School Overview

Our scholars are the center of our school through a personalized education where we know all of their interests and needs. From online learning, field trips, and solving real-world problems, scholars believe that what they are learning in school is relevant to the real world. They are empowered to be leaders within the school community by taking responsibility in shaping their middle school experience. Scholars voice their interests in the programming of the arts, after-school programs, and advisory. Our school focuses on the needs of each scholar through an individualized learning plan. We prepare scholars for life beyond school through the integration of technology in our online classes, partnerships with cultural and arts institutions, and field trips. Our parents are part of the school community through an open-door policy which welcomes them to visit our school. ...
