Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) Requirements

Which Schools Need to Complete the CEP?

All Reward, Recognition, In Good Standing and Local Assistance Plan (LAP) schools should identify and submit annual goals and action plans in consultation with their School Leadership Team (SLT).

- Explicitly delineate the school's plan for annually increasing student performance through comprehensive instructional programs and services as well as the plan for enhancement of teacher and leader effectiveness.
- Address how the school will use its full range of resources (which may include but is not limited to Title I, Title II, and/or Title III, 1003(a) and/or 1003(g) School Improvement, Race to the Top, School Innovation or local funds) to support improvement efforts for the identified sub-group(s) on the identified accountability measures.
- Develop the CEP in consultation with parents, school staff, the School Leadership Team (SLT), and others in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulations A-655 to provide a meaningful opportunity for stakeholders to participate in the development of the plan and comment on the CEP before it is approved.

Guidance for Developing and Completing the Annual Goals and Action Plan Section

Goal setting for the CEP is done in collaboration with the school community to support student achievement and the implementation of school-wide goals as well as document how your school is meeting Federal, State, and City regulations. For SY 2013-14 when developing their goals, schools should do the following:

- Identify a minimum of three and a maximum of five annual goals.
- Align their goals with the current citywide instructional expectations.
- Develop goals that are "SMART" - specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.
- Conduct a needs assessment of your school
- Use quantitative and/or qualitative data in providing the rationale for each goal.
- Cite sources that contributed to the rationale such as the Progress Report, Quality Review, School Survey, state and school assessment results, attendance records, inquiry team work, etc. to form the basis of your needs assessment.
- Align the identified goals to the strategies and activities in your Parent Involvement Policy (PIP). The PIP template is provided on pages 12 and 13. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school's goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. You may use or amend relevant sections of your PIP so they directly align to the parent involvement activities that support each goal and action plan. All schools should cite strategies to increase parent involvement that align to the goal when applicable. Title I schools should reference these strategies and activities in the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP).
- Enumerate the strategies and activities that will be implemented to achieve each goal.
- Identify all fund sources that will be used for the completion of each activity.
- List the projected timeline for completion of each activity, including the start and end date of each activity.
- Describe the programmatic details and resources that will be used for each instructional strategy and activity described for each goal. Do not include the cost for each line-item-expenditure for the strategies and activities listed within the action plans.

This is a two-year plan on how schools will support ELLs' linguistic and academic needs. This LAP form is a part of the school's CEP. Agendas and minutes of LAP meetings should be kept readily available on file in the school. Also, when preparing your school's submission, provide extended responses in the green spaces. Spell-check has been disabled in this file, so consider typing responses to these questions in a separate file before copying them into the submission form. After reviewing and analyzing the assessment data, answer the following:

1. Describe what assessment tool your school uses to assess the early literacy skills of your ELLs (e.g., ECLAS-2, EL SOL, Fountas and Pinnell, DRA, TCRWP). What insights do the data provide about your ELLs? How will this data help inform your school's instructional plan? Please provide any quantitative data available to support your response.

At PS 38 we utilize the Fountas and Pinnel Benchmark Assessment tool to assess literacy skills. In addition we use writing performance assessment data provided by the school's current literacy program (ReadyGen) to identify deficiencies in writing. This data is used to develop instructional groups and the specific skills and strategies needed to support and improve language acquisition for our ELLs and overall academic achievement of all students. Thusfar our data shows that our ELL scholars struggle with staying focused in their writing, identifying main idea and details, and grade appropriate, academic vocabulary.

2. What is revealed by the data patterns across proficiency levels (on the LAB-R and NYSESLAT) and grades?
The majority of students fall into the Advanced Band (15) with a large amount of students in the Intermediate range (13) and a small group of Beginner students (2). Students tend to score higher in the Listening and Speaking sections with lower relative scores in reading and writing. The majority of our students have been receiving services less than 3 years and the plurality of students move up at least one level each school year.
3. How will patterns across NYSESLAT modalities—reading/writing and listening/speaking—affect instructional decisions? How does your school use information about Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives? What does the data reveal? (see SED memo and AMAO tool)

PS 38 students scored lowest in reading and writing modalities on the NYSESLAT assessment. Students are grouped according to the NYSESLAT proficiency level and their scores in the reading and writing modalities. We have an advanced group of 3rd through 5th graders and a beginner/intemmediate group of 3rd through 5th graders. In the 3rd through 5th grade band student projects focus on reading and writing skills as those modalities are where the students had the lowest scores. In addition to reading and writing projects class time is devoted to building off of the ReadyGen curriculum to provide extra support for students struggling in the classroom. Since most of our students scored advanced or proficient in listening/speaking instruction is focused on building off of existing skills. Newcomer students and students who have lower scores in listening/speaking are grouped together in the lower grades so that targeted lessons in phonics can be administered with a focus on increasing academic vocabulary.

4. For each program, answer the following:
 - a. What are the patterns across proficiencies and grades? How are ELLs faring in tests taken in English as compared to the native language?
 - b. Describe how the school leadership and teachers are using the results of the ELL Periodic Assessments.
 - c. What is the school learning about ELLs from the Periodic Assessments? How is the native language used?

PS 38 currently offers a push-in pull-out ESL program. Students do not take a native language assessment. However, ELL Periodic Assessments have been administered. We have recently taken one and the results are not in as of yet. Results will be reviewed to determine additional supports needed for scholars to ensure improvement towards English language proficiency. The data will be compared to gains made on running records and writing assessments to ensure correlation and teachers will utilize the information to determine the focus in other support structures, i.e. RtI and or AIS.

5. Describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within the Response to Intervention (RtI) framework (for grades K-5). (see RtI Guide for Teachers of ELLs.)

At PS 38 assessments that are administered in the classroom structure as well as City and State assessments help to determine the different supports needed for all scholars. Progress checks are also administered by teachers regularly to monitor progress and determine if additional structures are needed to better support the scholars in reaching English proficiency and overall academic success. For example at the onset of the 13-14 school year the ESL provider reviewed student NYSESLAT and LAB-R data to develop language goals for each scholar. That information was then used to create groups and devise a schedule that would allow the provider to push-in or pull-out depending the needs and goals of each scholar. When the ESL teacher pushes in he may work in a small group with ELL scholars in need of the tier 2 support in the given content area using specific ESL strategies. With other scholars, in need of more intense support, the ESL teacher may utilize materials that will engage a smaller group of ELL scholars on specific strategies i.e. decoding, listening, phonemic awareness.

6. How do you make sure that a child's second language development is considered in instructional decisions?
Information from the both the parent interview and the educational background are used when considering any instructional support structures for a scholar.
7. For dual language programs, answer the following:
 - a. How are the English-proficient students (EPs) assessed in the second (target) language?

- b. What is the level of language proficiency in the second (target) language for EPs?
- c. How are EPs performing on State and City Assessments?

N/A

- 8. Describe how you evaluate the success of your programs for ELLs (e.g. meeting AYP for ELLs, etc.).
Monitor State assessment results, (AYP for ELLs) and student work.

Part IV: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. (Refer to ELL Policy Brief and EPIC.)
At the point of registration at the onset of the school year for a newly admitted student (first time into a NYC Public School), PS 38 follows NYCDOE standard operating procedures for the identification of students eligible for ELL services within the 10 day timeframe as indicated by CR-Part 154. Assigned to registration are the ESL teacher, coaches, a member of the SBST, office staff and a school administrator. The parent coordinator is available for Spanish translation, the dominant language of the community.

Parents are provided with a Home Language Information Survey (HLIS) to complete indicating the language that the student speaks, reads and/or listens to most of the time. The Home Language Information Survey is reviewed by the NYS Certified ESL teacher and/or a school administrator in order to determine eligibility for testing with the LAB-R if indicated. An informal interview with the parent is conducted by the staff assigned to registration and the ESL teacher in order to determine if the child is eligible for testing. The ESL teacher informs the Pupil Accounting Secretary of the correct OTELE code for ATS. The parent is then advised by the school administrator or ESL teacher monitoring the registration process that within 10 days of registration, students are assessed with the LABR. If the students are eligible for ESL services, parents are sent home an Entitlement Letter indicating the child's score and when the parent should attend a Parent Orientation. If the student receives a proficient score then a Non-Entitlement Letter is sent home to the parent indicating that their child is not eligible for ESL services. The ESL teacher administers the LAB-R test within 10 days of the child registering.

If a child is registered for the first time at PS 38/ Roberto Clemente but has attended a NYC Public School in the past, the child's exam history will be sought using the SBIO feature on the NYCDOE ATS. In addition, upon obtaining the student's NYCDOE identification number (OSIS#), an administrator will check into the CAP System to determine if the student is eligible for Special Education Services such as Speech and Language, Special Education Teacher Support Services (SETSS), Occupational Therapy etc. At this time of particular interest, is the instructional program that the student was enrolled at prior to coming to PS 38 as well as the NYSESLAT results. The parent is apprised of the student's exam history obtained. Assigned to registration are the ESL teacher, coaches, a member of the SBST, office staff and a school administrator. The parent coordinator is available for Spanish translation, the dominant language of the community.
2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.
After identifying students entitled for services based on the LAB-R, parents are invited to a Parent Orientation Meeting, where the ESL teacher is present as well as translator if needed. An orientation meeting is held, where a NYCDOE Parent Orientation video is shown in the parent's native language depicting the features of the TBE, DL and ESL programs offered at NYCDOE schools. In addition, parents are given a translated brochure outlining the available language programs available through the NYCDOE. The orientation meeting is conducted within the first 15 days of school after a child has been registered. In addition, the parent orientation will be repeated a second time offering an alternative time for parents to attend the meeting. The parent coordinator and ESL teacher will conduct outreach to parents reminding them of the importance in their attendance at the meeting. If a parent fails to attend, further phone outreach is conducted and sending additional letters home is conducted on a monthly basis. tion here:

3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned, and secured/stored. (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [\[see tool kit\]](#).)

Parent Survey and Parent Choice Letters are distributed at the onset of parent choice for TBE,DL and Freestanding ESL Programs if they are changing schools. After viewing the Parent Orientation Video and reading the brochure, the ESL teacher, Mr. Yakscoe, further explain the programs and any questions that the parents may have with the programs. After that parents are given the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms in their native languages. Parents are asked to read and complete the form and select the program that they would like for their child. The Parent Choice Letter is placed in the student's cumulative folder and a copy is placed in a binder, which is kept in a file cabinet in the ESL room. Placement letters are then sent home to each child indicating the language program the parent has chosen.

Continuation Letters are distributed to parents yearly at the onset of each school year by both the ESL teacher and parent coordinator, Ms. Felix. Continuation Letters are provided for parents based on the data noted on the NYSESLAT test results for the Spring prior to the school year. For example, the NYSESLAT Results for Spring 2013 will be used to determine eligibility for continuation of services for the September 2013-2014 school year. In addition, years of service will be considered for those students no longer eligible to receive services either because they have received 6 years of service and/or an IEP dictates that ESL services are not indicated. In the latter, these students will still be required to take the Spring 2014 NYSESLAT.

The parent coordinator and ESL teacher will conduct outreach to parents reminding them of the importance in their attendance at the orientation meeting. If a parent fails to attend and/or return the forms sent home, further phone outreach is conducted. Any parent, who fails to return the form signed indicating a program of choice, will result in a default into a Free-Standing ESL Program. The parent will be advised in writing and will be provided with information regarding Free-Standing ESL.

4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.

Public School 38 provides parents with information regarding their academic performance on language acquisition. A flyer is sent home to all parents of English Language Learners (ELL's) in an effort to invite them to a general meeting where the purpose is to inform them of the following. The letter is sent home in the native languages identified via the HLIS and/or the NYCDOE's ATS. The Office of Translation provides translation services in languages such as Bengali and dialects of Africa that are indicated for PS 38. A Meeting is held to apprise parents of choice in Spanish and English. Where a translator is required, a SIPP will be generated to seek translation services from NYCDOE Approved Vendors.

- Letter where the parent selects their program of preference at PS 38

5. Describe the steps taken to administer all sections of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) to all ELLs each year.

A schedule will be created and students will be pulled from classes and the ESL teacher will administer the reading, writing, and listening in small groups of students at the same level. The ELL teacher and another pedagogue will then pull students individually to administed the speaking portion of the NYSESLAT test.

6. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.) Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway. ①

The trend in program choice that parents have requested has remained relatively consistent as roughly half of the incoming parents chose TBE (3/6) with 2 ESL and one Dual Language program first choice. However, none of the parents wanted to transfer their students from PS 38. There is a consistent request for TBE however, due to the low number of ELLs in contiguous grades it is unfeasible to create a TBE classroom as they fail to meet the required 15 student minimum.

Part V: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered? (see The Practitioners' Work Group for Accelerating English Language Learner Student Achievement: Nine Common Features of Successful Programs for ELLs)
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., departmentalized, push-in [co-teaching], pull-out, collaborative, self-contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?

Public School 38 currently offers a freestanding ESL Push In/Pull Out Model of Instruction. Each grade contains one general education class and one CTT Class. There is also a self contained 3/4/5 bridge class however there are no ELLs in that class. The students in each grade are heterogeneously grouped in classes, however a student, who demonstrates that he/she could benefit from a specialized teacher services at risk, the child is place in the CTT class on the general education side of the class.

The

Push In Model requires that the ESL teacher push into classes and service students according to acquisition levels. A schedule to push into classes is created by an administrator and the ESL teacher based on NYSESLAT results. The ESL teacher may have one or two groups, where a Pull Out Model is utilized based on the students' ability to focus on the lesson and/or needs for language development.

The design of the SIFE/ Newcomers/ ELL's 3 years or less/ ELL's six years or more instructional program is contingent on the level of language acquisition and level of performance on grade level curricula goals.

ESL Push In and Pull Out Program

PS 38 ELL population is small and allows for Push In and Pull Out services for our ELL students. The ESL teacher visits the mainstream classroom and provides cross-content support to students of mixed ability levels during their mandated number of ESL minutes per week as indicated on the CR 154. Occasionally students are "pulled out" and are worked with in small groups to provide further instruction. In addition, students who have demonstrated at grade level proficiency in English are provided with one more year of services as a means of support and intervention. In, Push In and Pull Out services by the ESL teacher are accommodated within the Literacy block/ Math/Writing/ Social Studies/Science Instructional blocks.

2. How does the organization of your staff ensure that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, ESL)?
 - a. How are explicit ESL, ELA, and NLA instructional minutes delivered in each program model as per CR Part 154 (see table below)?

Explicit Instruction: ESL/ ELA

All Teachers follow the ReadyGen curriculum during ELA instruction. Instructional Units have been provided for all teachers of each grade. The Literacy Coach provides Professional Development during monthly grade meetings and monthly staff meetings prior to the units in an effort to assist teachers with instructional planning. Please see below:

ESL

The ESL program at P.S. 38 incorporates the essential element of explicit instruction for all lessons, especially when focused on reading and writing proficiency. Explicit instruction is provided for each language modality through the use of research-based resources and instructional interventions that have carefully been selected by the ESL teacher in conjunction with the school administration. An example of the explicit instruction incorporated into daily ESL lessons is listed below for each modality:

- 1.) Listening: The students engage in authentic oral interactions through the use of audio media. The teacher uses such media to provide instruction in the area of oral comprehension through the modeling of altered voice velocities, accents, vocal timbres, and speaker genders. The students are also instructed in listening for important details.
- 2.) Speaking: The students are presented with key points related to oral communication in a variety of situations. The students are exposed to the key tenets of oral discourse theory as pertaining to multi-circumstantial situations.
- 3.) Reading: The students are provided with explicit reading instruction that parallels that of the ELA instruction administered to students in the monolingual program. The students are offered a teacher read-aloud at the start of the reading lesson. Reading comprehension strategies are reinforced in mini-lessons prior to the guided reading component of the lesson. Explicit instruction in phonemic awareness is a concentration of the primary grades, while a focus in more explicit comprehension instruction presides over the upper grade lessons. Routine assessment offers a bearing to the progress and achievement made by students in the area of explicit phonemic/comprehension skills.
- 4.) Writing: While engaging in the writing process, ELLs are provided with an explicit awareness of the writing process. Mini lessons include explicit instruction in the way of English language structures through explicit grammar awareness. Selected elements of an English grammar/writing program were purchased to reinforce these skills during writing mini-lessons. Routine assessment in the area of explicit grammar and writing skills accompanies this program resource for the tracking of student achievement solely in the area of writing. Through a careful balance of explicit instruction throughout the language modalities, the students are guided to higher English proficiency. Progress is documented through careful observation of ELL students and the data that generates from the skills instruction assessments.

90 minute Reading and Writing block in English. The components of the literacy block in Grades K-5 are designed to develop Phonics, Phonemic Awareness, Vocabulary, Fluency and Comprehension. The school offers ReadyGen curriculum towards a balanced literacy program that is delivered via a Read Aloud, Modeling and Mini Lesson, Shared Reading and Writing, Guided Practice, Guided and Independent Reading activities.

- During the onset of the Reading Lesson the teacher will begin the lesson with the development of oral language utilizing poems, short stories, chants and rhymes to teach phonics, develop phonemic awareness and fluency during reading. Listening skills are also developed. The students participate in center activities where they practice and review skills furthering cognitive language. Teachers will use various ESL strategies and best practices that will support second language learners. A strong emphasis is placed on language instruction via the Phonics, Phonemic Awareness and Vocabulary components of the literacy block, where at least 45 minutes of instruction takes place in English with a focus of developing cognitive academic language proficiency for ELLs with the classroom teacher. The ESL teacher further supports the development of the second language by providing 360 minutes of instruction of the English language weekly.
- During the Read Aloud teachers will engage the students in various activities that help to support or model the English language for ELLs. Teacher can actually read aloud a story stopping intermittently to check for understanding and further develop oral language by supporting 'accountable talk' session with students.
- During the mini lesson, the teacher provides explicit instruction in developing those concepts and skills for second language learners and other students. The teacher provides an opportunity where he/she models what he/she wants the students to be able to do through the use of explicit instruction and "think alouds". The teacher conducts a shared reading/listening activity, where he/she checks for understanding of what he/she has modeled.

- During the Guided Practice or the Guided Reading block, the teacher utilizes reading materials at the children's instructional level to provide support of those skills necessary for good readers in the second language utilizing those ESL strategies proved to be supportive for second language learners. A strong emphasis is placed on language instruction via the Phonics, Phonemic Awareness and Vocabulary components during guided practice, where at least 30 minutes of instruction takes place in English with a focus of developing cognitive academic language proficiency for ELLs with the classroom teacher. A second teacher, Reading Specialist, pushes into the regular literacy block to provide further support for those students who are identified as second language learners or students below grade level expectations in reading and writing.
- Independent Reading is offered daily to develop stamina as well as giving students the opportunity to practice the reading comprehension skill taught in the mini lesson while reading in the second language at the students' independent reading level

100 minutes of Mathematics

100 minutes of Mathematics is taught in English using the Go Math Mathematics program as well utilizing a workshop model approach to teaching Mathematics. The students engage in a Read aloud activity where the teacher can discuss solving of the 'Problem of the Day, Homework Review, actually reading aloud a story that will motivate the students' interest in the proposed lesson for the day. The teacher quickly transitions to a Mini lesson, where the math vocabulary, skill or concept is developed. The teacher engages the students in a shared activity where he/she checks for understanding. The students are then engaged in guided math groups for activities that support practice, review and enrichment during the lesson. A second teacher pushes into the Math lesson to further support ELLs as well as those students identified as academically at risk. The teachers engage the students in a game component where skills are further enhanced via the Go Math Math Games.

50 minutes each of Social Studies, Science, Art, Music, Computer Technology and Writing is also offered as part of the instructional day.

All content areas are taught utilizing a workshop model approach.

- 37 ½ Minutes of instructional support 4 days per week in small groups for Reading /Math
- Academic Intervention during the 90 minute literacy block by a Reading specialist, Special Education Teacher Support Services (SETSS) and/or ESL. Enrichment

Those students who are scoring at or above grade level expectations are offered enrichment in Reading and Math via an afternoon pull out to further support academic progress.

ESL Push In/ Pull Out Model

ESL teacher will utilize a push in and pull out model to service those students who have been identified as ELL's and placed in an English only instructional setting as per parental opt out of a bilingual setting. In addition, the ESL teacher will continue to provide instructional support.

3. Describe how the content areas are delivered in each program model. Please specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods used to make content comprehensible to foster language development and meet the demands of the Common Core Learning Standards.

Free standing ESL is the only structure currently offered at PS 38. Therefore all scholars participate in content area instruction with their general monolingual classmates. When possible the ESL provider pushes in to support instruction or pull's out and infuses ESL methodologies to support language acquisition.

4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages throughout the year?
N/A
5. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in all four modalities of English acquisition throughout the year?

Students take baseline assessments that evaluate their language skills in all four modalities at the beginning of the year. They are then tested again after each quarter to determine progress in each of the four modalities. In addition ESL activities are designed to assess student skill levels in each of the four modalities through both daily lessons and the larger unit plan. End of unit assessments have reading, writing, listening, and speaking components to determine English acquisition success in each of the modalities.

6. How do you differentiate instruction for ELL subgroups?

- a. Describe your instructional plan for SIFE.
- b. Describe your plan for ELLs who have been in US schools less than three years (newcomers)..
- c. Describe your plan for ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years.
- d. Describe your plan for long-term ELLs (completed 6+ years).
- e. Describe your plan for former ELLs (in years 1 and 2 after testing proficient).

The design of the SIFE/ Newcomers/ ELL's 3 years or less/ ELL's six years or more etc instructional program is contingent on the level of language acquisition and level of performance on grade level curricula goals.

7. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials do teachers of ELL-SWDs use that both provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development?

All of our ELL-SWD's are in CTT classrooms with two teachers, including a Special Education teacher. In addition, some of our ELLSWD's receive additional SETTs services, working in small groups on all content areas to either re-teach and/or reinforce skills that have been taught by the classroom teachers. Throughout the day, teachers differentiate instruction based on student needs with the use of scaffolding techniques, graphic organizers and game. In addition, teachers work with students in small groups in every subject area based on student needs. Teachers and students also set short, interim and long-term goals for students in each subject area. These goals, along with the student's IEP goals and the curriculum scope and sequence, guide teachers in their instruction. In addition, teachers conference with students on a regular basis in order to monitor progress and track growth. Teachers in all grades use Everyday Math, and differentiate students based on ability levels in small groups on a daily basis. All grades also use the ReadyGen writing curriculum. Teachers in grades K-2 use ReadyGen reading curriculum. Teachers in grades 3-5 implement ReadyGen's reading curriculum. Students in all grades who are in need of phonics remediation use Wilson's Foundations program. The ESL teacher also implements Houghton Mifflin's English curriculum, which focuses on incorporating grammar skills into speaking, reading, and writing fiction and non-fiction pieces. All of these researched programs are supplemented by teacher-created support tools as mentioned above.

8. How does your school use curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to enable diverse ELL-SWDs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

PS 38 has a CTT class on each grade (K-5) and one 3/4/5 bridge class. All of our ELL-SWDs are in CTT classes with no ELLs in the 3/4/5 bridge class. We do not have any 12:1 classes at PS 38. Having our ELLs in CTT classes allows for our ELLs to be in the least restrictive environment. As stated above, PS 38 follows ReadyGen writing curriculum and Everyday Math in grades K-5 along with ReadyGen for reading in K-2 and ReadyGen curriculum for reading in 3-5. Although these are structured programs, teachers are required to differentiate with the use of instructional materials as well as small groups to meet student needs. This flexibility allows teachers, including the ESL and SETTs teacher to meet instructional goals in student's learning. Additionally, the SETTs, ESL and other special needs service providers work with the classroom teachers in order to make a schedule that, when possible, best fits the student's and the teacher's needs, making sure to push in to the classroom to work on skills that are aligned with a student's individual needs. Finally, the ESL teacher and other service providers articulate with teachers on the progress that their students are making and set new learning goals.

Native Language Usage and Supports

The chart below is a visual representation designed to show the variation of native language usage and supports across the program models. Please note that native language support is never zero.

TBE and dual language programs have both native language arts and subject areas taught in the native language; ESL has native language supports.

B. Programming and Scheduling Information--Continued

9. Describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, math, and other content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Please list the range of intervention services offered in your school for the above areas as well as the language(s) in which they are offered.

Targeted interventions include a push in model for support of all ELLs in ELA and Math by an AIS teacher in addition to push in model support for ESL services. A pull out model of support is also established via Literacy Coaches. Literacy coaches will pull out for a 30 minute tutorial based on reading levels and specific skill in Reading and Writing during the instructional day in the targeted language; English. In addition, all ELLs are part of the 37 1/2 tutorial within their grades for small group instruction which is imbedded into the school day. Teacher of students in early childhood grades use Harcourt Brace Story Town Intervention kits for ELLs. In addition, Dibbles Beginning of the Year, Middle of the Year and End of the Year Benchmark assessments are used to determine progress in phonemic awareness, fluency, vocabulary and comprehension of the English Language. The students are assessed at various intervals of performance.

Students scoring at benchmark levels are assessed every 4-6 weeks on targeted skills, strategic students are assessed monthly and intervention students are assessed every two weeks.

Upper grades follow a similar model. Below are some other resources used.

- ReadyGen reading and writing curriculum
- Trade Books
- Text Talk
- Focus on Learning
- Voyager
- Wilson
- Foundations (Wilson for Early Childhood)
- Great Source Writing Pgm.

10. Describe the effectiveness of your current program and how it is meeting the needs of your ELLs in both content and language development.

The program has been very effective at meeting students needs as there has been consistent progress with students proficiency levels from year to year. 13 students advanced at least one proficiency level while only 5 stayed at the same proficiency level and 2 dropped proficiency levels. PS 38 approaches language development through both a social and an academic context and looks to provide students with skills that can work both inside and outside the classroom. Students progression at both the academic and social level highlights the programs effectiveness in ELLs acquisition of the English Language.

11. What new programs or improvements will be considered for the upcoming school year?

For the 2014-2015 school year our goal is to increase the number of push-in opportunities through strategic classroom assignments for high intermediate and advanced ELL students. The collaboration between the classroom teacher and ESL provider will help to strengthen and increase English language acquisition for these scholars through increase vocabulary development the use of ESL methodologies to support reading comprehension instruction.

12. What programs/services for ELLs will be discontinued and why?

No programs or services for ELLs will be discontinued.

13. How are ELLs afforded equal access to all school programs? Describe after school and supplemental services offered to ELLs in your building.

Contingent on availability of school funds, all ELL students will take part in Reading and Math After-school Programs. In addition, ELL students will take part in Sports and Arts afterschool Programs offering enrichment in sports such as soccer, basketball and tennis. They can have options to participate in computers, visual arts and dance. They are also offered to take part in homework assistance during the school day. The ELL students take part in music with Education Through Music. PS 38 also has just implemented a band in Grade 5. PS 38 also offers 4th and 5th grade ELL student participation in the PS 38 basketball team, which plays against other school teams in East Harlem. Students in grades 3-5 are also invited to run and participate in PS 38's student government.

14. What instructional materials, including technology, are used to support ELLs (include content area as well as language materials; list ELL subgroups if necessary)?
Each classroom has a minimum of 2 computers. Upper grade teachers are beginning to use Smart Boards for instruction. Each class is provided with one prep weekly, where ELL students visit the Computer Room and receive instruction in Technology and Social Studies targeting research skills.
15. How is native language support delivered in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, and ESL)?
Native Language support is provided at PS 38 through trade books in the schools library in students home language as well as support and outreach in both English and home language. PS 38 does not have a TBE or Dual language program.
16. Explain how the required services support, and resources correspond to ELLs' ages and grade levels.
Books and resources are provided at all reading levels. When and wherever possible dual language materials are also provided.
17. Describe activities in your school that assist newly enrolled ELL students before the beginning of the school year. Please include activities for new ELLs who enroll throughout the school year.
Newly arrived students, whose native language is one other than English, who elect to remain at PS 38 are placed in a classroom when available where there is a child available who speaks the same or similar language. This allows the student to feel more at ease in his/her new school setting. In addition, the child is assigned a buddy to help support the child. His/her parents are invited to remain with the child for a specified amount of time; especially if they have arrived in the US a very short time ago.
18. What language electives are offered to ELLs?
No language electives are currently offered to ELLs
19. For schools with dual language programs:
 - a. How much time (%) is the target language used for EPs and ELLs in each grade?
 - b. How much of the instructional day are EPs and ELLs integrated? What content areas are taught separately?
 - c. How is language separated for instruction (time, subject, teacher, theme)?
 - d. What Dual Language model is used (side-by-side, self-contained, other)?
 - e. Is emergent literacy taught in child's native language first (sequential), or are both languages taught at the same time (simultaneous)?

- Understanding the Common Core Learning Standards
- Implementing the literacy and Mathematics shifts in instruction
- Using the Danielson Framework for Teaching as a tool for engagin in quality practice

C2. Additional PD is provided in smaller grade level settings for teacher teams around looking at student work and data analysis as well as planning for the different student needs in your classroom.

Finally professional development is also provided to the individual teacher based on needs identified through formal and informal observations.

C3. ELL scholars engage in all activities and supports provided to non ELL's. They attend open houses for middle schools, 5th grade scholars are counceled individuallly and in a group regarding what is to come in middle school.

C4. Teachers are introduced to a variety of teaching strategies that will help to engage the differing learners in their individual classrooms including ELLs and SWD's. Strategies include but are not limited to the following:

- Improve understanding and use of academic vocabulary

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2013-2014 TO 2014-2015

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 04M038 School Name: Roberto Clemente Learning Center 38

Cluster: 6 Network: 607

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

The Home Language Surveys are used to determine language dominance of both students and parents. Moreover, when parents come in for formal or informal conferences language dominance is also determined. Every attempt is made to communicate with parents. Spanish interpretations are available at the school level. Central Translation services have been used to translate forms and letters in languages other than the languages spoken and available at the school level.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

The major findings are that parents who speak a language other than English do need interpretation services. The two languages that are of dominance within our ESL population is Spanish. These findings are communicated to the school community via PTA meetings, SLT meetings, Executive Board meetings, Faculty Conferences and letters and memos sent to all constituencies. Additionally, the School Report card is visited frequently throughout the school year to discuss ethnicity and other data that is pertinent to our English Language Learners.

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Most letters and forms are translated in Spanish at the school level. All other letters that do not come from Central are sent to the Translation Service that is provided by Central to translate. We have been fortunate that all translation that is needed at the school level is provided.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

Oral interpretation is available at the school level. Office staff and teachers are available to support with Spanish translations as needed. The Parent Coordinator has also provided oral translation support as needed. For support in languages other than Spanish the Central Translation service will be employed.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link:
<http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

All letters are translated in Spanish and, if needed, in other languages they are sent to the Central Translation Service for translation. Oral Interpretations are available in Spanish and children in need of evaluations in a language other than English are assessed in the language of the home based on the Home Language Survey. When the school is not able to provide the translation services, the school reaches out to the Network for support. I have a Translation Coordinator who sends letters, forms or flyers to Central that need to be translated into languages other than the languages spoken at the school level which are Spanish or English.

Public School 38/ Roberto Clemente proposes to utilize Title III grant funds to create a supplemental program for ELL's/LEPs that would support the development of vocabulary to enhance reading comprehension and writing skills in order to increase academic performance. Towards this end, we propose an after-school instructional program that will focus on enhancing the school's regular ESL program in order to encourage and motivate acquisition and learning of cognitive academic language indicated on the 2012 NYSESLAT. four teachers teaching the groups. two fo the teahcers paid by title iii. The program will service ELL and at risk currently EP but former ELL students of Grades 1-5. The afterschool program runs three days a week from December 3, 2012- April 2013 on Tuesday, Wednesdays and Thursday, during the hours of 3:15pm to 4:45pm. Four teachers will instruct small groups of ELLs. Only two of the four teachers are paid using Title III funds. All the teachers will work in collaboration with the ESL teacher. They will plan and co teach with the ESL teacher. They will use ESL instructional strategies that encourage social interaction further developing basic interpersonal skills, while developing academic concepts that correlate with the classroom environment in a natural approach.

2012 NYS ELA data suggests that ELLs have demonstrated progress in Grades 3 & 5. However ELLs in Grade 3 also demonstrated that they performed below grade level expectations. This impacts students now in Grade 3 and 5. 2012 NYSESLAT indicates that students in Grades 1-2 demonstrate performance at the Beginner -Intermediate range with Reading & Writing as the lowest scores. ELL students in Grades 3-5 score overall at the Intermediate- Advance range with Reading & Writing as the lowest scores. Teacher running records indicate that ELLs in Grades 3-5 read at levels below grade level appropriate range when compared to the established Independent Readabilty Levels by Fountas & Pinnell and Teachers' College.
