ANNUAL ARTS IN SCHOOLS REPORT 2007-2008

This Annual Arts in Schools Report provides data for:

School: 17 K289

2007-2008 Principal: Dennis Jeffers

Arts Education Liaison: Kelvin Fraser

INSIDE THIS REPORT

The Annual Arts in Schools Report is a tool for school leaders to understand their delivery of arts education to every child in their school. Each Annual Arts in Schools Report measures two areas:

Student Access to and Participation in Arts Education

Uses surveys and information from DOE databases to understand if students are meeting the New York State Instructional Requirements for the Arts as well as the activities, resources and facilities used to support arts learning in each school. In addition, this section reports on questions asked in the Learning Environment Surveys about arts education.

Resources to Support Arts Education

Uses information from DOE databases and surveys to understand the resources that schools are allocating for arts education. This section includes information on certified arts teachers, arts and cultural organization services, space for arts learning, arts fundraising and professional development opportunities for teachers.

Dear School Community,

This report provides a view of the arts education opportunities you are providing for your students based on your responses to the Annual Arts Education Survey in June 2008 and includes information from the New York City Department of Education's databases.

The Annual Arts in Schools Report is an important part of the New York City Department of Education's effort to ensure that schools are providing students with the high-quality arts education they need and deserve. The report has been created to help school leaders, parents, and teachers understand how they can improve student learning in the arts, building on the Blueprint for Teaching and Learning in the Arts which provides detailed PreK-12 curricula aligned with State standards: <http://schools.nyc.gov/offices/teachlearn/arts/blueprint.html>

New York State Requirements for Arts Education

At the elementary level, in grades 1-6, the New York State Education Department (NYSED) requires that students receive instruction in dance, music, theater and visual arts in every grade. In addition, NYSED recommends that students spend a specific allocation of hours learning in the arts.<sup>i</sup>

At the middle school level, in grades 7 and 8, the NYSED expects that students achieve, by the end of grade 8, one half-unit of study in visual arts and one half-unit of study in music. NYSED has allowed New York City schools to offer any two of the art forms to meet the requirements.

At the high school level, the New York State Education Department requires that all students graduate having taken one unit or two credits in the arts (dance, music, theater and/or visual arts). High schools have the option of offering a three or five year sequence in any one of the four art forms. Students who complete five units in a single art form and successfully complete the exit exam in that art form are eligible to receive a Regents diploma with advanced designation in the arts.

School Progress in Meeting New York State Education Requirements

This table reflects arts instruction provided by school-based arts teachers and /or staff from arts and cultural organizations. This table does not reflect arts instruction provided by classroom teachers.

This school has submitted the following information about its arts program:

A PROFILE OF PS 289 FINE ART PROGRAM One can safely say that art is alive at PS 289. When students graduate they have a strong foundation in all of the three areas of fine art. The instrumental department is headed by an extremely gifted jazz musician. Students are taught how to read music, play any instrument of his or her choice, and perform in front of an audience. This department has had tremendous successes over the years. Students have performed at the Brooklyn City Schools Music Festival at Brooklyn College. Individual students have been invited to play with the City-Wide School Orchestra at Carnegie Hall. Several such students have returned to display their musical talents as a way of saying thank you. In the dance department we are also fortunate to have an exceptionally talented dance teacher, who by some magical touch is able to transform kindergarten kids into little butterflies floating across the stage in correct uniform steps. The visual arts teacher has a quiet disposition, which creates the environment to draw out the latent talent hidden deep in the minds and heart of the young Picassos, Miros, Van Goghs, etc... Adults walking through the halls of PS 289 stand and stare in amazement at the quality of the children's works of art. This department has reached out to the community by displaying students' art work at the neighborhood bank. The school gym has also been transformed into an art gallery where parents and other members of the community are invited to view the art displayed. With the advantage of Project Arts funds our fine art program has flourished. We have been able to do quite a number of things to enhance instruction. For example we have started to convert our auditorium into a theatre for dance and drama. Initially we installed mirrors and ballet barres. In the coming months we plan to improve the lights and sound system to fully complete our theatre endeavor. Also the band was able to acquire two new keyboards, recorders for each student and have all of the instruments repaired. The visual art department's need to acquire the sponsorship of companies to assist in reaching all of the students and not just a few was finally realized. In addition material to support and sustain the implementation of the NYC blueprint for teaching and learning in the arts became a reality. Finally we are in the process of working with Brooklyn Children's Museum through a grant to build a sculpture garden in our school courtyard.

Notes

- Throughout this report, N/A signifies that data were not applicable.
- Learning Environment Survey data are based on responses from schools where students provided responses to the 2007/8 Learning Environment Survey and are based on the perception of students about the arts in this school. For more information on how well this school supports student learning in the arts, please visit the 2007 - 2008 Learning Environment Survey which is located on the Statistics section of this school's website.
- Schools may have more than six arts and cultural service providers, but due to space constraints we were unable to list all of the arts or cultural organizations with which they work.
- All data are based on arts instruction offered during the school day. This Annual Arts in Schools Report does not report on after school, weekend, and summer arts education.
- Percentages of the Learning Environment Survey data may not add up to 100 percent due to rounding. The percentages are not based on a student response rate of 100%.

Definitions

- A dedicated arts classroom is a classroom that is only used for dance, music, theater, and visual arts.
- For a detailed description of what an appropriately equipped arts classroom is, please refer to the Blueprint for Teaching and Learning in the Arts, <http://schools.nyc.gov/offices/teachlearn/arts/blueprint.html>.
- A blackbox theater is a simple, unadorned performance space, usually a large square room with black walls and a flat floor.
- General or core music is a broad-based study of music including music making, literacy, connections to world cultures, community resources and careers and life-long learning.
