SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Progress Report Implications

Strong Progress Report results are the basis for recognition and potential rewards for school leaders, and poor results are an important factor in determining whether schools require intensive support or intervention. For more information, see:

State Accountability

The school's current status: Reward

This designation is determined by the New York State Department of Education under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) Flexibility Waiver. More information on New York State accountability can be found here:

Student Progress represents 55% of the total score. The grade is based on the annual progress students make toward meeting the state's graduation requirements by earning course credits in core subjects and passing state Regents exams. Attention is given to all students in the school and particular emphasis is given to the one-third of students who entered high school at the lowest performance level.

How To Interpret These Charts

To determine the number of points earned, this school's 2012-13 results on each metric are compared to the results of peer schools and all high schools citywide. The comparison to peer schools is worth 75% of the points for each metric and the comparison to all high schools citywide is worth 25% of the points. The bars represent the range of results for the peer and city comparison schools from historical results that are within two standard deviations of the average. The percent of the range that is shaded is the school's share of possible points. The share is multiplied by the weight (75% or 25%) and the possible points for the metric to determine the points earned.

Score Calculation Example

FORMULA ( PERCENT OF PEER RANGE X 0.75 + PERCENT OF CITY RANGE X 0.25 ) X POINTS POSSIBLE = POINTS EARNED

EXAMPLE ( 60% X 0.75 + 80% X 0.25 ) X 3.75 = 2.44

College and Career Readiness represents 10% of the total score. The College and Career Readiness section measures how well students are prepared for life after high school on the basis of passing advanced courses, meeting English and math standards, and enrolling in a post-secondary institution. Please see the Additional Information page for further details on these measures.

College Readiness

These metrics measure the percentage of students in the 2011 and 2013 cohorts (all students who entered high school four years earlier) who graduated and met the Regents exam, SAT, and/or course standards for passing out of remedial coursework at the City University of New York (CUNY), by August 2013. Students from the 2011 cohort also count positively if they enroll and persist in college through the beginning of their third semester.

A school earns additional credit when each high-need student meets the success criteria for an eligible metric. The number of points will depend on the percentage of the school's population that is in the high-need group, the percentage of that group that is successful, and a "fixed point value" based on how difficult it is to achieve the success criteria. Additional Credit can only improve a school's Progress Report score. It cannot lower a school's score. High schools are eligible for points on eight additional credit metrics, each of which is worth up to 2 points. (In the table below, "." in "This School's Results" indicates that a school has fewer than five eligible students in one of the categories.)

Each school's performance is compared to the performance of schools in its peer group. Peer schools are those New York City public schools with a student population most like this school's population. Each high school has up to 40 peer schools.

PEER GROUP CALCULATION

Peer groupings are created using a “nearest neighbor” matching methodology. This methodology examines the mathematical difference between a school and all potential peers on a given set of characteristics. Schools with the smallest difference across all the characteristics are peered together.

This Additional Information page provides context to view how a school's metrics were calculated on the previous pages of this report. Certain Progress Report metrics require that students reach one of many thresholds, or reach multiple thresholds in tandem to earn credit for their school. While all information on this page is not scored, the Additional Information page meaningfully illuminates or adds context to how a school received its metric values in the 2012-13 school year.
