DIRECTIONS AND GUIDANCE FOR COMPLETING THE ANNUAL GOALS AND ACTION PLAN SECTION

The CEP goal-setting is done in collaboration with the school community to support student achievement and the implementation of school-wide goals as well as to document how your school is meeting Federal, State, and City regulations.

Below you will find guidance on documenting annual goals and action plans.

WHICH SCHOOLS NEED TO COMPLETE THIS?

All Reward, Recognition and In Good Standing schools should identify and submit annual goals and action plans in consultation with their School Leadership Team (SLT).

HOW DO CEP GOALS RELATE TO GOALS SET FOR THE PRINCIPAL PERFORMANCE REVIEW (PPR)?

CEP goals are generally intended to guide school-wide planning and development. CEP goals may be coordinated with goals set by the principal for the Principal Performance Review (PPR) if they are appropriate for use as school-wide goals.

HOW SHOULD A SCHOOL DEVELOP ITS GOALS AND ACTION PLANS?

- Your school should identify a minimum of three and a maximum of five annual goals.
- Goals should be aligned with the current citywide instructional expectations.
- Goals should be “SMART” - specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.
- Goal development should be based on an assessment of your school’s needs.
- Your school should use quantitative and/or qualitative data in providing the rationale for each goal. Cite sources that contributed to the rationale, such as the Progress Report, Quality Review, School Survey, NYS Accountability report (SQR, SCRA, or JIT), state and school assessment results, attendance records, inquiry team work, etc.
- Each goal and action plan requires your school to cite the strategies and activities in your Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) that will be implemented to achieve the goal identified. The PIP template is provided on pages 11 through 15. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school’s goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. You may use or amend relevant sections of your PIP directly to respond to the parental involvement section of each goal and action plan.

ANNUAL GOAL #1 AND ACTION PLAN

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #1

By June 2013, general education students and special needs students will demonstrate progress towards achieving state standards as measured by 88% of students meeting or exceeding promotion criterion in the content area of English Language Arts.

Comprehensive needs assessment

- Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students, in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

Analysis of data from standardized tests and data extracted from our school Progress Report, for general education students, ELL students, and special needs students indicates the following: In the area of reading, results reveal that 48.3% of our students in grades 3, 4 and 5 are performing on or above grade level, and 62.5% of our students made at least 1 year of progress. The results of the Literacy Performance Tasks show a need for targeted focus on literacy and rigorous instruction. However, this is not sufficient growth in order to meet the demands of CCSS and new testing requirements.

Instructional strategies/activities

- Describe the research-based instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve this goal. Include descriptions of the following in your response:
 - a) strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified student subgroups,
 - b) key personnel and other resources used to implement these strategies/activities,
 - c) steps taken to include teachers in the decision-making regarding the use of academic assessments to evaluate the effectiveness of the strategies/activities,
 - d) timeline for implementation.

Activity #1 - Continued full implementation of Balanced Literacy. We will differentiate instruction based on student needs and data using an interactive workshop model, and aligned with the common core state standards.

- Target population- All students
- Staff and other resources – All staff
- Timeline for implementation – September, 2012 through June, 2013

Activity #2 – Creative schedules, using a 120 minute uninterrupted literacy block. This will provide the opportunity for small group differentiated data driven instruction, using push-in teachers.

- Target population – Holdover students, students performing in the lowest third, special needs subgroup, and English Language Learners
- Staff and other resources – Out of classroom Teachers, such as Cluster teachers and the Academic Intervention Service provider
- Timeline for implementation – September, 2012 through June, 2013

Activity #3 – Grade specific teacher data teams. These are grade specific, data driven teams (Cluster Teachers work with the grades they service). These teams work in 4-6 week cycles focusing on one goal per cycle. Each team works with flexible, small targeted populations in areas of high need. By using the data from assessments, the team plans Common Core Standard driven instruction. These teams' successful practices may be implemented grade-wide or school-wide.

- Target population- Small targeted populations in areas of high need.
- Staff and other resources – All staff
- Timeline for implementation – Weekly meetings September, 2012- June, 2013

Activity #4 – The Assessment Team. This team was created after a review of data to target students in grades K-5 that were not reading at grade level. These students were assessed using running records to determine their ability to read on grade level and identify deficiencies in fluency and comprehension.

- Target population- Students reading below grade level using Fountas and Pinnell running records.
- Staff and other resources – This team is comprised of administration, coaches, and teachers.
- Timeline for implementation – Meetings after each assessment September, 2012- June, 2013

Activity #5 – Ongoing differentiated professional development will be provided focusing on topics such as, but not limited to the following: using data to drive instruction and set goals, aligning curriculum to Common Core Standards, use of rubrics, academic rigor in performance tasks, Depth of Knowledge, and parental involvement.

- Target population- All staff
- Staff and other resources – Administration, Coaches, fellow colleagues, CFN210
- Timeline for implementation – September, 2012- June, 2013

Activity #6 – Parental Involvement activities focusing on ELA will be conducted. Specifically, ESL parent classes are provided five days per week, ELA workshops are given, focusing on how parents can best support their children in literacy. Parents are invited to participate in school-wide literacy events such as Books and Breakfast, etc.

- Target population- Parents
- Staff and other resources – All staff
- Timeline for implementation – September, 2012- June, 2013

Activity #7 – After school programs will be provided to targeted students to provide additional test preparation strategies and skills.

- Target population- Selected students who have literacy skill deficiencies
- Staff and other resources – Teachers that apply.
- Timeline for implementation – November, 2012- April, 2013

Steps for including teachers in the decision-making process

- Teachers will meet in grade level and cross functional teams to review student data gathered from periodic assessments.
- Teachers establish short and long term goals using multiple data points.
- Students establish short and long term goals using multiple data points.
- Teachers create their curriculum maps and design rigorous literacy performance tasks.

All decision making teams include teachers as an active contributing member and participant.

Strategies to increase parental involvement

- All schools should cite strategies to increase parent involvement that aligned to the goal when applicable. Title I schools should reference these activities in your school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP). The PIP template is provided on pages 11 through 15 in this CEP.

Here at PS 290, ongoing efforts are employed to increase parental involvement by working with the PTA and our parent coordinator. We offer workshops and programs to not only keep parents informed, but to engage families in instructional programs that would help them best support their children. The strategies and activities implemented to achieve this specific goal are ongoing meetings held by the P.T.A., the Parent Coordinator, Administrators, Coaches, The School Leadership Team, Teachers, and Outside Organizations. Topics for these meetings that address this goal are the following: ELA instruction and methodologies, ELA test formats and expectations, Common Core Standards, Books and Breakfast, Parent Partnership Program, and ESL classes offered five days per week (mornings and evenings). Additional strategies and activities include monthly parent calendars and newsletters. We also have a daily outreach automated system that contacts parents via phone. Parent-teacher conferences are held periodically throughout the year to maintain a partnership and to discuss updates on their child's progress in English language arts. The school distributes a parent handbook that is translated in all the dominant languages. Parents will be trained on how to use ARIS Parent Link.

Budget and resources alignment

- Indicate your school's Title I status: School Wide Program (SWP) Targeted Assistance Program (TAP) Non-Title I
- Select the fund source(s) that your school is using to support the instructional goal.
 X Tax Levy X Title I Title IIA X Title III Grants X Other

If other is selected describe here:

As a Title I School-wide Program school, Conceptual consolidation will allow us to combine Federal and local funds such as Fair Student Funding (Tax Levy), Title I Funds, Title III, IDEA funds, NYSTL allocations, and human resources to implement this action plan from September, 2012 – June, 2013 as indicated below:

- Professional Instructional materials to support curriculum development during the regular school day and during after school.
- Consumable instructional materials for use during extended day programs.
- Supervisor and Teacher per session (2 days per week) for after school programs.
- Workshop and Professional development materials for parents and staff
- Professional personnel (administrator, staff, special needs providers, etc.) to carry out the goals

Service and program coordination

- Describe how you will coordinate fiscal and human resources with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal, referencing specific FY'13 PS and OTPS budget categories selected above that will support the coordination and integration of Federal, State and local services, including programs supported under NCLB (i.e., services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH) violence prevention programs, nutrition programs, housing programs, Head Start). Various Federal, State and local services, including programs supported under NCLB, being coordinated with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal include but are not limited to the following:

Strategies to increase parental involvement

- All schools should cite strategies to increase parent involvement that aligned to the goal when applicable. Title I schools should reference these activities in your school’s Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP). The PIP template is provided on pages 11 through 15 in this CEP.

We offer workshops and programs to not only keep parents informed, but to engage families in instructional programs that would help them best support their children as it pertains to technology. The strategies and activities implemented to achieve this specific goal are ongoing meetings held by the staff. Parents will be trained on how to use ARIS Parent Link. Utilizing ARIS provides information and tools for parents to best support their children in ELA and math instruction and methodologies. Parents are also informed of how to use the DOE website for information regarding ELA and Math test formats and expectations, Common Core Standards, City-wide Calendars, etc. We also have a daily outreach automated system that contacts parents via phone.

Budget and resources alignment

- Indicate your school’s Title I status: School Wide Program (SWP) Targeted Assistance Program(TAP) Non-Title I

- Select the fund source(s) that your school is using to support the instructional goal.

 X Tax Levy X Title I _____ Title IIA _____ Title III _____ Grants X Other

If other is selected describe here:

As a Title I School-wide Program school, Conceptual consolidation will allow us to combine Federal and local funds such as Fair Student Funding (Tax Levy), Title I Funds, Title III, IDEA funds, NYSTL allocations, and human resources to implement this action plan from September, 2012 – June, 2012 as indicated below:

- Hardware to support curriculum development during the regular school day, extended day, and during after school.
- Software instructional materials for use during the school day, extended day, and after school programs.
- Workshop and Professional development materials for parents and staff
- Professional personnel (technology teachers, administrator, staff, special needs providers, etc.) to carry out the goals

Service and program coordination

- Describe how you will coordinate fiscal and human resources with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal, referencing specific FY'13 PS and OTPS budget categories selected above that will support the coordination and integration of Federal, State and local services, including programs supported under NCLB (i.e., services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH) violence prevention programs, nutrition programs, housing programs, Head Start). Various Federal, State and local services, including programs supported under NCLB, being coordinated with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal include but are not limited to the following:
 - ESL program from the Office of Adult and Continuing Education - coordinates with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal by providing parents and students with the opportunity to learn English as a second language. The instructors utilize technology such as the SMARTboard, and computers to provide parents with the language tools and skills to support their children and gain a better understanding of the State exams.
 - Partnerships with local community based organizations such as the local library- coordinates with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal by offering technology resources, promoting literacy and fostering a love for reading. This program coordinates with this goal by encouraging progression towards college readiness, developing intrinsic motivation, improving writing skills, and reading skills.
 - Learning Leaders- coordinates with the instructional strategies/activities to achieve this goal by encouraging parental involvement and by allowing parents to play an active role in school activities that utilize technology.

HIGHLY QUALIFIED TEACHERS (HQT)

Teaching candidates are hired centrally by the NYCDOE. As described in the NYCDOE Consolidated Application, this process ensures that all NYCDOE teachers meet State eligibility requirements. Schools, in turn, ensure that teachers are HQT, as defined by NCLB

Describe the strategies and activities including strategies for recruitment, retention, assignments and support including High Quality professional development that ensures staff is highly qualified.

Principals in collaboration with Department of Education Liaisons work with the Division of Human Resources to identify qualified literacy teachers through major recruitment fairs and through relationships with Colleges and Universities. The pupil personnel secretary works closely the network HR point person to ensure that non-HQT meet all required documentation and assessment deadlines. To attract highly qualified candidates to teach at PS 290, we invite them to visit the school and meet with current staff and administrators. Current staff share insights about the school and 'advertise' the positive aspects of working at and continuing to grow professionally at our school. Candidates are informed that provisions are made for a great deal of differentiated professional development. The prominence of clear expectations regarding teacher and student performance, as well as opportunities to actively contribute to their own professional growth and evaluation via the Teacher Performance Review process are other strategies which help us to attract highly qualified teachers. Principals in collaboration with Department of Education Liaisons work with the Division of Human Resources to identify qualified teachers through major recruitment fairs and through relationships with Colleges and Universities.

To maintain highly qualified math teachers at PS 290, teachers are supported as they enhance their content knowledge and pedagogical skills. They fine tune their instructional skills and strengthen their professional practice through ongoing professional development via faculty conferences, study groups, Network offerings, professional development days, with the assistance of administrators, coaches, a mentor, and fellow colleagues. Mentors are assigned to support new and struggling teachers. P.S. 290 continues to target and assess pedagogical needs, and plan differentiated high quality professional development accordingly. All professional development is evaluated to determine its effectiveness in promoting high-quality instruction leading to improved student results. As highly qualified teachers participate in our professional community, we build capacity and improve in our expertise. Intentional reflection on the impact of instruction are the cornerstones of our efforts to ensure that all students receive instruction by highly qualified teachers.

DIRECTIONS AND GUIDANCE FOR DEVELOPING OR UPDATING THE PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP) (A REQUIREMENT FOR TITLE I SCHOOLS ONLY)

The template below meets the parental involvement requirements of Title I. Your school is encouraged to use the template below to update your school's current policy or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. The activities and/or strategies included in your school's policy should align with current CEP goals for improving student achievement.

The PIP should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent involvement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact is a component of the PIP that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility. Schools are encouraged to include feedback from the Parent Coordinator when updating the policy. In addition, if your school community will be engaged this year in central parent involvement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in your policy.

P.S. 290 PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY (PIP)

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental involvement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent involvement program that will ensure effective involvement of parents and community in our school. Therefore, our school, in compliance with the Section 1118 of Title I, Part A of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, is responsible for creating and implementing a parent involvement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between our school and the families. Our school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association, and Title I Parent Committee as trained volunteers and welcomed members of our school community. Our school will support parents and families of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training, such as the Parent Partnership Program, needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;

Our school's Parent Involvement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of English Language Learners and students with disabilities. Our school community will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent involvement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of our school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents, and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent Involvement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent Involvement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend our school and will work to ensure that our school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;
- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., NCLB/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, Progress Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting on or before December 1st of each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent involvement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1118 and other applicable sections under the No Child Left Behind Act;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed;

SUBMISSION FORM

DIRECTIONS: This submission form assists schools with gathering and organizing the quantitative and qualitative information necessary for a well-conceived school-based language allocation policy (LAP) that describes quality ELL programs. This LAP form, an appendix of the CEP, also incorporates information required for CR Part 154 funding so that a separate submission is no longer required. Agendas and minutes of LAP meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school. Also, when preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the green spaces. Spell-check has been disabled in this file, so consider typing responses to these questions in a separate file before copying them into the submission form. Part II: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of those students who may possibly be ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. Also describe the steps taken to annually evaluate ELLs using the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT).
2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.
3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned? (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [see tool kit].)
4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.
5. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.)
6. Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway.

1. The steps for the initial identification of those students who may possibly be ELLs are as follows:

During enrollment, Ms. Cheng and Mr. Blum, the two licensed ESL pedagogues, conduct informal oral interviews during the initial screening to determine the child's home language for the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS). Ms. Cheng conducts the interviews in English and Spanish or Mandarin Chinese when necessary. Mr. Blum conducts the interviews in English and Spanish. The HLIS informs the ESL pedagogues of students that need to take the Language Assessment Battery-Revised (LAB-R), a test that determines students' English proficiency level and whether or not they are eligible for ELL state-mandated services. If the child's home language is a language other than English, he or she is given the LAB-R formal initial assessment by one of the two ESL pedagogues within the first 10 school days. If the HLIS indicated that the child's home language is Spanish, he or she is also given the Spanish LAB-R.

In order to annually evaluate ELLs using the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), Mrs. Skop-Rodriguez, the testing coordinator, and Ms. Cheng and Mr. Blum, the two ESL teachers, meet to identify all students required to take the exam and to outline the procedures that must be adhered to for administration of it. They refer to the RLAT and the RLER reports in ATS to determine NYSESLAT eligibility. Students take the NYSESLAT in the spring and their scores determine future eligibility for ELL services. Mrs. Skop-Rodriguez schedules the testing dates for each of the four components (i.e., Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing) of the NYSESLAT. Ms. Cheng and Mr. Blum administer the Speaking component of the test individually for all ELLs. ESL and Bilingual classroom teachers administer the Listening, Reading, and Writing components of the test on the scheduled dates. Mrs. Skop-Rodriguez and the ESL teachers keep track of any students that were absent for any part of the test. Make-ups are given by Ms. Cheng and Mr. Blum.

2. Parents of ELLs, as determined by the LAB-R, are sent a translated letter informing them of their child's eligibility for ELL services. They are also given a group orientation in September by Ms. Cheng and Mr. Blum so that they can make an informed decision about their child's placement. The orientation entails an explanation of the three program choices: Transitional Bilingual Education, Dual Language, and English as a Second Language as relayed by the two licensed ESL pedagogues, a translated video, a translated Parent Brochure from the EPIC ELL Parent Information Case, and a question-and-answer session. Mrs. Roldan, the parent coordinator, is available for Spanish-English translations, as needed. The Translation and Interpretation Unit is employed for all other translations. Parents then complete the Program Selection form and the Parent Survey in their native language; the ESL pedagogues collect them, and place the students according to parents' preferences. If parents request a program not offered at our school (e.g., Dual Language), they are given information about neighboring schools that offer their choice. As newly admitted ELLs are registered at the school, translated entitlement letters, orientations, Program Selection forms, and Parent Survey forms are given to individual newcomer parents within the first ten days.

3. Translated entitlement letters are sent home with the newly enrolled ELLs. Translated Parent Surveys and Program Selection forms are distributed to parents during orientations and collected by Ms. Cheng and Mr. Blum, the two licensed ESL pedagogues. These forms are sent home with students whose parents did not attend orientation. The ESL pedagogues contact parents to try to obtain all completed forms. In the rare occasion that a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education Education as per CR Part 154. All forms are kept in a compliance binder with the ESL coordinator.

4. After students have been identified as ELLs according to the LAB-R, the ESL pedagogues communicate with parents about their child’s English proficiency level through translated letters, phone calls, and/or group/individual orientations. As needed, the parent coordinator, ESL pedagogues, school pedagogues, and school aides are available on site for translations. If these resources are not able to provide translation, then the school enlists The Translation and Interpretation Unit for on-site or document translations. Identified ELLs are placed in either the Transitional Bilingual Education Program or the ESL program based on parent preferences in the Program Selection forms. Placement and continued entitlement letters are distributed and sent home. Copies of these placement letters and continued entitlement letters are maintained in an ESL compliance folder.

5. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the last few years, we have noticed that parents of ELLs in the lower grades, i.e. Kindergarten through 2nd grade, prefer to place children in the Transitional Bilingual Education Program. However, as students move into grades 3, 4, and 5, parents of ELLs request monolingual settings with ESL services. These forms are completed in the parents’ home language and placed in a compliance binder with the ESL coordinator as well as in the students’ cumulative files.

For the school year 2011-2012, 55 out of 134 parents have requested Bilingual programs and 79 out of 134 parents have requested ESL Programs, as indicated in the parent notification letters of Continuation of Entitlement, i.e., the parents of students in Bilingual classes predominately want them to continue in the program, and those in ESL, want them to continue receiving ESL. The programs at our school are aligned with the parents’ requests.

6. The program models offered by the school are invariably aligned with parent requests. In rare cases in which the school cannot accommodate their requests, i.e., dual language program and second grade bilingual, parents are informed of other schools in the area that offer these programs.

Part IV: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered?
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., Departmentalized, Push-In [Co-Teaching], Pull-Out, Collaborative, Self-Contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., Block [Class travels together as a group]; Ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class]; Heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels]; Homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?
2. How does the organization of your staff ensure that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, ESL)?
 - a. How are explicit ESL, ELA, and NLA instructional minutes delivered in each program model as per CR Part 154 (see table below)?
3. Describe how the content areas are delivered in each program model. Please specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods used to make content comprehensible to enrich language development.
4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages?
5. How do you differentiate instruction for ELL subgroups?
 - a. Describe your instructional plan for SIFE.
 - b. Describe your plan for ELLs in US schools less than three years (newcomers). Additionally, because NCLB now requires ELA testing for ELLs after one year, specify your instructional plan for these ELLs.
 - c. Describe your plan for ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years.
 - d. Describe your plan for long-term ELLs (completed 6 years).
6. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials do teachers of ELL-SWDs use that both provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development?
7. How does your school use curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to meet the diverse needs of ELL-SWDs within the least restrictive environment?

1. Instruction is delivered through the Transitional Bilingual Education model and the Push-in/Pull-out model.

a. All Transitional Bilingual Education classes are self-contained with content area and Native Language Arts instruction delivered on a sliding scale in both native and English language, i.e. first year students receive 60% of instruction in their native language and 40% in English, and receive less native language support as their English proficiency improves. ESL students are also self-contained for grades K-5 with ESL language and content instruction through the Push-in/Pull-out model. Push-in involves teaching in whole class, co-teaching, and small group capacities as per curriculum design and student need as developed between the ESL and classroom teacher. Pull-out involves the facilitation of English language acquisition for students with higher needs, i.e. newcomers and at-risk students through small group instruction. Instruction is given in English, however, translation, if possible, may be utilized to clarify concepts.

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

b. Program models in each grade are heterogeneous for the classroom as a whole, e.g. a newcomer student may be in the same class as an advanced ELL. When pushing in/pulling out for small group instruction, however, students are grouped fairly homogeneously to foster solidarity and unify objectives. Some Pull-out groups may be heterogeneously mixed by grade level if they have similar needs, e.g. fourth and fifth grade newcomers may be grouped together.

2. The organization of our staff ensures that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model by holding ESL teacher and classroom teacher scheduling meetings in the beginning of the year.

a. As per CR Part 154, all ELLs in both TBE and ESL programs receive ESL instruction. ELLs at the beginner and intermediate level of English proficiency receive 360 instructional minutes in ESL per week and students at the advanced level of English proficiency receive 180 instructional minutes in ESL per week. Only advanced ELLs in both programs receive ELA instruction, i.e. 180 minutes of ELA instruction per week. Only students in the TBE model receive Native Language Arts instruction daily. Beginning ELLs receive 60 – 90 minutes of NLA per day, intermediate ELLs receive 45 – 60 minutes, and advanced ELLs receive 45 minutes.

3. Student's native language skills are being used for instructional purposes in the following way: Native Language Arts is aligned with the State's Standards and is given daily in the TBE model. As stated earlier, content for ESL classes is delivered strictly in English unless clarification is required and can be given in a child's native language. In the TBE model, content area instruction (e.g., Science, Math, Social Studies) is given in the native language. Native language instruction, as research data indicates, supports, and facilitates second language acquisition. ESL methodologies, student's home language, visuals, manipulatives, media, cooperative learning strategies, scaffolding, graphic organizers, cloze activities, turn-and-talk, think-pair-share, popcorn, reader's theater, buddy reading, choral reading, questioning, predicting, making inferences, brainstorming, listening activities, and Total Physical Response are used as a support when needed to clarify concepts, make content comprehensible, and to enrich language development. Language instruction is clearly aligned to ESL, ELA, and NLA standards. Our Transitional Bilingual Education program follows the mandates of CR Part 154 and is composed of self-contained bilingual classes from Kindergarten to fifth grade. Initially, we follow the 60/40 model that is 60% Spanish and 40% English. Gradually, the English language instruction increases as the student develops English fluency.

4. In order to evaluate ELLs in their native language, Bilingual classroom teachers use DIBELS, EL SOL, and Trophies thematic tests as diagnostic and formative assessments.

5. Instruction for ELL subgroups is differentiated according to NYSELAT score, grade level, informal and formal assessments. The classroom teachers and ESL teachers collaborate to further tailor instruction according to students' needs. Each group's instructional plan is differentiated as follows:

a. SIFE students get support through Academic Intervention Services and small group instruction. Push-in teachers provide additional services in the morning and throughout the day. One – to – one and peer tutoring is offered, and during Literacy and Math Block students are mainstreamed according to their performance level.

b. Newcomers receive differentiated instruction according to their English proficiency level. In addition, they are given daily instruction in a small group setting by the ESL teachers, and lessons are tailored towards skills needed to take the NYSESLAT exam. They also receive peer tutoring.

c. ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years are placed in a reduced size classroom. They receive support through Academic Intervention Services and one – to – one professional period tutoring by the classroom teacher and/or paraprofessional. They are also mainstreamed during the literacy and math block. Ms. Jacobi, the Academic Intervention Teacher, designs lessons to differentiate instruction during school, and meets with parents and teachers to discuss students' progress and next steps.

d. Long-term ELLs - N/A

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

e. Similar to ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years, ELLs identified as having special needs are either placed in a small classroom, in a Bilingual Special Needs setting or receive SETSS from the related service provider, Ms. Holguin. Service providers, classroom teachers, and ESL teachers collaborate on a regular basis in order to review IEP goals and tailor instruction accordingly. The ELLs in the Bilingual Special Needs setting receive support through Academic Intervention Services and one – to – one professional period tutoring by the classroom teacher, Ms. Baron and/or paraprofessional. They are also mainstreamed during the literacy and math block. Ms. Jacobi, the Academic Intervention Teacher, designs lessons to differentiate instruction during school, and meets with parents and teachers to discuss students’ progress and next steps.

6. Teachers of ELL-SWDs use the following instructional strategies and materials: SMART board, Brainpop videos and activities, wordprocessing to encourage writing, Voyager Passport (leveled by need), Wilson Program, picture cards, manipulatives, literacy packets facilitating guided reading, listening centers, Spotlight on English, graphic organizers, Elements of Reading vocabulary cards, collaborative learning, TPR, and songs. The Bilingual classroom teachers, related service providers, and psychologists review ELL-SWDs' IEPs to ensure that students are placed in a bilingual setting (if their IEP mandates bilingual instruction). If their IEP mandates a 12:1:1 setting, students are placed in a self-contained bilingual special education class. If their IEP does not mandate a 12:1:1 setting, students receive services from related service providers.

7. Our school differentiates instruction and curriculum as per students' needs. Meetings between ESL teachers, bilingual teachers, classroom teachers, and related services providers are coordinated to ensure ELL-SWDs receive mandated instruction within the least restrictive environment. Our school ensures that flexible programming is used to maximize time spent with non-disabled peers by creating blocks of instruction that are held during the day at the same time. Specifically, we have a 120-minute literacy block whereas the entire school does literacy at the same time. This programming creates the opportunity for mainstreaming students to spend time with non-disabled peers. On selected grades there are also math blocks to create mainstream opportunities. Through creative programming, we were able to have each grade have at least two common preps. This creates opportunity for schedules to be aligned and similar, so that time spent with non-disabled peer is maximized during other content areas and the Arts.

1. Monthly ESL teacher professional development are facilitated by the CFN network specialist. Teachers discuss current research, best practices, materials, NYS-ESL standards, Common Core standards, instructional strategies and alignment to core curriculum.

All staff members, including assistant principals, paraprofessionals, guidance counselor, psychologists, occupational/physical therapists, speech therapists, secretaries, and parent coordinator attend professional development which is coordinated by a Professional Development Team, that includes the Principal, Assistant Principals, UFT Chapter Leader, Staff Developer, Literacy Coach, Reading First Coach, Math Coach, Grade Leaders, and Teachers, who work together to combine ideas on effective planning for teachers, on different ways to assess learning, on developing curricula and instructional materials, and assessing teachers' needs for professional development. The team meets regularly to reflect and refine school-based practices and up-date the professional development plans. This team provides a two-tier approach to staff development. On one level, they work with staff to strengthen their knowledge base in literacy, mathematics and other content areas. The second level, implemented concurrently, focuses on effective practices in the delivery of instruction. Most professional development is delivered in the teacher's classroom. Particular emphasis is being placed on the reading programs. School based coaches, in literacy and in math, and support personnel from the Network will provide professional development. In-house component meetings focus on various aspects of instructional methods and strategies. Through feedback from observations, modeling and opportunities for inter-visitations, teachers' skills are refined. In addition, staff development for the State Standards and Common Core Standards for English Language Arts is provided during the school day as well as after school. Literacy, Math, Science, Social Studies, bilingual studies, and Technology instruction are supported by on-site staff members. Throughout the school year, there are ongoing share-sessions between the classroom teachers, cluster teachers, service providers and administrators.

Grade conferences, workshops, study groups, share sessions, and team meetings are held to help improve student achievement in English Language, Mathematics, and other Content Areas using ESL strategies to meet the New York State and the Common Core Performance standards.

Intensive professional development is provided for teachers in specialized strategies to meet the needs of special populations; and implementation of effective strategies for meeting the needs of the growing ELL population. Professional Development is differentiated by grade and teacher need. Professional Development is ongoing and based on both hard and soft data.

Sample topics addressed during professional development includes but is not limited to the following:

Literacy:

Balanced Literacy Program (Grades 4 & 5)

Reading First Program (Grades K, 1, 2, & 3)

Incorporation of the Arts through the Content Areas

ESL teachers attend meetings and turnkey best practices to all staff members including assistant principals, paraprofessionals, guidance counselors, psychologists, occupational/physical therapists, speech therapists, secretaries, and parent coordinators. Related service providers and monolingual, ESL, and Bilingual Teachers meet with coaches during Study Groups, Grade Conferences and Team Meetings to plan how to best meet our ELLs' needs.

2. Staff such as teachers, parent coordinators, etc., are supported by school leadership through various professional development opportunities. Monthly differentiated professional development calendars are disseminated and staff are encouraged to attend both on-site and off-site opportunities. Professional development for non-ELL pedagogues are created and delivered by ELL pedagogues in order to familiarize staff with the needs of the ELL population and offer strategies to help them transition from elementary to middle school. The Guidance Counselor receives off-site professional development to assist ELLs as they transition. Such activities may include, but not be limited to How To Fill Out Applications and Making Middle School Choices.

3. As per Jose P., staff development is on-going whereby all staff serving English Language Learners are informed about ESL methodologies and best teaching practices. Training is done by certified ESL teachers and the CFN Network. Specific activities include professional development on collaborative learning, differentiation strategies, how to read ELL data, how to support newcomers, and the identification and placement process for ELLs.

E. Parental Involvement

B. After reviewing and analyzing the assessment data, answer the following

- Describe what assessment tool your school uses to assess the early literacy skills of your ELLs (e.g., ECLAS-2, EL SOL, Fountas and Pinnell, DRA, TCRWP). What insights do the data provide about your ELLs? How can this information help inform your school's instructional plan? Please provide any quantitative data available to support your response.
- What is revealed by the data patterns across proficiency levels (on the LAB-R and NYSESLAT) and grades?
- How will patterns across NYSESLAT modalities—reading/writing and listening/speaking—affect instructional decisions?
- For each program, answer the following:
 - Examine student results. What are the patterns across proficiencies and grades? How are ELLs faring in tests taken in English as compared to the native language?
 - Describe how the school leadership and teachers are using the results of the ELL Periodic Assessments.
 - What is the school learning about ELLs from the Periodic Assessments? How is the Native Language used?
- For dual language programs, answer the following:
 - How are the English Proficient students (EPs) assessed in the second (target) language?
 - What is the level of language proficiency in the second (target) language for EPs?
 - How are EPs performing on State and City Assessments?
- Describe how you evaluate the success of your programs for ELLs.

- Some of the assessment tools our school uses to assess the early literacy skills of our ELLs are as follows:

IDEL = DIBELS

Dynamic Indicators of Basic Early Literacy Skills (DIBELS) are a series of short tests given to children in kindergarten through third grade to screen and monitor their progress in learning the necessary skills to become successful readers. ALL DIBELS measures are timed with most taking only one minute. DIBELS activities are administered individually, measure progress, and provides insight in Initial Sounds, Phoneme Segmentation, Nonsense Words, and Oral Reading Fluency. Implications from this data are used in tailoring early literacy skills instruction.

ELSOL = ECLAS2

The Early Childhood Literary Assessment System (ECLAS-2) is an assessment designed to help teachers determine the progress in literacy development in children from grades K-3. ECLAS-2 is administered in the fall and spring. The Kit activities include individually administered and group administered activities designed to measure each child's progress and provides insights in Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Reading and Oral Expression, and Listening and Writing. Implications from this data are used in tailoring early literacy skills instruction.

LAB-R

The Language Assessment Battery-Revised (LAB-R), is a test that provides insight into students' English proficiency level. Those children that score at or below proficiency on the LAB-R become eligible for state-mandated services for ELLs.

The LAB-R has five levels: K-1, 2-3, 4-5, 6-8, and 9-12.

Level I includes subtests of Listening/Speaking, and Reading. At the remaining levels, the test includes Listening, Reading, Writing, and Speaking. Our school only administers up to level III as we only house up to grade five students. The LAB-R is both a group and individually administered test, depending on the subtest and level. Speaking is individually administered for all levels and all subtests in Levels I, II, and III are administered individually. Subtests for all levels are derived from NYS and ESL learning standards.

The Reading subtest asks students to answer questions about stories printed in their test books. The Writing subtest asks students to write and perform writing exercises in response to questions and stimuli in their test books. The Listening subtest asks students to select the correct response to a picture and/or dictated word or statement. The Speaking subtest asks students to respond to a dictated word or statement which sometimes refers to a picture.

The number of items varies by level. Implications from this data are used in tailoring early literacy skills instruction.

The NYSESLAT assessments reflect the New York State Learning Standards for English as a Second Language.

The language modalities assessed at each grade level, include:

- Listening
- Reading
- Speaking
- Writing

Listening

For grades K-4, the students answer questions based on pictures and photographs. Students are also asked to choose pictorial answers in response to brief oral questions as well as short stories. This is delivered by the instructor for grades K-1 and presented in a prerecorded tape for grades 2-4. The short stories, poems, and rhymes are said twice. For grades 5-12, the Listening assessments present four types of listening activities on a prerecorded tape.

The short and extended conversations are stated twice.

- In the first, students look at photographs while they listen to four statements, only one of which accurately describes what the photograph shows. The statements are said only once.
- In the second, students listen for details in brief, everyday conversation.
- In the third, students answer questions based on what is said or implied in conversations about everyday topics.
- In the fourth, students respond to questions based on conversations about general and academic subjects.

Reading

The teacher reads a script to guide students through the K-1 reading assessment. Tasks range from identification of letters and sounds to choosing answers to questions about stories of a few sentences. Each reading assessment (Grades 2-12) contains reading passages with multiple-choice questions.

- The passages offer a range of content that includes everyday topics and language; examples of social communication; literature texts for children; texts based on maps, charts, schedules, and calendars; and other academic subject matter.
- The multiple-choice questions assess cognitive and analytical proficiencies stressed in the standards. The questions focus on main ideas, facts, inferences, vocabulary, sequences of events, interpretation of non-fiction and literary texts, and social communication.

Speaking

Students will demonstrate their command of spoken English for everyday and academic purposes.

- In grades K-4, some descriptive tasks are based on picture stimuli.
- In grades 5-12, students are asked to perform a variety of cognitive tasks, such as: narrating a brief story based on a picture sequence, making predictions based on given stimuli, explaining a situation based on personal experience, giving directions to describe a process, expressing an opinion and/or persuading an audience, and interpreting visual material such as a graph, chart, or diagram.

Writing

The K-1 writing assessment is designed to measure how well a student writes letters, words, and simple sentences in English. The assessment presents three kinds of tasks:

- writing single dictated words
- writing short dictated sentences
- writing a short description of a picture printed in the student's test book.

Each writing assessment (Grades 2-5) presents three exercises: prewriting, writing an essay or story; and editing. The students perform and are evaluated on different parts of "The Writing Process" as indicated in the New York State Learning Standards for English as a Second Language.

Upon analyzing the four modalities being tested (listening, speaking, reading, and writing), it was found that the speaking score was the highest. Listening was higher than reading and writing, but the writing score was marginally the lowest of all the modalities.

The data from the NYSESLAT provides insight and implications for the school's LAP and instruction. We must continue emphasizing the writing component using the 4-square organizational methodology along with other critical-thinking graphic organizers. This will continue to be fully implemented and integrated within the Writer's workshop to support students' growth in writing skills.

2. Data patterns indicate that students who enter in Kindergarten, as demonstrated by the LAB-R, are stronger in speaking and listening skills. The NYSESLAT indicates that speaking and listening skills are stronger than reading and writing skills across the grades. For grades K-2, writing is initially stronger than reading, but the reading scores show improvement as the grades get higher. The levels of proficiency improve through the years, from beginning – to intermediate – to advanced, with more advanced students in the upper grades, 4th and 5th. Students become stronger readers, however, their writing takes longer to develop.

3. Patterns across NYSESLAT modalities will affect instructional decisions by weaving the skills students lack into various lessons across all content areas throughout the year. Additionally, a tighter focus will be maintained on these skills during explicit NYSESLAT preparation.

4. a. Test results indicate that students perform better in Science than Math in the fourth grade. The majority of students are at a level III in Science and at a level II in Math. Patterns across grades 3, 4, and 5 indicate that more than half of the students consistently score at a level II in Math.

b. All teachers that interact with ELLs received a copy of all scores from all assessments as soon as they are available from the city or state. These teachers include any intervention staff. School leaders, ESL and Bilingual teachers, and classroom teachers meet to decide and plan an instructional program that best meets the needs of our ELLs. These instructional programs include classroom instruction, extended day, after school, push-in/pull out intervention, one-to-one tutoring, and other intervention services. School leaders also create after school programs to address areas of deficiency within the ELL population. As data becomes available, (i.e. interim assessment, practice exams, etc.) they are distributed to the administrative staff and ELL personnel and then the instruction is adjusted accordingly.

c. PS 290 takes a data-driven approach to improving ELL student performance, and has succeeded in using the results of the periodic assessment to differentiate instruction, which had resulted in the following trends: Trends show that over the years our reading scores have risen.

We have had the Everyday Math Program for the past nine years, and since its implementation we have seen substantial growth in our ELLs' math scores. Trends show that over the years our Math scores have risen. The students' native language is used in order to clarify concepts and interpret information when necessary.

5. N/A

6. Our school evaluates the success of our programs for ELLs by analyzing hard and soft data. Examples of these data include but are not limited to: NYSESLAT at the end of the school year, LAB-R within the first 10 days of entrance, ELA, one time per year. Instructionally Targeted Assessments (ITA)-three times per year, Predictive Assessments-two times per year, practice exams, ECLAS2/ELSOL, DIBELS, Scantron, Terra Nova, Harcourt Assessments, daily evaluations through classroom monitoring, and portfolios. Monthly evaluation of writing samples. Students will show progressive gains in all evaluative measures. A 3-5% increase of students will reach benchmark standards.

Ongoing informal assessment, Unit tests, Mid-year tests, Instructionally Targeted Assessments (ITA)-three times per year, Predictive Assessments-two times per year, with periodic gains of 3-5% in grade 4 and a 5-9% increase in grades 3 and 5.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2012-2013

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 19K290 School Name: Juan Morel Campos

Cluster: 2 Network: 210

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

During enrollment, the two licensed ESL pedagogues, conduct informal oral interviews in English and in the native language with parents to determine the home language. The Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) HLIS data informs the pedagogues in the school of our written translation and oral interpretation needs. Being that we hold ESL classes 5 days per week, the number of parents that attend are also data used to assess our translation needs. The data reveals that approximately 40% of our parents need written and oral translations. All parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand through translated materials such as newsletters and progress reports. With the assistance of the parent coordinator, ESL teachers, bilingual teachers, and bilingual school aides, parents are informed of all school activities, and oral translation services are readily available on-site.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

The major findings of our school's written translation and oral interpretation needs are that 40% of our parents need written and oral translations in Spanish. The other 60% need English. We have found that due to the fact that P.S. 290 has a large Hispanic population, there was a need to hire bilingual personnel so that someone is always available to translate in Spanish for both oral and written communication. The personnel hired for these translation services are the parent coordinator, ESL teachers, school aides, and the bilingual teachers.

Findings are reported to the school community in a variety of ways; faculty conferences, professional development share sessions, postings, PTA meetings, newsletters, report cards, Parent-Teacher conferences, and face-to-face contacts. The school community is also notified of the oral and written translation services available via meetings, newsletters, and postings.

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

At P.S 290 all written translation is done in-house by the parent coordinator, ESL teacher, and by parent volunteers from the PTA. All written communications are translated into Spanish and provided to the parents in addition to the English version. All translations are provided in a timely manner, usually accompanying the English version. If these resources are not able to provide translation, then the school enlists The Translation and Interpretation Unit for on-site or document translations.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

At P.S. 290 all oral interpretation services are done in-house by school staff such as, the parent coordinator, ESL teachers, bilingual school aides, bilingual teachers, and bilingual parent volunteers. Interpreters are provided whenever requested. If these resources are not able to provide translation, then the school enlists The Translation and Interpretation Unit for on-site translations.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link: <http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

In order to fulfill the Chancellor's Regulations A-663, all parents are asked to complete the Home Language Survey at registration, by a trained pedagogue (usually determined within 10 (ten) days of a student's enrollment, the primary language spoken by the parent. If that language is other than English, we determine whether the parent requires language assistance in order to communicate effectively with our school personnel. Our school maintains appropriate and current records of the primary language of each parent. Such information is maintained in ATS and on the student emergency card. The Home Language Surveys are updated yearly and the information is included in the ATS and on the blue emergency cards.

P.S. 290 provides translation services upon request and if a parent chooses they may use a relative or family member to assist them with translation. In addition written communications are also provided in Spanish, for which there is a need due to our high Hispanic population. P.S. 290 accommodates any translation needs by enlisting resource personnel, and or by utilizing the Translation and Interpretation Unit. Parent notices are sent in English and other languages informing parents of the availability of translation and interpretation services at P.S. 290. In, addition copies of such notifications are posted in a prominent location near the main entrance of the school. We provide parents whose primary language is not English with a translation of any document that contains individual, student-specific information regarding, but not limited to, a student's:

- a. health;
- b. safety;
- c. legal or disciplinary matters; and
- d. entitlement to public education or placement in any Special Education, English Language Learner or non-standard academic program.

Our school's safety plan contains procedures for ensuring that parents in need of language access services are not prevented from reaching the school's administrative offices solely due to language barriers.

Parents receive translated versions on the Parent Involvement Policy, and a copy of the Bill of Parent Rights and Responsibilities which includes their rights regarding translation and interpretation services.

2012-13 Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP)

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs

Directions: Title III supplemental services for ELLs must include all of the following three components:

- Direct instruction: activities must be used to support language development, English and native language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or other core academic areas.
 - The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need
 - These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ESL services required under CR Part 154.
 - Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs as well as reduced class-size, and/or push-in services.
 - Teachers providing the services must be certified bilingual education and/or ESL teachers.
- High quality professional development that is “of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers’ performance in classrooms.”
 - Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs.
 - These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo #66 or contact your Senior ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Submit this form to your Senior ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist by October 26.

Rationale: The major area of concern at P.S. 290 is the low academic achievement of some of its LEP students, as measured by results on State standardized assessments. A review of the Spring 2012 State standardized assessments indicated that 52% of students are performing at levels 1 and 2 in English Language Arts, and 43% were performing at levels 1 and 2 on the State mathematics assessment. The academic performance of English language learners is of particular concern, as this group represents a disproportionately high percentage of students performing at level 1 in both reading and mathematics. The Title III after school program will, therefore, focus on the areas of literacy and mathematics. Our school's language instruction program for limited English proficient (LEP) students will mimic instruction taught during the course of the day. Specifically, the language of instruction for our after school program will be English and Spanish. There will be 6 classes. The specific classes are the following:

1 Licensed Common Branch Teacher with Licensed ESL Teacher as Push-In - Grade 3 - Room 421 - Students = 13

1 Licensed Common Branch Teacher with Licensed ESL Teacher as Push-In - Grade 3 - Room 423 - Students = 13

1 Licensed Common Branch Teacher with Licensed ESL Teacher as Push-In - Grade 4 - Room 405 - Students = 13

1 Licensed Common Branch Teacher with Licensed ESL Teacher as Push-In - Grade 4 - Room 403 - Students = 15

1 Licensed Common Branch Teacher with Licensed ESL Teacher as Push In - Grade 5 - Room 419 - Students = 15

Subgroups and grade levels of students to be served: LEP students are provided with after school academic services in grades 3-5. The program offers additional literacy and math instruction for targeted students.

The ESL teacher will push-in 30 minutes into the ESL classes to give support for the duration of the program. Teachers will work with small groups of targeted student to strengthen weak skills in both literacy and mathematics. This program is designed to remediate and enhance instruction that is given throughout the regular school day. For literacy, teachers and students, using an interactive model, will share literacy strategies, apply the skills to real text, respond to focused writing tasks and listen to stories for specific skill purposes. Students will be grouped based on assessed needs for additional instruction to improve literacy skills. Students throughout the grades will have access to books at both their instructional and independent levels. As students acquire more literacy strategies, the text materials will become increasingly more difficult.

Schedule and duration: The Title III funded program is a program that will meet two times per week for two hours after school. The program will begin in November and run until the end of April. The program will be on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 3:10PM - 5:10PM. This will be in session for 16 weeks, which is approximately 34 sessions.

Language of instruction: English and Spanish

Number and types of certified teachers: 1 ESL Teachers, 5 Common Branch Teachers. All staff who services our LEP population are highly qualified and have all the necessary certification.

Types of materials: With Title III funds in addition to other funds, the after school program will purchase and use the following materials: Best Practices in Reading - Options Publishing, Targeted Math Intervention - Teacher Created Materials, Scantron Performance Series - Literacy & Math, IXL Math Online - Math Activities, Super Teacher Online - Math Activities, Acuity

Part C: Professional Development

Rationale: During school, and periodically after school, all teachers are given regular professional development to ensure that they are implementing best practices. Through study groups, grade conferences, and faculty conferences teachers are offered professional development opportunities through the duration of the programs. Professional development is coordinated by a Professional Development Team. This team provides a two-tier approach to staff development. On one level, they work with staff to strengthen their knowledge base in literacy, mathematics and other content areas. The second level, implemented concurrently, focuses on effective practices in the delivery of instruction. Most professional development is delivered in the teacher's classroom. Particular emphasis is being placed on the reading programs. School based coaches, in literacy and in math, and support personnel from the District will provide training for the implementation of this reading program. Through District 5 staff development workshops, in-house component meetings which focus on various aspects of reading methods and strategies, feedback from observations, modeling and opportunities for intervisitations, teachers' skills are refined. In addition, staff development for the State Standards for English Language Arts is provided during the school day as well as through the after school programs. ESL teachers attend meetings and turnkey best practices. Monolingual/ESL/Bilingual Teachers, and Coaches, collaborate by meeting during Study Groups, Grade Conferences and Team Meetings, to best meet our ELLs' needs.

Teachers to receive training: Intensive professional development is provided for all teachers. Training is in specialized strategies to meet the needs of ELLs, bilingual, and special needs populations. We focus on the implementation of effective strategies for meeting the needs of the growing ELL population. Professional Development is differentiated by grade and teacher need. Professional Development is aligned to the instructional program being delivered during the instructional school day, after school, and Saturday programs. Professional development is ongoing and based on both hard and soft data. It will be at no cost to program.

Schedule and duration: Professional development is provided throughout the school year (September, 2012 through June, 2013). There is also on-going articulation between the classroom teachers, cluster teachers, service providers and administrators.

Topics to be covered: Literacy and Math Performance Tasks, Common Core Learning Standards, Balanced Literacy Program (Grades 4 and 5), Reading First Program (Grades K, 1, 2, and 3), Envision Mathematics (All Grades)

Name of provider: The Professional development team includes the Principal, Assistant Principals, UFT Chapter Leader, Staff Developer, Literacy Coach, Math Coach, and Grade Leaders, and Teachers, who work together to combine ideas on effective planning for monolingual, bilingual, and ESL teachers, on different ways to assess learning, on developing curricula and instructional materials, and assessing teachers' needs for professional development. The team meets regularly to reflect and refine school-based practices and update the professional development plans.
