Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) Requirements

Which Schools Need to Complete the CEP?

All Reward, Recognition, In Good Standing and Local Assistance Plan (LAP) schools should identify and submit annual goals and action plans in consultation with their School Leadership Team (SLT).

- Explicitly delineate the school's plan for annually increasing student performance through comprehensive instructional programs and services as well as the plan for enhancement of teacher and leader effectiveness.
- Address how the school will use its full range of resources (which may include but is not limited to Title I, Title II, and/or Title III, 1003(a) and/or 1003(g) School Improvement, Race to the Top, School Innovation or local funds) to support improvement efforts for the identified sub-group(s) on the identified accountability measures.
- Develop the CEP in consultation with parents, school staff, the School Leadership Team (SLT), and others in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulations A-655 to provide a meaningful opportunity for stakeholders to participate in the development of the plan and comment on the CEP before it is approved.

Guidance for Developing and Completing the Annual Goals and Action Plan Section

Goal setting for the CEP is done in collaboration with the school community to support student achievement and the implementation of school-wide goals as well as document how your school is meeting Federal, State, and City regulations. For SY 2013-14 when developing their goals, schools should do the following:

- Identify a minimum of three and a maximum of five annual goals.
- Align their goals with the current citywide instructional expectations.
- Develop goals that are "SMART" - specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.
- Conduct a needs assessment of your school
- Use quantitative and/or qualitative data in providing the rationale for each goal.
- Cite sources that contributed to the rationale such as the Progress Report, Quality Review, School Survey, state and school assessment results, attendance records, inquiry team work, etc. to form the basis of your needs assessment.
- Align the identified goals to the strategies and activities in your Parent Involvement Policy (PIP). The PIP template is provided on pages 12 and 13. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school's goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. You may use or amend relevant sections of your PIP so they directly align to the parent involvement activities that support each goal and action plan. All schools should cite strategies to increase parent involvement that align to the goal when applicable. Title I schools should reference these strategies and activities in the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP).
- Enumerate the strategies and activities that will be implemented to achieve each goal.
- Identify all fund sources that will be used for the completion of each activity.
- List the projected timeline for completion of each activity, including the start and end date of each activity.
- Describe the programmatic details and resources that will be used for each instructional strategy and activity described for each goal. Do not include the cost for each line-item-expenditure for the strategies and activities listed within the action plans.

School Receiving Title I Funds

School Wide Program (SWP) and Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools receiving Title I funds are required to complete the Title I Information Page located on page 11 of the CEP.

Goal and Action Plan #2

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #2

Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.

By June 2014, 90% of the identified “at risk” students in grades 1 and 2 will be provided with targeted interventions to meet their specific needs in reading as measured by the Teachers College Reading Writing Project Benchmark Assessments and will demonstrate progress by increasing their reading levels by at least two Fountas and Pinnell reading level.

Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students, in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

Early intervention of low performing students is key to ensuring that all students achieve high levels in literacy and make progress across content areas. PS 112 has a large population of students with disabilities and English Language learners. PS 112 has 10 ASD Nest classes. Out of the 10 ASD Nest classes two are Dual Language classes. PS 112 6 ICT classes and 1 self- contained classes. PS112 has a large number of English Language learners. There are many students who receive related services only. Student progress will be measured by the TCRWP Literacy Benchmark Assessments, Fountas and Pinnell Reading Assessment' writing samples, performance tasks, inquiry based projects, videos and digital photographs of student work products. PS 112 has a Response to Intervention Plan. (RTI) and an RTI team. PS 112 is implementing a school wide multi-tiered prevention/intervention system that focuses on the core components of RTI: Use of a multi-tiered prevention system, screening, data based decision making and progress monitoring.

Based on the Teachers College Reading Writing Project Literacy Assessments, Fountas and Pinnell Benchmark Assessments; the 2013 ELA and NYSESLAT data, LAB R data, it is evident that we need to continue to provide targeted interventions to all "at risk" students. PS 112 has a large population of students with disabilities and English Language learners who have been identified as "at risk." These students need to participate in the extended day program and be provided with interventions to target their specific needs. PS 112 provides targeted differentiated small group instruction during the school day. Many "at risk" students are provided with "at risk" SETSS and Reading Recovery by two Reading Recovery teachers and one "F Status" Reading Recovery teacher. PS 112 also has an intervention teacher who works with "at risk" Kindergarten students in reading. During our Extended Day Program, we are implementing the research based Fountas and Pinnell Leveled Literacy Intervention System.

Instructional Strategies/Activities

Describe the research-based school wide reform instructional strategies and activities that will be used to achieve the goal in part A. Enumerate each strategy/activity and its corresponding subsection in parts B, C, D, and E. For each strategy/activity identified in part A, a corresponding item must be provided in parts B, C, D, and E.

Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students, in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.
Parents are key partners in their child's education. Increasing parent involvement is crucial to improving student outcomes. While PS 112 has a significant amount of parents involved in school activities, we continue to strive for greater participation of parents. We need to continue to improve home/school communication and engagement. We want to engage more parents in decision making and promote active involvement in the school community. PS 112 used the results of the 2012-2013 Learning Environment Survey to develop the action plan.

Strategies to Increase Parental Involvement

All schools should cite strategies to increase parent involvement that aligned to the goal when applicable. Title I schools should reference these activities in your school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP).

PS 112 will take the following actions to involve parents in joint development of its school's parent involvement plan under section 112 of the ESEA. PS 112 will jointly develop with and distribute to parents the written parent involvement policy sharing participation of parents with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. The school Leadership Team, members of the Title I Parent Advisory Committee will meet to write the parent involvement plan. They will seek input from parents using focus groups, parent meetings and surveys. A parent meeting will be held annually to discuss achievement by providing support in literacy, math, science, social studies and the use of technology to foster parent involvement. At PS 112, we have an open door policy in which parents are encouraged to engage in activities in the classroom that promote greater understanding of our academic standards. We welcome parents as partners in the school through the activities such as Parents As Reading and Math Buddies, reading and writing celebrations, performances and exhibitions and videoconferencing activities. The school will take the following actions to ensure information related to the school and parent programs, meetings and other activities is sent to parents of participating children in an understandable and uniform format, including alternate formats upon request, and to the extent practicable, in the language the parents can understand. Letters and written correspondence is provided to parents in their native language. For parents that need further assistance, they are verbally instruction on school and parent programs. The parent coordinator is available to meet with parents and support them.

Coordination and Integration of Federal, State, and Local Services and Programs

Describe how the coordination and integration of Federal, State, and/or local funds are used to meet the intent and purpose programs whose funds are consolidated (i.e., services for Students in Temporary Housing (STH), violence prevention programs, housing programs, Head Start, etc.).

The School Leadership Team includes seven parent members, the principal, teachers and support staff to ensure the effective coordination of services and programs for students. Title I services are integrated with Title I professional development initiatives, bilingual programs (Title III and Part 154), special education initiatives and services for students living in temporary housing. All programs support the attainment of high standards for all students. PS 112 has a partnership with Head Start programs that focus on transitioning students from head Start to PS 112. The Head Start teachers visit PS 112 classrooms. We visit head Start programs to inform parents about PS 112 and we host tours of the school.

PS 112 has a Wellness in Schools Program that provides healthy and nutritious lunches in the cafeteria and provides workshops for both students and parents on cooking healthy foods throughout the school year.

Funds are set aside to support Students in Temporary Housing to ensure that they get the supports they need. (Title 1 funds)

Directions and Guidance for Developing and Updating the Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) (Required for Title I Schools ONLY)

The template below meets the parental involvement requirements of Title I. Your school is encouraged to use the template below to update your school's current policy or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. The activities and/or strategies included in your school's policy should align with current CEP goals for improving student achievement.

The PIP should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent involvement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact is a component of the PIP that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility. Schools are encouraged to include feedback from the Parent Coordinator when updating the policy. In addition, if your school community will be engaged this year in central parent involvement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in your policy.

Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) Template

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental involvement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent involvement program that will ensure effective involvement of parents and community in our school. Therefore, our school, in compliance with the Section 1118 of Title I, Part A of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, is responsible for creating and implementing a parent involvement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between our school and the families. Our school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association, and Title I Parent Committee as trained volunteers and welcomed members of our school community. Our school will support parents and families of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;

Our school's Parent Involvement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of English Language Learners and students with disabilities. Our school community will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent involvement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of our school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents, and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent Involvement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent Involvement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend our school and will work to ensure that our school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;

After reviewing and analyzing the assessment data, answer the following:

1. Describe what assessment tool your school uses to assess the early literacy skills of your ELLs (e.g., ECLAS-2, EL SOL, Fountas and Pinnell, DRA, TCRWP). What insights do the data provide about your ELLs? How will this data help inform your school's instructional plan? Please provide any quantitative data available to support your response.

Our school uses several assessment tools, that allow us to analyze our ELLs learning patters. For Literacy we use Fountas and Pinnell Benchmark assessment (English). We also use Fountas and Pinnell's "Sistema de Evaluacion de la Lectura" in both our TBE and Dual Language Program to establish a baseline for our EP's and ELL students. As a progress monitoring assessment we use TCRWP assessments unfortunately these tools are not in Spanish, limiting our tools to progres monitor the language acquisition in Spanish for our EP students. Informal and teacher-created Spanish assessments are used to inform us how the EP students are acquiring the new language. All the data from the assessments is utilized to set individual goals, create guided reading groups, provide additional support during the independent reading work as well as during the other parts of the literacy block, such as, during shared reading, writing and phonological worsd study.

2. What is revealed by the data patterns across proficiency levels (on the LAB-R and NYSESLAT) and grades?
Our NYSESLAT data shows that ten percent of our ELLs scored proficient and 85% of our students advanced from one proficiency level to another across the grades. At a closer analysis, the areas of need is in reading and writing while students score higher in listening and speaking.
3. How will patterns across NYSESLAT modalities—reading/writing and listening/speaking—affect instructional decisions? How does your school use information about Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives? What does the data reveal? (see SED memo and AMAO tool)

While we have the overall score for the NYSESLAT, a drilldown by modality is not available. We need to continue our work on the areas of reading and writing.

4. For each program, answer the following:
 - a. What are the patterns across proficiencies and grades? How are ELLs faring in tests taken in English as compared to the native language?
 - b. Describe how the school leadership and teachers are using the results of the ELL Periodic Assessments.
 - c. What is the school learning about ELLs from the Periodic Assessments? How is the native language used?

The majority of our students across the grades advanced from one proficiency level to the next when compared with 2012's NYSESLAT scores. Since our school is a Pre-K to 2 school, our students are not eligible to take the ELA, math, Science exams or the ELL Periodic Assessments.

5. Describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within the Response to Intervention (RtI) framework (for grades K-5). (see RtI Guide for Teachers of ELLs.)

RtI is an instructional model that aims at prevention and early intervention through a tiered system of instructional support—one that adds layers of instructional support to the standard core curriculum delivered in a school, based on the demonstrated and changing needs of the student learners. This includes levels of intervention and instruction that increase in duration and intensity over time; as students improve, measured by reliable and valid assessments, the extra supports are removed. Teachers differentiate according to students' needs.

6. How do you make sure that a child's second language development is considered in instructional decisions?
In our Spanish Dual language and Transitional Bilingual Education programs, native language is part of our daily schedule. We have an ASD and ICT Dual Language program in Kindergarten and first grade; follow the roller coaster model. Half of the day is taught in Spanish and the other half is in English. KKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKK

7. For dual language programs, answer the following:
 - a. How are the English-proficient students (EPs) assessed in the second (target) language?
 - b. What is the level of language proficiency in the second (target) language for EPs?
 - c. How are EPs performing on State and City Assessments?

A. The English proficient students are assessed using the Fountas & Pinnell's Benchmark assessment for ELA and Discovery Math for the Math Assessment as per NYC DOE mandates.

B. The level of language proficiency in the target language is at a beginning level for 5 out of 8 EP's students and Intermediate for 3 out of 8 students.

C. Our dual language program is in its second year only. Our students have not taken City or State tests as of this date.

8. Describe how you evaluate the success of your programs for ELLs (e.g. meeting AYP for ELLs, etc.).

EVALUATION OF ELL PROGRAM SUCCESS

PS 112 is an early childhood school and has grades PreK-2. The ESL teacher also works in the Push-In format with the Pre-K classes. The following assessments are used to evaluate ELL success: NYSESLAT, TCRWP, LAB-R, reading assessments, conferencing notes, collaborative assessment of student progress in teacher / service provider meetings, monthly guided reading reports, writing samples, student projects, and other student-created work. The results of this body of student work inform the teachers of the students' strengths as well as areas for improvement or continued instruction. Teachers at PS 112 are in constant communication with one another so that they might gain insights through idea sharing and collaborative planning.

After examining all the assessment results and data, the teachers and staff who work with ELLs can continue the speaking and listening teaching methodologies and focus more energy on the reading and writing teaching methodologies. The ultimate goal of the ESL program is to equip the students with the tools necessary to achieve proficiency in all four language modalities (listening, speaking, reading, and writing). Once they have attained such proficiency, they will be better prepared to achieve success in all content areas of their scholastic endeavors. The key of this undertaking is not to reduce the students' exposure to content, but rather to enrich the introduction of their regular content area studies using such ESL methodologies as Total Physical Response (TPR), the use of pictures and gestures, accessing students' prior knowledge, role playing, varied exposure to all forms of media, a heightened awareness and sensitivity to the students' home culture and language. It is a priority of all staff who work with ELLs to encourage the continued improvement and usage of native language supports in their teaching. We will continue to rigorously monitor student progress monthly using a variety of authentic assessments.

Part IV: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. (Refer to ELL Policy Brief and EPIC.)

When a student enters PS 112 as a new admit (either as a Kindergarten student or as a transfer from outside the city of New York), the parent and child are present during registration in order to have the Home Language Information Survey (HLIS) administered to the parents by a certified pedagogue as well as an interview with the child. The pedagogue at PS 112 who is responsible for identifying ELLs, testing ELLs, notifying parents, and conducting interviews is Rachel Lindsay, the ESL teacher. She has a Master's degree in, and is a certified teacher of ESL. She also speaks Mandarin Chinese, French, and German. PS 112 also has trained a Bilingual teacher in administering the HLIS and conducting interviews with the new admit. When Spanish translations are needed for the initial screening interviews, either Ms. Valck, Bilingual teacher or the assistance of the Parent Coordinator Diana Martinez-Molano who is a fluent and native speaker of Spanish is used. Based on the questions answered by the parent, and the responses given during the interview with the child, a determination is made regarding the child's home language (HL). If the HL is determined to be other than English, the language code (e.g., MN for Mandarin Chinese) is entered on the HLIS. Only those new students admitted to the NYC Department of Education for the first time and with no previous record of having been administered a LAB-R before; who have a HL other than English, are eligible to be administered the Language Assessment Battery-Revised (LAB-R) exam.

All parents or guardians of newly enrolled students are required to complete a Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS), administered by a trained pedagogue. This survey lets school staff know what language is used in the home. If the HLIS indicates that the child uses a language other than English, he or she is administered an English proficiency test called the Language Assessment Battery-Revised (LAB-R). Performance on this test determines the child's entitlement to English language development support services. (If LAB-R results show that a child is an ELL and Spanish is used in the home, he or she must also take a Spanish LAB to determine language dominance.)

When a student enters PS 112 as a transfer s/he is screened using ATS to see if a home language code has been entered by another school in the New York City Department of Education (NYCDOE). If a language other than English has been entered, the student's information is then checked to see if s/he has ever been administered the LAB-R exam. Based on those results, the student is either tested or placed in the appropriate setting. If the student was given the LAB-R and tested as a proficient speaker of English, the code "N" will appear in the student's exam history indicating that they are "not eligible". In other words, they are not considered an English Language Learner (ELL) and are not eligible for English as a Second Language (ESL) services. The student would then be placed in a monolingual (English) classroom setting and the parent will be notified of their child's results and placement.

In April when the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) is offered the following steps are taken:

* An eligibility RLEG report is printed from ATS to ensure that all ELLs are accounted for and administered the test. This list is verified against an RLER report as well as a cross reference list from the ESL teacher.

2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.

2. Parent Choice at PS 112

When new parents register their children at PS 112, they fill out a HILS form, Parent Survey and Program Selections forms. PS 112 provides all the parents with an option letter in their home language. During the first two weeks of school, parents are invited to attend several sessions of a parent orientation meeting where PS 112 has made extensive efforts to ensure that all parents see the Orientation Video/DVD and "A Guide for Parents" brochure. Parent Orientation materials are available in the home languages of the school's ELL population. Parent Orientations are conducted throughout the year for the parents of newly enrolled English Language Learners to provide them with information about the appropriate programs for their child based on the LAB R assessment. There are opportunities for parents to observe classes, ask questions, view a video in their native language and meet with teachers regarding English language services available at PS 112. In addition, follow up meetings are provided explaining the results of the NYSESLAT as well as a Q&A about how this guides the instruction of our ELL students throughout the year. Parent choice drives program decisions. Parents are also provided with information of programs that are not offered at PS 112, such as Dual language programs and schools in NYC where these programs are available.

The ESL teacher, as well as the parent coordinator provides information regarding schools that have TBE programs in Chinese, Arabic, or any of the other languages needed to best suit the needs of their children.

- Parents are provided with informational materials to support them in making the appropriate decision for their child. Staff who can translate in the parent's home language is made available to meet with them.
- In the Fall and the Spring, as required by CR Part 154, teachers as well as the ESL teacher meet with parents to ensure that they are informed about the bilingual and ESL program requirements, the expectations, the NYSESLAT Assessment, Idel/Lectura 3D assessment as well as the instructional standards.
- Parents are encouraged to meet with their child's teacher during parent teacher conferences at least twice a year as well as other times throughout the year about their child's progress. When necessary, translators are provided to parents.

Once the child begins receiving services in the desired program, we highly encourage that the child remains in that program (TBE). The students will stay within the ESL program until they are determined to be English proficient. The criteria which determines whether or not a child is able to exit the ESL program is by scoring at a "P" (proficient) level on the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT). Until such time as the student achieves English proficiency, s/he will continue to receive ESL services. Parents may choose to transfer their students to other ESL models/programs, but only the NYSESLAT can determine whether they are ELLs or former ELLs and therefore when they continue or cease services as the case may be. Once the student is determined to be English proficient, s/he will enter a monolingual classroom setting while continuing to receive ESL supports for 1-2 years.

3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned, and secured/stored. (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [\[see tool kit\]](#).)

3•How PS 112 ensures that entitlement letters are distributed, Parent Survey and Program selection forms returned:

Once the student has been determined to be an ELL, letters are hand delivered to each child and placed in the bookbag, parent orientations are held and after the orientation parents receive the Program selection form, they are asked to fill it out and return it prior to leaving, if a parent does not return it, the ESL teacher follows with a phone call, makes note of it in their Excell file and sends home a follow up letter, stating "second notice" on its margin, making a copy and filing it in her room and in the main office's ELL file cabinet.

The ESL Coordinator is responsible for maintaining records indicating correspondence sent home. Every effort is made to inform the parents of any orientations, program placements, continued entitlements, assessment-based non-entitlements, and program selection opportunities by sending home pertinent information and forms as well as regular phone calls to ensure that all forms are read and returned. If after letters are sent home without a response, second and third attempt letters are sent. Though not required, the ESL Coordinator at PS 112 keeps parental receipts of letters sent home indicating that the parent has received all pertinent information regarding their child's ESL education. If a parent is unable to attend the Parent Orientation, every attempt to inform them of their choices and to receive a completed Parent Choice Form will be made on an individual basis through letters home as well as telephone communication. Every effort is made to find meeting times which suit the parents' schedules. If after these efforts, we are still unable to contact the parent in order to have them complete the Parent Choice Form, the ELL student will be placed in a Transitional Bilingual Program (where available) as per CR Part 154.

4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.

.PROCEDURES USED FOR PLACEMENT IN TBE and ELL Programs at PS 112 --

In New York City, there are three distinct types of ESL programs available to students which are listed below:

- Freestanding ESL Program – The key features of the Freestanding ESL program are that the child is instructed in all content areas using ESL strategies and providing native language support wherever possible. The ESL lab at PS 112 is equipped with native language books, posters, and other materials. The students have access to an audio lab with native language resources and rich resources via the internet. The ESL teacher also communicates with the parents using native language materials where available. The ultimate goal of this program is that the student achieves a proficient level of English in all four language modalities.
- Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE) Program – The key features of the Transitional Bilingual program are that the child receives instruction in both their home language as well as the target language (which is in this case English). The program model begins the school year with a ratio of 60% L1 (home language) to 40% L2; target language, then through time shifting to a 50% L1 to 50% L2 ratio, and finally ending the year with a 25% L1 to 75% L2 ratio. The ultimate goal of the Transitional Bilingual program is not to eradicate the student's home language, but rather to use their language base and knowledge to help them enrich and supplement the learning of the target language. After completing the program, the intention is for the student to be able to transition into a monolingual classroom setting.
- Dual Language (DL) Program – The key features of the Dual Language program are that the student population is made up of students who have separate home languages (one of which is English) and to provide instruction in both languages throughout the year, usually by implementing a team teaching paradigm. The ultimate goal of the Dual Language program is ensuring that the students attain total bilingualism.

At PS 112 (a Kindergarten through Second grade school) we have a Freestanding Pull-Out/Push-In model ESL Program with a total of 40 students as well as a Transitional Bilingual Program (TBE) with the following breakdowns per class: one Kindergarten TBE/CTT class with 18 students; one Bridge Grade 1/2 TBE class with 10 students in Grade 1 and 4 students in Grade 2 ; one Grade 2 CTT TBE class with 13 students; and one Grade K/1/2 TBE SE class with 8 students. We do not at this time have a Dual Language Program.

After the student has been determined to be eligible to be tested and has taken the LAB-R exam, the parent will be notified of the child's eligibility as well as a choice of dates to come to a Parent Orientation in order to be fully informed of all the choices of setting available for their child in the city of New York. This year we had two parent orientations in order to ensure that every available opportunity was given to the parents to attend. The first was held on Tuesday September 21st and the second on September 22nd. At the Parent Orientation, the ESL coordinator, the parent coordinator, as well as any necessary translators will provide all the information (listed above) regarding the three different ESL programs available to them and their child in the city of New York. They will see an Orientation video, listen to a presentation of all ESL-specific program information, and have the opportunity to complete an orientation survey so that they may comment on any needs or concerns they may still have in order to ensure that they are being fully served by the school. All brochures, information, and forms will be disseminated in the parents' native languages when possible. Once all the information has been delivered, the parents will fill out a Program Selection form. This form will give them the opportunity to rank their preferences of ESL programs for their child. If they choose as their first choice a program which is available at our school, their child will be placed in that program and be serviced until they attain proficiency in English as per the results of the NYSESLAT. However, if the parent chooses as their first choice a program which is not currently available at PS 112, they will be informed that they can either choose a secondary option or we will aid them in finding a school within the district where their preference can be fulfilled.

The ESL Coordinator is responsible for maintaining records indicating correspondence sent home. Every effort is made to inform the parents of any orientations, program placements, continued entitlements, assessment-based non-entitlements, and program selection opportunities by sending home pertinent information and forms as well as regular phone calls to ensure that all forms are read and returned. If after letters are sent home without a response, second and third attempt letters are sent. Though not required, the ESL Coordinator at PS 112 keeps parental receipts of letters sent home indicating that the parent has received all pertinent information regarding their child's ESL education. If a parent is unable to attend the Parent Orientation, every attempt to inform them of their choices and to receive a completed Parent Choice Form will be made on an individual basis through letters home as well as telephone communication. Every effort is made to find meeting times which suit the parents' schedules. If after these efforts, we are still unable to contact the parent in order to have them complete the Parent Choice Form, the ELL student will be placed in a Transitional Bilingual Program (where available) as per CR Part 154.

Parent choice dictates ELL classroom placement in every case. If a TBE program is available and the parent selects it as their first choice, the student is necessarily placed in that setting. Currently at PS 112 we have a TBE for Spanish on every grade level. If 15 or more parents with a HL other than Spanish choose a TBE program for their children as their first option, that program will be created.

If a newcomer enrolls at PS 112, any time after the beginning of the year, this process is repeated on an individual basis. First, a determination is made as to whether or not the student is new to the New York City Department of Education (NYCDOE) based on records found in ATS. If the student has not been a student in the NYCDOE prior to their enrollment at PS 112, the student's parents are administered the HLIS by a qualified pedagogue. If a determination is made that the student is eligible for LAB-R testing, s/he will be given the assessment. If after completing the LAB-R, the student did not achieve a proficient score, s/he will become eligible for ESL services. At this point, the parent will be invited to the school for the ESL orientation described above and to make the program selection. After the parent has selected the program they feel will most effectively assist their child with learning the English language, the child will be placed accordingly and continue receiving services.

5. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Parent Selection Form for the past few years we have gleaned that parent choice has seen a shift in the number of parents who opt for the TBE (Transitional Bilingual Education) Program. In 2009-2010, 10 parents opted for their children to be placed in a TBE Program, 14 opted for a Free-standing ESL Program, and 0 opted for a Dual Language Program. In 2011-2012, 20 parents opted for their children to be enrolled in a TBE Program, 15 opted for a Free-standing ESL Program, and 0 opted for a Dual Language Program. In 2012-2013 we saw that 32 parents chose for their children to be enrolled in a Dual Language Program, TBE was selected by 35 parents, 11 opted for Free-standing ESL, and we even had a few parents sign in for a DL waiting list. This information can be interpreted in many ways. One possible explanation for the increase in our TBE Program enrollment this year could be that parents continue to be educated and better informed about the purpose of the TBE/Dual Language Program; that it is a transitional program intended to move L1 dominant students to a level of English fluency that will allow them to transition into a Monolingual English language classroom. Another possible explanation for this year's increase in TBE enrollment could be that the year we have created a Kindergarten Bilingual ICT class. Parents of bilingual students who have IEPs which indicate that the child would benefit from Bilingual services are now offered the opportunity to receive those services in a Bilingual Dual language ICT classroom. Additionally, we offer orientations and visits for prospective families at the end of the school year and in August prior to school beginning, these help clarify myths about bilingualism and enhance understanding about the program.

6. How are Programs offered at our school aligned with parent requests?

ESL Programs at PS 112 are consistently aligned with parent request. There are only two instances in which a student would be placed in an ESL Program that is not consistent with parent choice. One, if the program chosen by the parent is not available at PS 112 and two, if the student's IEP dictates that the student receive services in a specific ESL program that may not be the same program indicated on the Parent Selection Survey.

5. Describe the steps taken to administer all sections of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) to all ELLs each year.

The exam is administered by the ESL teacher. The Listening and speaking parts of the NYSESLAT are administered by the ESL teacher. The whole group parts (reading and Writing) of the exam are done in the classroom (TBE or Dual) with the Bilingual teacher and/or ESL teacher administering it.

6. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.) Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway.
- After analyzing the data that the parents have provided either via survey or after the Open house tours or general information assemblies, we have added the the Dual language programs with ICT component, allowing for students with disabilities to be part of the Dual/TBe programs that way addressing their needs. Last year we offred two Dual Language classrooms in Kindergarten and this year we have added two First grade Dual Language (Spanish) and one TBE ICT in our second grade. We will move our Dual Language programs to second grade next year and we will continue with our Dual Language ICT ASD (asperger disorder syndrome) in every grade K-2 as well as Dual Language ICt in K-2.

Part V: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered? (see The Practitioners' Work Group for Accelerating English Language Learner Student Achievement: Nine Common Features of Successful Programs for ELLs)
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., departmentalized, push-in [co-teaching], pull-out, collaborative, self-contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?

The Free-Standing ESL program operates using the Pull-Out/Push-In model, as allowed based on the students' proficiency levels and time allotments. The ESL teacher groups ELLs according to information gleaned from their reading levels, area of need, and areas for improvement. These indications can be found through formal and informal assessments. The grade level curriculum and assessments are aligned to the NYC and NYS ELA, NLA, ESL Standards in science, math, social studies, and technology. This curriculum is presented in English and/or the home language as the program designates. There is a daily 120 minute literacy block and a 60 minute math block. During the literacy block, all students are provided with English as a Second Language instructional strategies that are research based. Children are provided with phonemic and phonological instruction to develop decoding skills. Fluency and comprehension skills are taught using ESL strategies and native language supports. Our students are taught writing skills as well as the conventions of print. The daily 120 minute literacy block has the following components: read aloud, shared reading, word study, independent reading, guided reading and writing. Instruction is provided in two languages according to the model of the Transitional Bilingual Program as per the LAP. All curriculum and instruction is parallel to the ELA and NLA standards as well as ESL scaffolding methodologies.

All classroom teachers at PS 112 receive NYSESLAT information sessions to discuss students' proficiency levels and need areas. The ESL teacher provides all classroom teachers with NYSESLAT results as well as the LAB-R results in order to maintain appropriate communication across classroom environments. Constant communication between the ESL teacher and the classroom teachers occurs in order to ensure that students are grouped appropriately throughout the year as progress is made.

Instruction in literacy and the core curriculum is provided in accordance with the program models and levels of English language proficiency. Content area instruction is rigorous. The classroom environments support risk-taking and there is evidence of strong oral and written language throughout the school. At PS 112, we have begun a widespread Inquiry-Based Curriculum. This type of student-driven instruction has given the students ownership over their learning and a set of tools for research which will service their academic disposition throughout their entire scholastic career. Teachers at PS 112 expect students to achieve at high levels of performance. Students are provided with instructional strategies that challenge the students to think critically. Native language support is used to help students acquire proficiency in the English language as articulated by the school LAP, NYSESLAT, as well as the LAB-R. ESL, ELA, NLA and content area instruction in all classrooms is informed by the NYSESLAT scores and other assessments, and meets the requirements of CR Part 154.

Classrooms are organized to provide student centered instruction and flexible grouping has been implemented. The school and classroom libraries provide students with a rich collection of authentic literature and resources in native languages. Instructional materials, teacher schedules, student writing and projects as well as student data that demonstrate that there is quality instruction on each grade level are on display around the school. Students have access to technology in the library, computer lab and in their own classrooms. Differentiated instruction is a driving force at PS 112 in giving the ELL population of students the support they require to succeed. ESL instruction is implemented using current research-based strategies. Teachers are provided with support in keeping up-to-date with the most current pedagogical theories with substantial administrative offerings; teachers are given the opportunity to join various study groups, cabinets, and other groups which allow them to discuss, debate, and learn from other teachers and administrative leaders.

Instructional materials and books are standards-based and age appropriate. Teachers keep themselves fully informed of their students' reading levels and interests so that they may guide their instruction to compliment their students' needs and strengths. ESL and NLA instruction uses the balanced literacy model as well as Inquiry to provide the necessary language development to meet the needs of the individual students. The Freestanding ESL Program is a Push-In/Pull-Out model and provides content-based instruction in English with native language supports. The ESL instructor at PS 112 uses an Inquiry-Based methodology to give the students an approach to learning which will greatly benefit them in all their scholastic endeavors.

PS 112 is an early childhood school and has grades PreK-2. The ESL teacher also works in the Push-In format with the Pre-K classes. The following assessments are used: Teachers College Assessments, NYSESLAT, LAB-R, monthly guided reading reports, writing samples, student projects, and other student-created work. The results of this body of student work inform the teachers of the students' strengths as well as areas for improvement or continued instruction. Teachers at PS 112 are in constant communication with one another so that they might gain insights through idea sharing and collaborative planning.

SIFE AND LONG-TERM ELLs

As a K-2 school, PS 112 does not, nor will ever have SIFE students or long-term ELLs. However, in consideration of the possibility of PS 112 ever having these students, extended instructional time will be offered, which may be offered through after-school classes or tutoring, Saturday programs, and/or summer programs. SIFE are best served in schools that can provide them with some courses in very small groupings. In secondary TBE programs, as in elementary TBE programs, students must receive daily instruction in ESL, ELA, and NLA. Additional time allocation for each of these language components will be provided in the event that PS 112 ever has SIFE or long-term ELLs. PS 112 does have ELLs with special needs and we are providing the same rigorous instruction for these students. However, the curriculum is differentiated to meet the needs of these diverse learners. Students that have achieved proficiency are provided with additional support to ensure that they continue to progress.

NEWCOMERS

Beginning (newcomers) as well as intermediate students receive 90 minutes of ESL daily (360 minutes per week). Advanced students receive 180 minutes of ESL instruction per week. The TBE program offers these same amount of ESL instruction in addition to 45 minutes of Native Language Arts daily as well as content area instruction in English with support in Native Language as needed. Students are taught in whole group, small group and individual one-on-one conferring in order to address their specific need and the area of learning. Our Kindergarten TBE ICT class has two teachers who use several methodologies to address the students academic and language levels.

At PS 112 all students learn using the workshop model which includes read alouds, shared reading, guided writing, shared writing, interactive writing, and word study. Students also take part in inquiry-based learning. In addition to the pull-out ESL program, advanced students receive ELA instruction in their classrooms.

ELLs RECEIVING SERVICES 4-6 YEARS

As a K-2 school, PS 112 only has students receiving services for 4 years or longer in the event that an ELL is held over. When this occurs, teacher-led focus groups gather to discuss and observe these students using an inquiry-based approach. After meeting with the student's classroom and out of classroom teachers, they use their observations and assessments to inform their instruction when differentiating lessons for those students. The AIS and resource room teachers are also included in the individualized observation process of these students who have been held over. Throughout the year, the administration, teachers and staff reach out to our tandem school who may be receiving our students for the later elementary grades (3-6 grade) and invite to our monthly TBE/ESL meetings where the teachers meet to plan instruction, inquiry projects, trips and parent outreach workshops. Our goal is to maintain a cohesive instructional plan that would help us align the Common Core Standards for a seamless transition into the higher elementary grades.

SIFE AND LONG-TERM ELLs

As a K-2 school, PS 112 does not, nor will ever have SIFE students or long-term ELLs. However, in consideration of the possibility of PS 112 ever having these students, extended instructional time will be offered, which may be offered through after-school classes or tutoring, Saturday programs, and/or summer programs. SIFE are best served in schools that can provide them with some courses in very small groupings. In secondary TBE programs, as in elementary TBE programs, students must receive daily instruction in ESL, ELA, and NLA. Additional time allocation for each of these language components will be provided in the event that PS 112 ever has SIFE or long-term ELLs. PS 112 does have ELLs with special needs and we are providing the same rigorous instruction for these students. However, the curriculum is differentiated to meet the needs of these diverse learners. Students that have achieved proficiency are provided with additional support to ensure that they continue to progress.

4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages throughout the year?
 In our TBE and Dual Language classrooms, our students are assessed using the Fountas and Pinnell's " Sistema de Evaluacion de la Lectura" which allows the teacher to track students reading level, accuracy, comprehension, fluency. In K-1 and newly arrived students use the phonological program "Estrellita" for phonics instruction in the native language. In Mathematics, students are assessed using the designated MOSL- Discovery Math, at this time this assessment is available only in English. We inquired about its availability in other languages and were told to translate to the best of our ability. Teachers have also opted to assess students with teacher made assessments to evaluate their growth in content language development in the Dual Language classes.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Professional development at PS 112 is comprehensive, ongoing, and focuses on the academic support needs of ELLs. The classroom environments and teaching practices demonstrate effective strategies for the teaching of balanced literacy, math and content area instruction. PS 112 has an ELL study group that meets weekly to ensure that the bilingual, ESL, as well as general education teachers are provided with the support necessary to continue to address the linguistic development and academic achievement of the ELL students. In this group discussions are held with regard to current ESL research and the implication for instruction. The teachers are responsible for preparing for each meeting by reading various texts and articles based on the most recent findings for the optimum instructional methodologies for ELLs.

TRANSITIONING STUDENT SUPPORT

PS 112 is a K-2 school and students are given the opportunity at the end of their second grade school year to visit the 3-5 school (PS 206) whose building is adjacent to ours. ELLs who are in the Pull-Out ESL program take a tour of our tandem school with their regular groups and ELLs in the TBE program take a tour of the tandem school together with their classmates. The ESL teachers, Rachel Lindsay at PS 112 and Gretchen Visser at PS 206 are regular collaborators and continue communication throughout the year regarding transitioning students. The ELLs in the Pull-Out ESL program have the opportunity to meet the ESL teacher at PS 206 and take part in a Question and Answer session with her.

ESL TRAINING FOR STAFF

The ELL Network Instructional Specialist, math and literacy coaches provide ongoing and comprehensive professional development support to bilingual teachers. The bilingual teachers as well as the ESL teacher attend the Teacher's College Reading and Writing Project Calendar Days at Columbia University. All bilingual teachers have studied the ESL and NLA standards. The general education teachers have completed the 7 ½ hours of training in ESL methodologies and we provide this training for all the new general education teachers. All bilingual teachers as well as general education teachers are encouraged to participate in NYC Department of Education conferences and professional development to support linguistic and academic achievement for ELLs.

All teachers in both general education as well as bilingual education are provided with common grade level meetings for professional development and curriculum planning in literacy, math, science, and social studies. There is a bilingual teacher leader that supports the bilingual teacher as well as the general education teachers with regard to the needs of their ELL population. PS 112 provides its teachers with collaborative preparation periods so that they might work with one another in order to give their shared students a seamless transition throughout the school day. These collaborations also better serve the students in that if both teachers are supporting each other in content area planning, the students' likelihood for retaining content is greatly increased by receiving reinforced instruction from more than one area.

At PS 112, the Assistant Principal is a former Bilingual classroom teacher, as well as an ELL Instructional Support Specialist, and has a lengthy career in ESL techniques, methodologies, as well as an intimate knowledge of the administrative domain. She leads ELL study groups as well as one-on-one support for teachers to assist them in the enrichment of their ESL instruction abilities. The math coach is a former bilingual teacher and uses the scaffolding techniques and methodologies she has mastered to better support ELLs as well as general education teachers with an ELL population. The literacy coach is a former special education teacher and works with all teachers on ways to enrich the differentiated instruction taking place in their classrooms. The bilingual SETSS teacher works with all teachers on ways to scaffold learning and differentiate instruction. The ESL teacher is multi-lingual and has a master's degree in ESL instruction. This group of teachers provides PS 112 with a wealth of knowledge and experience on how they can meet the specific needs of ELL students and ELL students with special needs. We will take several specific actions to continue the improvement of the education of our English Language Learners. First, we will continue the ELL study groups and provide continuous ELL professional development to all the teachers. Our Bilingual and ELL teachers have a scheduled common preparation period where they can meet to plan, discuss the LAP and recent research in the area of ELLs. Teachers will be provided with opportunities to attend DOE and city professional development. We will continue to rigorously monitor student progress monthly using a variety of authentic assessments. We will always ensure that we implement all components of the 120 minute literacy block, the 60 minute math block and ensure that content is supported by instructional materials. We will use current research based strategies to improve instruction as well as to monitor instructional planning for evidence of rigorous and challenging content. PS 112 is dedicated to continued improvement in the areas of standards based student learning, inquiry and the use of data to inform curriculum planning and instruction. It is our goal to provide even more opportunities for interactive writing in the content area of English and to further explore the scholastic benefits of inquiry-based curricula.

In order to continue the implementation of these goals, support required will be as follows: PS 112 staff will need to stay abreast of all current research pertaining to ELLs, also the creation of study groups will need to continue being formed in order to explore specific focuses aimed at ELLs. Research has indicated that small study groups are an effective method for new knowledge acquisition. At PS 112, we will continue offering small study groups to ensure that all teachers can reach their mandated 7.5 – 10 hours of professional development in ESL methodologies. This year we will study two books: Christina Celic's book "English Language Learners Day by Day k-6" and the book "Reading and Writing in Two Languages" by Freeman & Freeman.

D. Parental Involvement

1. Describe ELL parent involvement in your school. Include specific activities that foster parental involvement for parents of ELLs.
2. Does the school partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents?
3. How do you evaluate the needs of the parents?
4. How do your parental involvement activities address the needs of the parents?

All cultures are celebrated at PS 112 by involving the parents in sharing cultural stories, food, dress, and their native language. The students are given ample opportunities to interact with children and parents from other cultures and to exchange stories and ideas with one another. At PS 112 we have luncheons and arrange extracurricular activities for parents of ELLs. Our students' parents are encouraged to join their children on any field trips or special festivals sponsored by our school. Such field trips may include visits to the Museo del Barrio, the Bronx Zoo, and the NYC Aquarium. All parents are invited to participate in classroom celebrations, such as publishing parties, special video or project presentations as well as to participate by sharing their expertise in any area they choose with their child's class from sewing a quilt to making tortillas after the reading of a celebrated picturebook.

Each year we have festivals to celebrate the changing of the seasons to which parents and children are warmly encouraged to enjoy. Classroom libraries as well as the main school library are equipped with texts spanning many genres and subject areas in various native languages which also contribute to the overall motif of celebrating all cultures at PS 112. The social studies curriculum highlights the uniqueness of families and each child.

Monthly calendars in the native language are distributed to parents each month in order for them to remain acquainted with the events taking place in the school. All flyers, letters, the Homework Policy, Parent Handbooks, etc. are given to parents in English as well as their native language when possible. All parent workshops are presented to parents in both English and Spanish. There is evidence of native languages and cultures displayed throughout the school in writing as well as student projects. PS 112 has a Title III parent involvement program that supports families of ELLs. The translation monies are used to support the translations of the Homework Policy, the Parent Handbook, as well as providing informational seminars to the families in topics of interest such as health, money matters, nutrition and science. All parent meetings have someone available for translations. The Parent Coordinator is bilingual (Spanish) and supports ELL families by making sure they are included in all school and community activities. The Parent Coordinator has workshops for parents based on their identified needs. The school's social worker, psychologist, and speech provider all have resources for parents of ELLs.

Our Parent Coordinator, makes use of all Community Based Organizations and provides all parents the opportunity to participate in several workshops that range in topics from health, Economics, Nutrition, A day for Fathers to come and Read Aloud with their child and their child's class.

Twice a year the Parent Coordinator sends home a general parent survey where families are asked to express their diverse interests in the needs of the community and topics for workshops throughout the year. They are offered this survey again throughout the year in the monthly PA meetings.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2013-2014 TO 2014-2015

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 04M112 School Name: Jose Celso Barbosa

Cluster: 02 Network: 203

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

At the time of registration all parents who are new to NYCDOE are asked when filling out the Home Language Survey in what language do they want to receive information from the school. Based on the answer, we compile a list of the languages in our school and provide information in the languages available in the DOE. Additionally, our staff members are fluent in Spanish, Chinese and French. When information needs to be translated we either send it to the Translation unit or call the number at the translation unit so that immediate information can be provided to the families. Every year our parent coordinator sends a survey home to inquire about the needs of the community in order to plan workshops around these needs. In this questionnaire the language of preference is asked in order for the school to address these needs.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

The information was disaggregated and we realized that we needed translators for parent conferences, workshops and for translating flyers, letters and academic activities to inform parents of the daily curriculum and monthly newsletters. A meeting was held with the school community to share the findings of the survey.

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

We provide parents with the school's monthly calendar/newsletter of events.

- We provide translation at all meetings, workshops, parent conferences and celebratory events.
- We provide parents with written informational pamphlets to inform of current curriculum topics per grade.
- Our staff provides translated letters/memos to parents related to trips and to inform about classes thematic units of study.
- PS 112 makes use of regional and the DOE's translated documents for registration, standards performance, conduct, safety and discipline codes, special education and related services as needed by parents of our school community.
- Our staff additionally provides translated permission slips/consent forms.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

During Parent Association meetings a person will be available to translate for parents. The parent coordinator, school aides, paraprofessionals and office staff are available to assist teachers during conferences with parents. Parent volunteers are also available to support parents in need of translation services. The IEP team is bilingual as well as the Assistant Principal to translate when needed. In addition, every teacher is given a translation unit contact telephone number prior to the conferences so that they can arrange to translate via phone during parent conferences.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link:
<http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

In September, parents whose primary language is not a covered language within the DOE nine most popular languages in the NYC and who require language assistance services are provided with a copy of the Bill of Parent Rights and Responsibilities which includes their rights regarding translation and interpretation services. Translated versions of this document, are available for parents who request it. We have posted signs throughout the main entrance, cafeteria, school exit and main office indicating the availability of translation services. Information posted or sent home with the children carry an addendum that states that the school will provide the document in another language as needed and requested by the parent.

2011-12 Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP): Appendix 8

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs

Directions: Title III supplemental services for ELLs must include all of the following three components:

- Direct instruction: activities must be used to support language development, English and native language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or other core academic areas.
 - The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need
 - These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ESL services required under CR Part 154.
 - Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs as well as reduced class-size, and/or push-in services.
 - Teachers providing the services must be certified bilingual education and/or ESL teachers.

Professional development at PS 112 is comprehensive, ongoing, and focuses on the academic support needs of ELLs. The classroom environments and teaching practices demonstrate effective strategies for the teaching of balanced literacy, math and content area instruction. PS 112 has an ELL study group that meets weekly to ensure that the bilingual, ESL, as well as general education teachers are provided with the support necessary to continue to address the linguistic development and academic achievement of the ELL students. In this group, discussions are held with regard to current ESL research and the implication for instruction. The teachers are responsible for preparing for each meeting by reading various texts and articles based on the most recent findings for the optimum instructional methodologies for ELLs.

The ELL Network Instructional Specialist, math and literacy coaches provide ongoing and comprehensive professional development support to bilingual teachers. The bilingual teachers as well as the ESL teacher attend the Teacher's College Reading and Writing Project Calendar Days at Columbia University. All bilingual teachers have studied the ESL and NLA standards. Most of the general education teachers have completed the 7 ½ hours of training in ESL methodologies and we provide this training for all the new general education teachers. All bilingual teachers as well as general education teachers are encouraged to participate in NYC Department of Education conferences and professional development to support linguistic and academic achievement for ELLs.

All teachers in both general education as well as bilingual education are provided with common grade level meetings for professional development and curriculum planning in literacy, math, science, and social studies. PS 112 provides its teachers with preparation periods so that they might collaborate with one another so that they might give their shared students a seamless transition throughout the school day. These collaborations also better serve the students in that if both teachers are supporting each other in content area planning, the students' likelihood for retaining content is greatly increased by receiving reinforced instruction from more than one area.

At PS 112, the Assistant Principal is a former Bilingual classroom teacher and has a lengthy career in ESL techniques, methodologies, as well as an intimate knowledge of the administrative domain. She leads ELL study groups as well as one-on-one support for teachers who want to enrich their ESL instructional abilities. The math coach is a former bilingual teacher and therefore uses the scaffolding techniques and methodologies she has mastered to better support ELLs as well as general education teachers with an ELL population. The literacy coach is a former special education teacher and works with all teachers on ways to enrich the differentiated instruction taking place in their classrooms. The bilingual SETSS teacher works with all teachers on ways to scaffold learning and differentiate instruction. The ESL teacher is multi-lingual and has a master's degree in ESL instruction. This group of teachers provides PS 112 with a wealth of knowledge and experience on how they can meet the specific needs of ELL students and ELL students with special needs.

The aim of professional development is to provide, deepen and sustain teacher knowledge in a comprehensive balanced literacy program, to learn ESL methodology/approaches, to create a school environment conducive to the acquisition of English in as short a time as possible, to learn how to plan for effective language learning, to assess language needs, to plan effective questioning techniques, to learn how oral language development is linked to literacy development and to the processes of thinking and learning and reading in a second language. This goal will be achieved through study groups. A fraction of every professional development workshop is dedicated to the application of the subject discussed, whether it is in the teaching of Science, Social Studies, Math, Technology or the Arts, to the language development, strategies and methodologies applicable to the instruction of ELLs. Teachers will continue to be provided with professional development to deepen their knowledge in all components of a Balanced Literacy and its application to English language learners.

This goal will be achieved through study groups. Some areas also to be discussed in the study groups are:

- Creating and maintaining a dynamic classroom pace and atmosphere, thus capturing and holding student attention.
- Fostering spontaneity and creative expression, eliciting an extremely high rate of student response from the earliest to the advanced stages of language training.
- Eliminating the learner's natural self-consciousness and fear of mistakes.
- Emphasizing the relevance of the language to the student's own life experiences and engage the student on an emotional level.
- Equipping teachers with ESL methodologies and techniques
- The teachers involved in the Title III program will participate along with other teachers who serve Title III ELLs in a study group using the book(s): Celic, Christina M. "English Language Learners Day by Day K-6: A Complete Guide to Literacy, Content area, and language instruction"; to continue their learning on how to integrate the teaching of English in the content areas of the regular curriculum. They will also read, study and discuss the book, "Teaching Reading and Writing in Spanish and English" by Freeman & Freeman, as well as read and discuss periodicals related to inquiry based- learning in science and social studies. The group of teachers will meet Wednesday mornings for 1 hour (7:10-8:10 a.m.) for a series of 8 weeks (8 sessions for one hour each session).

A series of Parent Workshops have been designed to provide the parents of ELLs with tools to use at home in the areas of Technology, Science, Math and Speech. These parent workshops will be offered every other week at the same time as the Title III program for students. We will have workshops lead by our bilingual Speech Teacher providing the families with strategies and activities that will help them understand the different language stages that an ELL goes through as well as provide examples of activiites to try at home to enhance language acquisition. The technology teacher will provide several workshops in the basic use of computers and several follow up workshops where the students of the Title III program will pair up with their parent in order to do research on a topic of interest in the areas of Science and Social Studies. The Science Teacher will provide a hands -on workshop for parents in easy experiements to do at home. Our Math Coach will lead several workshops to assist ELL parents in understanding the new Common Core standards and how they apply to the instruction of our K-2 ELL students. All workshops will have translation provided by our bilingual staff and/or the Translation Unit.
