DIRECTIONS AND GUIDANCE FOR COMPLETING THE ANNUAL GOALS AND ACTION PLAN SECTION

The CEP goal-setting process serves both to support the identification and implementation of school-wide goals as well as to document how your school is meeting Federal, State, and City regulations.

As a result of principal feedback on this process, the CEP has been significantly streamlined to reduce the amount of time spent fulfilling requirements and to allow schools to focus on goal-setting and instructional priorities. The goal and action plan section, contained on pages 4 through 8 of this template, now serves as the central work of the CEP process and reflects a consolidation of numerous CEP requirements from prior years.

Below you will find guidance on documenting annual goals and action plans.

WHICH SCHOOLS NEED TO COMPLETE THIS?

- All schools should identify and submit annual goals and action plans in consultation with their School Leadership Team.

HOW DO CEP GOALS RELATE TO GOALS SET FOR THE PRINCIPAL PERFORMANCE REVIEW (PPR)?

- CEP goals are generally intended to guide school-wide planning and development. CEP goals may be adapted from goals set by the principal for the Principal Performance Review (PPR) if they are appropriate for use as school-wide goals.

HOW SHOULD A SCHOOL DEVELOP ITS GOALS AND ACTION PLANS?

- Your school should identify a minimum of three and a maximum of five annual goals.
- Goals should be “SMART” - specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.
- Goal development should be based on an assessment of your school’s needs.
- Your school should demonstrate the use of both qualitative and quantitative data in providing the rationale for each goal. Cite sources that contributed to the rationale, such as the Progress Report, Quality Review, School Survey, State Differentiated Accountability report (SQR, ESCA, or JIT), state and school assessment results, attendance records, inquiry team work, etc.
- Each goal and action plan requires your school to cite the strategies and activities in your Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) that will be implemented to achieve the goal identified. The PIP template is provided on pages 11 through 15. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school’s goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. You may use or amend relevant sections of your PIP directly to respond to the parental involvement section of each goal and action plan.
- Schools designated as Improvement, Corrective Action, Restructuring, and/or PLA/SURR by the New York State Education Department must identify a goal and complete an action plan related to improving student outcomes for the specific subject area and subgroups identified for improvement. For each subject area identified, a goal and action plan is required.

ANNUAL GOAL #1 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #1

By June of 2011-2012, 80% of our students will be reading grade level texts fluently with purpose and understanding as defined by the Common Core Learning Standards with a benchmark reading level 3 or 4 as measured by the final Fountas and Pinnell Benchmark Assessment System.

Comprehensive needs assessment

- After conducting our year-end assessments in literacy, it was determined that 70% of our students were reading on benchmark levels 3 or 4 as seen in the data exported from the June 2011 assessment period in the TCRWP AssessmentPro data system. DIRECTIONS AND GUIDANCE FOR DEVELOPING OR UPDATING
THE PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP)

The template below meets the parental involvement requirements of Title I. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school's goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements.

The PIP should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent involvement activities to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact is a component of the PIP that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP) TEMPLATE

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental involvement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent involvement program that will ensure effective involvement of parents and community in our school. Therefore, our school, in compliance with the Section 1118 of Title I, Part A of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, is responsible for creating and implementing a parent involvement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between our school and the families. Our school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Teacher Association, and Title I Parent Committee as trained volunteers and welcomed members of our school community.

Our school will support parents and families of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
- sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
- providing professional development opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of our school community;

Our school's Parent Involvement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of English Language Learners and students with disabilities.

Our school community will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent involvement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of our school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents, and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent Involvement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent-Teacher Association, as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent Involvement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input.

To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

- actively involve and engage parents in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the Comprehensive Educational Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to schools to promote parent involvement, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent involvement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in our Parent Involvement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent-Teacher Association and Title I Parent Committee. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional development, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend our school and will work to ensure that our school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;
- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., NCLB/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, Progress Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting on or before December 1st of each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent involvement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1118 and other applicable sections under the No Child Left Behind Act;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;

- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed;
- conduct an Annual Title I Parent Fair/Event where all parents are invited to attend formal presentations and workshops that address their student academic skill needs and what parents can do to help;

Our school will further encourage school-level parental involvement by:

- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;

Staff and parents of students participating in activities and programs funded by Title I, agree that this Compact outlines how parents, the entire school staff and students will share responsibility for improved academic achievement and the means by which a school-parent partnership will be developed to ensure that all children achieve State Standards and Assessments.

The staff, families, and students Primary School 280Q agree that this compact outlines how each member will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement and the means by which the school and parents will build and develop a partnership that will help children achieve a holistically successful elementary school education.

Part II: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of those students who may possibly be ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. Also describe the steps taken to annually evaluate ELLs using the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT).
2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.
3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned? (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [see tool kit].)
4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.
5. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.)
6. Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway.

1. Upon arrival of parents for registration, the parents complete a registration packet which includes the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS). One of our ESL teachers (Ms. Guevara) meets with the parents to assist with the completion of the HLIS and to conduct an interview with them in order to determine the student's dominant language. As a result of the interview, along with the assessment of the HLIS, this pedagogue determines the OTELE Code (Other Than English Language Exposure) for the child. All newly admitted students who speak a language other than English at home and meet the criteria of eligibility are administered the Language Assessment Battery-Revised (LAB-R) within 10 days of enrolling in our school. If Spanish is the dominant language and the child does not meet benchmarks in the English exam, the Spanish LAB-R is administered as well. The results of the test are used to plan instruction and create class groupings. Parents are invited to attend an orientation session where they are shown a video describing the various programs that are available to English Language Learners (ELLs), and given a school-created brochure that describes all of our classes. At this time, parents make an informed decision as to which program they would like their child enrolled. The school reviews the forms and places students (within 10 days of admission) in the selected program depending on the number of students that warrant such a program and seat availability in the class. In 2011-2012, we have two self-contained English as a Second Language (ESL) classes, four Dual Language (DL) classes, and one ESL teacher who pushes-in throughout the school day based on students' level of performance on the LAB-R. In 2011-2012, we have recruited a bilingual IEP teacher to work with our students as well. Should there not be enough students to form an ESL, TBE, or DL class; then parents are informed of the availability of such programs in another school within the district. At the same time, parents have the option to reject their child transferring to another school. Instead, parents may choose to participate in the ELL programs available at our school at the time. Our school monitors the preferences of families for future class planning and development. All identified ELLs receive the mandated units of ESL/ELA/NLA according to the results of the LAB-R. In the spring, ELLs will be given the NYSESLAT exam to determine language proficiency in English and continued entitlement for ESL services. To evaluate ELLs using the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), our ESL teacher (Ms. Guevara) runs the ATS report to determine which students need to be administered the exam. Additionally, we make sure that we order enough materials for all students and our teachers and parents are informed about the different components of the exam. All of our teachers and NYSESLAT eligible students are invited to participate in our Early Morning Program (Extended Day) where they prepare for the NYSESLAT's different components using Attanasio and Associates test preparation materials.

2. The parents of all newly registered students identified as ELLs are invited to participate in a parent orientation in June, during the first month of school, or within 10 days of admission should the child enroll after September. During the orientation, parents are shown a video and given a brochure in their native language which describes the three programs available in the NYC school system. Parents are given a survey allowing them to indicate their preference for either Bilingual, Dual Language, or ESL programs. Students are placed in the appropriate program based on parental preference and the availability of such programs at PS 280Q. The school reviews the forms and places students in the selected program depending on the number of students that warrant such a program. TBE and Dual Language requires a minimum of 15 students on two (2) contiguous grade levels in that program. Should there not be enough students to form TBE/DL class; then, parents are informed of the availability of such programs in another school within the district. Parents have the option to reject their child transferring to another school and chose to participate in the ELL programs available at the school of initial enrollment. The school keeps track of the records for those students whose parent preference is not available, so that classes can be formed should the numbers meet the warranted criteria for formation of such programs. If parents have concerns about program placement during the school year, the teacher meets with the family to discuss and develop an action plan that best suits the needs of the student. School staff and administration will be available to translate for those parents that speak a language other than English. In the event that there is no staff member available that speaks the parents native language, the Translation Unit is called and a person is made available to translate for the parent via phone. The contact information for the Translation Unit is posted in several areas around the school and listed in our Administrative Handbook. Parent orientation sessions will be planned in September, October, and throughout the year as well as before, during, and after school, so parents have many opportunities to participate. Should parents not be available to receive and complete their entitlement letters, letters will be sent home and followed up with a phone call until all of the surveys are received.

3. Our ESL teacher (Ms. Guevara) ensures that entitlement letters are distributed by using the LAB-R scores of students. Ms. Guevara prepares an entitlement letter for each family which we backpack home. Additionally, she keeps copies of all the letters that are distributed in binders that are housed in the ESL room. Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are distributed to parents during the registration process. While we check that all forms are completed by the end of the registration meeting, Ms. Guevara follows up on outstanding Parent Survey and Program Selection forms after she reviews them. Forms that are completely filled out are stored in her office. The ESL teacher schedules appointments before, during, and afterschool with any families who need further guidance or clarification.

4. Based on the HLIS, all newly admitted students who speak a language other than English at home and meet the criteria of eligibility, are administered the Language Assessment Battery-Revised (LAB-R). The results of the test are used to determine the child's placement in Bilingual, Dual Language or ESL programs second to parent preference. Parent orientation sessions are held to ensure that parents are aware of these programs and how placement is determined. At these meetings, parents have the opportunity to complete Program Placement forms. Using this information in conjunction with the parental preference, students are either placed in a Bilingual, Dual Language or ESL program within 10 days of admission and placement letters distributed at the time of student placement by the ESL teacher, Ms. Guevara. The ESL Teacher also invites parents to ask questions about each program and to reflect on how their child will function in each of the different settings. Ms. Guevara maintains the records in the ESL room.

5. According to the latest available survey results, Dual Language continues to be the most requested program by parents (56 families), followed by ESL (40 families), and TBE (5 families).

6. Our school's offerings continue to be aligned with parent requests.

Part IV: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered?
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., Departmentalized, Push-In [Co-Teaching], Pull-Out, Collaborative, Self-Contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., Block [Class travels together as a group]; Ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class]; Heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels]; Homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?
2. How does the organization of your staff ensure that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, ESL)?
 - a. How are explicit ESL, ELA, and NLA instructional minutes delivered in each program model as per CR Part 154 (see table below)?
3. Describe how the content areas are delivered in each program model. Please specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods used to make content comprehensible to enrich language development.
4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages?
5. How do you differentiate instruction for ELL subgroups?
 - a. Describe your instructional plan for SIFE.
 - b. Describe your plan for ELLs in US schools less than three years (newcomers). Additionally, because NCLB now requires ELA testing for ELLs after one year, specify your instructional plan for these ELLs.
 - c. Describe your plan for ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years.
 - d. Describe your plan for long-term ELLs (completed 6 years).
6. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials do teachers of ELL-SWDs use that both provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development?
7. How does your school use curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to meet the diverse needs of ELL-SWDs within the least restrictive environment?

1. The organizational models at PS280Q consist of 1) two kindergarten and two first grade side by side dual language classes, 2) a kindergarten and a first grade self-contained ESL class, and 3) a kindergarten and first grade push-in ESL program. The students in the dual language classes are grouped by home language and travel between the English and Spanish worlds. The students are heterogeneously grouped since placement is determined by parental request. Although most of the students come from Spanish speaking homes, some come from Bengali and Chinese homes too. The students in the push-in ESL are surrounded by mostly proficient students throughout the day.

2. During our recruiting process and throughout our professional development, we are committed to having teachers who are certified to teach English Language Learners or who are knowledgeable about effective language instructional strategies. Instructional mandates are met in various ways: a) the dual language program, b) the self-contained ESL class, c) the push-in ESL program. Those students who test on the Intermediate and Beginner levels meet the mandate by working with an ESL or bilingual teacher for 360 minutes per week. Those students who test in the advanced category, meet the mandate by working with an ESL or bilingual teacher for 180 minutes per week. Students in the dual language program meet the native language arts mandate by receiving 50% of instruction in their native language (Spanish). Students in the ESL class and program meet the native language arts mandate by receiving 25% of instruction in their native language (Spanish, Urdu, Bengali, or Chinese) through teacher communication, a native language library, and online programs.

3. Though the content areas (math, science, social studies) are delivered slightly differently in the ESL and DL programs, the instructional approaches that teachers use are very similar. In the ESL and DL classrooms, the teachers allocate three periods each week to social studies and align instruction to the NYS Core Curriculum using Houghton Mifflin Social Studies. Similarly, both the DL and the ESL programs use enVisionMATH and FOSS to teach math and science. However, in the ESL program, math and science are taught in English. In the dual language program, math, science and social studies are taught in English and Spanish on alternating days and parents are sent information in both languages. Instructional approaches in both programs include: dramatization, total physical response, vocabulary instruction, manipulatives, repetition, visual aids, audio aids, and elements of Sheltered Instruction Observation Protocol (SIOP).

4. We ensure that English Language Learners are appropriately evaluated in their native language by purchasing materials that are available in languages other than English, such as Spanish and Chinese. Additionally, our teachers differentiate assessments to ensure student comprehension and participation.

5. We differentiate our instruction for ELL subgroups in the following ways:

A) For SIFE students, depending on the number of students that fall within this category, we may open a special class for them to support their transition to a school environment. If numbers do not allow for this, we will provide additional academic services before and after school, counseling with our guidance counselor, and have the Child Study Team track the success of these students.

B) For students who will be in school for less than three years, we will make sure teachers use effective ESL strategies and that their parents participate in workshops throughout the year that support student learning at home. Similarly, we will organize cultural learning opportunities for these students to learn about their new country through field trips and performances.

C) For students who will be in school for 4 to 6 years, we will have a specific learning plan that sets specific learning goals based on their previous performance on standardized exams.

D) Our plan for Long-Term ELLs includes intensive small group instruction before, during, and after school and including summers if possible.

E) Our plan for ELLs identified as having special needs will begin with an analysis of those students' IEPs by the teacher and Child Study Team. Based on the needs of the child, students will receive instruction and services aligned to the information in the Individual Educational Plan.

6. After a thorough review of the students' latest IEPs, various instructional strategies are used to meet their specific needs such as creating an environment that allows ELL-SWDs to be more comfortable and be able to take greater risks such as increasing accountable talk in the target language, breaking tasks down into smaller "chunks" with frequent comprehension checks as opposed to an overall unit test, and using realia or manipulatives in the classroom which provide comprehensible input in the second language. Also, explaining key concepts through visual aids such as flow charts, story maps, pictures, Venn diagrams as well as demonstrations while supporting or scaffolding student language development to promote success, are additional instructional strategies that are used in our school.

7. We carefully select the instructional programs that are available to our ELL-SWDs because we would like for all of them to have equal access and success in the general education curriculum. As a result, ELL-SWDs learn the same curricula while their teachers have the knowledge and flexibility to differentiate, modify, and accommodate to the learning demands of their students. Taking into consideration the student's language level, the lessons may be planned to meet the child's educational goals with differentiated instruction. Additionally, service providers work in conjunction with the classroom teacher and with each other in order to create a program that centers on the student's strengths and is aligned to the school curriculum. With the differences in needs of ELL-SWDs, it is imperative for all service providers to work closely together in order to fulfill all mandates without scheduling conflicts, repeated instruction, or instructional gaps.

16. Include a description of activities in your school to assist newly enrolled ELL students before the beginning of the school year.
17. What language electives are offered to ELLs?

8. Through our Child Study Team, we use a Response to Intervention (RTI) program at our school for students, including ELLs, in mathematics and literacy. The first and second tiers of intervention will be conducted by the child's homeroom teacher in the classroom based on the results of schoolwide or teacher created assessments. The third tier of intervention will be provided once a week by the classroom teacher (mathematics) or by the IEP teacher (literacy). During our Early Morning Program, ELL students will receive literacy intervention in small groups, such as letter work and fluency practice, as well as test preparation. The language of instruction will always be English for students in the ESL program and will vary in Spanish/English for students in the dual language program based on the child's dominant language.

9. For students who need transitional support, we develop specific learning plans that the teacher will use to plan the instructional day and communicate growth patterns to parents.

10. This coming school year, we will expand the Imagine Learning pilot program to assess how effective this online computer program is in teaching English literacy to students. Five to six students, in each class, will be selected to participate and complete the online program activities throughout the year. Also, we will be launching a new mathematics program which is available in English and Spanish and has a strong audio-visual component and differentiation activities that will support our ELLs. Another improvement is the adoption of Fountas and Pinnell and Reading Tracker to better assess the reading growth in our students and communicate results online to the school community. Lastly, we will be adopting a new social-emotional learning program, The Responsive Classroom approach, to teach conflict resolution, cooperation, and discipline. A new program that we plan to bring to our school is Six Red Marbles, which will invite students in the dual language program to practice literacy and mathematics in both languages. Another new program, enVisionMATH by Pearson, supports ELLs by providing daily visual instruction on the SMARTBoard and differentiated learning opportunities in the classroom and at home.

11. In 2011-2012, we plan to discontinue the Everyday Mathematics program because we were not satisfied with the progress our students made in mastering the Common Core Learning Standards. We believe that this program does not provide enough emphasis on foundational math skills and does not allow for sufficient practice. Also, we will discontinue our partnership with Morningside Center because we believe their program's emphasis on literature to teach social-emotional skills was not as effective with our English Language Learners.

12. ELLs have equal access to all school programs. The schedule which they follow is exactly the same as monolingual students-- start and end times, lunch period, specialist periods, etc. are all the same. ELLs students will receive an invitation to participate in our Early Morning Program for NYSESLAT preparation.

13. We use the following instructional materials to support ELLs: Teachers College Reading and Writing Project, Mondo Let's Talk About It, Mondo Let's Sing About It, Cancionero, Wilson Foundations, Estrellita, enVisionMath, SUBE, Reading A-Z, Houghton Mifflin Social Studies, FOSS, Move to Improve, Imagine Learning online program, Six Red Marbles online program, and the Responsive Classroom Approach.

In the Dual Language Program, native language support is delivered during the literacy block every day and during the content area blocks on alternating days. Also, we will be launching a new mathematics program which is available in English and Spanish and has a strong audio-visual component and differentiation activities that will support our ELLs. Another improvement is the adoption of Fountas and Pinnell and Reading Tracker to better assess the reading growth in our students and communicate results online to the school community. Lastly, we will be adopting a new social-emotional learning program, The Responsive Classroom approach, to teach conflict resolution, cooperation, and discipline. A new program that we plan to bring to our school is Six Red Marbles, which will invite students in the dual language program to practice literacy and mathematics in both languages. Another new program, enVisionMATH by Pearson, supports ELLs by providing daily visual instruction on the SMARTBoard and differentiated learning opportunities in the classroom and at home.

11. In 2011-2012, we plan to discontinue the Everyday Mathematics program because we were not satisfied with the progress our students made in mastering the Common Core Learning Standards. We believe that this program does not provide enough emphasis on foundational math skills and does not allow for sufficient practice. Also, we will discontinue our partnership with Morningside Center because we believe their program's emphasis on literature to teach social-emotional skills was not as effective with our English Language Learners.

12. ELLs have equal access to all school programs. The schedule which they follow is exactly the same as monolingual students-- start and end times, lunch period, specialist periods, etc. are all the same. ELLs students will receive an invitation to participate in our Early Morning Program for NYSESLAT preparation.

13. We use the following instructional materials to support ELLs: Teachers College Reading and Writing Project, Mondo Let's Talk About It, Mondo Let's Sing About It, Cancionero, Wilson Foundations, Estrellita, enVisionMath, SUBE, Reading A-Z, Houghton Mifflin Social Studies, FOSS, Move to Improve, Imagine Learning online program, Six Red Marbles online program, and the Responsive Classroom Approach.

14. In ESL, native language support is delivered by providing home communication and instructional materials in Spanish or other home language as appropriate. Also, students are allowed to communicate with each other in their native language and to ask questions to the teacher in this language too. In the Dual Language Program, native language support is delivered during the literacy block every day and during the content area blocks on alternating days. All students have materials in their native language of literacy and home communication is available in that language as well. Our school library is also representative of the various languages spoken in our childrens' homes, so

E. Parental Involvement

1. Describe parent involvement in your school, including parents of ELLs.
2. Does the school partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents?
3. How do you evaluate the needs of the parents?
4. How do your parental involvement activities address the needs of the parents?

1. In the summer of 2011, we hired our first Parent Coordinator to help us engage parents in our school decision making process and to support them in the education of their children. In June 2011, we held PTA elections to select our new PTA Executive Board and held several open houses and orientations to build support within our parent body. In the fall, we will continue to hold orientations to welcome new families to our school. Through our Family Center, the PC, PTA, and SLT will coordinate monthly workshops, meetings, and volunteer opportunities, so our parents feel welcomed and informed with the happenings of our school. Monthly cafeteria menus, school calendars, and instructional newsletters will also help our families stay informed. Communication will always be sent in English/Spanish and in any other language represented in the community. With the help of translation devices, all of our parents will feel welcomed and understand the meetings we hold throughout the year. Through out partnership with Learning Leaders, we plan to have parents present in our building throughout the day, so they support teachers and students inside and outside of the classroom. In 2011-2012, our new school website will be an added form of communicate and engagement with families.

2. Currently, we have partnerships with:

- NYCares and Citi for community service projects and school beautification
- The Queens Public Library for book readings and library access
- Learning Leaders training for parent volunteers
- Beacon-Goodwill Afterschool Program and homework help
- Cool Culture Arts program for workshops and exhibit trips

3. We evaluate the needs of parents through surveys distributed in September. These surveys allow us to plan our monthly Family Center Workshop where parents are invited to learn about those topics that are of interest to them. Additionally, our Parent Coordinator attends professional development meetings and supports our parents on an as needed basis. The School Learning Survey is another way that we learn about the ideas and suggestions that our parents have.

4. Our parental involvement activities address the needs of parents because they are directly related to their child's success in school. The activities we plan serve to inform parents about their child's academic and social curriculum and how they can best support their child's learning. Our activities are also reflective of any parenting or adult education needs that parents express throughout the year.

C. Schools with Dual Language Programs

1. How much time (%) is the target language used for EPs and ELLs in each grade?
2. How much of the instructional day are EPs and ELLs integrated? What content areas are taught separately?
3. How is language separated for instruction (time, subject, teacher, theme)?
4. What Dual Language model is used (side-by-side, self-contained, other)?
5. Is emergent literacy taught in child's native language first (sequential), or are both languages taught at the same time (simultaneous)?

1. In the Dual Language Program, approximately 50% of the time is spent in the target language. Initially though, because emergent literacy is taught in the child's dominant language, the percentage of time spent in the target language is slightly smaller. As students progress, they increase the amount of time in the target language until 50% is reached. In kindergarten, students receive literacy instruction everyday in their dominant language. They then receive content area instruction in both English and Spanish. In first grade, students receive literacy instruction in both languages 50% each. They also receive content area instruction in both lanaguages, 50% each.

2. EPs and ELLs are integrated approximately 50% of the instructional day (in the afternoons). In the morning, kindergarten students learn in their native home language consistently. First grade students learn literacy in both languages in the mornings in homogeonous groups. In the afternoons, both grades integrate for content area instruction. No content areas are taught separately.

3. In this side-by-side model, there are two classroom teachers - one providing instruction in Spanish and the other in English. The first three periods of the day are reserved for literacy instruction. When with the English teacher, students receive literacy instruction in English. When with the Spanish teacher, students receive literacy instruction in Spanish. After literacy, students are integrated for content area instruction. Once again, when they are with the English teacher, they receive instruction in English, and when with the Spanish teacher

D. Professional Development and Support for School Staff

1. Describe the professional development plan for all ELL personnel at the school. (Please include all teachers of ELLs.)
2. What support do you provide staff to assist ELLs as they transition from elementary to middle and/or middle to high school?
3. Describe the minimum 7.5 hours of ELL training for all staff (including non-ELL teachers) as per Jose P.

1. All personnel at our school (Common Branch Teachers, Specialist Teachers, Bilingual, ESL, and Monolingual teachers, Paraprofessionals, Guidance Counselors, Occupational/Physical Therapists, School Administrators) will participate in professional development sessions that are aligned to Common Core Standards, Depth of Knowledge and Universal Design as well as professional development in Imagine Learning Computer Program and NYSESLAT preparation. Teachers will also be invited to participate in differentiated professional development through ARIS Learns once they complete a professional self-assessment and goal-setting plan.

2. Once our kindergarten and first grades reach the middle school transition stage, our guidance counselor will plan orientations and school visits, so students and families are familiar with the articulation process from elementary to middle school. Also, we will take our students to middle school fairs to aide them in their selection process.

3. All pedagogues will participate in 7.5 hours of ELL training once a month during our Early Morning Program time. Ms. Marcia, our staff developer, will facilitate the following courses: Practices and Strategies for ELLs in the Classroom on 11/21/11, Supporting ELLs across Stages of Language Acquisition on 12/12/11, ELL Students in the Reading and Writing Workshops on 1/9/12, Tailoring Reading Units to Meet the Needs of ELLs on 2/13/12, Tailoring Writing Units to Meet the Needs of ELLs on 3/12/11, and The Application of Common Core State Standards for ELLs on 4/16/12. The staff developer will maintain records of the professional development courses in her files. Additionally, all pedagogues will be invited to enhance their knowledge of ELL instructional strategies using ARIS Learns.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2011-2012

CEP Appendix 7

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 30Q280 School Name: PRIMARY SCHOOL 280Q

Cluster: 2 Network: .02

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

In order to assess our school's written translation and oral interpretation needs, we analyze the results of students' Home Language Survey and Preferred Form of Communication Survey. These surveys let us know the language of communication that is preferred by each of our families.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

According to our assessment, the majority of families are Spanish speaking, followed by English, and a minority of Chinese and Bengali speakers. The findings were reported to the school community in a spreadsheet that outlined the preferred language results for each class in our school.

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Communication in English, Spanish, and Chinese is done in house by our staff and parent volunteers. These translations are sent home at the same time. Information is translated to other languages with the help of the DOE Translation Office. These translations require more time.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Oral interpretation services in Spanish-English in the school is provided by staff and parent volunteers. We rely on interpretation services in other languages by using the DOE Interpretations telephone number (718.752.7373).

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link:
<http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

(A) Families receive copies of the Bill of Rights and Responsibilities each fall when they are given the Code of Discipline in their home language.
(B) In our main entrance and main hallway, we have posted a sign in all languages a sign indicating the availability of interpretation services. We gathered the signs from the DOE website.
(C) In our safety plan, we have included the Translation Phone Number, so parents and staff can use it should they need to communicate in another language during an emergency.
(D) Should we have a family that speaks a non-covered language, we will provide them with a copy of Regulation A-663 in their language by contacting the Office of Translation and Interpretation.
(E) Our school website, WWW.PS280Q.ORG, is available in over 20 languages.

2011-12 Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP): Appendix 8

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs

Directions: Title III supplemental services for ELLs must include all of the following three components:

- Direct instruction: activities must be used to support language development, English and native language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or other core academic areas.
 - The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need
 - These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ESL services required under CR Part 154.
 - Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs as well as reduced class-size, and/or push-in services.
 - Teachers providing the services must be certified bilingual education and/or ESL teachers.
- High quality professional development that is “of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers’ performance in classrooms.”
 - Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs.
 - These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist.

Begin description here: English Language Learners will receive additional support and instruction in various ways to support students' varied learning styles and improve their performance in literacy and mathematics:

1. All (K-1, 12 classes) students will have the opportunity to learn with iPADS, a technological tool that will support students with varied learning styles, highly engage students, and support their audio-visual development in English, Spanish, and/or other home language. Each classroom will receive an iPad loaded with early childhood applications, so students use the iPad as a center throughout the week, at least once a week.

2. Students in the dual language program (K-1, 4 classes) will have individual access to JUBA and WAZA programs, interactive online programs available in English and Spanish. The JUBA program nurtures early learners' desire to explore, create and share by immersing them in a digital world of multi-sensory imagination, discovery and story-telling. The Waza programs sends kids on an online, intergalactic adventure through basic math. As they journey across five distinct galaxies to rescue adorable creatures. The students in the dual language program will follow a weekly schedule, so they access the program in English or Spanish on a weekly basis at school and at home.

3. Our ELL Family Literacy Program will be led by two ESL/Bilingual certified teachers and composed of 15 families (parents and students) to improve the literacy skills of kindergarten and first grade students and to train parents on how to teach literacy and mathematics to their children. The parent group and student group will meet separately with each of the teachers.

Although we will target the lowest performing students in English literacy, families that are willing to commit to the entire duration of the program will be given priority as well. During five consecutive Saturdays, from March 3rd to 31st, children and parents will come to school from 9AM to 12PM and, in separate rooms, practice reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills in English as well as core foundational mathematics skills. In the first group, consisting of only students, the ESL/Bilingual certified teacher will follow a balanced literacy approach (read alouds, guided reading, interactive writing, independent reading and writing, etc.) to enhance the communication skills of all students. She will also use materials from our math program, enVisionMATH. In the second group, consisting of only parents, an ESL/Bilingual certified teacher with experience teaching adults, will teach parents how they can support their child's literacy at home by reviewing the strategies that are appropriate at each reading level (A-L) and practicing how to teach them to students (neighborhood walk, a silent reading space in the house, visits to the supermarkets and museum, etc.). The use of the public library, internet, and cultural institutions in New York City will be integrated in the academic curriculum. Teachers who are interested in participating in this program will be asked to complete a posting application as per UFT contract. T3 resources will be used for teacher salary and materials.

Part C: Professional Development

Part C: Professional Development

Describe the school's professional development program for Title III Program teachers as well as other staff responsible for delivery of instruction and services to ELLs.

- rationale
- teachers to receive training
- schedule and duration
- topics to be covered
- name of provider

Begin description here: The professional development opportunities that are provided to our teachers will enhance student performance in literacy and mathematics.

1. The principal will conduct frequent observation cycles to provide feedback for teachers.
2. Dual language teachers will participate in dual language professional development workshops hosted by the Office of English Language Learners and teachers will turnkey the information to other teachers.
3. Teachers and administration will attend Estrellita/Fundations professional development to learn about effective implementation of these word work programs.
4. Teachers of English Language Learners (ESL and Dual) have monthly common planning time to share effective strategies and techniques that they are using in their classrooms and to analyze data.
5. The speech teacher will attend a two-day professional development workshop to learn the latest enhancements and strategies in this profession and improve her teaching practice.
6. The staff developer will support teachers in their implementation of the literacy program through frequent coaching sessions.
7. Dual Language teachers have weekly common planning time to plan and assess student performance.
8. Teachers will participate in a professional development workshop to learn how the online learning program Imagine Learning can be used in the classroom and in the Early Morning Program.
9. Dual language teachers will participate in professional development to learn how to effectively implement JUBA and WAZA online learning programs.
10. The ESL teacher attends professional development related to compliance items and hosted by the Office of English Language Learners
11. All teachers are trained on test preparation instruction by Attanasio & Associates, so they can prepare students for the NYSESLAT exam during Early Program/Extended Day.
12. The Parent Coordinator will turnkey Cool Culture opportunities to parents, so they are aware of the events being held at cultural institutions in the city.

Part D: Parental Engagement Activities

Describe the parent engagement activities targeted toward parents of ELLs that will impact higher achievement for ELLs. NOTE: These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

- rationale
- schedule and duration
- topics to be covered
- name of provider
- how parents will be notified of these activities

Begin description here: As an early childhood school, parental involvement is a fundamental practice in our school. We will involve parents in the following ways to support higher achievement for ELLs:

1. Meet the Teacher event, so parents can learn more about each program and teacher, in October during the school day. Parents will receive flyers and information will be available in our school website.

Part D: Parental Engagement Activities

2. Monthly Family Center Workshops on topics of importance to parents (School Rules and Procedures, Discipline, Health and Medicine, Core Standards) usually hosted by our Parent Coordinator, but based on topic, facilitator may vary.
