DIRECTIONS AND GUIDANCE FOR COMPLETING THE ANNUAL GOALS AND ACTION PLAN SECTION

The CEP goal-setting process serves both to support the identification and implementation of school-wide goals as well as to document how your school is meeting Federal, State, and City regulations.

As a result of principal feedback on this process, the CEP has been significantly streamlined to reduce the amount of time spent fulfilling requirements and to allow schools to focus on goal-setting and instructional priorities. The goal and action plan section, contained on pages 4 through 8 of this template, now serves as the central work of the CEP process and reflects a consolidation of numerous CEP requirements from prior years.

Below you will find guidance on documenting annual goals and action plans.

WHICH SCHOOLS NEED TO COMPLETE THIS?

- All schools should identify and submit annual goals and action plans in consultation with their School Leadership Team.

HOW DO CEP GOALS RELATE TO GOALS SET FOR THE PRINCIPAL PERFORMANCE REVIEW (PPR)?

- CEP goals are generally intended to guide school-wide planning and development. CEP goals may be adapted from goals set by the principal for the Principal Performance Review (PPR) if they are appropriate for use as school-wide goals.

HOW SHOULD A SCHOOL DEVELOP ITS GOALS AND ACTION PLANS?

- Your school should identify a minimum of three and a maximum of five annual goals.
- Goals should be “SMART” - specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.
- Goal development should be based on an assessment of your school’s needs.
- Your school should demonstrate the use of both qualitative and quantitative data in providing the rationale for each goal. Cite sources that contributed to the rationale, such as the Progress Report, Quality Review, School Survey, State Differentiated Accountability report (SQR, ESCA, or JIT), state and school assessment results, attendance records, inquiry team work, etc.
- Each goal and action plan requires your school to cite the strategies and activities in your Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) that will be implemented to achieve the goal identified. The PIP template is provided on pages 11 through 15. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school’s goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. You may use or amend relevant sections of your PIP directly to respond to the parental involvement section of each goal and action plan.
- Schools designated as Improvement, Corrective Action, Restructuring, and/or PLA/SURR by the New York State Education Department must identify a goal and complete an action plan related to improving student outcomes for the specific subject area and subgroups identified for improvement. For each subject area identified, a goal and action plan is required.

ANNUAL GOAL #1 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #1

- Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.

Based on the Progress Report 2010 – 2011, 35.3% of the students earned 10+ credits in their 1st year, 41.5% earn 10+ credits in their 2nd year and 38.8% earned 10+ in their 3rd year. In each category, the percentage of students earning 10+ credits has decreased when comparing 2010-11 to the 2009-10 Progress Report. For the 1st year, there was a 15.9% decrease, an 8.3% for those students in their 2nd year, and 2.9% for those in their 3rd year.

While adhering to academic policy, the school has developed different entry point as a means for students to earn credits. For example, credit recovery includes a web-base program, such as Aventa, Summer School, and Independent Study or courses during the school day. At risk-students are identified by the guidance counselors and are required to participate in during and after the regular school day. Teachers receiving professional development from a Transitional First Network, Classlinks, Aussies to improve instructional strategies. Teachers have opportunities to collaborate and share best practices. All students were received instruction on how analyzing their transcripts and identifying the academic requirements necessary to graduate. Guidance Counselors provided students with college and career readiness skills and support.

To ensure this goal is realized, the school will ensure that systems are in place to support positive outcomes for all students across all cohorts up to and including the following:

13. Provide each parent timely notice when their child has been assigned or has been taught for four (4) or more consecutive weeks by a teacher who is not highly qualified within the meaning of the term in section 200.56 of the Title I.

Parent Responsibilities

We, as parents, will support our children's learning in the following ways:

1. Monitoring attendance.
2. Make sure that homework is completed.
3. Monitor the amount of television our children watch.
4. Volunteer in my child's school.
5. Participate as appropriate, in decisions relating to my children's education.
6. Promote positive use of my child's extracurricular time.

Stay informed about my child's education and communicating with the school by promptly reading all notices from the school or the school district either received by my child or by mail and responding, as appropriate.

Strategies for attracting Highly Qualified Teachers (HQT)

- Describe the strategies and activities that will be used to attract Highly Qualified Teachers, as defined by NCLB, or to ensure that current staff become highly qualified, in order to achieve this goal.

This school is currently in its first of a three year phase out plan. Therefore, at the end of each year, there is the expectation that the school will be excessing personnel. In the event there are vacancies, administration will contact Human Resources, attend job fairs, and search the Open Market portal to identify HQT to fill those vacancies.

Service and program coordination

- Describe how Federal, State and local services, including programs supported under NCLB (i.e., violence prevention programs, nutrition programs, housing programs, Head Start) are being coordinated with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal.

The school is focusing on Respect for All and has actively led a campaign on making the school a safe haven.

Budget and resources alignment

- Describe the fiscal and human resources that will be used to achieve this goal, referencing specific FY'12 PS and OTPS budget categories (i.e., Title I, FSF, Title IIA, Title III, etc.) that will support the actions/strategies/activities described in this action plan.

ANNUAL GOAL #4 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #4

- Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.
85% of the Class of 2012 who attend school regularly will be provided with career and college readiness skills that will positively impact our graduation rate by August 2012.

Comprehensive needs assessment

- Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.
Based on the 2010-11 Progress Report, the percentage of students earning 10+ credits has moderately increased when compared to the 2009-10 Progress Report, but for the 'at-risk' students of the bottom third we have seen a decrease in credits attained and proficiency gains. The system changes that yielded this data directly impacted our four-year graduation rate, reducing it from the 49% of 2009-10 to 29% in 2010-11. The school's six-year graduation rate also leaves room for improvement as we find that 64.4% achieved graduation which is still below the citywide average.

Instructional strategies/activities

- Describe the research-based instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve this goal. Include descriptions of the following in your response:
 - a) strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified student subgroups,
 - b) staff and other resources used to implement these strategies/activities,
 - c) steps taken to include teachers in the decision-making regarding the use of academic assessments to evaluate the effectiveness of the strategies/activities,
 - d) timeline for implementation.

Our action plan for raising the graduation rate includes a focus on the Regents passing rate and credit accumulation. We have identified all students in the 2012 cohort and will have created individualized plans for each student by mid-term fall 2011. Students in danger of failing to graduate will be assigned to an Inquiry Team consisting of the students, their teachers, guidance counselors, and administrators who will meet regularly to plan for student success, to motivate the students, assess progress, and adapt/adjust strategies as necessary to support student graduation. Each student has received a copy his/her individualized data report with target dates for Regents testing and a program schedule that includes credit recovery classes, and possibly independent study projects that will allow the student to makeup missing credits. Each student's schedule will be reassessed in December, 2011, and adjusted for the Spring semester [February 2012] as needed to keep the student on track for graduation by June, 2012.

We have programmed at-risk students into credit recovery and/or Regents preparation classes on an as-needed basis. Individualized plans, which will be created in collaboration with guidance, teachers and students, will identify a timeline for credit accumulation and a Regents schedule that will allow the student to graduate in June or August, 2012.

Guidance Counselors and College Advisor will collaborate to provide the students with the following support: Individual counseling and small group counseling; college tours; financial aid workshops; and establishing individual goals and student contracts.

Timeline: September 2011 – August 2012

8. Hold an annual meeting to inform parents of the school's participation in Title I, Part A programs, and to explain the Title I, Part A requirements, and the right of parents to be involved in Title I, Part A programs. The school will convene the meeting at a convenient time to parents, and will offer a flexible number of additional parental involvement meetings, such as in the morning or evening, so that as many parents as possible are able to attend. The school will invite to this meeting all parents of children participating in Title I, Part A programs (participating students), and will encourage them to attend.
9. Provide information to parents of participating students in an understandable and uniform format, including alternative formats upon the request of parents with disabilities, and, to the extent practicable, in a language that parents can understand.
10. Provide to parents of participating children information in a timely manner about Title I, Part A programs that includes a description and explanation of the school's curriculum, the forms of academic assessment used to measure children's progress, and the proficiency levels students are expected to meet.
11. On the request of parents, provide opportunities for regular meetings for parents to formulate suggestions, and to participate, as appropriate, in decisions about the education of their children. The school will respond to any such suggestions as soon as practicably possible.
12. Provide to each parent an individual student report about the performance of their child on the State assessment in at least math, language arts and reading.

ANNUAL GOAL #5 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #5

- Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.
By August 2012, 85% of PCHS's students across all cohorts with 75% attendance or better will pass their ELA classes.

Comprehensive needs assessment

- Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

In 2009-10, 5.8% of students taking the ELA Regents scored 75 or higher, whereas in 2010-11 10% of students scored at that level of proficiency. Similarly, in 2009-10 the English weighted pass rate was 45% as compared to the 85% in the 2010-11 school year. Although these scores are improved they are still far below the city's average rates for ELA. Of course the challenges that PCHS has experienced in maintaining student attendance has only increased challenge in passing ELA classes and assuring that they are receiving more instructional time, some of which will be devoted to assessment preparation.

Instructional strategies/activities

- Describe the research-based instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve this goal. Include descriptions of the following in your response:
 - a) strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified student subgroups,
 - b) staff and other resources used to implement these strategies/activities,
 - c) steps taken to include teachers in the decision-making regarding the use of academic assessments to evaluate the effectiveness of the strategies/activities,
 - d) timeline for implementation.

Professional Development will be given in the areas of using the interim assessment, rubrics for evaluation of student products, use of student data for goal setting, and differentiation of instruction facilitated by data. Professional development will be facilitated by staff developers through hands-on activities and student case studies.

The school Instructional team members will train teachers in the use of student data. This will include cross curriculum data focusing on SWD and ELL/at risk students, the monitoring of student progress, initial goals for students in ELA, midterm assessment of progress and follow-up assessments.

Teachers will share, during professional development periods, student progress based on the triangulation using a variety of the following data sources: interim assessment, work evaluated through rubrics, teacher generated exams, student portfolios and/or research projects. Administrators and peers will visit classrooms to observe and give constructive feedback.

Critical reading is a priority as we work to create a "culture of readers." Selection of high-interest literature and relevant, real-world texts will help to engage and sustain student interest in reading. In support of at-risk students, the school will incorporate Achieve 3000, which is a reading program designed to improve student reading comprehension skills. Students will be prepared to take the English Regents Exam at the end of the 11th grade. Small group tutorials, one-on-one instruction, ELA Regents Review curriculum will be followed to prepare 11th graders to take the ELA Regents. 12th graders will be enrolled in the online Advance Placement courses/or enrolled in Mercy/or Hostos Community College courses, which these college courses will prepare students for college entrance exams, including application process, college essay, and the financial aid process.

DIRECTIONS AND GUIDANCE FOR DEVELOPING OR UPDATING THE PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP)

The template below meets the parental involvement requirements of Title I. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school's goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements.

The PIP should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent involvement activities to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact is a component of the PIP that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility.

PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP) TEMPLATE

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental involvement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent involvement program that will ensure effective involvement of parents and community in our school. Therefore, our school, in compliance with the Section 1118 of Title I, Part A of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, is responsible for creating and implementing a parent involvement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between our school and the families. Our school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association, and Title I Parent Committee as trained volunteers and welcomed members of our school community. Our school will support parents and families of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
- sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
- providing professional development opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of our school community;

Our school's Parent Involvement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of English Language Learners and students with disabilities. Our school community will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent involvement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of our school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents, and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent Involvement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent Involvement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

- actively involve and engage parents in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the Comprehensive Educational Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to schools to promote parent involvement, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent involvement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in our Parent Involvement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Committee. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional development, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend our school and will work to ensure that our school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;
- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., NCLB/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, Progress Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting on or before December 1st of each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent involvement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1118 and other applicable sections under the No Child Left Behind Act;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed;

- conduct an Annual Title I Parent Fair/Event where all parents are invited to attend formal presentations and workshops that address their student academic skill needs and what parents can do to help;

Our school will further encourage school-level parental involvement by:

- holding an annual Title I Parent Curriculum Conference;
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Committee;
- supporting or hosting Family Day events;

Part B: For Title I SINI Schools Only

1. As required by NCLB legislation, a school identified for school improvement must spend not less than 10 percent of its Title I funds for each fiscal year that the school is in school improvement status for professional development. The professional development must be high quality and address the academic area(s) identified. Describe how the 10 percent of the Title I funds for professional development will be used to remove the school from school improvement. Performance Conservatory High School has hired Classlink Consultants to provide support for the teachers in the following areas:
 1. Instructional practices
 2. Development of curriculum maps

 4. Individualized professional development plans
2. Describe the teacher-mentoring program that will be incorporated as part of the school's strategy for providing high-quality professional development.
 1. Our newly hired staff members are currently being mentored by our most senior staff members.
 2. Our staff developer provides coaching and mentoring for other staff members.
 3. Our administrators, staff developer/coaches meet with teachers from their departments to provide additional support for the teachers.
 4. The Regents focused teacher team provides instructional support for the teachers on that team.

5. The administration works with the teachers to support and develop their teaching practices around the Danielson Framework for Effective Teaching Practices.

3. Describe how the school will notify parents about the school's identification for school improvement in an understandable and uniform format and to the extent practicable, in a language that the parents can understand.
1. Parents will be notified about the school's identification for school improvement through written translation and oral interpretation.

DIRECTIONS: This submission form assists schools with gathering and organizing the quantitative and qualitative information necessary for a well-conceived school-based language allocation policy (LAP) that describes quality ELL programs. This LAP form, an appendix of the CEP, also incorporates information required for CR Part 154 funding so that a separate submission is no longer required. Agendas and minutes of LAP meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school. Also, when preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the green spaces. Spell-check has been disabled in this file, so consider typing responses to these questions in a separate file before copying them into the submission form. Part II: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of those students who may possibly be ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. Also describe the steps taken to annually evaluate ELLs using the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT).
2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.
3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned? (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [see tool kit].)
4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.
5. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.)
6. Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway.

1. It is important to identify LEP students immediately so that they can be programmed according to their needs. The parent or guardian of each newly admitted child must complete the Home Language Identification Survey used to determine the language spoken at the child's home and the child's educational history. Only a licensed pedagogue can conduct an interview with the parent, and translation and interpretation must be offered when requested with help from either pre-selected school staff or by telephone from the interpretation unit. If a parent responds that a language other than English is spoken to at least 3 questions in part 1 of the HLIS and 3 questions in part 2, Kyunghe Jeung, the ESL coordinator (a certified ESL teacher) conducts an oral interview with the child in English and in the native language in order to determine English fluency. Once a student is determined to be LEP, the ESL coordinator must administer the LAB-R and the SIFE diagnostic test within 10 days. If a student scores below proficiency, the student is an ELL. If the student is Spanish-speaking, the coordinator administers the Spanish LAB. The results of these tests can be determined immediately. The test is then packaged and sent to the ISC at 1 Fordham Plaza. The student's proficiency level determines the scheduling. If the student is a beginner, he or she will have 540 minutes of ESL per week. Intermediate ELLs get 360 minutes of ESL per week and Advanced ELLs students get 180 minutes per week. Every year, the ESL licensed BESIS coordinator reviews students' NYSESLAT eligibility in ATS and eligible students are scheduled to be tested in April and May. ELL parents are informed of NYSESLAT administration dates. Kyunghe Jeung, the ESL coordinator (a certified ESL teacher) announces the NYSESLAT testing dates on the school bulletin board as well as other logical places. On testing day, the ESL teacher takes steps to ensure that the four components of NYSESLAT are administered in compliance with test regulations. If a student continues to score below proficiency based on the annual assessment (NYSESLAT), he or she will continue to receive services.

2. The school has structures in place to ensure that parents understand all three program choices. In order to inform parents of the three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, and Freestanding ESL), Kyunghe Jeung, the ESL coordinator (a certified ESL teacher) meets with the parents with a bilingual guidance counselor. The school does not tell parents that it offers only Freestanding ESL, prior to the parents making a program selection. Parents are told the basics of the identification process for ELLs, shown the orientation video, and told that the school now offers Freestanding ESL. The ESL teacher also informs parents who have previously chosen a TBE/DL program that they will be notified when the program becomes available and keeps those communication channels open. Any subsequent questions parents might have are directed to the ESL teacher. Parents then complete and sign the Parent Choice Form. The teacher provides parents with her contact information and encourages parents to communicate with her and a bilingual guidance counselor regularly.

3. If a student does not score proficient on the LAB-R, an entitlement letter is sent home to notify the parents that the child is entitled to ESL programs. To ensure that all the ELL parents complete important documents, such as the Parent Survey and Program Selection form, the ESL teacher stays in communication with the parents by phone as well as scheduling regular parent-teacher meetings.

4. Once a student's LEP status and proficiency level has been determined, the ESL teacher will meet with the guidance counselor to arrange a schedule that will allow for the required number of minutes of ESL in the particular courses. The student will be required to stay on track to graduate on time. The ESL teacher will send a placement letter and an entitlement letter to the parents and keep all the records. The ESL teacher also speaks with parents about what grade the child was in before moving to New York City and asks if they have transcripts for us to keep on record. The ESL teacher also informs parents who have previously chosen a TBE/DL program that they will be notified when the program becomes available and keeps those communication channels open.

5. We have had seven newcomer ELLs in the past 3 years. Five parents chose ESL for their children and two parents chose bilingual education.

6. Yes, the ESL program model is aligned with parent requests. Our freestanding ESL program is the trend in program choice by parents. These parents opted-out of a Dual Language and Transitional Bilingual Programs on the Parent Choice and Program Selection Form.

Part IV: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered?
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., Departmentalized, Push-In [Co-Teaching], Pull-Out, Collaborative, Self-Contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., Block [Class travels together as a group]; Ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class]; Heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels]; Homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?
2. How does the organization of your staff ensure that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, ESL)?
 - a. How are explicit ESL, ELA, and NLA instructional minutes delivered in each program model as per CR Part 154 (see table below)?
3. Describe how the content areas are delivered in each program model. Please specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods used to make content comprehensible to enrich language development.
4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages?
5. How do you differentiate instruction for ELL subgroups?
 - a. Describe your instructional plan for SIFE.
 - b. Describe your plan for ELLs in US schools less than three years (newcomers). Additionally, because NCLB now requires ELA testing for ELLs after one year, specify your instructional plan for these ELLs.
 - c. Describe your plan for ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years.
 - d. Describe your plan for long-term ELLs (completed 6 years).
6. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials do teachers of ELL-SWDs use that both provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development?
7. How does your school use curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to meet the diverse needs of ELL-SWDs within the least restrictive environment?

1. Our instruction is delivered according to both the self-contained and push-in models. The ESL teacher meets regularly with the content area teachers to collaboratively plan units and lessons. The ESL teacher pushes-in to content area classes, such as English and Social Studies, to help ELLs learn the content and skills they need to pass the Regents Exams. During these push-in classes, ELLs are usually grouped heterogeneously with non-ELLs. They are sometimes pulled out for more one-on-one instruction that is consistent with what is taking place in the larger classes. ELL student schedules are designed so that ELLs do not end up traveling together as a group. The one period of pull-out ESL is ungraded and includes students that represent the full range of proficiency levels as well as grade levels.
2. Our guidance counselors work closely with the ESL teacher to make sure that students are programmed according to the mandated number of minutes of ESL instruction per week. Both of our guidance counselors know and understand the state mandates regarding student entitlement to English language support and the importance of meeting state mandates by programming students according to their proficiency level. The guidance counselors maintain close communication with the ESL teacher regarding any issues pertaining to any particular ELL throughout the school year. If the student is a beginner, he or she will have 540 minutes of ESL per week. Intermediate ELLs get 360 minutes of ESL per week and Advanced ELLs students get 180 minutes per week. The ESL teacher has 15 students for each class. Based on the annual assessment (NYSESLAT), if a student continues to score below proficiency, he or she will continue to receive services.
 - a. In the push-in class, explicit ELA and ESL instruction is delivered during one 45 minute period per day, Monday through Friday. ELLs in the ESL program receive a great number of ESL minutes than they are mandated to receive by law. New York State ESL and ELA standards along with Common Core state standards are what drive unit and lesson plans. The focus is on building literacy skills and writing skills in particular.
3. Freestanding ESL programs provide instruction in English with native language support, focusing on English language acquisition. The certified ESL teacher provides support to ELLs during content instruction working with regular classroom teachers mainly through push-in instruction. Careful planning between the ESL teacher and the content area teachers is essential to the success of the push-in model. Both teachers have agreed on formal meeting times in which the week ahead is planned jointly. They work together to find ways of scaffolding and reinforcing content to make it more comprehensible to ELLs. Some texts are written in both English and Spanish. Sheltered English, coupled with other scaffolding methods, are used in each program. At other times, teachers use alternate versions of the same text, along with the content glossaries, to increase student comprehension. Lastly, many texts are annotated with vocabulary support. ELLs are sometimes given more time on tests and quizzes. One student requires a lot of translation and one-on-one tutoring which the ESL teacher provides. There is a big emphasis on building vocabulary and language acquisition.
4. ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages with help from either pre-selected school staff or by telephone from the interpretation unit. To comply with Chancellor's Regulation A-663, the school ensures that ELLs and their parents are provided with appropriate and sufficient information in a language they can understand, which is Spanish in our school. Only a licensed pedagogue can conduct an interview to determine the home language of a child, and translation and interpretation must be offered when requested. A bilingual school aide proceed with an oral interview in English or in Spanish with Kyungh Jeung, an ESL licensed teacher and BESIS Coordinator. Once a student is determined to be LEP, the ESL coordinator must administer the LAB-R within 10 days. If a student scores below proficiency, the student is an ELL. If the student is Spanish-speaking, the coordinator (a certified ESL teacher) administers the Spanish LAB. The results of these tests can be determined immediately. The test is then packaged and sent to the ISC at 1 Fordham Plaza. Spanish is the only language spoken by ELLs at our school.

5. It is important to differentiate instruction among subgroups of ELLs in order to maintain academic rigor. In order to differentiate, it's important to have a thorough understanding of the data at hand. The ESL teacher regularly references student IEPs, student transcripts, and records which are easily accessible on ARIS, as well as data on ATS reports. All of this data, combined with more informal assessments help to inform teachers of the specific skills that ELLs need support in.

a. SIFE students receive one-on-one tutoring and academic mentoring with the ESL teacher.

They receive intervention during the school day as well as in after-school programs. They are also supported through the push-in model in their content area classes. These students are placed in homogeneous groups to grasp basic concepts, and in heterogeneous groups to learn from their peers. Teachers across all content areas scaffold lessons by using instructional strategies: activating schema, using visual aids, and diagramming. SIFE students also develop higher order thinking skills through sorting, analyzing, and synthesizing reading passages that appropriate to their comprehension level. The students' progress will be assessed each marking period in order to evaluate and revise interventions as appropriate.

b. Newcomers receive daily one-on-one tutoring with the ESL teacher because English language proficiency is required for a student to master extensive reading and comprehension skills. All newcomers have a rigorous curriculum that focuses on vocabulary building, broadening their use of written English by way of explicit grammar instruction, reading strategies, and building listening and speaking skills. They are also supported through the push-in model in their content area classes.

c. Although ELLs receiving 4-6 years of service still need to increase their vocabulary, they are distinct from newcomers in that they are fluent English speakers. These students have shown potential to progress and are generally very motivated academically. They all benefit from carefully planned pairing in their content area classes. Content area teachers are encouraged to pair ELLs with high achieving English speaking students. English-Spanish glossaries are also available to ELLs.

d. Long-term ELLs generally struggle the academics across content areas. They need more intensive and personalized attention from teachers to address their particular learning styles. The ESL teacher gathers information from various sources to learn what environment each student performs best in and works to create that both in ESL class and in content are classes. These students continue to need opportunities to learn and reinforce skills and content that they need to master in their core classes. Vocabulary building as well as skills such as note-taking and synthesizing ideas gleaned from the text is the focus of these long-term ELLs.

e. ELLs with IEPs are a special group because many of them were born in this country and speak English with native-like fluency. These students need vocabulary building as well as particular help with reading and writing skills. The ESL teacher communicates regularly with IEP teachers to understand the needs of each ESL student with an IEP. IEP teachers share best practices with the ESL teacher.

6. The ELL-SWDs receive intervention during the school day as well as in after-school programs. The school ensures that the ELL-SWDs receive all services mandated on their IEPs and ESL requirements by monitoring their schedule. Students will read and comprehend the selected passages appropriate to their levels by the end of the year, as measured by a valid curriculum-based measurement. Teachers across all content areas scaffold lessons by using instructional strategies: activating schema, using visual aids, and diagramming. To develop skills to support and improve comprehension of written material, students learn how to highlight and underline key words and ideas and refer to them. The ELL-SWDs also develop higher order thinking skills through sorting, analyzing, and synthesizing reading passages that appropriate to their comprehension and grade level.

7. The ELL-SWDs must master all four language skills. The ESL teacher helps their ELL-SWDs prepare for these skills by interweaving the vocabulary, concepts, and language functions of the content areas. To meet the requirements of the federal No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB), our curriculum set rigorous standards for student achievement in reading, math, and science, and test students using assessments that are aligned with state's academic content standards, which define what children must know and be able to do at each grade level. The ESL teacher, Special Ed teacher, and content-area teachers collaborate as they plan and provide instruction. This collaboration also enhances the ability of content-area teachers to apply specific language strategies that can make the content more comprehensible to the ELL-SWDs. The students' progress will be assessed each marking period in order to evaluate and revise interventions as appropriate.

Native Language Usage and Supports

The chart below is a visual representation designed to show the variation of native language usage and supports across the program models. Please note that native language support is never zero.

B. Programming and Scheduling Information--Continued

8. Describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, math, and other content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Please list the range of intervention services offered in your school for the above areas as well as the language(s) in which they are offered.
9. Describe your plan for continuing transitional support (2 years) for ELLs reaching proficiency on the NYSESLAT.
10. What new programs or improvements will be considered for the upcoming school year?
11. What programs/services for ELLs will be discontinued and why?
12. How are ELLs afforded equal access to all school programs? Describe after school and supplemental services offered to ELLs in your building.
13. What instructional materials, including technology, are used to support ELLs (include content area as well as language materials; list ELL subgroups if necessary)?
14. How is native language support delivered in each program model? (TBE, Dual Language, and ESL)
15. Do required services support, and resources correspond to ELLs' ages and grade levels?
16. Include a description of activities in your school to assist newly enrolled ELL students before the beginning of the school year.
17. What language electives are offered to ELLs?

8. The targeted ELL subgroup is all ELL students whose NYSESLAT test scores "flat lined" or did not show improvement across modalities. There are a total of seven students in that subgroup. Many of these students have shown the potential to make gains in the past, but seem to have reached a plateau in their English language acquisition. The school offers a range of intervention services including the following:

- After school tutoring in Math, Social Studies, Science, and ELA along with native language support, which is Spanish in our school.
- Professional development on ELL strategies for content area teachers
- Inquiry teams examining the progress of ELLs
- Use of technology in instruction

9. ELLs who have scored proficient on the NYSESLAT test are still entitled to extended time on standardized tests. They are also entitled to bilingual glossaries and have the option of taking Regents Exams in their native language. They are informed of their entitlement to these provisions and so are all other teachers and staff who are involved in test administration.

10. ELLs are entitled to extended service to develop literacy skills in all subject areas. They also need to develop higher order thinking skills through sorting, analyzing, and synthesizing reading passages. An after school program specifically for ELLs has been proposed. This program would provide tutoring, combined with activities geared toward boosting student engagement and stimulating intellectual curiosity. The ESL teacher plans to take students on at least two field trips during the course of the school year.

11. We will not be discontinuing any aspect of the ESL program.

12. ELLs are encouraged to join school dance and drama clubs and to participate in school activities offered to all the students. All ELLs have access to auditions for the dance team and drama club. All auditions are announced on the school bulletin board. They can also join a proposed guitar club or a community service club (run by the ESL teacher and a guidance counselor).

13. The ESL teacher uses PowerPoint and a SMART board during lesson deliver. When combined with an LCD projector, this program facilitates the use of audio/visual aids for every lesson. Many other content area teachers use the same system. Students often use computers to type essays for ESL and their other content area classes. The school's newly refurbished "technology center" has 19 computers that are available for student use daily.

14. Students are provided a maximum amount of native language support. Newcomers who are at the preproduction stage of English language acquisition are paired with strong students who are also bilingual. This has proven to be a mutually beneficial arrangement. Additionally, Spanish-English dictionaries and glossaries are provided to the students. Students are taught how to use these dictionaries.

15. Required services support ELLs' ages and grade levels because push-in ESL is done in content area classes (i.e. Global History, Math, and Science) assigned to ELLs based on their levels and ages.

16. Last year we had a freshman orientation for incoming 9th graders. This year we had a picnic for parents and 9th grade students. We also had an assembly orientation for incoming 9th grade students. This year we do not have newly enrolled ELL students.

17. Spanish is the only language class offered at our school.

C. Schools with Dual Language Programs

1. How much time (%) is the target language used for EPs and ELLs in each grade?
2. How much of the instructional day are EPs and ELLs integrated? What content areas are taught separately?
3. How is language separated for instruction (i.e. subject, teacher, theme)?

D. Professional Development and Support for School Staff

1. Describe the professional development plan for all ELL personnel at the school. (Please include all teachers of ELLs.)
2. What support do you provide staff to assist ELLs as they transition from elementary to middle and/or middle to high school?
3. Describe the minimum 7.5 hours of ELL training for all staff (including non-ELL teachers) as per Jose P.

1. Professional development is ongoing for all ELL personnel, including APs, subject area teachers, secretaries, and the parent coordinator. The ESL teacher and content area teachers attend training offered through NYCDOE, BETAC, and QTEL Institutes. School staff regularly discusses students' progress during Inquiry Team meetings every week. Staff development days are scheduled for November, January and November in 2011 and April in 2012. As part of the Children First network, our school receives support from an ELL specialist. This specialist regularly communicates and consults the ESL teacher. The ESL teacher and other content area teachers have had scheduled visits and observations from the ESL specialist from AUSSIE two days a week throughout the 2011-2012 school year. These observations include a post-observation, debriefing, and written summary of recommendations. The ESL teacher attended one professional development session offered by BETAC at Fordham University.

2. The ESL teacher meets regularly with other teachers to discuss ways of addressing the needs of incoming ELLs. She also facilitates testing accommodations, stages of second language acquisition, and analysis of ELL data. She participates in various schools' inquiry teams to support content area teachers' instruction of ELLs. Our school administration and guidance counselor provide information regarding upcoming ESL issues and support to the ESL teacher.

3. The ESL teacher and content area teachers will attend professional development sessions offered by NYCDOE, BETAC, and QTEL Institutes.. Content area teachers will attend the ELL academy staff development programs organized by the school administration and ESL teacher. The school secretary maintains documentation regarding staff's training in the school file as per Jose P.

E. Parental Involvement

1. Describe parent involvement in your school, including parents of ELLs.
2. Does the school partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents?
3. How do you evaluate the needs of the parents?
4. How do your parental involvement activities address the needs of the parents?

1. The ESL teacher regularly communicates with parents. If a child is absent from school for two or more days, the ESL teacher and parent coordinators calls the house to speak with the parent. Parents are also invited to participate in school trips and parent orientation. Written invitations to attend the orientation sessions are sent to each parent. To comply with Chancellor's Regulation A-663, the school ensures that all parents are provided with appropriate and sufficient information in a language they can understand, which is Spanish in our school.

2. Our school does not currently partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents.

3. Our school evaluates the ongoing needs of ELL parents by maintaining regular communication with them. The parent coordinator keeps monitoring students' and parents' needs and informs school staff and the ESL teacher. Their needs are addressed as they arise by providing translation and interpretation service. Periodic meetings with parents are held to address the needs of students and parents of ELLs.

4. The needs of parents are considered to be very important to us. Parents are encouraged to communicate their concerns during meetings and informal phone conversations.

Strong bonds between parents and school staff will help students stay on track to graduate. In order to build on those relationships, we will offer two workshop sessions for parents/guardians and families of ELLs on two Saturday mornings beginning in February, 2012. Metro cards and refreshments and snacks will be given to parents who attend; this will be purchased with Title III funds. The first workshop will be led by the Parent Coordinator, a Guidance Counselor and the ESL teacher. The second workshop will be led by the ESL teacher alone. Parents will be notified of these workshops by letter.

B. After reviewing and analyzing the assessment data, answer the following

- Describe what assessment tool your school uses to assess the early literacy skills of your ELLs (e.g., ECLAS-2, EL SOL, Fountas and Pinnell, DRA, TCRWP). What insights do the data provide about your ELLs? How can this information help inform your school's instructional plan? Please provide any quantitative data available to support your response.
- What is revealed by the data patterns across proficiency levels (on the LAB-R and NYSESLAT) and grades?
- How will patterns across NYSESLAT modalities—reading/writing and listening/speaking—affect instructional decisions?
- For each program, answer the following:
 - Examine student results. What are the patterns across proficiencies and grades? How are ELLs faring in tests taken in English as compared to the native language?
 - Describe how the school leadership and teachers are using the results of the ELL Periodic Assessments.
 - What is the school learning about ELLs from the Periodic Assessments? How is the Native Language used?
- For dual language programs, answer the following:
 - How are the English Proficient students (EPs) assessed in the second (target) language?
 - What is the level of language proficiency in the second (target) language for EPs?
 - How are EPs performing on State and City Assessments?
- Describe how you evaluate the success of your programs for ELLs.

1. N/A

2. The data patterns across proficiency levels reveal that our ELLs represent a wide range of proficiency levels. While some of our ELLs have been able to make significant gains in test scores others have not shown considerable improvement.

3. The breakdown of NYSESLAT test scores into the four modalities allows for careful planning according to individual student needs. An analysis of the 2011 NYSESLAT results revealed that most of our students scored at the intermediate level while the newcomers scored at the beginning level. Students that scored high on the listening and speaking sections of the NYSESLAT do not always score high on the reading and writing sections. Understanding how students perform across the four modalities helps us to plan lessons accordingly.

4. a. Typically, ELLs perform higher on the listening and speaking part of the test than the reading and writing. An analysis of the 2010-2011 NYSESLAT results revealed that more tenth graders performed at the beginning level while the eleventh and twelfth graders performed at the intermediate and advanced levels. Most of the tenth graders who scored at advanced levels came from junior high schools and have been in the country for some time. It is clear that the majority of the tenth graders that are at the beginning level did poorly in listening and speaking mostly due to the fact that they are new to the country and some are actually SIFE. Therefore, the instructional planning will focus more on developing the listening and speaking skills at the beginning levels, whereas the intermediate and advanced levels instruction will focus on reading and writing. Students who score high on the NYSESLAT also tend to pass or come close to passing Regents Exams.

b. The ELL Periodic Assessments are an important source of data which drive instruction. The results of this test are a good indicator of how students are likely to perform on upcoming State tests. The Periodic Assessment results can be analyzed to understand which skills students have mastered and which skills they have not yet mastered. Students that scored high on the listening and speaking sections of the NYSESLAT do not always score high on the reading and writing sections. Therefore, the main focus of our curriculum and instruction will continue to be focused reading fluency and independent writing about informational texts across proficiency levels. The ESL teacher accesses Periodic Assessment data, analyzes it, and communicates relevant information to content area teachers of ELLs and school administration.

c. The school uses the Periodic Assessment to learn about the level of mastery that individual ELLs have already mastered and which skills they have not yet mastered.

5. N/A

6. The success of our ESL program can be determined by annual NYSESLAT scores along with the formative and summative assessment. The number of students scoring proficiently on the NYSESLAT is a good indicator of the overall effectiveness of our ESL program. When evaluating the effectiveness of our ESL program, we also consider the number of students who have shown improvement in NYSESLAT test scores from one year to the next (i.e. the number of students who have increased their proficiency levels from Beginner to Advanced). Another insightful evaluation of our ELL program involves counting the number of ELLs who pass the Regents Exams and the number of ELLs who are able to graduate within 4 years. All of these sources of data provide meaningful indications of the progress of our ELLs and what we can do to support their academic needs.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2011-2012

CEP Appendix 7

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 12X262 School Name: Performance Conservatory High School

Cluster: 06 Network: 610

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

To comply with Chancellor's Regulation A-663, the school ensures that all parents are provided with appropriate and sufficient information in a language they can understand, which is Spanish in our school. The school conducts a home language survey and interviews with students and their families in order to determine translation and interpretation services that may be required. To assess our school's written translation and oral interpretation needs, the school consults several ATS Reports that help to determine the translation and oral interpretation needs of parents in our school. The ESL teacher regularly references student IEPs, transcripts, and records which are easily accessible on ARIS. All of this data, combined with more information from the school community provide insights to teachers regarding what information needs to be given to parents in due course.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

The major findings of our school's written translation and oral interpretation needs are as follows: extracurricular activities, study skills and homework guide book, understanding ESL learning standards along with the Common Core Learning Standards, college and career readiness family guidebook, parent handbook, required vaccines, assistance for NYSESLAT success, a calendar with agenda, and parent engagement activities. Spanish is the only language spoken by ELLs and their parents at our school. The school sent out twenty-six Continued Entitlement letters written in Spanish. Four students were entitled to Non Entitlement/Transition letters. Two Entitlement/Transition letters written in English have been sent out. One student transferred to another school and the other graduated this year. The findings were reported to the school community during regular conferences with the pedagogues, support personnel, and school administration. The reports can be distributed at PTA meetings, through school newsletters or posted announcements in the general office, in the Parental involvement section of the school's LAP, and in the CEP. Translation and interpretation services are provided to parents as needed.

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Written translation services will be provided by in-house school staff or parent volunteers. Writing samples will be reviewed by other entities for literacy level in the languages needed. Our school evaluates the ongoing needs of ELL parents by maintaining regular communication with them and the school community. Parents are also invited to participate in school trips and parent orientation. Their needs are addressed as they arise.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Oral interpretation services will be provided by in-house school staff or parent volunteers. More than one person will substantiate the oral interpretation as pertinent. The ESL teacher regularly communicates with parents. If a child is absent from school for two or more days, the ESL teacher and parent coordinators calls the house to speak with the parent. The needs of parents are considered to be very important to us. Parents are encouraged to communicate their concerns during meetings and informal phone conversations. Their needs are addressed as they arise.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link: <http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

The school will abide by Section VII of Chancellor's Regulation A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services by referring to <http://schools.nyc.gov/Academics/ELL/FamilyResources/Parent+Information.htm> or getting assistance from translations@schools.nyc.gov. To ensure that all ELL parents complete important documents, such as the entitlement letter and the Parent Survey and Program Selection form, our school draws on these DOE resources.

2011-12 Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP): Appendix 8

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs

Directions: Title III supplemental services for ELLs must include all of the following three components:

- Direct instruction: activities must be used to support language development, English and native language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or other core academic areas.
 - The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need
 - These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ESL services required under CR Part 154.
 - Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs as well as reduced class-size, and/or push-in services.
 - Teachers providing the services must be certified bilingual education and/or ESL teachers.
- High quality professional development that is “of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers’ performance in classrooms.”
 - Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs.
 - These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo or contact your ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist.

LEP support programs will be formed with funds from Title III part A of NCLB to help our ELL students become more proficient in English and support for the Content Area Regents. These programs will be consistent with New York State ESL/ELA and Content Area standards. Additional direct instruction to students will be delivered in the form of an After School Tutoring Program for 15 LEP students in grades 10-12. Based on the NYSESLAT and Content Area Regents scores, we have analyzed our ELLs' need to prepare for the ELA, Math, Social Studies, Science and NYSESLAT state assessments. Our long term ELLs still need support to pass Content Area Regents or they will not meet graduation requirements with their cohort. The tutoring program will be aimed at building student engagement while supporting them in their core subject coursework and helping them to develop study habits that they will need to be successful on content areas Regents. The topics of study will address the particular needs of individual students who need additional support in classes where they do not receive ESL support. This after school program gives more personalized attention to students who need additional support in certain areas as well as the areas in which they have not passed Regents. The program will be particularly attentive to the needs of Newcomers, SIFE students, and long-term English Language Learners.

During this after school program, students will work in small groups, in pairs, or individually based on their needs. Title III funds will be used to purchase a DELL laptop and Rosetta Stone for beginning and intermediate students to work independently or in small groups. This program focuses on language development, phonics, and vocabulary building activities. More proficient students will tutor other students. There will also be small group tutoring and Regents preparation given for 10 days by content area teachers in Global Studies, US History, Geometry, and Living Environment. Newcomers and students on academic probation are required to attend. This program will run four days a week from 3:30pm – 5:30pm with the ESL teacher and support from content area teachers. Other activities such as board games and viewing films in English will build student engagement and foster stronger connections among the students and their peers.

The after school program will begin at 3:30pm and end at 5:30pm two days a week with the ESL teacher and a content area teacher for 10 days before the Content Area Regent. The duration of the program will be 40 school days from December to the beginning of June 2012. Teachers from various content areas will tutor participants during 10 days. Saturday school will start at 9:00 and end at 12:00 from January to April. The following material will be purchased with Title III funds:

Supplies and Materials

Part B: Direct Instruction Supplemental Program Information

Leveled independent reading books of various genres

Bilingual Books

NYSESLAT Test Prep student books

NYS Regents Test Prep student activity books for ELA, Math, Global Studies, and US History

Bilingual dictionaries

Supplies, combination notebooks, highlighters, and chart paper as supplemental materials. For beginner ELLs we will purchase the Rosetta Stone Levels 1-5 with the Audio Companion.

Dell Laptop Computer

Part C: Professional Development

Describe the school's professional development program for Title III Program teachers as well as other staff responsible for delivery of instruction and services to ELLs.

Professional Development

With the goal of building capacity among our teachers, the ESL teacher will draw from ELL-related Professional Development, including Q-TELL, in order to train staff on effective strategies for teaching ELLs across content areas during an after school staff meeting. The session will run two hours for teachers of ELLs. These teachers will be chosen based on the highest need areas for the largest number of ELLs. The topic of this in-house PD will focus on:

- Differentiating instruction for ELL students.
- Looking at ELL Data and ways we can help our students prepare for the NYSESLAT and Regents
- Current research related to ELLs and language acquisition
- Strategies that can be used in the classroom to address the needs of ELLs

This PD will build an awareness and sensitivity to the particular needs of our ELLs and initiate a dialogue among staff about most successful practices in teaching our ELL population.

ELL Inquiry Team - Teachers Sharing Best Practices

Part C: Professional Development

ELL inquiry team which consists of five teachers will meet twice a month for one hour after school from February until the end of May 2012. They will use this time to collaborate with other teachers of ELLs. They will look at

- student writing samples
- interim assessments
- ARIS data
- previous Regents
- NYSESLAT data.

These five teachers will include the ESL teacher and at least one content teacher from each grade level who represents one of the academic areas that need the most intervention: Math, ELA, and Global Studies. Participating teachers will analyze the data, identify the areas of need and create activities to address these needs. They will then share their findings and most successful practices with their grade level teams during grade level meetings and common planning times.

Part D: Parental Engagement Activities

Describe the parent engagement activities targeted toward parents of ELLs that will impact higher achievement for ELLs. NOTE: These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

- rationale
- schedule and duration
- topics to be covered
- name of provider
- how parents will be notified of these activities

Begin description here:

It is important to identify LEP students immediately, so that they can be programmed according to their needs. The parent or guardian of each newly admitted child must complete the Home Language Identification Survey, used to determine the language spoken at the child's home. Only a licensed pedagogue can conduct an interview to determine the home language of a child, and translation and interpretation must be offered when requested. If a parent responds that a language other than English is spoken to at least 3 questions in part 1 of the HLIS and 3 questions in part 2, Kyunghe Jeung, the ESL coordinator (a certified ESL teacher) conducts an oral interview with the child in English and in the native language in order to determine English fluency. She also calls the child's parent or guardian to determine the child's educational history. The resulting conversation can also help to identify SIFE students.

The school has structures in place to ensure that parents understand all three program choices. In order to inform parents of the three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, and Freestanding ESL), parents are called into the school for a meeting with the ESL teacher and a bilingual guidance counselor. Parents are explained the basics of the identification process for ELLs, shown the parent orientation video, and are told that our school only offers ESL. Any subsequent questions parents might have are directed to the ESL teacher. Parents then complete and sign the Parent Choice Form. The teacher provides parents with her contact information and encourages parents to communicate with her and a bilingual guidance counselor regularly.

Part D: Parental Engagement Activities

Strong bonds between parents and school staff will help students stay on track to graduate. In order to build on those relationships, we will offer two workshop sessions for parents/guardians and families of ELLs on two Saturday mornings beginning in February, 2012. Metro cards and refreshments and snacks will be given to parents who attend; this will be purchased with Title III funds. The first workshop will be led by the Parent Coordinator, a Guidance Counselor and the ESL teacher. The second workshop will be led by the ESL teacher alone. Parents will be notified of these workshops by letter. Parent workshops will cover the following topics:

- Session One: Adult English as a Second Language

Topic: Graduation Requirements:

This workshop will focus on strategies to preventing drop-out for students at risk, identifying immediate needs and goal setting. Participants will also explore learn how to find answers to questions they have about their child’s academic progress. They will learn strategies to support their child in areas where they are struggling academically.

- Session Two: Adult English as a Second Language

Topic: Finding Information on the Internet

This workshop will focus on building participants ability to find information using a computer.
