ANNUAL ARTS IN SCHOOLS REPORT 2007-2008

This Annual Arts in Schools Report provides data for:

School: 75 R037

2007-2008 Principal: Mr. William J. Fiorelli

Arts Education Liaison: Janice Harding

INSIDE THIS REPORT

The Annual Arts in Schools Report is a tool for school leaders to understand their delivery of arts education to every child in their school. Each Annual Arts in Schools Report measures two areas:

Student Access to and Participation in Arts Education

Uses surveys and information from DOE databases to understand if students are meeting the New York State Instructional Requirements for the Arts as well as the activities, resources and facilities used to support arts learning in each school. In addition, this section reports on questions asked in the Learning Environment Surveys about arts education.

Resources to Support Arts Education

Uses information from DOE databases and surveys to understand the resources that schools are allocating for arts education. This section includes information on certified arts teachers, arts and cultural organization services, space for arts learning, arts fundraising and professional development opportunities for teachers.

Dear School Community,

This report provides a view of the arts education opportunities you are providing for your students based on your responses to the Annual Arts Education Survey in June 2008 and includes information from the New York City Department of Education's databases.

The Annual Arts in Schools Report is an important part of the New York City Department of Education's effort to ensure that schools are providing students with the high-quality arts education they need and deserve. The report has been created to help school leaders, parents, and teachers understand how they can improve student learning in the arts, building on the Blueprint for Teaching and Learning in the Arts which provides detailed PreK-12 curricula aligned with State standards: <http://schools.nyc.gov/offices/teachlearn/arts/blueprint.html>

Joel I. Klein

Chancellor, New York City Department of Education

New York State Requirements for Arts Education

At the elementary level, in grades 1-6, the New York State Education Department (NYSED) requires that students receive instruction in dance, music, theater and visual arts in every grade. In addition, NYSED recommends that students spend a specific allocation of hours learning in the arts.<sup>i</sup>

At the middle school level, in grades 7 and 8, the NYSED expects that students achieve, by the end of grade 8, one half-unit of study in visual arts and one half-unit of study in music. NYSED has allowed New York City schools to offer any two of the art forms to meet the requirements.

At the high school level, the New York State Education Department requires that all students graduate having taken one unit or two credits in the arts (dance, music, theater and/or visual arts). High schools have the option of offering a three or five year sequence in any one of the four art forms. Students who complete five units in a single art form and successfully complete the exit exam in that art form are eligible to receive a Regents diploma with advanced designation in the arts.

Please note some tables may not apply for this school.

This school has submitted the following information about its arts program:

Our school's arts program has had a positive effect on our students with autism and multiple disabilities. In addition to project Arts funding which all schools receive the grant funding has enabled us to schedule additional residencies in music and movement and visual arts. This year we are proud of the fact that the Center for Arts Education has awarded PS 37R and MARQUIS Studios a $25,000 grant to fund residencies and establish an artist training program. The goal of the program is to teach artists in the fields of music, visual arts and dance effective methods to work with our students. By teaming these interns with experienced teaching artists and our staff we hope to develop their skills so that they will work effectively with special students in the future. The Center for Arts Education (CAE) supports programs for Children with Autism. Autism is now the fastest growing serious development disability in the United States. CAE's past work with PS37 on Staten Island, a school for students with severe cognitive disabilities revealed that students with autism learn better through the arts. Through a partnership with PS 37 and Marquis Studios, CAE established a comprehensive teaching artist residency to further explore how the arts affect student learning. Past residencies at PS 37 revealed findings that students were meeting - and exceeding - their goals and expectations through arts education. The PS37 Arts Academy teaches core curriculum through the arts and makes a positive impact on student learning and behavior. CAE was recently awarded a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts Learning in the Arts program to support the PS37 Arts Academy and the Teaching Artists Training Institute. This $30,000 grant will serve autistic and severely disabled students throughout New York City. Grants from the National Endowment for the Arts are very competitive and awarded by a peer-review panel to exemplary arts education programs from across the country. It is an honor that CAE's special education programs were recognized with this award. This year for the first time our partnership with MARQUIS Studios received a Wish List Grant in the amount of $2,500 from the Council on the Arts and Humanities for Staten Island. The talents of our students have been recognized. We are especially proud that the cover for the 2008 Very Special Arts (VSA) calendar is a photo of a mural entitled: The Tiny Seed created by our students under the guidance of teachers Kim White and Donna Alia. The artwork of three of our Inclusion students at Petrides has been chosen to be displayed at the Manhattan JCC exhibit: The Artistic Spectrum: Artwork by Young People on the Autistic Spectrum.

Notes

- Throughout this report, N/A signifies that data were not applicable.
- Learning Environment Survey data are based on responses from schools where students provided responses to the 2007/8 Learning Environment Survey and are based on the perception of students about the arts in this school. For more information on how well this school supports student learning in the arts, please visit the 2007 - 2008 Learning Environment Survey which is located on the Statistics section of this school's website.
- Schools may have more than six arts and cultural service providers, but due to space constraints we were unable to list all of the arts or cultural organizations with which they work.
- All data are based on arts instruction offered during the school day. This Annual Arts in Schools Report does not report on after school, weekend, and summer arts education.
- Percentages of the Learning Environment Survey data may not add up to 100 percent due to rounding. The percentages are not based on a student response rate of 100%.

Definitions

- A dedicated arts classroom is a classroom that is only used for dance, music, theater, and visual arts.
- For a detailed description of what an appropriately equipped arts classroom is, please refer to the Blueprint for Teaching and Learning in the Arts, <http://schools.nyc.gov/offices/teachlearn/arts/blueprint.html>.
- A blackbox theater is a simple, unadorned performance space, usually a large square room with black walls and a flat floor.
- General or core music is a broad-based study of music including music making, literacy, connections to world cultures, community resources and careers and life-long learning.
