ANNUAL GOAL #1 AND ACTION PLAN

Annual Goal #1

By June 2012, 75% of students will show progress, or maintain mastery, demonstrated with increased frequency, in analyzing informational texts and writing an opinion or argument articulating their analysis as evidenced by our DYOs, Performance Based Assessments and Learning Environment Survey.

Comprehensive needs assessment

The Common Core State Standards (CCSS), the New York Citywide Instructional Expectations and Learning Environment Survey all reference student ability to draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis in writing an opinion or argument. A comprehensive review of our school's educational program, informed by our DYOs and LES data, indicates less than 100% of our students have mastered this skill or engage in the practice more than five or more times per year.

Instructional strategies/activities

Teachers will develop collaborative lessons that incorporate the analysis of informational texts and the writing of effective arguments or opinions based on that analysis.

Teachers meet weekly in cohort teams and discipline teams to assess student work and plan lessons that incorporate the analysis of informational texts and the writing of effective arguments or opinions based on that analysis. Grade teams will also develop a rubric to assess the use of informational texts to support an opinion or argument.

Hudson curriculum archives will include a cohort specific teacher-developed unit of study aligned to the Common Core, including tasks, activities and rubrics that support student development in the analysis of informational texts and the writing of effective arguments or opinions based on that analysis.

Teachers, administrators and coaches will collaborate to create assessments to measure baseline capacity and improvement. The first baseline task will serve as our Fall DYO and be implemented by November 1, 2011. After reviewing student data, teachers will develop and implement support and enrichment strategies. A second task will be administered by March 30, 2012 to measure student improvement.

Strategies to increase parental involvement

Fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child’s progress.

Sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand.

Providing professional development opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of our school community.

Strategies for attracting Highly Qualified Teachers (HQT)

The Hudson hiring process is a rigorous one, which begins in April and requires teachers to submit digital portfolios, attend an open house, a meet and greet, a group interview and engage in a demo lesson. Once hired, all faculty members are part of a grade level team and have in-house mentors or collaborating peers. All teachers receive personalized coaching from our ISA coaches, attend ISA workshops and the ISA Summer Institute. Teachers also participate in Network workshops. As a team we attend Educon each year, which allows teachers to choose PD suited to their needs.

Service and program coordination

Respect for All, Our House tutoring and the Overcoming Obstacles Program support and foster analysis of information to develop and support opinions and arguments.

Budget and resources alignment

Services funded through FSF Per Session, Title 1 SWP, and ISA partner funding are: teacher professional development on creating shared assessments, scoring and analysis of common assessments, common approaches to teaching writing and differentiated instruction in literacy. Funding and staffing for “Our House” after school tutoring through per session and supplies. Co-teaching model for the Humanities Team providing in-class supports and opportunities for Academic Support and Enrichment (ASE) as a pull-out and push-in service.

ANNUAL GOAL #2 AND ACTION PLAN

Annual Goal #2

By June 2012, 75% of students will show progress, or maintain mastery, in demonstrating their ability to use mathematical constructs and explanations to explore the reasoning behind assertions while developing viable solutions to complex problems, as evidenced by our DYOs and Performance Based Assessments.

Comprehensive needs assessment

ANNUAL GOAL #3 AND ACTION PLAN

Annual Goal #3

By June 2012, 75% of students will show progress, or maintain mastery, in demonstrating their ability to self-monitor their learning progress by developing the personal dispositions and ICT skills necessary for college and career readiness as evidenced by a teacher developed Common Core –aligned unit of study.

Comprehensive needs assessment

The Common Core State Standards (CCSS) and the New York Citywide Instructional Expectations reference student ability to self-monitor their learning progress by developing the personal dispositions and ICT skills necessary for college and career readiness. A comprehensive review of our school's educational program, informed by our DYO's and formative assessments, indicates less than 100% of our students have mastered this skill.

Hudson curriculum archives will include units of study that provide opportunities for students to self-monitor their learning progress by developing the personal dispositions and ICT skills necessary for college and career readiness. These units will be advisory based with options to customize for cohort and subject specific needs.

We will create assessments to measure baseline capacity and improvement. The baseline task will be implemented by November 1, 2011. PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP) TEMPLATE

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental involvement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent involvement program that will ensure effective involvement of parents and community in our school. Therefore, our school, in compliance with the Section 1118 of Title I, Part A of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, is responsible for creating and implementing a parent involvement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between our school and the families. Our school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association, and Title I Parent Committee as trained volunteers and welcomed members of our school community. Our school will support parents and families of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;

- providing professional development opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of our school community;

Our school's Parent Involvement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of English Language Learners and students with disabilities. Our school community will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent involvement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of our school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents, and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent Involvement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent Involvement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

- actively involve and engage parents in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the Comprehensive Educational Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy and School-Parent Compact;

This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional development, especially in developing leadership skills;

The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend our school and will work to ensure that our school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;
- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., NCLB/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, Progress Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting on or before December 1st of each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent involvement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1118 and other applicable sections under the No Child Left Behind Act;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed;

2011-12

DIRECTIONS: This submission form assists schools with gathering and organizing the quantitative and qualitative information necessary for a well-conceived school-based language allocation policy (LAP) that describes quality ELL programs. This LAP form, an appendix of the CEP, also incorporates information required for CR Part 154 funding so that a separate submission is no longer required. Agendas and minutes of LAP meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school. Also, when preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the green spaces. Spell-check has been disabled in this file, so consider typing responses to these questions in a separate file before copying them into the submission form. Part II: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of those students who may possibly be ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. Also describe the steps taken to annually evaluate ELLs using the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT).
2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.
3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned? (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [see tool kit].)
4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.
5. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.)
6. Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway.

1. When a new student, who may be an English Language Learner, comes to our school, a certified ESL teacher conducts an informal oral interview in English and in Spanish as well as administers the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS). If the family's native language is a language other than a language one of our pedagogues speaks, will call Translation Services in order to bring someone in to administer the HLIS in the student's native language. A certified ESL teacher will administer the LAB-R (and LAB-R Spanish, if applicable) within 10 days if a language other than English is spoken, as identified in the HLIS.

Before the NYSESLAT administration window opens, the ESL teacher meet with the ELLs in the school to discuss the format of the exam and explain how they will be assessed. Students will then receive schedules for each modality of the NYSESLAT. The ESL teachers administer the speaking portion one-on-one in a separate location, while the rest of the modalities are administered by the ESL teachers throughout the testing window in a separate location.

2. Twice a year, in the Fall and in the Spring, the Community Associate and a certified ESL teacher have a workshop to explain the program for ELL students. Workshops are conducted, with translation available in the parents' native language, and the content of the workshops is based on the EPIC toolkit. Parents are shown the informational DVD in the EPIC toolkit. Parents are notified through phone calls, our website and letters mailed home to ensure all parents attend this workshop. When our school receives new students throughout the year, we invite parents for an individual meeting or one-on-one phone call to provide them with the information, within one month of when the student enters.

3. The Community Associate sends out a mailing to all ELL parents that includes the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms and explains that the forms need to be returned to the school. We make sure the forms are returned by the time the parent workshop (as described above) takes place at the beginning of the year by reminding the students and by placing phone calls. Since all parents attend the program choice workshop at the beginning of the school year, we remind them at this time to turn in their forms if they have not done so already. If we still do not receive the forms, we will conduct a home visit.

4. Identified ELL students are placed in the program chosen for them by their parents after the program choice workshop is attended. If an ESL instructional program is chosen, we meet with the parents and student to explain to them (in their native language) exactly what this program looks like at our school and what the student's schedule will be. If a bilingual program is chosen, and 15 or more parents/students have chosen this option, we will open a bilingual class. If less than 15 choose this option, we meet with the parents and students to explore other program options within our school or find them a more appropriate placement in another school setting.

5. A majority of parents have chosen the Freestanding ESL instructional program.

Freestanding ESL:

20 (2011-2012)

Bilingual :
0 (2011-2012)

6. Yes, our program models are aligned with parent requests. One request we received from ELL parents was to provide additional support services throughout the school day and after school. We responded by adding a digital language acquisition program to our course offerings, as well as translation services available online throughout the day. We have also lengthened our school day and have set a goal to expand our course and support offerings during this time.

Part IV: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered?
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., Departmentalized, Push-In [Co-Teaching], Pull-Out, Collaborative, Self-Contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., Block [Class travels together as a group]; Ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class]; Heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels]; Homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?
2. How does the organization of your staff ensure that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, ESL)?
 - a. How are explicit ESL, ELA, and NLA instructional minutes delivered in each program model as per CR Part 154 (see table below)?
3. Describe how the content areas are delivered in each program model. Please specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods used to make content comprehensible to enrich language development.
4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages?
5. How do you differentiate instruction for ELL subgroups?
 - a. Describe your instructional plan for SIFE.
 - b. Describe your plan for ELLs in US schools less than three years (newcomers). Additionally, because NCLB now requires ELA testing for ELLs after one year, specify your instructional plan for these ELLs.
 - c. Describe your plan for ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years.
 - d. Describe your plan for long-term ELLs (completed 6 years).
6. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials do teachers of ELL-SWDs use that both provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development?
7. How does your school use curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to meet the diverse needs of ELL-SWDs within the least restrictive environment?

1. a. Instruction is delivered through Push-In (Co-Teaching) and Pull-Out services. Advanced ELLs in each stream receive one period of push-in support from an ELL teacher each day. Intermediate ELLs in each stream receive three periods of push-in. Beginners receive four period of push-in support form an ELL teacher, one period of pull-out support, and one additional online language acquisiton class. Each grade follows a block model, with a dedicated ELL stream that the students follow. ELL students in each grade receive services in a general education setting with Heterogeneous classes. This gives students the opportunity to interact with peers and discuss ideas and projects. Instruction is based on projects and group work, which allows for multiple forms of assessments. Our instructional practices assess aspects of English that students need to know and apply to succeed in content areas.

2. a.

Beginner ELLs:

120 minutes per day – Push-In (Co-Teaching) with certified ESL teacher

45 minutes per week – Pull-Out with certified ESL teacher

70 minutes per day – After school academic intervention with certified ESL teacher

Intermediate ELLs:

100 minutes per day – Push-In (Co-Teaching) with certified ESL teacher

Advanced ELLs:

70 minutes per day – Push-In (Co-Teaching) with certified ESL teacher

3. Our school is structured into instructional teams. All teachers have common planning as their circular six assignments. ELL teachers meet with general education teachers to infuse strategies that will support ELL students into daily instruction through the workshop model, curriculum maps, and scope and sequence for each class. All teachers are given time to discuss student progress and develop instructional plans that scaffold learning for each student. In addition to circular six assignments, ELL teachers meet with grade teams once a week, which enables them to discuss the needs of individual and groups of students. The ELL teachers make up one of our instructional departments. The ELL department head participates in weekly Instructional Cabinet meetings with administration and other department heads once a week. In addition, the ELL department meets once a week to discuss matters pertaining to instruction, compliance, etc.

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

Many of our students who struggle with academic skills are assisted by other students who are part of their cooperative learning groups. These peer-tutors serve as resources to help learn both content and English language skills. As a result, students who at the beginning level of English language acquisition are assisted through their native language with skills that demonstrate competency in content as well as language transfer skills. Intermediate and Advanced students sharpen their language skills through presentations and portfolio construction. There are extensive extracurricular activities including campus-wide arts and sports as well as after school tutoring.

4. A certified ESL teacher conducts an informal oral interview in English and in Spanish as well as administers the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS). If the family's native language is a language other than a language one of our pedagogues speaks, will call Translation Services in order to bring someone in to administer the HLIS in the student's native language. A certified ESL teacher will administer the LAB-R (and LAB-R Spanish, if applicable) within 10 days if a language other than English is spoken, as identified in the HLIS.

5. a. SIFE students are identified at the beginning of the year by a certified ESL teacher. Once these students are identified, the ESL teacher meets with each grade team to talk about strategies to work with SIFE students. These students are provided additional academic instructional support after school and by a certified ESL teacher.

5. b. In addition to push-in services, co-teaching, and pull-out services during the school day, our newcomer ELLs receive additional support after school from a certified ESL teacher. Content area teachers meet with ESL teachers once a week during common planning time to discuss ELLs and come up with strategies to use in the classroom to support their learning.

5. c. These ELL students receive push-in services, co-teaching, and pull-out services during the school day. They also attend after school where they receive academic interventions and addition support from a certified ESL teacher. Content area teachers meet with ESL teachers once a week during common planning time to discuss ELLs and come up with strategies to use in the classroom to support their learning.

5. d. These ELL students receive push-in services and co-teaching during the school day. All LTEs work with Keystone for one hour every day as an academic intervention for reading and writing in English. LTEs are also provided additional services during the advisory period twice a week where students receive ESL strategies focused on learning academic English with an emphasis on reading and writing. Here ELLs are given strategies in academic English and the four modalities tested in the NYSESLAT (listening, reading, writing, and speaking). In addition, content area teachers meet with ESL teachers once a week during common planning time to discuss ELLs and come up with strategies to use in the classroom to support their learning.

6. ELL students who are also identified as having special needs also receive push-in services, co-teaching, and pull-out services during the school day. They attend after school where they receive academic interventions and additional support from the ESL teacher and Special Education teacher. Content area teachers meet with ESL teachers once a week during common planning time to discuss ELLs and come up with strategies to use in the classroom to support their learning. The ESL teachers also collaborate with the Special Education teachers to ensure they are working towards the goals on the student's IEP.5. Extended day program: Our extended day program meets after school during 9th period. Currently, all Beginner ELLs take part in 70 minutes of additional support per day during this time, focusing on writing and literacy instruction as well as strengthening listening and speaking skills.

7. During the school day: We utilize a push in, co-teaching, and pull-out model across all grades to provide ELL services during the school day. Two of our ESL teachers push into content area classes and co-teach with the general education teacher two periods a day. Beginner and Intermediate students also receive a period a day of pull-out support and all 9th grade ELLs receive a period of writing instruction a day. We would like to add to these services by providing LTE students with small group instruction focusing on math, writing, and reading interventions.

C. Schools with Dual Language Programs

1. How much time (%) is the target language used for EPs and ELLs in each grade?
2. How much of the instructional day are EPs and ELLs integrated? What content areas are taught separately?

D. Professional Development and Support for School Staff

1. Describe the professional development plan for all ELL personnel at the school. (Please include all teachers of ELLs.)
2. What support do you provide staff to assist ELLs as they transition from elementary to middle and/or middle to high school?
3. Describe the minimum 7.5 hours of ELL training for all staff (including non-ELL teachers) as per Jose P.

Professional development is provided by school staff, school consultants, other support organizations during common planning time, weekly grade and department meetings, and on-site PD sessions. Off-site professional development opportunities are also offered to teachers when applicable. Our school is structured into instructional teams and all teachers have common planning as their circular six assignments. ELL teachers meet with general education teachers to infuse strategies that will support ELL students into daily instruction through the workshop model, curriculum maps, and scope and sequence for each class.

In addition to circular six assignments, ELL teachers meet with grade teams once a week, which enables them to discuss the needs of individual and groups of students. During our monthly targeted PD sessions, the ESL teachers provide professional development by presenting strategies and interventions that will support our ELLs, including our LTE, population. Some of these sessions may include Scaffolding in the Content Areas, Native Language Literacy Development, ESL in the Mathematics Classroom, Differentiation in the ESL Classroom, Using Manipulatives and Technology to Enhance Instruction, etc. The weekly team time will also be a place for teachers to turnkey “best practices” learned at QTEL and/or other off-site workshops.

2. We provide professional development on ELLs provided by the ESL teacher and Administrative Team during Curriculum Week and at our August and September whole staff meeting sessions prior to the start of the new school year.
3. These minimum requirements are met as described above in question #1.

E. Parental Involvement

1. Describe parent involvement in your school, including parents of ELLs.
2. Does the school partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents?
3. How do you evaluate the needs of the parents?
4. How do your parental involvement activities address the needs of the parents?

1. Parents of ELL students have expressed interest in learning more about a variety of topics that would help them to better understand their children’s schooling. We will provide monthly workshops at the school about the variety of topics that would be of interest to ELL parents. These sessions will present information on a variety of topics including citizenship, the rights of ELL parents and students, parent resources on ARIS, and academic interventions ELL parents can provide at home. We will also focus on teaching parents about the technology resources they have available to them through the school in order to communicate with teachers as well as check in on their children’s academic progress. Other topics will be determined by a survey of what parents would like to see covered at these workshops.

All parents are encouraged to attend our monthly Parent Association meetings. We would like to increase attendance of ELL parents at these meetings by providing translation services as well as formally inviting and reminding individual parents of the meetings. Also, as ELL parents participate in other activities at the school throughout the year, such as monthly ELL workshops, special events, and Back to School Night, we believe they will continue to feel more comfortable in group situations and will not just attend but also actively participate in Parent Association meetings.

2. Our school provides information about services at outside facilities for ELL parents. We will continue to encourage our ELL parents to take advantage of these resources and also get feedback on the types of resources ELL parents need. These outside agencies include:

- Community Board : Provides workshops and resources for ELL parents.
- Nos Quedamos: Provides workshops for ELL parents on topics such as navigating through court, housing rights, domestic violence, and any other issues suggested by the parents.
- Committee on Special Education (CSE): Provides workshops for ELL parents that are language specific and for students with disabilities.
- Human Rights Commission: Provides information on human rights issues.

3. We evaluate the needs of parents by conducting surveys as well as having informal discussions at parent meetings and making phone calls home.

B. After reviewing and analyzing the assessment data, answer the following

- Describe what assessment tool your school uses to assess the early literacy skills of your ELLs (e.g., ECLAS-2, EL SOL, Fountas and Pinnell, DRA, TCRWP). What insights do the data provide about your ELLs? How can this information help inform your school's instructional plan? Please provide any quantitative data available to support your response.
- What is revealed by the data patterns across proficiency levels (on the LAB-R and NYSESLAT) and grades?
- How will patterns across NYSESLAT modalities—reading/writing and listening/speaking—affect instructional decisions?
- For each program, answer the following:
 - Examine student results. What are the patterns across proficiencies and grades? How are ELLs faring in tests taken in English as compared to the native language?

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2011-2012

CEP Appendix 7

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 02m437 School Name: Hudson High School of Learning Tech

Cluster: CFN Network: 404

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

Using the data gathered from the HLIS and UPPG reports in ATS, information provided on students' emergency contact cards and results of the informal interviews with students, we are able to assess the translation and oral interpretation needs of our school community.

We have on site bilingual personnel to assist parents with any needs. Our bilingual Parent Coordinator communicates with parents via telephone, personally and through use of Phone Master in addition to correspondence to keep parents informed as well as to ascertain any further needs they may have that we might address.

All information is distributed to parents in both English and in their native languages.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

Our findings, shared with the school community via written correspondence, indicate that of the nine primary languages identified by the Department of Education, we have more than 10% of our population requiring translation/interpretation services in Spanish and Chinese (25 parents who need translation/interpretation services in Spanish and 4 in Chinese).

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

All school written communications regarding parent/teacher conferences, students' progress and attendance, school activities, etc. are translated by in-house staff into Chinese and Spanish. Critical documents translated by the Translation and Interpretation Unit of the DOE are also provided.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

When parents in need of interpretation services come to the school for any reason, bilingual teachers and counselors are on hand to provide the interpretation services. On Open School Evening and Afternoon, parents are made aware of the availability of DOE-provided interpretation services.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link:

Parents are notified of translation and interpretation services at orientation meetings, via letters sent home and via telephone using the Phone Master.
