SCHOOL LEADERSHIP TEAM (SLT) SIGNATURE PAGE

Use this page to identify SLT members and confirm their participation in the development of this Comprehensive Educational Plan (CEP), which includes goals and action plans, a summary of Academic Intervention Services, and the Parent Involvement Policy. The signatures of SLT members indicate their participation in the development of the CEP and serve as confirmation that consultation has occurred to align funding in support of educational programs. The SLT must include an equal number of parents and staff and have a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 17 members, in accordance with the Chancellor’s Regulation A-655, available on the NYC DOE Web site.

Directions:

1. List each SLT member in the left-hand column on the chart below. Specify any position held by the team member, e.g., Chairperson, SLT Secretary and the constituent group represented, e.g., parent, staff, student, or CBO. Core mandatory SLT members are indicated by an asterisk*.

ANNUAL GOAL #1 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #1

- Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.

By the end of June 2012, 3% of students in grades three and four will have demonstrated proficiency in critical thinking in non-fiction as measured by school based assessments and the Acuity periodic assessment.

Comprehensive needs assessment

- Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

The ongoing collaborative inquiry has consistently documented the need to improve students' critical thinking skills in content area knowledge in Social Studies and Science across all subgroups. Sixty percent of our students performed at level 3 on the latest New York State ELA exam. Our review of the Inquiry data and the NYS ELA data has prompted us to address the need for our students to become active critical thinkers with improved analytical efficiency with complex informational text.

Instructional strategies/activities

- Describe the research-based instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve this goal. Include descriptions of the following in your response:
 - a) strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified student subgroups,
 - b) staff and other resources used to implement these strategies/activities,
 - c) steps taken to include teachers in the decision-making regarding the use of academic assessments to evaluate the effectiveness of the strategies/activities,
 - d) timeline for implementation.

Mentor Texts

Teachers will gather persuasive pieces of writing to use as mentor texts. These mentor texts will exemplify components of powerful persuasive selections of writing that will meet or exceed the demands of the CCLS. Students will read a variety of texts of related topics in order for students to draw conclusions, search for answers through research, and ultimately gain new insight and use information in a new way (application and synthesis). Students will have extensive and rigorous conversations, which are relying on a shared text. Teachers will require classroom sessions to stay deeply connected to the text, and that the students will develop habits for making evidence-based arguments both in conversations, as well as, in writing, to assess understanding of a text.

Inquiry based learning

Teachers will demonstrate how to engage in non-fiction inquiry by going through the process themselves. Teachers will show themselves as learners. Focus lessons on the stages of the process will be explicitly modeled. Our teachers provide the environment necessary where they value wonder and curiosity. This breeds researchers who are compelled to think critically and answer questions. The students will be immersed in well-written, non-fiction magazines, trade books, etc. They will explore their passions, interests, and questions thus opening the doors for powerful discussions and investigations, as well as, interpretations of ideas. Teachers use open-ended questions to provide multiple entry points for students. This will permit them to respond from their perspective. In addition, it will provide teachers with a window into students' thinking and understanding of the material. This refers back to what good readers do automatically when thinking about texts.

After School Program

There is an afternoon program twice weekly that will focus on the targeted students. These sessions will focus of response to a variety of informational text and will arranged around flexible grouping. Teacher input and ongoing formative assessment will inform the grouping and the lesson designs.

Staff and Resources

- Class room libraries are being upgraded to increase access to a variety of informational text
- Assessments based on response to informational text are being created to provide ongoing information.
- Staff development is being provided on the use of UBD plans that will focus on taking an Inquiry approach to teaching.
- A shared electronic data base is being used to capture the data from the after-school students –this is accessible to all adults that work with the students.

Steps taken to include teachers.

Our grade conferences are devoted to open dialogue as to what strategies would most benefit our students. The time is devoted to a sharing of what works and what can be improved. We have found this to be extremely beneficial. It is an opportunity to share student work and discuss ways to show continued growth. It is also a time to discuss materials to be used. The agenda voiced during the Instructional Team meetings and Grade Conferences become the forum for staff conferences. Thus, dialogue is ongoing on a daily basis. Our instructional cabinet which meets every other week has been a driving force in making changes necessary to meet the needs of our students. The team has been discussing specific strategies that are necessary to boost the student's performance. Then we have grade meetings to see how they may be implemented to best serve our students. We are always monitoring the results.

Strategies to increase parental involvement

Cite the strategies and activities in your school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) that will be implemented to achieve this goal. The PIP template is provided on pages 11 through 15 in this CEP.

Parent Workshops

Our parent coordinator will expand our workshops on "Your Child and the NY State Tests". We will begin this year with a general meeting. Later, follow-up meetings will be available for K-2. Then 3-6 individual grade sessions will commence. In conjunction with the parent coordinator, our guidance counselor, and staff developer, will conduct these workshops.

In an attempt to be proactive, we will soon be discussing one of the new mandates as it relates to persuasive writing. We feel parents can play an integral part in working with their children to understand persuasive text or "power of persuasion". The parents and children may look at advertisements in newspapers and commercials on t.v.

In conversations with parents, we learn about their children's passion. This, in turn, may assist in a child's decision to research a specific topic of interest, and then write persuasively with passion.

Each school year we distribute an agenda to each child. This is a crucial tool for the family. It not only contains a place to write homework assignments, but it includes a calendar of events, as well as, a parent guide.

Throughout the year, we have an extensive (and ever growing) list of activities that the parent community can be involved in such as the talent show, literacy launch, math night, family fun night, dance show, middle school choice night, spelling bee, multiplication bee, etc. Just getting off the ground is the "coffee and conversation" meetings. This is a new and exciting idea. Parents have the opportunity to just drop in without a formal agenda, and discuss any one of a myriad of concerns, etc.

Our open access library program will commence this year. Parents and students in grades K-6 are invited to weekly sessions. They will partake in a very unique program where research and other literacy skills are addressed. The parent sessions will be devoted to strengthening the literacy foundation between parent and child.

The scheduling will be responsive to the needs of the parents. We will develop a survey that will ask the parents about their preferences of receiving materials from the school. Parents will be able to contact the school in a myriad of ways.

Strategies for attracting Highly Qualified Teachers (HQT)

Describe the strategies and activities that will be used to attract Highly Qualified Teachers, as defined by NCLB, or to ensure that current staff become highly qualified, in order to achieve this goal.

- Data is analyzed to inform teacher and grade specific professional developments.
- Grade conferences and one on one meetings are used to extend the discussions.
- New and struggling teachers are mentored on a regular basis.
- We will continue to have f-status staff development to continue to create a “think tank” where there is constant discussion as to how we proceed on a path which allows our teachers to sharpen their methods of facilitation. Our staff development team will continue to provide demonstration lessons on the latest methodology. Our f-status team will also reduce group size during leveling thereby reducing the ratio of teacher to student.

Service and program coordination

Describe how Federal, State and local services, including programs supported under NCLB (i.e., violence prevention programs, nutrition programs, housing programs, Head Start) are being coordinated with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal.

Our reading and f-status teachers exemplify standards based teaching. They work with small flexible groups. They assess students. Passion is contagious and so our teachers share these passions and are then able to develop learners who want to explore theirs. Our teachers are like tour guides, they take their students along a rich, rigorous path where they can soar to success.

Budget and resources alignment

Describe the fiscal and human resources that will be used to achieve this goal, referencing specific FY’12 PS and OTPS budget categories (i.e., Title I, FSF, Title IIA, Title III, etc.) that will support the actions/strategies/activities described in this action plan.

Title I Reading – a small, flexible group, intervention for grades 1 to 6, talented and gifted grades 2 to 5.

F-status – Staff development for grades K to 6 and small group instruction.

Title I and Title III for the after school program, per session and consumable materials.

ANNUAL GOAL #2 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #2

Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.

By the end of June 2012, three percent of students will have demonstrated growth in the areas of Number sense and Operations through the implementations of tasks that focus on concepts, skills and problem solving applications by showing growth on the school based assessment and the ECAM assessments

Comprehensive needs assessment

Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

Due to a 3% decrease in performance for Grade 3 students in the NYS Mathematics 2011 exam, and the teacher data records from grades one and two, there is a identified need for an increase in problem solving skills as it relates to Number sense and Operations in the primary grades.

Instructional strategies/activities

Describe the research-based instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve this goal. Include descriptions of the following in your response:

- a) strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified student subgroups,
- b) staff and other resources used to implement these strategies/activities,
- c) steps taken to include teachers in the decision-making regarding the use of academic assessments to evaluate the effectiveness of the strategies/activities,
- d) timeline for implementation.

Response to data

. The Inquiry Team utilized the math item analysis to determine the percentage of students displaying deficiencies in the performance indicators identified as the lowest performance in mathematics. In each two week cycle of the Solutions program, teachers administer a pre-test, followed by modeling various problem solving strategies. Students are supported through guided practice, partner practice and small group instruction. Students will also work independently. A post-assessment determines the result of student strengths and weaknesses.

Engaging Tasks

In every classroom, emphasis will be placed on students' engagement in tasks that require them to demonstrate their understanding of concepts and skills through mathematical modeling and; constructing arguments that prove or disprove a position taken or a decision made

Use of Rubrics

Common preparation periods will be available so that pedagogical staff can meet on a regular basis. Through collaborative team meetings, teachers will evaluate the quality of student work using agreed upon rubrics to determine if the work meets or exceeds the acceptable standards.

Revised Curriculum

On grade teams, teachers with the support of the administration, Teacher Center and Network-based staff will develop or revise units of study to include performance-based tasks that are used school-wide as a common assessment for specific grades.

After School Program

There is an afternoon program twice weekly that will focus on the targeted students. These sessions will focus on problem solving in Number Sense and Operations and will be arranged around flexible grouping. Teacher input and ongoing formative assessment will inform the grouping and the lesson designs

Staff and other resources

Data teams will meet frequently to analyze data

Teacher teams meet regularly to look at student work and plan the Solutions cycle

Administrative team will facilitate the process and provide targeted professional development

- Describe the strategies and activities that will be used to attract Highly Qualified Teachers, as defined by NCLB, or to ensure that current staff become highly qualified, in order to achieve this goal.

We have a supportive administration along with adequate resources and student materials, a safe environment, time for collaboration, ongoing professional development, reasonable class sizes, and support personnel and current technology. In addition, our new teachers attend professional development over the summer before school begins and continue throughout the school year. School based coaches help analyze data and implement effective instructional practices. S New teachers are partnered with veteran teachers and are given time to observe in other classrooms.

Service and program coordination

- Describe how Federal, State and local services, including programs supported under NCLB (i.e., violence prevention programs, nutrition programs, housing programs, Head Start) are being coordinated with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal.

ANNUAL GOAL #3 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #3

Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.

By end of June 2012, 25% of teachers will show improvement in lesson planning, using questioning and discussion techniques to engage students in learning, and in overall professional practice as a result of studying the Danielson's Framework For Teaching and planning and implementing effective lessons as measured by the rubric accompanying the text.

Comprehensive needs assessment

Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

A review of the observation reports for the last year identified planning, student engagement and questioning as the areas most in need of improvement. This was further supported by informal teacher self assessment.

Instructional strategies/activities

Describe the research-based instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve this goal. Include descriptions of the following in your response:

- a) strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified student subgroups,
- b) staff and other resources used to implement these strategies/activities,
- c) steps taken to include teachers in the decision-making regarding the use of academic assessments to evaluate the effectiveness of the strategies/activities,
- d) timeline for implementation.

- Frequent, short cycle teacher observations followed by a feedback session
- Lunch and Learns to address issues of concern
- Mentoring Program
- Demonstration lessons and intervisitation.
- Use of specific protocols and tools turn keyed from the Network professional development sessions

To enhance teacher effectiveness, the fostering of collaboration among staff members is crucial. At P.S. 121, all members are committed to the success of all our students.

Strategies for attracting Highly Qualified Teachers (HQT)

Describe the strategies and activities that will be used to attract Highly Qualified Teachers, as defined by NCLB, or to ensure that current staff become highly qualified, in order to achieve this goal.

We make use of collaborative discussions geared to better teaching results. We are becoming proficient with the depth of knowledge, and realigning our questions with patterned ways of reading, writing, and talking.

There are weekly grade meetings to focus on a variety of concerns and goals.

Teachers are involved in informal study groups, which allows for open forum and problem solving.

Our bimonthly academic cabinet meetings permit representatives from various levels to alert the concerns of that particular group, to share insights into a variety of strategies that have been successful, and those that may not have been successful. The administration will do regular walkthroughs in the form of informal observations to provide quick and meaningful feedback to help drive instruction. Where further action is required, the teacher might be asked to meet with the staff developer, and possibly view some demo lessons.

On the chart below, provide a brief description of each of the Academic Intervention Services provided, and include:

1. type of program or strategy (e.g., Wilson, Great Leaps, etc.),
2. method for delivery of service (e.g., small group, one-to-one, tutoring, etc.),
3. when the service is provided (i.e., during the school day, before or after school, Saturday, etc.).

Name of Academic Intervention Services (AIS)	Description: Provide a brief description of each of the Academic Intervention Services (AIS) indicated in column one, including the type of program or strategy (e.g., Wilson, Great Leaps, etc.), method for delivery of service (e.g., small group, one-to-one, tutoring, etc.), and when the service is provided (i.e., during the school day, before or after school, Saturday, etc.).
ELA	Small group instruction is provided throughout the day for grades K-6. Students in grades K-3 who need basic phonics and language development are currently using the Foundation and/or Wilson Language Basics with our IRT teacher. Additional services are provided by our reading specialists before, during and after school program. Instruction is provided in either small group or whole class instruction. Small group instruction is provided through reading comprehension strategy lessons, guided reading lessons utilizing Teachers College Reading and Writing, and lessons to build grammar skills.
Mathematics	Small group instruction is provided for grades 1-6 before, during, and after school using manipulatives for hands-on instruction. Additional services are provided by our Math PCEN teachers before, during, and after school. Games are used to reinforce skills and support retention. Dialogue is used to communicate mathematical methods, purpose, and reasoning. Visual aids are incorporated throughout instruction.
Science	There is a cluster program where instruction will be provided for students in grades 3-4 that will include lessons on the strands of Physical Setting and the Living Environment through inquiry based investigations during a 90-minute period. Problem-solving skills, developing positive science attitudes, learning new science content, and increasing scientific literacy will be key areas of concentration. There will be opportunities for hands-on experience with scientific tools while honing questioning and observation skills.
Social Studies	Our social studies cluster program is to reinforce the social studies standards. They are reinforced through selecting of specific read alouds to stimulate interest while producing an enriching standards based curriculum.
At-risk Services provided by the Guidance Counselor	Services are provided for at-risk students based on academic, social and behavioral needs. Counseling is either one-to-one or in group sessions. In addressing the needs of PS121 students and receiving the LES we determined there was a need for a second guidance counselor. It has been noted that students had voiced their concerns about bullying situations. The purpose of the second guidance counselor is to: reduce mandated load, work in conjunction with administration and teachers, and to create ongoing intervention services.
At-risk Services provided by the School Psychologist	N/A

DIRECTIONS AND GUIDANCE FOR DEVELOPING OR UPDATING THE PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP)

The template below meets the parental involvement requirements of Title I. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school's goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements.

The PIP should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent involvement activities to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact is a component of the PIP that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP) TEMPLATE

Parent Involvement Policy

Statement of Purpose

P.S. 121Q teachers and staff are committed to providing a quality educational program that will challenge all children to reach their potential. We believe when school and parents work together children succeed in school and throughout life. Neither home nor school can do the job alone. Parents play an extremely important role as children's first teachers. Their support for their children and for the school is critical to their children's success at every step along the way.

To ensure that basic skills and knowledge are taught, we will hold educators accountable for effective teaching, hold students accountable for learning, and encourage parental involvement in their children's education. We will continually assess student growth in order to provide timely interventions and evaluate our instruction. Additionally, P.S. 121Q teachers and staff will work collaboratively with parents and our community in the development, evaluation, and refinement of our Title I program.

Parents' Rights and Responsibilities

The responsibilities of the school, parents, and children in increasing student learning and achievement are identified in our School-Parent Compact. Periodically, parents of participating children are invited to review the compact and make suggestions for revisions.

Development of the School Parent Compact

The development of the School Parent Compact, as well as, the Parent Involvement Policy, is a joint venture between parents, teaching staff, members of the School Leadership team, and our Parent Coordinator. Our Parent Coordinator oversees the implementation of these documents as it relates to parents of our students. During monthly Parent Association meetings, which are attended by parents, teachers, the Parent Coordinator and Principal, issues related to the education and welfare of our students are brought forth and discussed. Furthermore, during regularly scheduled School Leadership meetings, issues are discussed, revised, and updated as deemed necessary.

School/Parent Communication

Communication between the school and parents is one of the many components necessary to the success of our students. Teachers meet with parents twice during the school year for Parent Teacher Conferences. There is an afternoon and an evening component to accommodate all parents. In addition, upon request, parents may meet with any member of the school community by scheduling an appointment. School bulletins are sent home in a timely fashion in order to inform parents of meetings, workshops, and other opportunities available to parents. Parents have the opportunity to visit their children's classes. Parents are aware of how the standards will unfold and what to look for at home.

Student Goals as per the Comprehensive Educational Plan (CEP)

Through the use of a variety of strategies (developed in inquiry team meetings), our students learning will be scaffolded through the grades with different instruction and tiered classroom assignments and projects.

Parent Workshops

Throughout the school year a number of parent workshops are scheduled. These workshops are conducted by members of our staff and our Parent Coordinator. Meetings cover many topics including, but not limited to, preparing students for the English Language Arts and Mathematics state exams, completing the middle school application, and an open house for students entering Kindergarten. Parents are also encouraged to suggest meeting topic. As a result of these suggestions, we have begun a series of workshops on the common core standards, and how they relate to students learning, etc.

Our parent coordinator will expand our workshops on "Your Child and the NY State Tests". We will begin this year with a general meeting. Later, follow-up meetings will be available for K-2. Then 3-6 individual grade sessions will commence. In conjunction with the parent coordinator, our guidance counselor, and staff developer, will conduct these workshops. There will also be ongoing ARIS workshops.

In an attempt to be proactive, we will soon be discussing one of the new mandates as it relates to persuasive writing. We feel parents can play an integral part in working with their children to understand persuasive text or "power of persuasion". The parents and children may look at advertisements in newspapers and commercials on t.v.

In conversations with parents, we learn about their children's passion. This, in turn, may assist in a child's decision to research a specific topic of interest, and then write persuasively with passion.

Each school year we distribute an agenda to each child. This is a crucial tool for the family. It not only contains a place to write homework assignments, but it includes a calendar of events, as well as, a parent guide.

Throughout the year, we have an extensive (and ever growing) list of activities that the parent community can be involved in such as the talent show, literacy launch, math night, family fun night, dance show, middle school choice night, spelling bee, multiplication bee, etc. Just getting off the ground is the “coffee and conversation” meetings. This is a new and exciting idea. Parents have the opportunity to just drop in without a formal agenda, and discuss any one of a myriad of concerns, etc.

Our open access library program will commence this year. Parents and students in grades K-6 are invited to weekly sessions. They will partake in a very unique program where research and other literacy skills are addressed. The parent sessions will be devoted to strengthening the literacy foundation between parent and child.

We have begun a series of workshops, which will enlighten the parents with insight into CCSS. The workshops will be “parent friendly”. A variety of strategies will be shared with the parents.

The scheduling of the workshop will be responsive to the needs of the parents. We will develop a survey that will ask the parents about their preferences of receiving materials from the school. Parents will be able to contact the school in a myriad of ways.

SCHOOL-PARENT COMPACT

The P.S. 121Q School and the parents of the students participating in activities, services, and programs funded by Title I, Part A of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) (participating children), agree that this Compact outlines how the parents, the entire school staff, and the students will share that responsibility for improved student academic achievement and the means by which the school and parents will build and develop a partnership that will help children achieve the State's high standards.

This School-Parent Compact is in effect during school year 2011-2012.

PART I – REQUIRED SCHOOL-PARENT COMPACT PROVISIONS

School Responsibilities

The P.S. 121Q School will:

Provide high-quality curriculum and instruction in a supportive and effective learning environment that enables the participating children to meet the State's student academic achievement standards as follows:

In light of the new state standards, we will recommit ourselves to creating lifelong learners, as well as, great thinkers. In the words of John Locke, "Reading furnishes the mind only with materials of knowledge; it is thinking that makes what we read ours". In order to create great readers and learners, we have incorporated the standards into our subject area maps. For example, when examining standard R1 grades 5 & 6, our teachers are directed to go beyond the standards by creating charts and modeling what I read and what it makes me think using inferencing skills. It is imperative that children begin to believe that what we have to say is important and that there is an audience for their thoughts. Teachers receive ongoing staff development of the highest caliber given by administration as well as Teacher Center and F Status Staff Developers.

The students will be provided with our rigorous and challenging curriculum and instruction. It is our contention that support be available before, during, after school, and weekends. This, of course, is contingent on finances. Availability of these type of programs is essential to our continued success.

Parents will continue to be provided access to ARIS as a means of monitoring their child's performance and progress.

Provide parents reasonable access to staff. Specifically, staff will be available for consultation with parents as follows:

Our school prides itself on having wonderful parent teacher relationships. Teachers are always reaching out to parents to work collaboratively with their children. We all agree that only through strong collaboration will the students reap the benefits. Our administration has an open door policy.

Provide parents opportunities to participate in their child's class, and to observe classroom activities, as follows: Curriculum Night on September 22, 2011.

Conduct parent-teacher conferences (at least bi-annually in schools) during which this Compact will be discussed as it relates to the individual child's achievement.

Specifically, those conferences will be held:

- November 15, 2011 - afternoon and evening
- March 13, 2012 - afternoon and evening

We believe that ongoing dialogue between all parts of the community is essential to the success of our students.

Teachers are always instructed to communicate with parents as early in the year as possible. They know not to wait until parent teacher conferences to broach a problem that might exist which might impede a child's progress.

Parents are also invited to monthly literacy celebrations upon completion of the specific unit. This year we also had Open School Week from November 14 to 18, 2011, which the parents were invited in the classroom while instruction was taking place.

Parent Responsibilities

We, as parents, will support our children's learning in the following ways:

- Supporting my child's learning by making education a priority in our home by:
 - making sure my child is on time and prepared everyday for school;
 - monitoring attendance;
 - talking with my child about his/her school activities everyday;
 - scheduling daily homework time and assigning homework done daily
 - providing an environment conducive for study;
 - making sure that homework is completed;
 - monitoring the amount of television my children watch;
- Participating, as appropriate, in decisions relating to my children's education;
- Promoting positive use of my child's extracurricular time and assuring that my child's education comes first;
- Participating in school activities on a regular basis;
 - attending family nights, shows, any family gatherings;
 - participate in after school activities;

- Staying informed about my child’s education and communicating with the school by promptly reading all notices from the school or the school district received by my child or by mail and responding, as appropriate; attend all parent meetings, such as parent teacher conferences to keep abreast of child’s progress;
- Reading together with my child every day; Katherine Mansfield (1888-1923) said, “The pleasure of all reading is doubled when one lives with another who shares the same books”;
- Providing my child with a library card; making regular visits to the library;
- Communicating positive values and character traits, such as Play Fairly, Act Responsibly, Work Together, Show Respect, Be Honest, Work Hard;
 - Respecting the cultural differences of others;
 - Helping my child accept consequences for negative behavior;
 - Being aware of and following the rules and regulations of the school and district;
 - Supporting the school discipline policy;
 - Expressing high expectations and offering praise and encouragement or achievement;
 - Checking Aris Parent Link periodically to keep informed of our child’s attendance, performance, and support my child when needed;

DIRECTIONS: This submission form assists schools with gathering and organizing the quantitative and qualitative information necessary for a well-conceived school-based language allocation policy (LAP) that describes quality ELL programs. This LAP form, an appendix of the CEP, also incorporates information required for CR Part 154 funding so that a separate submission is no longer required. Agendas and minutes of LAP meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school. Also, when preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the green spaces. Spell-check has been disabled in this file, so consider typing responses to these questions in a separate file before copying them into the submission form. Part II: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of those students who may possibly be ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. Also describe the steps taken to annually evaluate ELLs using the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT).
2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.
3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned? (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [see tool kit].)
4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.
5. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.)
6. Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway.

Part 2- ELL Identification Process

When parents initially enroll their child into our school, the pupil accounting secretary will administer the Home Language Identification Survey. The answers are analyzed by the ESL teacher, and a list of eligible students are administered the Language Assessment Battery (LAB-R), within 10 days of being admitted into the school. The teacher will usually conduct an oral interview with the newly admitted students, and the Spanish speaking ELLs will be administered the Spanish LAB-Rs. Those falling below the LAB-R cut scores will be eligible to be serviced by the ESL teacher. In April/May, all ELL students will be administered the NYSESLAT, by the ESL teacher and the testing coordinator. Parents will be notified of these tests by letters sent home. All ELL students are administered the NYSESLAT tests, grouped with their grades, and this test determines whether the students will continue to be eligible for ELL services.

When the ESL teacher meets with parents at ongoing parent meetings, a thorough description of the Transitional Bilingual Education, Dual Language and Freestanding ESL programs are outlined. The Parent Orientation Video is shown, and parents are offered different descriptive brochures about each program. If the need arises, a translator is hired to inform parents about the program choices.

Our school sends home native language continued entitlement and placement letters. The ESL teacher ensures that every letter is returned by following up with phone calls to parents encouraging the return of these letters. Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned after the Parent Orientation sessions. Placement letters and continued entitlement letters are kept in a Compliance Folder in the ESL room.

Identified ELL students are placed in the ESL program according to their proficiency levels. Notes are sent home to inform parents about their child's placement. These notes are written in the English and native languages. Follow-up phone calls are also placed.

After a careful review of Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past three years, it was concluded that 99% of parents chose ESL as their program choice. The remaining 1% chose to transfer their children to a bilingual program.

Since there are not sufficient students to form a bilingual program, according to the above fact, a freestanding ESL program is the program offered at P.S. 121. However, if there are 15 or more parents who have requested a bilingual program, the administration will form a bilingual program, and the parents will be contacted to inform them that a bilingual program has been formed.

Programming and Scheduling Information

The ESL program is a push-in program, and students are grouped by grade, and have mixed proficiency levels. Beginner and intermediate ESL students are serviced for two units of ESL instruction and two units of ELA from their classroom teachers daily. The advanced ELL students are serviced for one unit in ESL, and one unit of ELA from their classroom teachers. Students are grouped heterogeneously for targeted areas of literacy instruction, according to their LAB-R and NYSESLAT scores. The administration and ESL teacher reviews the daily schedule and student proficiency levels to ensure all beginner and intermediate students are serviced for 360 minutes weekly and advanced students are serviced for 180 minutes weekly.

The following strategies are for helping ELL students with content area learning skills-
The teacher writes key words or phrases on the board. A pre-listening activity that explains the purpose for the listening activity, draws on students' background knowledge of the topic, and introduces key words and phrases they will hear.
One way to provide an active listening role for learners is by asking them to respond physically or in writing.
A story walk through is also an excellent tool to enhance content area learning. Pointing to various objects and characters as you read picture books captures ELL children's interest and helps them to learn the words that describe what they are seeing in the book. The use of repetitions and chants and acting out scenes from reading books can also enhance learning of content area subjects. The ESL teacher can also encourage students reading during read aloud and for books that have especially difficult language, it helps to preview the scene in a few, short easy phrases.

Newcomers who have not passed LAB-R assessments, have been assessed by the ESL instructor, and placed into their specific proficiency levels, and are provided with an extra instructional period. The ESL teacher provides specific, amplified instructional strategies to aid in their English language growth. These instructional strategies include providing literacy lessons, which model simpler skill structures. The ESL teacher utilizes language books, which are richly illustrated. Students also receive enrichment activities, which include phonemic awareness, while utilizing the Columbia Teachers Workshop Model. Our ongoing priority is increasing the attendance of newcomers in Saturday and after school programs.

Sife students are initially assessed by the LAB-R tests, and upon completion of this entrance assessment, students are placed into their specific proficiency levels. The academic instructional plan for SIFE students includes teaching English language skills utilizing easy to read literature, which contains an array of illustrations and large print words. This use of large print enables students to make a personal connection to the English language. In addition, the SIFE students are placed in an environment which utilizes alternative assessments, such as the students creating illustrations to depict picture to word associations.

For ELL students who have been in the program for 4-6 years, the ELL teacher will focus on vocabulary and language development, guided interaction and teaching meaning-based context by modeling and graphic organizers.

Regarding long term ESL students, the ESL teacher has designed a specific instructional curriculum for these students. This plan also includes emphasizing vocabulary and language development and explicit instruction or the direct teaching of concepts.

Special education and the ESL teachers collaborate monthly to determine the short term academic and lingual goals for each ELL student with special needs, as these evaluations should be progressive and open to change, as per the student's individual education plan.

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

Differentiated lessons will be tailored in order to meet the academic needs of these students. Teaching strategies to facilitate the ELL-SWD students include small group instruction that emphasizes peer group work. The ESL teacher will incorporate different ways to present the information, for example, the teacher will provide visual aids or story read alongs on tape to address the visual and auditory learners. Students will be given differentiated graphic organizers to meet their individual learning needs and styles.

Our push-in ESL program helps us to meet the diverse needs of our ELL-SWD students within the least restrictive environment. The ESL teacher assists the general education teachers in the classroom to provide small-group individualized instruction to these students. If the students are not able to achieve mastery of academic skills, the ESL teacher will reteach the skills, through the use of simpler text, working within groups to provide peer support, and will try to relate these skills to the childrens' cultures. Foundations and Wilson programs will be used as supplementary phonics programs. The ELL teacher consults the Individualized Education Plan for each ELL-SWD student on a consistent basis, to ensure that the academic needs of these students are being met.

P.S.121 has an after school program for ELLs on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. There is also Saturday school for ELLs as they are given academic instruction as part of the general school population. There are 10 ELL students who are enrolled in these programs and they are from grades 3-6. English is the language of instruction, and the teacher is a fully certified ESL teacher. The ESL teacher facilitates learning by providing specific, amplified instructional strategies to aid in the students' English language growth. There are scaffolding techniques that are used for academic instruction, including templates. Language learning topics are topics with which students are familiar, and the teacher usually models and demonstrates literacy skills. Math activities for students are also enabled by hands-on activities with manipulatives. Early phonics readers, big book readers, sight word readers, vocabulary cards, graphic organizers and computer language learning activities are used to support ELLs. Photo tiles are also a teaching tool that can enhance beginner language learning activities.

P.S.121 has an after school program for ELLs on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. There is also Saturday school for ELLs as they are given academic instruction as part of the general school population. There are 10 ELL students who are enrolled in these programs and they are from grades 3-6. English is the language of instruction, and the teacher is a fully certified ESL teacher. The ESL teacher facilitates learning by providing specific, amplified instructional strategies to aid in the students' English language growth. There are scaffolding techniques that are used for academic instruction, including templates. Language learning topics are topics with which students are familiar, and the teacher usually models and demonstrates literacy skills. Math activities for students are also enabled by hands-on activities with manipulatives. Early phonics readers, big book readers, sight word readers, vocabulary cards, graphic organizers and computer language learning activities are used to support ELLs. Photo tiles are also a teaching tool that can enhance beginner language learning activities.

Teachers of former ELLs who have passed the NYSESLAT, have met with the ESL teacher in order to discuss students' academic growth, and the ESL teacher has provided instructional materials for additional academic support.

There are new Promethean boards in classrooms, which aid instructional strategies. Small group instruction is provided throughout the day for ELL students. Students in grades 1-3 who need basic phonics and language development are currently using the Foundations and/or Wilson Language Basics with our IRT teacher. Additional services are provided by our reading specialists before, during, after school, and during our Saturday program. Instruction is provided in either small group or whole class instruction. Small group instruction is provided through reading comprehension strategy lessons, guided reading lessons utilizing Teachers College Reading and Writing and lessons to build grammar skills. Small group instruction is provided for ELL students before, during, after school, and on Saturdays using manipulatives for hands-on instruction. Games are used to reinforce skills and support retention. Dialogue is used to communicate mathematical methods, purpose, and reasoning. Visual aids are incorporated throughout instruction.

There are native language reading books that are available in ESL, the school library and the mainstream classrooms. Students have access to these books throughout the day.

Newly enrolled ELL students are given pamphlets that describe the upcoming activities in school, and outline some fun activities that correspond to English language learning through content areas.

C. Schools with Dual Language Programs

2. How much of the instructional day are EPs and ELLs integrated? What content areas are taught separately?
3. How is language separated for instruction (time, subject, teacher, theme)?
4. What Dual Language model is used (side-by-side, self-contained, other)?
5. Is emergent literacy taught in child's native language first (sequential), or are both languages taught at the same time (simultaneous)?

There are periodic staff development sessions, where the ESL teacher discusses several instructional methods that can be used by classroom teachers to aid in achieving English language proficiency of ELL students. These topics are presented during staff development sessions at scheduled times throughout the year. Staff members will be trained in the use of assessment tools such as Acuity and will be able to access current information at any time to gauge the academic progress of ELL students. Professional development will be provided for the staff in differentiated instructional strategies to use. Teachers will use their informal assessments in conjunction with standardized data to measure progress. There will be ongoing weekly meetings with the ESL teacher and classroom teachers to ensure curriculum alignment.

The ESL teacher also attends monthly workshops hosted by Mr. Pierre Galvez that teaches different ways and methods to teach language and teaching strategies that will enhance the learning of ELL students. These sessions are ongoing and provide invaluable insight into the different teaching techniques that can enhance English Language learning.

The ESL teacher will work in conjunction with the school's staff developer to formulate an academic follow-up curriculum that will be distributed to those ELL students who will be transitioning to middle school.

E. Parental Involvement

1. Describe parent involvement in your school, including parents of ELLs.
2. Does the school partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents?
3. How do you evaluate the needs of the parents?
4. How do your parental involvement activities address the needs of the parents?

Paste response to questions 1-4 here

Each year, P.S. 121Q has ongoing Parent Orientation sessions for the newly enrolled ELLs. The ESL teacher presents the sessions at the beginning of the year. This meeting provides parents with the information to make informed decisions as to their child's placement in an ELL program. Videos and handouts are available in various languages. Also, at these meetings we encourage parents/guardians of ELLs to participate in school leadership teams, school activities, join the PA, serve as learning leaders in the school and attend parent/teacher conferences. The Parent Coordinator and ESL teacher are involved with the parents of ELLs by providing them with workshops, with the assistance of volunteer translators. In addition, the Parent Coordinator is readily available to meet with parents on a personal basis. Parent involvement and input is an integral facet of maintaining a positive home-school relationship. Parent choices are reviewed on a periodic, ongoing basis, in order to provide them with options regarding their children's education, whereas their choices will be respected. The ESL teacher and the Parent Coordinator are able to meet with most ELL parents at PA meetings and Meet the Teacher night, to evaluate needs and address problems and concerns. P.S. 121 has Family Fun Night and Culture Day where the parents are encouraged to attend and participate in these activities.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2011-2012

CEP Appendix 7

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 28/Q/ School Name: P.S. 121 Queens

Cluster: CFN Network: 209

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

Upon verbal input from classroom teachers, parent coordinator and administrators, it was evident that school letters concerning after school programs, promotion in doubt, class placement, student progress, special education and the school programs were often not acknowledged, returned or signed by parents of ELL learners, who speak languages other than English. This lack of acknowledgement is due to these letters not being written in the native language, therefore leading to miscommunication between school and parent. When the ESL teacher conducts the initial oral interview with the parents, it is then determined whether the parent needs language assistance. These HomeLanguage Identification Survey forms are kept in an ESL Compliance folder, and all home correspondence documents are sent home in the translated versions. An in-house or a translator from A-1 translation services are hired for all verbal correspondences. Punjabi and Hindi are the languages for which translation services are needed.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

P. S. 121 conducted an assessment of oral translation needs after conducting meetings with parent coordinators, classroom teachers, the school based support team and administrators. It was evident that there was a need for translators for various parent meetings. These findings and translation action plan were shared at monthly grade meetings and P.T.A meetings, so that the school community were informed of the procedures that would be taken by P.S. 121 to meet the language needs of all parents.

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

P.S. 121 plans to provide ELL students with translated versions of the above named school letters and they will also be provided with translated versions of discipline guidebooks, report cards and student agenda handbooks. Upon registration and filling out the Home Language Identification Survey, the home language will be determined, and the necessary documents that will be sent to the parent, will be translated. A1 Translation services, an outside vendor, will provide a translator for 10 hours to translate certain written documents. If there needs to be Spanish translation of documents, a member of the teaching staff will be able to do this.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Translators will provide communication services for parents of ELL students and mainstream students. There is a need for translators at parent orientation meetings, Parent Association meetings and parent teacher conferences. There will also be translators for ongoing school and /or Project Arts parent workshops. In addition, there needs to be a translator for telephone translations in emergency situations. These translation services will be provided with a translator from A1 translation services. If there needs to be a translator for the Spanish language, a member of the staff will be able to orally translate.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link:
<http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

Parental notification of translation and interpretation services will be achieved by sending home letters informing parents about translation services that are available at P.S. 121. The option of having translation services will also be discussed at monthly P.A. meetings, and at Parent Orientation Meetings that the ELL teacher coordinates, so that the parents are offered translated documents, or are informed of their rights to have a translator to orally translate.

Direct Instruction Supplemental Program – P. S. 121 believes that supplemental programs should enhance language learning through content area teaching and specific amplified instructional strategies. P.S. 121 has an after school program for ELLs on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. There are 14 ELL students who are enrolled in these programs and they are from grades 3-6. English is the language of instruction, and the teacher that teaches after school is a fully certified ESL teacher.

There will also be a fully certified, F-status ESL teacher who will also be helping 28 ELL students with Math, Science and Social Studies. This is a supplementary program, and she will be servicing grades 1 & 2 during periods 1&2, and during periods 3&4 she will be servicing grades 4 & 5. She will also be servicing grade 5 during periods 7&8. She will focus on teaching ways to acquire the English language through the use of content areas. She will implement various instructional strategies, such as demonstration and modeling with use of mentor texts, language enrichment activities, and programs to ensure that ELL students meet the standards. Academic language development focuses on language functions, structure, and vocabulary lessons which are all included as part of daily instruction. We always work in congruence with the classroom teacher, and instruction is designed to facilitate the learning of various proficiency levels. We use Columbia's Teacher's College Reading and Writing Program for the acquisition of English language skills in ELLs. The ESL program utilizes various scaffolding strategies. Our program is student-centered and instruction is based on the students' needs and interests. There are standards-based

Students are immersed and surrounded by texts, visuals and a print-rich environment.
