.
