Dear School Community,

This report provides a view of the arts education opportunities you are providing for your students based on your responses to the Annual Arts Education Survey in May 2015 and includes information from the New York City Department of Education's databases.

The Annual Arts in Schools Report is an important part of the New York Department of Education's efforts to ensure that schools are providing students with high-quality arts education they need and deserve. The report has been created to help school leaders, parents, and teachers understand how they can improve student learning in the arts, building on the Blueprint for Teaching and Learning in the Arts which provides detailed PreK-12 curricula aligned with State standards:

New York State Guidelines and Requirements for Arts Education

The New York State Education Department (NYSED) has specific guidelines and requirements for arts instruction.

At the elementary level, in grades PreK-6, students should receive instruction in dance, music, theater, and visual arts. In addition, NYSED recommends that students spend a specific allocation of hours learning in the arts.

At the middle school level, in grades 7 and 8, the NYSED expects that students achieve, by the end of grade 8 one half-unit in dance, music, theater, or visual arts, and second half-unit in a second arts discipline.

At the high school level, the NYSED requires that all students graduate having taken at least two credits in the arts (dance, music, theater, and/or visual arts).

School's Arts Program Description

This school has submitted the following description of its arts program:

At Hamilton Grange Middle School, our students receive instruction in the visual arts twice each week throughout the school year from teaching artists at Creative Art Works (CAW). CAW artists collaborate with our humanities teachers to create art that both complements and builds on the humanities curriculum. Students draw, paint, create woodblock prints, and work through a variety of other media and techniques to bring the humanities curriculum to life. Interested students can continue their work through the lunch and after school art clubs where they study the work of artists like Calder and Nevelson as inspiration for their own creations. Over the summer, our students also work on painting murals with CAW, like the one we created this past summer on 138th Street between Broadway and Amsterdam. Because our students are so passionate about art, we have teamed up with CITYarts to further educate and provide practice to are budding artists. CITYarts artists have led workshops at Hamilton Grange that ended in the creation of "Piece for Peace" drawings, restoration of the "Peace Wall" mosaic that lines our playing field in Jacob Schiff Park, and the creation of two, one-hundred foot long murals that line the hallways of our third floor space within the school building. We are excited to grow this collaboration with CITYarts as we begin an arts mentoring program with a local area high school and the City College of New York in the 2015-2016 school year.

Notes

- The Annual Arts in Schools Report is based on schools' responses to the 2014-2015 NYCDOE Annual Arts Education Survey as well as from NYCDOE databases.
- Data on arts instruction provided by school-based teachers to students in Kindergarten through sixth grade were retrieved from the NYCDOE Scheduling, Transcripts, and Academic Reporting System (STARS) database.
- Data on sixth through twelfth grade students participating in arts classes; high school sequences; the NYSED middle school arts requirement; and the NYSED high school arts requirements were retrieved from the NYCDOE STARS database.
- Full-time certified teacher data were retrieved from the NYCDOE Division of Human Resources.
- All data are based on arts instruction offered during the school day. This Annual Arts in Schools Report does not report on after school, weekend, and summer arts education.
- Throughout this report, a blank field represents "none" or no data provided.

Definitions

- "Pull-out" programs refer to those school day instructional activities that are scheduled for groupings of students across a grade or grades and not by official class.
- An Individualized Education Plan (IEP) describes the special education and related services specifically designed to meet the unique educational needs of a student with a disability. An IEP is the guiding document for a student's educational program. It includes all of the goals, objectives, present levels of performance and related services that are recommended for the student.
