Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) Requirements

Which Schools Need to Complete the CEP?

All Reward, Recognition, In Good Standing and Local Assistance Plan (LAP) schools should identify and submit annual goals and action plans in consultation with their School Leadership Team (SLT).

- Explicitly delineate the school's plan for annually increasing student performance through comprehensive instructional programs and services as well as the plan for enhancement of teacher and leader effectiveness.
- Address how the school will use its full range of resources (which may include but is not limited to Title I, Title II, and/or Title III, 1003(a) and/or 1003(g) School Improvement, Race to the Top, School Innovation or local funds) to support improvement efforts for the identified sub-group(s) on the identified accountability measures.
- Develop the CEP in consultation with parents, school staff, the School Leadership Team (SLT), and others in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulations A-655 to provide a meaningful opportunity for stakeholders to participate in the development of the plan and comment on the CEP before it is approved.

Guidance for Developing and Completing the Annual Goals and Action Plan Section

Goal setting for the CEP is done in collaboration with the school community to support student achievement and the implementation of school-wide goals as well as document how your school is meeting Federal, State, and City regulations. For SY 2013-14 when developing their goals, schools should do the following:

- Identify a minimum of three and a maximum of five annual goals.
- Align their goals with the current citywide instructional expectations.
- Develop goals that are "SMART" - specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.
- Conduct a needs assessment of your school
- Use quantitative and/or qualitative data in providing the rationale for each goal.
- Cite sources that contributed to the rationale such as the Progress Report, Quality Review, School Survey, state and school assessment results, attendance records, inquiry team work, etc. to form the basis of your needs assessment.
- Align the identified goals to the strategies and activities in your Parent Involvement Policy (PIP). The PIP template is provided on pages 12 and 13. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school's goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. You may use or amend relevant sections of your PIP so they directly align to the parent involvement activities that support each goal and action plan. All schools should cite strategies to increase parent involvement that align to the goal when applicable. Title I schools should reference these strategies and activities in the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP).
- Enumerate the strategies and activities that will be implemented to achieve each goal.
- Identify all fund sources that will be used for the completion of each activity.
- List the projected timeline for completion of each activity, including the start and end date of each activity.
- Describe the programmatic details and resources that will be used for each instructional strategy and activity described for each goal. Do not include the cost for each line-item-expenditure for the strategies and activities listed within the action plans.

School Receiving Title I Funds

School Wide Program (SWP) and Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools receiving Title I funds are required to complete the Title I Information Page located on page 11 of the CEP.

Goal and Action Plan #1

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #1

Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.

By June 2014 twenty-five percent of students with individualized educational plans in grades 4-8 will show an increase in performance level as measured by the NYS English Language Arts Tests.

Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students, in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

The results of the 2013 state ELA exam have revealed that of our current students with disabilities, 3% are performing at grade level. That is, 27% are approaching grade level and 70% below grade level.

Our June 2013 independent reading levels reveal that a large percentage of our current students with disabilities in testing grades are not reading on grade level. 93.755 of 4th graders were below grade level and 100% of the 5th graders were below grade level. This trend of high percentages reading below grade level continued into the middle school grades. 87.5% of 6th, 72.72% of 7th and 89.29% of 8th graders with disabilities were reading below grade level.

Instructional Strategies/Activities

Describe the research-based school wide reform instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve the goal in part A. Enumerate each strategy/activity and its corresponding subsection in parts B, C, D, and E. For each strategy/activity identified in part A, a corresponding item must be provided in parts B, C, D, and E.

A. Strategies/activities that encompass the needs of identified subgroups

1. Teachers plan daily small group instruction- Teachers use common planning periods to plan small group instruction. They work together to look across student work to uncover students' misconceptions and then design instruction based off their findings.
2. Teachers plan 1:1 conferences, guided reading and strategy lessons as a way to ensure they are reaching all learners. To further target their instruction, teachers employ a variety of teaching methodologies. They do so to reach students that are performing far below standard level and need more support than small group instruction offers.
3. Teachers plan for differentiated groupings - When creating groups they differentiate based off of what the data reveals specific children need. That is, groupings are flexible and not stagnant. Teachers are consistently differentiating groups. They do so because the level of performance varies depending on the skill, strategy or standard being taught.
4. Teachers scaffold instruction and use visual aids, graphic organizers, charts and technology, to meet the needs of their students with disabilities. The staff at PS/MS 34 works extremely hard to plan for instructional activities that offer scaffolds. They do so in order to ensure that all children are able to learn the content being taught.

B. Key personnel and other resources used to implement each strategy/activity

1. All the planning is done in a collaborative setting that includes colleagues, the literacy coach and Teachers' College staff developers.
2. The TC staff development occurs in-house and in an out of the building setting. Teachers participate and lead grade level inquiry teams which are focused on increasing reading levels.
3. Teachers have the use of online supports where they can gather and collect resources and instructional materials. These online resources include: Rubicon:Atlas; myOn- virtual Library; Achieve 3,000; access to multiple grade levels of Teachers' College curricular calendars and a wide range of exemplary curriculum maps.

4. Teacher Teams meet weekly to assess student work and to plan for instruction. Also , ICT Teachers meet ,as a group ,to assess and plan and share strategies for students with Individualized education plans.

C. Identify targets to evaluate the progress, effectiveness, and impact of each strategy/activity

Depending on what is being taught we use common assessments that are scored with common core aligned rubrics and continuums to track progress.

1. Teachers use a “looking at student work protocol” to analyze student work samples in order to know if their lessons and approach are working.
2. In order to assess student growth they use pre and post assessment to monitor growth. The pre and post assessments offer a way to ensure that the groupings and working and not in need of changing up.
3. We use common core aligned writing rubrics and reading continuums to identify expectations and track progress
4. When tracking reading levels we follow the Teachers’ College benchmarks and plan instruction accordingly.

Tool we use to track progress and therefore, our effectiveness...

- Reading (Continuums and Benchmarks)
 - Literature continuum (RL. 1-9)
 - Informational reading continuum (RI. 1-9)
 - Independent reading level benchmark chart (RL. 10)
- Writing (Rubrics)
 - Opinion/Argument (W.1,4,9, & L1-6)
 - Informative/explanatory (W.2,4,8 & L1-6)
 - Narrative (W3,4 & L1-6)
 - The Writing Process (W.5 & 10)

D. Timeline for implementation and completion including start and end dates

1. Throughout the year teachers engage students in intervention programs to increase literacy levels.
2. Assessments are administered on a regular basis, they include , Great Leaps, Foundations, Wilson, Spalding through Reading Reform, Reading Rescue, Achieve 3000 and Myon ,September – June 2014.

3. Teachers meet weekly by grade level and subject area for the entire year.
4. Every eight weeks Academic interventions are evaluated by AIS providers and classroom teachers.

E. Describe programmatic details and resources that will be used to support each instructional strategy/activity

1. This happens on a weekly basis. Each grade level has 1 common planning period for the grade. However, teachers collaborating in ICT classrooms 6 planning periods a week. In addition, all teachers have an additional 50 min. during our Tuesday SBO PD sessions.
2. Teachers meet weekly to plan, by grade or subject.
3. Teachers, Coaches, and Principal attend professional development inside of school and outside of school and turnkey to the rest of the staff.
4. Teachers meet monthly and during the beginning of units to plan and share and modify lesson plans to support students with leaning disabilities.

1. Monthly PTA meetings, which offer communication between parents and school.
2. Letters, phone calls, text messages, automated phone system (Global Connect0, email, school website
3. Annual Curriculum night in September so that parents can meet the teachers and get an overview of the grade expectations, and student's goals that aligned to the CCLS.

Directions and Guidance for Developing and Updating the Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) (Required for Title I Schools ONLY)

The template below meets the parental involvement requirements of Title I. Your school is encouraged to use the template below to update your school's current policy or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. The activities and/or strategies included in your school's policy should align with current CEP goals for improving student achievement.

The PIP should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent involvement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact is a component of the PIP that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility. Schools are encouraged to include feedback from the Parent Coordinator when updating the policy. In addition, if your school community will be engaged this year in central parent involvement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in your policy.

Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) Template

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental involvement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent involvement program that will ensure effective involvement of parents and community in our school. Therefore, our school, in compliance with the Section 1118 of Title I, Part A of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, is responsible for creating and implementing a parent involvement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between our school and the families. Our school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association, and Title I Parent Committee as trained volunteers and welcomed members of our school community. Our school will support parents and families of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;

- providing professional development opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of our school community;

Our school's Parent Involvement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of English Language Learners and students with disabilities. Our school community will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent involvement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of our school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents, and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent Involvement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent-Teacher Association, as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent Involvement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

After reviewing and analyzing the assessment data, answer the following:

1. Describe what assessment tool your school uses to assess the early literacy skills of your ELLs (e.g., ECLAS-2, EL SOL, Fountas and Pinnell, DRA, TCRWP). What insights do the data provide about your ELLs? How will this data help inform your school's instructional plan? Please provide any quantitative data available to support your response.

Our school uses TCRWP, running records, Performance Assessments, LAB-R and the NYSESLAT to assess the early literacy skills of our ELLs. The raw scores of the LAB-R provide teachers with basic understanding of the reading, writing, speaking and listening skills for our new ELLs. Throughout the academic year, teachers use running records to assess students' reading levels. We administer 2 ELA Performance Assessments to measure literacy standards, and have 5 assessment windows throughout the year in which we use TCRWP to measure their early literacy levels. Every spring, our ELLs take the NYSESLAT which measures their progress in learning English as a Second Language. About 70% of our ELLs are below grade level in literacy, especially for ELL-SWDs. However, all our ELLs (including ELL-SWDs, and a student who is NYSAA) have progressed throughout the last academic year. ESL teachers and classroom teachers share their findings from different tools in order to provide appropriate instructions. ELLs whose literacy level is below grade level are put in small inquiry groups in which teachers provide instructions based on targeted literacy skills.

2. What is revealed by the data patterns across proficiency levels (on the LAB-R and NYSESLAT) and grades?

3 ELLs, with limited communication skills in English, took the LAB-R in fall 2012 and were all tested at the beginning level. By spring 2013, 2 of them achieved an overall intermediate level and 1 achieved an overall advanced level in the NYSESLAT. According to the NYSESLAT Spring 2013 data, 25% (9 out of 36) of ELLs in PS/MS 34 achieved an overall proficient level and were tested out. For the 25 ELLs who are currently receiving ESL service in our school, 56% (14 students) of ELLs obtained an overall advanced level, 40% (10 students) of ELLs obtained an overall intermediate level and the remaining 4% (1 student who is NYSAA) obtained an overall beginning level. Comparing to the NYSESLAT result of the previous year 2011-12, 55% (20 out of 36) ELLs have improved in their overall proficiency level, and the rest remains the same.

3. How will patterns across NYSESLAT modalities—reading/writing and listening/speaking—affect instructional decisions? How does your school use information about Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives? What does the data reveal? (see SED memo and AMAo tool)

Since we are not provided with the RNMR report on the NYSESLAT 2013 result, which indicates the proficiency in each modality – reading, writing, listening and speaking, our school compares the raw score of each modality to the required score to achieve proficient in order to generate our data. The data pattern across the modalities indicates that listening is an area of weakness for our ELLs from K-8, even for those who have obtained proficient level in listening previously. There will be an initiative to strengthen academic listening skills of our ELLs in all content areas. Our instructions will require them to practice their interpreting and responding skills while listening to information presented verbally. The raw scores of the speaking sub-test indicate that the majority of the newcomers do not achieve proficient level in speaking. The data is presented to their classroom and subject teachers to ensure that teachers pay attention to these ELLs' speaking skills for social and academic purposes. In addition, ELLs will be engaged in a range of collaborative discussions and presentations, and academic speaking skills will be taught explicitly with ESL strategies (e.g. framed conversations). Our data pattern also reveals that most of our ELLs from K-4 are struggling to attain proficient level in the reading and writing modalities. As our school is following the TCWRP for teaching reading and writing, our ESL teachers differentiate the tasks to address the needs for ELLs. In each classroom, ELLs are differentiated according to their reading and writing levels, not their status as an ELL. Besides ELA, our ESL teachers implemented ESL strategies in content areas, such as social studies and science. They work with subject teachers to ensure ELLs are exposed to academic language, vocabulary, along with a range of complex reading materials appropriate for their grade levels. Our school emphasizes that our ELLs are learning the same content with non-ELLs, with appropriate differentiated independent reading and writing tasks.

According to the Title III AMAOs 1 and 2 Status Estimator based on Spring 2012 NYSESLAT, 67.57% of our ELLs made progress in English Language Acquisition, while 16.22% attained proficiency in the NYSESLAT. The data reveals that our school met the AMAOs 1 and 2 in 2011-12. As to 2012-13, we will use the AMAO tool to generate data as soon as the RNMR report is provided. Meanwhile, we use the NYSESLAT 2013 raw scores to make instructional decisions.

4. For each program, answer the following:
 - a. What are the patterns across proficiencies and grades? How are ELLs faring in tests taken in English as compared to the native language?
 - b. Describe how the school leadership and teachers are using the results of the ELL Periodic Assessments.
 - c. What is the school learning about ELLs from the Periodic Assessments? How is the native language used?
- a. The pattern across proficiencies and grades is that the majority of ELLs in K-4 are at immediate and advanced levels, with the exception of 1 beginning ELL who has NYSAA; as to grade 5-8, 1 ELL is at immediate level while the rest are at advanced level. Grade 7 and 8 contain a portion of newcomers and they are achieving immediate and advanced levels in the NYSESLAT.

Last year, we had 4 (out of 10) ELLs who took the NY State Math examination in their native language in grade 6 and 7. The difference in their performance compare to ELLs who took it in English is not significant.

b. Our school leadership and teachers are all provided with the results of the ELL Periodic Assessment twice a year. An analysis and breakdown of achievement is given to teachers of each individual student who took the test. The test item analysis report from Person Inform provides us with detailed information about our ELLs' strengths and weaknesses in English language development. The areas that students did not do well in will drive instructions. Teachers will compare the growth of each ELL using the analysis reports and will implement strategies in their lessons and differentiate instructions that focus on each student's weaknesses.

c. The Periodic Assessment reports indicate that reading is the weakest modality of our ELLs. ELLs from grade 3 to 8 are struggling with applying learning strategies to examine, interpret and evaluate a variety of materials (NYS ESL Reading Learning Standard 3).

Native language is used minimally, especially at elementary levels. There are paraprofessionals in our school who can provide assistance to students who speak Chinese (Mandarin, and Cantonese), Spanish and Bengali as their native language when necessary. For newcomers who are literate in their native language, resources, such as bilingual dictionary, are provided to aid their learning. ELLs who prefer to take the State examinations (except ELA) in their native language will use both English and an alternative language edition of the test simultaneously. If there is no translated edition for the state examinations, our school will provide them with oral translation from suitable translators.

5. Describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within the Response to Intervention (RtI) framework (for grades K-5). (see RtI Guide for Teachers of ELLs.)

After analyzing the data gathered from the performance tests, period assessments, and annual tests (State examinations, and the NYSESLAT), our school identifies ELLs who are not making academic progress at expected rates. Then we administer RtI screening to assess whether their literacy skills and competences are meeting grade level benchmarks. For ELLs who are at risk, our ESL, classroom and subject teachers will collaborate to design instructions to strengthen the skills they need in English language acquisition. Differentiated materials are used to meet the needs for these ELLs, and are tools we use to assess their progress. In addition, some ELLs will receive AIS service (in literacy and/or mathematics) if they are not making adequate progress in a whole-class setting. After monitoring their progress over time (8 weeks), if these ELLs still demonstrate adequate progress in targeted skills and competencies, we will refer them to our special education team.

6. How do you make sure that a child's second language development is considered in instructional decisions?

Instructional decisions are made by both ESL, classroom and subject teachers collaboratively. Therefore, even if our ESL teacher is not pushing in or co-teaching in the class, the instructions and activities are incorporated with ESL strategies, such as using TPR, visual aids, and differentiated tasks. For ELLs who are literate in their native language, teachers provide them with bilingual dictionaries. However, academic vocabulary and language are still taught explicitly to facilitate their English language development.

7. For dual language programs, answer the following:

- a. How are the English-proficient students (EPs) assessed in the second (target) language?
- b. What is the level of language proficiency in the second (target) language for EPs?
- c. How are EPs performing on State and City Assessments?

No dual language programs are offered to ELLs in our school.

8. Describe how you evaluate the success of your programs for ELLs (e.g. meeting AYP for ELLs, etc.).

The success of our ESL program (Push-In, pull-out and co-teaching) is evaluated based on several criteria. First of all, the AMAOs 1 and 2 Status Estimator is a useful tool for our school to see whether our ESL program is meeting the AYP. We compare the percentage difference of ELLs who are making progress in learning English and attaining English language proficiency between the DOE's targets and our current status. In addition, we gather results from State examinations and the NYSESLAT to analyze the effectiveness of our ESL programs in helping ELLs to make progress in English language acquisition.

Part IV: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. (Refer to ELL Policy Brief and EPIC.) At enrollment, all parents or guardians of new students to the DOE receive a Home Language Identification Survey in the appropriate home language. One of our ESL teachers administer the survey to the parent in the appropriate home language. Interpretation is also provided when necessary. After reviewing all the home language surveys, that ESL teacher conducts an informal interview with the students. If a student speaks a language other than English and speaks little or no English, he/she is required to take the LAB-R test within 10 school days after initial enrollment. For Spanish-speaking students who are unable to answer any question in the LAB-R, a Spanish LAB is conducted by that ESL teacher with a Spanish-speaking paraprofessional.
2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines. After an ESL teacher obtains the LAB-R scores, an Entitlement Letter and ELL Parent Orientation Invitation are given to parents of new ELLs. That ESL teachers as well as the parent coordinator host the orientation and provide interpretation in Spanish, Mandarin and Cantonese when needed. The Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, and Freestanding ESL programs are explicitly explained in full details. An online orientation video, which is in parents' native language, is also viewed by the parents in their native language, which provides more information about their choices. For students who enroll after the orientation, their parents are invited to meet with our ESL teachers and the parent coordinator to know and discuss their options.
3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned, and secured/stored. (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [\[see tool kit\]](#).) Entitlement letters are distributed to parents of newly identified ELLs directly from an ESL teacher. Parents are given the Parent Survey and Program Selection Form (in their native language if necessary) to select the preferred ESL program for their child during the ELL Parent Orientation or informal orientation. All the parents are required to fill out the Parent Survey and Program Selection Form to show their preference. For parents who want to take home the information for decision making, we encourage them to return the Parent Survey and Program Selection Form the next day and notify them that the default program is Freestanding ESL Program if they do not return the form. Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are stored in a secure closet which can only be accessed by the principal, the assistance principal and our ESL teachers.
4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language. The placement of newly identified ELLs depends on parents' preference and the number of ELLs with the same native language. If parents would like a Bilingual or Dual Language program model, one will be provided when there is a sufficient number of ELLs (15 or more students within two consecutive grades whose native language is the same). Parents can opt for another school that provides the program they desire or choose the ESL program our school is currently providing. If parent wants the dual language or bilingual program, and the school does not have sufficient numbers to open a program (15 students of the same home language and in the same grade or two contiguous grades) send their request to ELLProgramTransfers@schools.nyc.gov. An ESL teacher checks the parent selection forms periodically to keep up-to-date with parent choices.
5. Describe the steps taken to administer all sections of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) to all ELLs each year. An ESL teacher obtains updated RLER ATS report regularly to determine the NYSESLAT eligibility of that year. A month before the NYSESLAT, parents of ELLs are given notification of the dates that their child is taking the NYSESLAT. This is to raise the awareness so parents will ensure their child take all four sub-tests of the NYSESLAT. ELLs in each subgroup (k, 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, 7-8) will be taking the same sub-test on the same time, and they only will take one sub-test per day. Our school also ensures to provide testing modifications for students who have an IEP or a 504 plan. If a student is absent during a sub-test, we will administer the test the next day when that student comes back. For students who are absent for a few days during the NYSESLAT testing period, we will contact their parents/ guardians to discuss this matter.
6. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.) Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway.  After reviewing Parent Surveys and Program Selection for the past few years, the majority prefers a Freestanding ESL Program, which is currently offered at our school. We check the Program Selection regularly, as there may be changes due to transferred ELLs and newly admitted ELLs.

Part V: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered? (see The Practitioners' Work Group for Accelerating English Language Learner Student Achievement: Nine Common Features of Successful Programs for ELLs)
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., departmentalized, push-in [co-teaching], pull-out, collaborative, self-contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?
- a. Our school has a Freestanding ESL program for ELLs from K-8. Our school utilizes both Push-In (co-teaching, and collaborative) and Pull-Out teaching models.
- b. Our Push-In model is heterogeneous in grade levels that consist of a group of ELLs. ESL, classroom teachers and/or subject teachers collaborate to provide appropriate instructions for ELLs in the same grade level. Our Pull-Out model is ungraded between two consecutive grade levels. This is to ensure the gap between grade level's learning standard is minimal.
2. How does the organization of your staff ensure that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, ESL)?
 - a. How are explicit ESL, ELA, and NLA instructional minutes delivered in each program model as per CR Part 154 (see table below)?

ELLs in grade 3 and 6 receive ESL services by their NYS ESL licensed classroom teachers. ESL teachers incorporate ESL strategies in their lessons, and ELLs obtain mandated number of instructional minutes through small groups and differentiated activities. ELLs receive ESL support daily in different subject areas. The instructional minutes provided exceeds 360 minutes (beginning and intermediate level) and 180 minutes (advanced level) per week. All ELLs regardless of their proficiency are provide with a minimum of 90 minutes or more of ELA instructions every day.

An ESL teacher co-teaches with classroom teachers in grade 1 and 5 for content areas to provide mandated ESL service for 90 minutes per week, while she collaborates in ELA for another 90 minutes per week. Advanced ELLs in these two grades receive all their ESL instructions in their class. For beginning and intermediate ELLs in grade 1, they are pulled out by an ESL teacher and receive an additional 180 ESL instructional minutes with ELLs in grade 2. As for beginning and intermediate ELLs in grade 5, they are pulled out by an ESL teacher and receive 180 additional ESL instructional minutes with ELLs in grade 4. For grade 7 and 8 ELLs, they receive 90 ESL instructional minutes in their classroom and 90 minutes in a pull-out ESL class during extended days. Beginning and intermediate ELLs in these two grade levels are provided another 180 ESL instructional minutes.

Our school meets CP Part 154 time allotments for ELLs through effective proficiency level clustering. Beginning and intermediate level students are provided with 360 minutes a week of ESL instructions and advanced ELLs receive 180 minutes of ESL instruction per week, and at least 180 minutes of ELA lessons.

3. Describe how the content areas are delivered in each program model. Please specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods used to make content comprehensible to foster language development and meet the demands of the Common Core Learning Standards.

To meet the Common Core Learning Standards in content areas, PS/MS 34 emphasizes on teaching academic language and vocabulary in all content areas.

In our elementary levels, some of our classroom and ESL teachers, who have been participating in a year-long action research based on Dr. Lily Wong Fillmore's work on using complex texts in content areas to collaborate the development of the social studies and science curricula. Aside from covering the content, teachers read and deconstruct complex texts with the whole class to ensure all students are exposed to a wide range of Tier II vocabulary words, academic language, and text dependent questions. Our teachers implement different strategies, such as TRP, dramatization, lexical arrays and generative words/ word families, to build students' academic vocabulary words. ELLs, and all students, learned to tackle complex non-fictional readings with guided instructions, while their group or independent activities are differentiated based on their needs. All lessons are designed as literacy blocks that target specific content areas.

As to grade 6 to 8, a balanced literacy approach is in place that follows Teacher's College Workshop Model for all ELA instruction. Social studies and Science are also part of ESL instruction. Our ESL teachers collaborate with subject teachers to supplement ESL strategies in their science and social studies lessons. Contextual support is important and comes through peer interaction, visual aids, maps, charts, graphic organizers, and manipulative. Academic language development is also planned within each lesson to ensure the exposure of academic language and vocabulary. Moreover, ESL methodologies (repetition, translation, visuals, etc.) are used to foster achievement of these academic language goals. During the pull-out classes with middle school ELLs, an ESL teacher designs literacy lessons based on students' needs in their content areas. For grade that consists of newcomers who lack background knowledge in content areas, an ESL teacher uses the Push-In model to assist the subject teachers.

We ensure that all our teachers are aware of the necessary modifications that our ELLs will need in content areas. In-house ESL professional developments are provided to discuss the use of ESL strategies. Teachers use these strategies to differentiate instructions for ELLs.

4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages throughout the year?
Bilingual and Dual Language programs are not established at our school. Thus, native language instruction is not provided.
5. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in all four modalities of English acquisition throughout the year?
The evaluation of all four modalities of English language acquisition are measured through both formative (e.g. running records, anecdotal records, student's homework and classwork) and summative assessments (e.g. rubrics for mid- or final-assessment, Periodic Assessments, and Benchmark Assessment) throughout the year. Our ESL teachers interpret these assessments regularly and conduct conferences with ELLs to set learning goals and discuss their concerns. Classroom and cluster teachers are notified these goals so they can ensure their ELLs are working towards them. Our ESL teachers will conduct on-going conferences with the ELLs and discuss their progress.
6. How do you differentiate instruction for ELL subgroups?
 - a. Describe your instructional plan for SIFE.
 - b. Describe your plan for ELLs who have been in US schools less than three years (newcomers)..
 - c. Describe your plan for ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years.
 - d. Describe your plan for long-term ELLs (completed 6+ years).
 - e. Describe your plan for former ELLs (in years 1 and 2 after testing proficient).

a. Our plan for the SIFE population includes a strict, content-based approach to language acquisition to help compensate for their missed time in school in addition to the in-place ESL methodologies.

b. The plan for newcomers is to provide as much academic language and English instruction as possible. Newcomers are receiving the ELL mandated services while our ESL teachers are working closely with classroom teachers and/or subject teachers to identify the language needs for each individual. Since the majority of newcomers lack background knowledge in content areas, an ESL teacher pushes in during social studies and sciences to give them extra support. Instruction is scaffolded and differentiated by all teachers to meet newcomers' academic needs. ELLs are all provided with the opportunity to attend all academic after-school programs, which provide ELA and Math support to help ELLs prepare for ELA/Math testing.

c,d. The plan for our ELLs receiving ESL service for 4 to 6 years and long term ELLs is to identify areas of weakness through various assessments for planning instructions. In some cases, motivation is the issue. Our ESL teachers conduct surveys and informal interviews with these students to understand their concerns, their academic expectations, and what subjects or topics they are interested in. The data collected can help all teachers plan lessons that motivate these students. One major focus for these students is on their reading and writing modalities. The NYSESLAT scores indicate that these students mostly struggle in these two areas. At the beginning of the school year, our ESL teachers reinforce the strategies for reading and writing once again as to compensate the skills that they lack or forget. These skills include brainstorming, organizing, revising, inferring and higher-order thinking, etc. Throughout the whole year, our ESL teachers ensure these strategies are implemented constantly. In addition, students also participate in academic after-school programs or Title III ESL after-school program and receive additional language support during extended days.

e. The plan for continuing transitional support for students reaching the NYSESLAT is that they are entitled to receive an additional year of ESL services upon request from their parents/ guardians. For classes that an ESL teacher pushes in or co-teaches, that ESL teacher provides necessary supports for the former ELLs. As to testing, they will receive the same testing modifications as all other ELLs for two years after they pass the NYSESLAT. They can also participate in the ELA after school classes to maintain and enhance their English levels. In addition, classroom and subject teachers meet with our ESL teachers regularly to discuss concerns and strategies for these students.

7. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials do teachers of ELL-SWDs use that both provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development?

At our school, all ELL-SWDs receive mandated number of minutes of ESL instructions. Test scores and data show that their English levels are similar to other ELLs in the same grade level. These students are placed in classrooms and ESL groups that have a small student-to-teacher ratio so that the teachers can cater their diverse needs more efficiently.

8. How does your school use curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to enable diverse ELL-SWDs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

Our school utilizes the Push-In ESL model to minimize ELL-SWDs from missing their regular classes. Since classroom, special education and our ESL teachers collaborate to design lessons, ELL-SWDs are provided with additional modifications specific to their IEPs and identified needs. Meanwhile, our ESL and special education teachers meet regularly to discuss and implement ESL strategies to accelerate students' English language acquisition. Our ESL teachers also take part in IEP meetings in order to have a throughout understanding of the needs of ELL-SWDs.

B. Programming and Scheduling Information--Continued

9. Describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, math, and other content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Please list the range of intervention services offered in your school for the above areas as well as the language(s) in which they are offered.

Our school provides Academic Intervention Services (AIS) for ELA and Math. Tier I ELA intervention is monitored by classroom teachers. Teachers provide them with small group support and various materials such as Achieve 3000 and myON for literacy level, and IXL for Math. Tier II ELA intervention is provided by academic intervention teachers in our school. Students are pulled out in small groups or individually from 10 to 20 minutes a day to work on their fluency, decoding and comprehension skills using Reading Rescue Program from Teacher College (for K-1) and Scholastic Read About Program. In addition, they work with our math intervention teacher for targeted skills and practices. For ELL-SWDs, Tier III intervention is provided by special education teachers in small pull-out groups. While most of our ESL students with IEPs are in Integrated Co-Teaching classroom with a classroom and a special education teacher, some of our ELL-SWDs (from grade 3 to 5) are put in a Self-Contained Special Education classroom. Elementary students with IEPs meet with the special education teacher for at least 150 minutes a week, and a minimal of 200 minutes a week for middle school ELL-SWDs.

10. Describe the effectiveness of your current program and how it is meeting the needs of your ELLs in both content and language development.

The NYSESLAT results from the past two years show us that our co-teaching model in content areas has been efficient to enhance English development of our ELLs. There was a higher percentage of ELLs who attained proficient or advanced levels in learning ESL. Since the lessons are designed to align with the CCLS, students are exposed to a range of non-fictional reading in their content areas. Thus, besides ELA, they are learning literacy through content area subjects. Lessons are designed to boost the use of academic language of ELLs, and to ensure that ELLs learn strategies to tackle complex reading materials at their grade level.

11. What new programs or improvements will be considered for the upcoming school year?

Compare to previous years, our school has an increasing use of Push-In model for ELLs. Since our ESL teachers collaborate and plan with the classroom teachers, more ESL strategies are implemented during class time. ELLs will have less interruption as they get pulled out less from their classroom.

The teachers, including an ESL teacher, who have been trained to teach academic language and to use complex texts in content areas, conduct professional developments for our staff so classroom and cluster teachers can learn more strategies and implement them to cater the needs of ELLs.

12. What programs/services for ELLs will be discontinued and why?

No ELL programs are discontinued for the current school year.

13. How are ELLs afforded equal access to all school programs? Describe after school and supplemental services offered to ELLs in your building.

ELLs are provided with the same opportunities of all other students at our school. They can join all afterschool academic and extracurricular activities. There are also various ELA academic interventions for all students including ELLs. Math intervention is provided to ELLs that are struggling based on math data. ELL-SWDs are provided with special education services according to their IEPs. Programs such as Achieve 3000, Words Their Way and Foundation are used to enhance students' English levels. ELLs are provided with academic after-school programs that focus on math and ELA. Extracurricular activities that our school provides are as follows: art, basketball, student council, and music.

14. What instructional materials, including technology, are used to support ELLs (include content area as well as language materials; list ELL subgroups if necessary)?

There are various Instructional materials used to support our ELLs. For examples, Words their Way, NYSESLAT prep books, various texts (for guided reading, shared reading, read alouds) that cover all content area subjects, bilingual dictionaries, iPads, Kindles and various leveled novels in Spanish and English for independent reading. Ebooks on Kindles are provided to newcomers in the class who are reading at a far lower reading level than their classmates. Students can also use the electronic dictionary on the device to assist their learning, especially in content area subjects. There are also online reading programs such as Achieve 3000, which provide bilingual supports, and myON for ELLs to enhance their reading levels. Various pictures and photographs are used to help assist in teaching academic vocabulary. Assorted manipulatives are used to support math and science as well. All instruction materials are differentiated by academic and grade level. Thus, students are provided with appropriate instructional materials.

15. How is native language support delivered in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, and ESL)?

Our school currently provides Freestanding ESL Program, and native language support is provided when necessary. One of our ESL teachers can provide native support to Mandarin and Cantonese speaking ELLs. Also, there are Spanish speaking and Cantonese speaking paraprofessionals who can provide native language support to ELLs when necessary. As to learning materials, there is an ESL library that is dedicated to native language books in a multitude of genres and levels.

16. Explain how the required services support, and resources correspond to ELLs' ages and grade levels.

All service supports in the building correspond to ELLs' age and grade level. ELLs are grouped between 2 consecutive levels in our Pull-Out ESL classes to ensure the lessons are appropriate for the age and grade level. Classroom and cluster teachers are provided with data (e.g. reading level, NYSESLAT result, and anecdotal records) about their upcoming ELLs before the beginning of the year, so they can supplement their lessons with resources that their ELLs might need.

17. Describe activities in your school that assist newly enrolled ELL students before the beginning of the school year. Please include activities for new ELLs who enroll throughout the school year.

Various activities and support are provided to newly enrolled students before the beginning of the school year. The new students receive a welcome letter from their new teacher and the letter will be translated to the appropriate language. Our parent coordinator is in close contact with the newly enrolled ELL's family and will provide the proper assistance to them to prepare for the start of the year. The new students will also be paired up with a current or former ELLs who will be a support and friend for the start of the school year.

18. What language electives are offered to ELLs?

No language electives are offered to students in our school.

19. For schools with dual language programs:

- a. How much time (%) is the target language used for EPs and ELLs in each grade?
- b. How much of the instructional day are EPs and ELLs integrated? What content areas are taught separately?
- c. How is language separated for instruction (time, subject, teacher, theme)?
- d. What Dual Language model is used (side-by-side, self-contained, other)?
- e. Is emergent literacy taught in child's native language first (sequential), or are both languages taught at the same time (simultaneous)?

No dual language programs are provided in our school.

C. Professional Development and Support for School Staff

1. Describe the professional development plan for all ELL personnel at the school. (Please include all teachers of ELLs.)
2. What professional development is offered to teachers of ELLs (including ESL and bilingual teachers) in supporting ELLs as they engage in the Common Core Learning Standards?
3. What support do you provide staff to assist ELLs as they transition from elementary to middle and/or middle to high school?
4. Describe the minimum 7.5 hours of ELL training (10 hours for special education teachers) for all staff (including non-ELL teachers) as per Jose P.

1. Our ESL teachers and any teacher working with ELLs attend various ESL workshops at Columbia Teacher's College and various professional development offered by the Office of English Language Learners. As one of the schools in the Children's First Network 206, one of our ESL teachers attends regular ELL meetings with the network ELL consultant Fay Pallen, and an Action Research hosted by an ELL staff developer Maryann Cucchiara. Both professional developments focus on Dr. Lily Wong Fillmore's work of using complex texts to enhance academic language for ELLs. That ESL teacher, along with two teachers who also attend the Action Research, presents key information to all teachers during in-house professional developments. The ESL network consultant Fay Pallen also meets with all three of them to provide additional support to build the social studies and science curricula. This occurs on a monthly basis.

2. The Action Research offered by CFN 206 has been ongoing since 2010. One of our ESL teachers and two classroom teachers have been attending the meetings monthly to learn pedagogies to tackle complex texts and academic vocabulary in content areas. This work focuses on meeting the CCLS, and has been successfully implemented in 1st, 2nd and 5th grade social studies. Using the key information acquired in the Action Research meetings and our own practice, all three teachers are developing a series of in-house professional developments for other staff members. Teachers are grouped in cohort to learn strategies to enhance literacy and academic language in content areas, and are provided with the knowledge, awareness, sensitivity and strategies to support ELLs in all content areas. There are 6 monthly trainings. During each meeting, there are hands-on activities, co-planning time and discussions. Teachers meet monthly to learn new methodologies (e.g. vocabulary, sentence deconstruction, finding complex texts, using text-dependent questions, differentiation of writing tasks, etc.) and discuss the effectiveness and concerns of these strategies. In addition, there are workshops regarding ESL and CCLS offered by Columbia Teacher's College and the Office of English Language Learners that teachers can sign up for.

3. Since our school is a K-8 school, when ELLs enter the middle school, the ESL teacher who provided service in the previous year will present collected data of the ELLs to their upcoming ESL teacher. Our ESL teachers continue to update previous data so that teachers who have ELLs can understand the strength and weaknesses, and use the data for lesson planning.

4. At the beginning of each year, one of our ESL teacher ensures all new teachers are aware of the 7.5 hours of ELL training (10 hours for special education teachers) by providing concrete examples (e.g. undergraduate and graduate classes, outside and in-house ESL workshops, etc.) of ELL trainings. Teachers are also reminded to keep a record of all the ESL trainings they have received. Our school keeps a record of teachers who have not received enough hours of ESL training, and notify them when there are ESL trainings. Every year, we update the record of the hours of ESL training that teachers received through the previous year.

D. Parental Involvement

1. Describe ELL parent involvement in your school. Include specific activities that foster parental involvement for parents of ELLs.
2. Does the school partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents?
3. How do you evaluate the needs of the parents?
4. How do your parental involvement activities address the needs of the parents?
 1. Our school has various opportunities for parental involvement of all students including ELLs. There is an active PTA, Family First Fridays, and principal's breakfasts. Parents also have the opportunity to volunteer as a learning leader or to assist teachers in the classroom. If necessary, there are interpreters (Spanish, Bengali, Cantonese and Mandarin) in our school who provide translation during these activities so that parents with limited English proficiency can be involved.
 2. Our school does not collaborate with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide ESL workshops. Our workshops for parents are provided by our ESL teachers, literacy coach, classroom teachers and parent coordinator.
 3. Needs of the parents are evaluated by surveys and communication with the school parent coordinator regularly. Our ESL teachers and the parent coordinator make friendly phone calls, conduct informal and formal conferences with parents of ELLs to talk about the progress and hear their concerns. Our ESL teachers also attend the IEP meeting in which information regarding the ELLs is delivered to parents.
 4. Parental activities are based on the needs collected through surveys and communication with our ESL teachers, parent coordinator and administration. In all of our involvement activities, interpreters are provided to assist parents with limited English proficiency.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2013-2014 TO 2014-2015

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 01M034 School Name: PS/MS 34 Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Cluster: 2 Network: CFN206

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

For transferred students and students who are newly admitted to NYC public school, PS/MS 34 uses Part 3 Parent Information of the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) to assess parents' preferred language in both written translation and oral interpretation. The Language Identification Guide, acquired from the Translation and Interpretation Unit, will be provided for limited-English-proficient parents to identify their native language. In addition to the HLIS of students, we also assess parent's language translation and interpretation needs by the RAPL and RPOB ATS reports, which indicate their preferred language for communication. The need for language translation and interpretation is assessed during informal interviews with parents and parent conferences.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

According to data from ATS, the majority (80%) of PS/MS 34's parents prefer to communicate and receive written documents in English. As to limited-English-proficient parents, 15% of them prefer translation and interpretation in Spanish, while 3% prefer Chinese (Mandarin and/or Cantonese), and 2% prefer Bengali. There is a clear and definite need for oral/written interpretation services at PS/MS 34 in the languages of Spanish, Chinese and Bengali. PS/MS 34 ensures these translation and interpretation services, which are necessary for teachers and parents to communicate about critical information regarding their child's education, are provided.

These findings were communicated to the school community by utilizing the Parent Coordinator to disseminate information to parents, and by sharing the information with the School Leadership Team to make them aware of the needs and actions to be taken. PS/MS 34 also inform limited-English-proficient parents whom the Bilingual staff members are regarding interpretation. Notices to parents are always translated by staff members in Spanish, Chinese, and Bengali. There is adequate staff to communicate with parents orally and provide translations when necessary.

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

PS/MS 34 plans to provide written translation services to limited-English-proficient parents who require translation in the following ways:

- Report Card Translation - Translated report cards are downloaded from Translated Documents in the DOE Intranet. Parents will receive report cards in both English and their native language if the language is available.
- Parent Letters - Parent Letters that contain critical information for parents about their child's education will be translated into their native language.
- Permission Slips - Class trips notifications and permission slips will be sent home in their native language.
- School-wide Documents - Documents such as notices, flyers, forms, and notification letters will be downloaded from Translated Documents in the DOE Intranet. Parents will receive documents in both English and their native language.

PS/MS 34 will obtain translated documents that are available in the DOE Intranet for parents. If the desired documents or languages are not available, written translation will be provided in-house by staff members who are Spanish and or Chinese literate, or will be requested through the DOE Translation & Interpretation Unit.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Over-the-phone Interpretation - This is to be provided by a bilingual staff member (in Spanish, Cantonese, Mandarin, and Bengali), or our PTA president (in Spanish) when a limited-English-proficient parent needs to be contacted by the teacher or administration.

In-Person Interpretation -This is to be provided during meetings/ events (including, but not limiting to, Citywide parent conferences, informal parent conferences, fairs, workshops, training sessions, and hearings). When scheduling a conference, teachers would make arrangement with the appropriate interperator to be present in the conference. In case of a language not spoken by any staff members, PS/MS 34 will contact the DOE's Translation & Interpretation Unit to request for interpretation service.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link:
<http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

A copy of the Bill of Parent Rights and Responsibilities regarding translation and interpretation services will be provided to parents, whose primary language is one of the covered languages and who require language assistance services, within the student's first 10 school days. A sign indicating the availability of interpretation services is posted near the main office of PS/MS 34. This sign is in each of the covered langauages, or most prominent covered languages. PS/MS 34's Safety Plan for 2013-14, and 2014-15 will incorporate procedures for ensuring that parents in need of language assistance services have equal access to administrative office services.

2012-13 Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP)

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs

Directions: Title III supplemental services for ELLs must include all of the following three components:

- Direct instruction: activities must be used to support language development, English and native language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or other core academic areas.
 - The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need
 - These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ESL services required under CR Part 154.
 - Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs as well as reduced class-size, and/or push-in services.
 - Teachers providing the services must be certified bilingual education and/or ESL teachers.
- High quality professional development that is “of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers’ performance in classrooms.”
 - Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs.
 - These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

For more information on Title III requirements, please see the School Allocation Memo #66 or contact your Senior ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist. Submit this form to your Senior ELL Compliance and Performance Specialist by October 26.

Part B: Direct Instruction Supplemental Program Information

Describe the direct instruction supplemental program here and include the

- rationale
- subgroups and grade levels of students to be served
- schedule and duration
- language of instruction
- # and types of certified teachers
- types of materials

Begin description here: 15 ELLs in PS/MS 34 are participating in the afterschool ESL program, which is instructed by a licensed ESL teacher from our school. We have identified two groups of students – struggling ELLs for our elementary school and long-term ELLs for middle school. Targeted ELLs from grade 2 to 4 will meet once a week (Mondays) for two hours (2:50-4:50), while targeted ELLs from 6-8 will meet once a week (Wednesdays) for two hours (3:40-5:40). The program will run from Nov 19 through Jun 12 – approximately 28 weeks.

Analysis of NYSESLAT(2011-12), ESL periodic assessments(Fall 2012), and ELA State Test (2011-12) indicates that reading and writing is the lowest modalities school-wide. As a result, instructional focus and activities will heavily revolve around reading and writing. Besides, the program will focus on phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension, which will be beneficial and appropriate to all ELLs.

Apart from using methodologies learned from Teachers' College Workshop to enhance students reading and writing skills, the teacher uses literacy materials that are content area based so students can be exposed to academic language. The teacher selects complex texts for read aloud during the mini-lesson. Through deconstruction and reconstruction of the complex texts, students learn different language skills (such as grammar, vocabulary, and sentence structures) in addition to the content area knowledge. Afterwards, students practice the specific skills learned in their independent writing tasks.

Part C: Professional Development

Describe the school's professional development program for Title III Program teachers as well as other staff responsible for delivery of instruction and services to ELLs.

- rationale
- teachers to receive training
- schedule and duration
- topics to be covered
- name of provider

Begin description here: The ESL teacher will attend workshops offered by Teacher's College, and Action Research workshops provided by CFN206 and Maryann Cucchiara, in addition to 4 and ½ days consultation with Fay Pallen on implementing strategies in TESL. Workshops offered by Teacher's College focus on enhancing TESL strategies in reading and writing, while the Action Research workshops and consultations focus on teaching ELLs academic language in content areas. The ESL teacher will be covered by a per diem sub in order to attend these workshops. The Title III ESL teacher has attended three ESL workshops in the fall and will attend four more sessions in the springs. Dates of the workshops will be announced at a later date.

In addition, professional meetings consisting of the Title III ESL teacher and two general content teachers in third and fifth grade are carried to focus on the academic language and methodologies used for ELLs in content areas. The group meets once a week for 45 minutes, in addition to the 4 and ½ days consultations with Fay Pallen. During the meeting, the ESL teacher assists the general content teachers in planning their social studies or science lessons. Teachers study and practice the strategies for deconstructing and reconstructing complex read-aloud texts used in the class. They also design differentiated writing tasks for ELLs for these lessons. Language focuses are set to ensure students learn to read and write complex sentences. These strategies are then implemented in the classroom and the afterschool program. Teachers will determine effectiveness and make modifications in subsequent meetings.

All Title III professional development will be provided at no cost to title III.

Part D: Parental Engagement Activities

Describe the parent engagement activities targeted toward parents of ELLs that will impact higher achievement for ELLs. NOTE: These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

- rationale
- schedule and duration
- topics to be covered
- name of provider
- how parents will be notified of these activities

Begin description here: Parents of ELLs who are identified for the afterschool program were notified by the Title III ESL teacher on 14th November, 2012, during the Parents Teacher Conference, about the afterschool ESL program. The ESL teacher gave them an overview on the program and tips on what they can do at home to help their child succeed in the classroom. Interpretation was given to parents throughout the meeting.

Letter to the parents will be sent once a month to report the progress of the ELLs in the afterschool program. The letter describes the skills that students should have learned and gives parents advice on how to practice these skills at home. Besides, students' work, as well as rubrics, are attached to each letter showing their progress. If necessary, the letter and the rubrics will be translated into Spanish or Chinese (Simplified and Traditional) by the parent coordinator and the ESL teacher so that parents can have a complete picture of their children's performance during the afterschool program.

The ESL teacher will make effort to contact parents via friendly phone calls or informal meetings with appropriate interpretation. This is to build a closer relationship with parents so the teacher can have a better understanding of individual needs and concerns.

In addition, parents of ELLs involved in the After-School ESL program will be invited to attend Parent Workshops that address the specific needs of the children involved in the Title III program. There will be 2 workshops held throughout the 2012-13 school year. Each workshop will be held separately for Spanish-speaking parents and Chinese-speaking parents by the ESL teacher, with a translator for each language present at the workshops. The PTA and Parent Coordinator will also help facilitate involvement in these workshops.

The tentative schedule and topics to be addressed in these Parent Workshops are as followed:

Feb 15: Reading Strategies – This workshop aims to emphasize the importance of reading outside the classroom. The Title III ESL teacher will discuss with parents the strategies they can use while reading with their children. The ESL teacher will show clips of reading lessons as to let parents know how conversations are carried when ELLs read. The ESL teacher and parents will uncover useful questioning skills in reading.

Mar 22: Getting Ready for NYSESLAT – This workshop aims to enhance the awareness of the upcoming NYSESLAT. The Title III ESL teacher will discuss the specific language skills that parents should be aware of and the types of activities or exercises that parents can do with their children at home. The ESL teacher will also provide materials and list recourses for parents to use at home.
