Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP) Requirements

Which Schools Need to Complete the CEP?

All Reward, Recognition, In Good Standing and Local Assistance Plan (LAP) schools should identify and submit annual goals and action plans in consultation with their School Leadership Team (SLT).

- Explicitly delineate the school's plan for annually increasing student performance through comprehensive instructional programs and services as well as the plan for enhancement of teacher and leader effectiveness.
- Address how the school will use its full range of resources (which may include but is not limited to Title I, Title II, and/or Title III, 1003(a) and/or 1003(g) School Improvement, Race to the Top, School Innovation or local funds) to support improvement efforts for the identified sub-group(s) on the identified accountability measures.
- Develop the CEP in consultation with parents, school staff, the School Leadership Team (SLT), and others in accordance with the requirements of Chancellor's Regulations A-655 to provide a meaningful opportunity for stakeholders to participate in the development of the plan and comment on the CEP before it is approved.

Guidance for Developing and Completing the Annual Goals and Action Plan Section

Goal setting for the CEP is done in collaboration with the school community to support student achievement and the implementation of school-wide goals as well as document how your school is meeting Federal, State, and City regulations. For SY 2013-14 when developing their goals, schools should do the following:

- Identify a minimum of three and a maximum of five annual goals.
- Align their goals with the current citywide instructional expectations.
- Develop goals that are "SMART" - specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.
- Conduct a needs assessment of your school
- Use quantitative and/or qualitative data in providing the rationale for each goal.
- Cite sources that contributed to the rationale such as the Progress Report, Quality Review, School Survey, state and school assessment results, attendance records, inquiry team work, etc. to form the basis of your needs assessment.
- Align the identified goals to the strategies and activities in your Parent Involvement Policy (PIP). The PIP template is provided on pages 12 and 13. Your school is encouraged to use the template as it is provided, or align it in accordance with your school's goals, or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. You may use or amend relevant sections of your PIP so they directly align to the parent involvement activities that support each goal and action plan. All schools should cite strategies to increase parent involvement that align to the goal when applicable. Title I schools should reference these strategies and activities in the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy (PIP).
- Enumerate the strategies and activities that will be implemented to achieve each goal.
- Identify all fund sources that will be used for the completion of each activity.
- List the projected timeline for completion of each activity, including the start and end date of each activity.
- Describe the programmatic details and resources that will be used for each instructional strategy and activity described for each goal. Do not include the cost for each line-item-expenditure for the strategies and activities listed within the action plans.

School Receiving Title I Funds

School Wide Program (SWP) and Targeted Assistance (TA) Schools receiving Title I funds are required to complete the Title I Information Page located on page 11 of the CEP.

Goal and Action Plan #1

Use this template to identify an annual goal. Respond to each section to indicate strategies and activities in support of accomplishing this goal.

Annual Goal #1

Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.

- By June 2014 the school will increase parental involvement by actively involving parents in the education process of their child/children and improve the communication between home and school. This will be measured, and evident, by an increase in attendance at parent events, and a 5% increase in parental participation in completing the Learning Environment Survey.

Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Describe the identified need that generated this goal. The needs assessment should encompass the entire school and be based on the performance of students, in relation to State academic content and student achievement standards.

Parent survey overall participation was very low and this resulted in a lack of input from the parents on educational decisions in the school community. After looking at the school's data, we were able to see a correlation between low survey participation and student outcomes on state exams. Although we have increased our parent participation in the learning environment survey from 17% to 43%, we still want to increase our parent participation to align or with or exceed the city average. We have developed (and continue to develop) opportunities for parents to strengthen their relationship with the school through workshops and meetings that address topics ranging from Pupil path and student academic expectations to the arts and field trips for students and parents. We are intending to use these activities to build bridges between parents and members of the school community in order to improve educational outcomes for students as demonstrated by improved scores on state exams.

2012-2013 Learning Environment Survey participation- parents 43% The city average was 54%

Annual Goal #2

Describe a goal you have identified for the year. Refer to the directions and guidance for assistance in developing your goals.
By June 2014 the school will continue to deepen and broaden work around the Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS) by engaging closely with and examining school-wide implementation of the Citywide Instructional Expectations. In literacy, social studies, and science, all students will engage in more challenging assignments that will accelerate their learning, deepen their conceptual understanding, and strengthen their ability to use textual evidence in writing and in verbal discussion. All students will experience opportunities to engage in mathematical study which requires fluency, application, and conceptual understanding.

After looking at the results of out school's students performance on the ELA, Math, and NYSESLAT state examinations on the ARIS database, we have taken the initiative of aligning various performance tasks and end-of-unit assessments to the Common Core Learning Standards. In order to further prepare out students to meet the rigor of the Common Core Learning Standards, we intend for the curriculum and performance tasks to address students' deficiencies in literacy and to aid in the transitions to the new standards by ensuring that we are addressing the gap between what the standards require and what the students know and are able to do.

Directions and Guidance for Developing and Updating the Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) (Required for Title I Schools ONLY)

The template below meets the parental involvement requirements of Title I. Your school is encouraged to use the template below to update your school's current policy or replace it entirely with a Parent Involvement Policy created by your school that meets federal requirements. The activities and/or strategies included in your school's policy should align with current CEP goals for improving student achievement.

The PIP should describe how your school will plan and implement effective parent involvement activities and/or strategies to improve student academic achievement and school performance. The School-Parent Compact is a component of the PIP that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share this responsibility. Schools are encouraged to include feedback from the Parent Coordinator when updating the policy. In addition, if your school community will be engaged this year in central parent involvement initiatives, such as Parent Academy, which will provide training for school communities to help strengthen family-school partnerships, please be sure to include these activities in your policy.

Parent Involvement Policy (PIP) Template

Educational research shows a positive correlation between effective parental involvement and student achievement. The overall aim of this policy is to develop a parent involvement program that will ensure effective involvement of parents and community in our school. Therefore, our school, in compliance with the Section 1118 of Title I, Part A of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act, is responsible for creating and implementing a parent involvement policy to strengthen the connection and support of student achievement between our school and the families. Our school's policy is designed to keep parents informed by actively involving them in planning and decision-making in support of the education of their children. Parents are encouraged to actively participate on the School Leadership Team, Parent Association, and Title I Parent Committee as trained volunteers and welcomed members of our school community. Our school will support parents and families of Title I students by:

- providing materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement level, e.g., literacy, math and use of technology;
- providing parents with the information and training needed to effectively become involved in planning and decision making in support of the education of their children;
- fostering a caring and effective home-school partnership to ensure that parents can effectively support and monitor their child's progress;
- providing assistance to parents in understanding City, State and Federal standards and assessments;
- sharing information about school and parent related programs, meetings and other activities in a format, and in languages that parents can understand;
- providing professional development opportunities for school staff with the assistance of parents to improve outreach, communication skills and cultural competency in order to build stronger ties between parents and other members of our school community;

Our school's Parent Involvement Policy was designed based upon a careful assessment of the needs of all parents/guardians, including parents/guardians of English Language Learners and students with disabilities. Our school community will conduct an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent involvement policy with Title I parents to improve the academic quality of our school. The findings of the evaluation through school surveys and feedback forms will be used to design strategies to more effectively meet the needs of parents, and enhance the school's Title I program. This information will be maintained by the school.

In developing the Title I Parent Involvement Policy, parents of Title I participating students, parent members of the school's Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association), as well as parent members of the School Leadership Team, were consulted on the proposed Title I Parent Involvement Policy and asked to survey their members for additional input. To increase and improve parent involvement and school quality, our school will:

- actively involve and engage parents in the planning, review and evaluation of the effectiveness of the school's Title I program as outlined in the Comprehensive Educational Plan, including the implementation of the school's Title I Parent Involvement Policy and School-Parent Compact;
- engage parents in discussion and decisions regarding the required Title I set-aside funds, which are allocated directly to schools to promote parent involvement, including family literacy and parenting skills;
- ensure that the Title I funds allocated for parent involvement are utilized to implement activities and strategies as described in our Parent Involvement Policy and the School-Parent Compact;
- support school-level committees that include parents who are members of the School Leadership Team, the Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Committee. This includes providing technical support and ongoing professional development, especially in developing leadership skills;
- maintain a Parent Coordinator (or a dedicated staff person) to serve as a liaison between the school and families. The Parent Coordinator or a dedicated staff person will provide parent workshops based on the assessed needs of the parents of children who attend our school and will work to ensure that our school environment is welcoming and inviting to all parents. The Parent Coordinator will also maintain a log of events and activities planned for parents each month and file a report with the central office.;
- conduct parent workshops with topics that may include: parenting skills, understanding educational accountability grade-level curriculum and assessment expectations; literacy, accessing community and support services; and technology training to build parents' capacity to help their children at home;
- provide opportunities for parents to help them understand the accountability system, e.g., NCLB/State accountability system, student proficiency levels, Annual School Report Card, Progress Report, Quality Review Report, Learning Environment Survey Report;
- host the required Annual Title I Parent Meeting on or before December 1st of each school year to advise parents of children participating in the Title I program about the school's Title I funded program(s), their right to be involved in the program and the parent involvement requirements under Title I, Part A, Section 1118 and other applicable sections under the No Child Left Behind Act;
- schedule additional parent meetings, e.g., quarterly meetings, with flexible times, such as meetings in the morning or evening, to share information about the school's educational program and other initiatives of the Chancellor and allow parents to provide suggestions;
- translate all critical school documents and provide interpretation during meetings and events as needed;
- conduct an Annual Title I Parent Fair/Event where all parents are invited to attend formal presentations and workshops that address their student academic skill needs and what parents can do to help;

Our school will further encourage school-level parental involvement by:

- holding an annual Title I Parent Curriculum Conference;
- hosting educational family events/activities during Parent-Teacher Conferences and throughout the school year;
- encouraging meaningful parent participation on School Leadership Teams, Parent Association (or Parent-Teacher Association) and Title I Parent Committee;
- supporting or hosting Family Day events;
- establishing a Parent Resource Center/Area or lending library; instructional materials for parents;
- hosting events to support men asserting leadership in education for their children. parents/guardians, grandparents and foster parents;
- encouraging more parents to become trained school volunteers;
- providing written and verbal progress reports that are periodically given to keep parents informed of their children's progress;
- developing and distributing a school newsletter or web publication designed to keep parents informed about school activities and student progress;

- providing school planners/folders for regular written communication between /teacher and the home in a format, and to the extent practicable in the languages that parents can understand;

After reviewing and analyzing the assessment data, answer the following:

1. Describe what assessment tool your school uses to assess the early literacy skills of your ELLs (e.g., ECLAS-2, EL SOL, Fountas and Pinnell, DRA, TCRWP). What insights do the data provide about your ELLs? How will this data help inform your school's instructional plan? Please provide any quantitative data available to support your response.

Currently, East Fordham Academy for the Arts uses the TCRWP assessment tool to assess the literacy skills of all students, including ELLs. The Teachers College running records are administered three times a year to assess the growth in literacy for students. DRA assessments in Spanish are used to assess literacy skills in the native language for ELLs in the Transitional Bilingual Program. The TCRWP data shows that ELLs are at a current benchmark of 1.03 which is below standards. This data helps guide the instructional decisions made at the school level as a greater emphasis has to be placed on literacy across all subject areas. As per the data, the school has modified curricula so that all content areas are implementing Common Core Literacy standards.

2. What is revealed by the data patterns across proficiency levels (on the LAB-R and NYSESLAT) and grades?
Data patterns of the NYSESLAT and LAB-R show that 49% of our students are at the advanced proficiency level in the NYSESLAT. The majority of students that are at the beginner level are also newcomers (0-3 years of service) and are recent immigrants. This data shows that students are making English proficiency gains the first couple of years in the school system but then plateau at the advanced level and have difficulty meeting proficiency on the NYSESLAT.

3. How will patterns across NYSESLAT modalities—reading/writing and listening/speaking—affect instructional decisions? How does your school use information about Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives? What does the data reveal? (see SED memo and AMAQ tool)

Our NYSESLAT data shows that students are attaining proficiency in Listening and Reading but are still struggling to meet proficiency in Reading and Writing. Based on this data, we have modified the curriculum to ensure that reading and writing is incorporated across all content areas. In addition, we have adopted using language objectives in the content areas to address students' language needs.

4. For each program, answer the following:
 - a. What are the patterns across proficiencies and grades? How are ELLs faring in tests taken in English as compared to the native language?
 - b. Describe how the school leadership and teachers are using the results of the ELL Periodic Assessments.
 - c. What is the school learning about ELLs from the Periodic Assessments? How is the native language used?

Students in the Transitional Bilingual Program represent the most number of students that are at the beginner level in terms of proficiency on the NYSESLAT. This is also a result of their years of ELL services, where the majority of these students have 0-3 years of service. The data shows that regardless of whether the test is taken in English or in the Native Language, students are struggling to meet standards on the NYS Mathematics and NYS Science exam. This is an indicator that students are struggling not only with the English Language, but the content material as well. The data also reveals that not many students are opting for the translated version of the content area exams. As a result, administration will emphasize to teachers of always having a translated option for any exam in the content areas throughout the year so that students are comfortable using a translated version during the examination period. The school will also ensure that there is native language support throughout the content areas for ELLs through the use of native language libraries, bilingual glossaries, and native language versions of textbooks or materials used to teach the content areas.

This year, our school has opted in to using the ELL Periodic Assessments to use as a data point for where students are in terms of proficiency levels in the English language and as an indicator of students' strengths and weaknesses in terms of the modalities. The school did not use the ELL periodic assessment for the 2012-2013 school year. The ELL Periodic Assessment data from the November 2013 administration will be reviewed during teacher teams in December by teachers of ELLs, including ESL, ELA, and content area teachers to determine the supports that students need in order to gain proficiency in the English Language. Intervention plans will be made to group students and target modalities that they are struggling with. Progress will be monitored based on future ELL Periodic assessments and 2014 NYSESLAT.

Native language support is provided to students through native language classroom libraries, bilingual glossaries, translated materials, and when appropriate direct spoken translation. In addition, students in the Transitional Bilingual Program receive one period daily of Native Language Arts to build their literacy skills in their native language of Spanish.

5. Describe how your school uses data to guide instruction for ELLs within the Response to Intervention (RtI) framework (for grades K-5). (see RtI Guide for Teachers of ELLs.)

6. How do you make sure that a child's second language development is considered in instructional decisions?
In order to determine which program is best suited for a student, data from the LAB-R and Spanish Lab is looked at closely to assess if a student would perform better in a Transitional Bilingual Education program, Dual language, or Freestanding ESL program. After initial review of the data and orientation with the parent, the student is placed in a program according to the parent choice. By monitoring the student's language acquisition through various assessments, including the ELL periodic assessment, TCRWP, DRA, and formative and summative assessments, it is determined if a student is making significant growth in second language acquisition. Students are provided with additional support, including after school programs and targeted small group instruction to continue supporting them in their language development. Although we support program fidelity, if a parent requests that they want to change their child from a TBE program to an ESL program, we evaluate the student's second language acquisition progression to determine if the child is ready for the all English program and consult with the parent before final program changes are made.

To ensure that content area teachers are supporting ELLs in building their English Language skills, all teachers are trained on gaining access to ELL data through various portals such as ARIS and Skedula. Teachers are trained on how to identify which students are ELLs, their proficiency levels on NYSESLAT and/or LAB-R, and their proficiency rating in the four modalities. With the data, teachers are then able to differentiate instruction and integrate literacy so that students are receiving support in the development of the English Language. Across content areas, MSQI (Middle School Quality Initiative) is being implemented so that key vocabulary tier 2 words are introduced weekly and teachers monitor the use of these words by students in the four modalities in the English language. These words are also announced during the morning announcements so that all students receive exposure to the words throughout the day. Teachers also participate in professional development activities within the school that focus on differentiating instruction for students based on their various learning styles, needs, and language acquisition levels.

7. For dual language programs, answer the following:
 - a. How are the English-proficient students (EPs) assessed in the second (target) language?
 - b. What is the level of language proficiency in the second (target) language for EPs?
 - c. How are EPs performing on State and City Assessments?

8. Describe how you evaluate the success of your programs for ELLs (e.g. meeting AYP for ELLs, etc.).

Paste response to question here:

Part IV: ELL Identification Process

Describe how you identify English Language Learners (ELLs) in your school. Answer the following:

1. Describe the steps followed for the initial identification of ELLs. These steps must include administering the Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) which includes the informal oral interview in English and in the native language, and the formal initial assessment. Identify the person(s) responsible, including their qualifications, for conducting the initial screening, administering the HLIS, the LAB-R (if necessary), and the formal initial assessment. (Refer to ELL Policy Brief and EPIC.)
East Fordham Academy for the Arts is a small middle school learning community. Enrollment as of November 2013 is 356 students total with 82 of those students (23.03 %) being identified as English Language Learners. In order to ensure that all English Language Learners are identified properly, procedures have been established at the school level and communicated to key staff members so that all protocol is followed.
Upon initial enrollment of any first time entrant into the New York City Public School System, our Pupil Accounting Secretary contacts one of the ESL teachers or the Assistant Principal to conduct an interview in both English and Spanish with the parent and child enrolling in the school and to administer the Home Language Identification Survey. Using the data on the Home Language Survey and information provided in the interview, the pedagogue determines whether the student is eligible for the LAB-R exam in English and consequently in Spanish if the student is Spanish speaking. The LAB-R is then administered to those students eligible for testing within their first ten days of school and hand-scored at the school by an ESL teacher to determine the student's level of English proficiency. If it is determined that the student is an English Language Learner, parents are immediately contacted and asked to come in to the school for an orientation. Parents are presented with the video provided by the Office of English Language Learners explaining the structure of the three programs offered for students who are ELLs. Our Parent Coordinator answers questions that parents may have regarding the programs and provides parents with the Program Selection Form and Survey, describing what the importance of the form is and what happens if the form is not returned. To assist parents in selecting the right program for their children, they are given information regarding the results of the LAB-R. To ensure that forms are returned our Parent Coordinator outreaches to parents through phone calls or through written correspondence. Once the forms are returned, new students are placed accordingly to their parental choice. Currently, our school offers a Transitional Bilingual Program in the 6th grade and Freestanding ESL. If a parent has chosen Dual Language as their number one program choice, they are contacted and given a list of schools in New York City that offer Dual Language and assist parents in finding placement for their child. Copies are made of the completed Home Language Identification Surveys and the Parent Selection Forms and Surveys and they are kept in a Bilingual Compliance Binder by the ELL Liaison. Originals are placed in the students' cumulative record cards.

Students who were identified as ELLs in their previous schools are placed according to the program that they were last in to ensure that there is continuity and fidelity to the program as per research stating that students who are consistently in one program make better progress than those who are switched back and forth between programs. Our Assistant Principal and Pupil Accounting Secretary review the student's BESIS history to ensure they are being placed accordingly. In case of a discrepancy, parents are contacted and meet with the Assistant Principal to discuss the student's history and ensure that parents have a say as to which program their child will be placed in. Any outreach that is done to parents is presented in both English and Spanish so that parents receive the information in their native language. Bilingual staff members are always available to ensure that there is communication between the school and parents.

2. What structures are in place at your school to ensure that parents understand all three program choices (Transitional Bilingual, Dual Language, Freestanding ESL)? Please describe the process, outreach plan, and timelines.

To ensure that parents understand the three program choices, the Parent Coordinator holds an orientation for the parents of any newly identified ELLs. During this meeting, the Parent Coordinator shows the NYCDOE Parent Orientation Video in the parents' native language describing the three program choices. Parents are also provided with the ELL Parent Brochure that has a summary of the three programs as a reference guide. The Parent Coordinator has been trained to answer any questions in regards to the goals and the programming of each of the three program choices. Parents are also provided with an overview of their child's performance on the LAB-R and Spanish Lab as a point of reference of which program would best suit their child's needs. In addition, parents are given the opportunity to ask questions in regards to the programs before selecting a program. Parents who do not attend the initial orientation are provided with multiple opportunities to come in for the orientation. In case a parent is unable to attend, the Parent Coordinator calls the parent and provides the information via telephone conference and sends home the program selection form with students. All effort is made to have this process completed within the first ten days of enrollment.

3. Describe how your school ensures that entitlement letters are distributed and Parent Survey and Program Selection forms are returned, and secured/stored. (If a form is not returned, the default program for ELLs is Transitional Bilingual Education as per CR Part 154 [\[see tool kit\]](#).)

Entitlement letters are sent out to all students who are still entitled to receive ELL services as per the results of the NYSESLAT. Two copies are sent home to every parent of an ELL, one copy to be returned to the school signed as acknowledgement that the letter was received and the other copy for the parent's records. The returned copies are placed in the students' cumulative records. If the form is not returned signed, a copy of the original letter goes into the student's cumulative record.

Program selection forms are given to parents at the ELL Parent Orientation Meeting. Parents are given time to ask questions in regards to the programs and also given the time to complete the form at the orientation. If the parent is unable to attend the orientation, the parent is called and provided information over the phone. The parent is also sent an ELL Parent brochure with the summary of all the programs and asked to complete the program selection form. If the form is not returned, the student is placed in the default transitional bilingual program if available for that grade or the Freestanding ESL program.

4. Describe the criteria used and the procedures followed to place identified ELL students in bilingual or ESL instructional programs; description must also include any consultation/communication activities with parents in their native language.

After parents have attended the initial orientation meeting with the Parent Coordinator and have made a determination on which program best suits their child based on the orientation video, LAB-R and Spanish LAB results, parents are asked to select the program of their choice based on the information provided. Once parents have selected the program of their choice, the Parent Coordinator reviews with them their selections and then informs them of the program options available at our school. If the parent selects a program that we have currently available, the student is immediately placed in that program. If their first selection is not available at our school, the parent coordinator informs them of options that are available at our school and provides parents with information of schools that offer their first choice should they opt to transfer their child to a school that offers their first program choice. In the event that the parent opts to not transfer the child, the student is placed in one of the available programs based in the order of preference on the program selection form. Parents are provided information and orientation in their native language. In the event that a parent speaks a language other than what our current staff members speak, the Translation & Interpretation Unit is contacted to provide interpreting services.

5. Describe the steps taken to administer all sections of the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) to all ELLs each year.

Plans for the administration of the NYSESLAT are made well in advance to ensure that all ELLs take the exam each year. A schedule is made that clearly outlines testing procedures, dates of the exam, and students who will be participating in the administration of the exam. Students eligible for the NYSESLAT exam are identified via the RLER report from ATS which will indicate which students are eligible for the NYSESLAT or the LAB-R. The RLER report is cross-referenced with the most up-to-date rosters to ensure that all students that need to take the exam are identified. During the testing window, all staff members are provided a list of students that must take the NYSESLAT and it is a school-wide effort to ensure that all students are in their proper testing rooms. Students who are absent for any section of the NYSESLAT are identified via Absentee forms and are pulled out on consequent days after testing for make-ups. To ensure that there is ample time for make-up NYSESLAT exams, NYSESLAT testing begins on the first day of the testing window as per the current year's testing calendar.

6. After reviewing the Parent Survey and Program Selection forms for the past few years, what is the trend in program choices that parents have requested? (Please provide numbers.) Are the program models offered at your school aligned with parent requests? If no, why not? How will you build alignment between parent choice and program offerings? Describe specific steps underway. ①
The most current RELC report shows that a total of 22 parents have selected the ESL program as their first program choice, 10 have selected the TBE program as their first choice, and 3 have selected the dual language program as their first program choice. This data shows us that ESL is the more popular program choice. To accommodate parent choice, we re-opened our TBE program this school year as there were enough parents that chose TBE to warrant the re-opening of this program. As the data shows, the program models currently available at our school are aligned with the parent requests. If more parents choose the dual language program as the program of choice, plans will be made to implement the program. The plan for the 2014-2015 school year is to continue offering both TBE and freestanding ESL programs.

Part V: ELL Programming

A. Programming and Scheduling Information

1. How is instruction delivered? (see The Practitioners' Work Group for Accelerating English Language Learner Student Achievement: Nine Common Features of Successful Programs for ELLs)
 - a. What are the organizational models (e.g., departmentalized, push-in [co-teaching], pull-out, collaborative, self-contained)?
 - b. What are the program models (e.g., block [class travels together as a group], ungraded [all students regardless of grade are in one class], heterogeneous [mixed proficiency levels], homogeneous [proficiency level is the same in one class])?

Based on the assessment data, the program has been tailored to allow for additional in classroom support to ELLs. Currently, our school has a transitional bilingual education 6th and 7th grade bridge class and self-contained ESL classes in the 6th, 7th, and 8th grades. Students in the transitional bilingual class have 8 periods of explicit ESL instruction with an ESL certified instructor. In addition to that, the Spanish native language arts teacher pushes in to content area classes and ESL classes to provide additional support in the native language. In addition to that, a second Mathematics certified teacher pushes in twice a week to provide targeted small group instruction to students and co-teach with the Bilingual Mathematics teacher. During ESL instruction, our dually certified ELA and Spanish teacher pulls out students who are at an advanced level to provide them with ELA instruction.

Our self contained classes receive ELA and ESL instruction from an ESL certified teacher. ELA is taught using ESL methodologies and adapted texts that are aligned with the Teacher's College curriculum. Push-in support by other content area teachers is also provided throughout to ensure that students receive more one on one time during instruction.

ELLs in our self-contained and ICT classes receive ESL services as per CR Part 154 mandates from our ESL certified teachers through both push-in and pull-out services. All efforts have been made to minimize the amount of time that students are pulled out so that they are not missing content area instruction. SETSS providers have also been scheduled for both push-in and pull-out services so that ELLs with IEPs are not being pulled out multiple times during the day. This facilitates communication amongst the staff and collaboration.

2. How does the organization of your staff ensure that the mandated number of instructional minutes is provided according to proficiency levels in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, ESL)?
 - a. How are explicit ESL, ELA, and NLA instructional minutes delivered in each program model as per CR Part 154 (see table below)?

To ensure that students receive their mandated number of instructional minutes as per CR Part 154, we have three ESL certified teachers on staff to provide ESL services to all students. One of our ESL teachers provides push in and pull out support to all ELLs that are in a self-contained special education class and an ICT class. She also provides 8 periods of ESL to the students in the transitional bilingual class. Students in the transitional bilingual program also receive one period daily of native language arts. Science and Mathematics are taught in the native language, while social studies, physical education, and dance are taught in English. This ensures that students are receiving the mandated minutes of instruction in English and in the native language. Students in the ESL self-contained classes receive services from the other two ESL certified teachers who also provide students with ELA and Social Studies instruction. The number of minutes that students receive in ESL is based on their proficiency level on the NYSESLAT.

3. Describe how the content areas are delivered in each program model. Please specify language, and the instructional approaches and methods used to make content comprehensible to foster language development and meet the demands of the Common Core Learning Standards.

Students in the TBE program receive Mathematics and Science in their Native Language. Social Studies is taught in English using the SIOP approach. Eight periods of explicit ESL instruction is provided to students in the TBE program as per their NYSESLAT and LAB-R proficiency levels.

ELLs participating in the Freestanding ESL program receive all instruction in English with explicit ESL periods based on their NYSESLAT and LAB-R proficiency levels. The SIOP model is being used across the content areas to ensure that content is comprehensible and that students are receiving the language support needed to develop proficiency in the modalities of listening, reading, speaking, and writing.

4. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in their native languages throughout the year?

Students in the transitional bilingual program are assessed three times a year using the DRA assessment in Spanish. Students also take the Spanish ELE in May to assess their skills in Spanish Literacy. Throughout the year, students are assessed at the end of each instructional unit in their native language arts class. Formative and summative assessments in their native language are provided in their native language arts class to keep tracking their progress.
5. How do you ensure that ELLs are appropriately evaluated in all four modalities of English acquisition throughout the year?

Our school has opted to take the ELL periodic assessment to track the progress of students in the four modalities of the NYSESLAT. During the ESL block, students use the New York ELLs by Continental Press practice book to prepare them for the NYSESLAT. This book is used to provide formative assessments in the four modalities and track the progress of students throughout the year. In April and May, ELLs take the NYSESLAT to determine their proficiency.

6. How do you differentiate instruction for ELL subgroups?
 - a. Describe your instructional plan for SIFE.
 - b. Describe your plan for ELLs who have been in US schools less than three years (newcomers)..
 - c. Describe your plan for ELLs receiving service 4 to 6 years.
 - d. Describe your plan for long-term ELLs (completed 6+ years).
 - e. Describe your plan for former ELLs (in years 1 and 2 after testing proficient).

Currently, we have 5 SIFE ELL students. To meet the educational demands and challenges of this subgroup, teachers have been provided with libraries of high interest low level texts to help students develop their literacy skills. Intervention plans have also been created based on these students most current testing data and teacher observations. These intervention plans detail students' instructional and social-emotional needs and guides teachers in providing them with targeted small group instruction within the classroom. In addition, these ELLs will be invited to participate in the after school Title III program in which they will receive additional support in literacy and mathematics.

As of November 2013, our newcomer ELL population consists of 45 newcomers (0-3 years of services), 18 of which are in the Transitional Bilingual Program and 27 which are in the Freestanding ESL program. Our instructional program for these students is to afford them with as many opportunities as possible so that they can increase their proficiency in English as well as to improve their academic language. Aside from providing them with the mandated ESL periods we implement the use of ESL ReadingSmart to increase these students' English vocabulary during small group instruction and Title III program. These students will also be included in Saturday Academy and Title III after school program.

There are 24 ELLs who have been serviced for four to 6 years. The instructional plan for these students consists of providing them with extra educational support, including small group instruction targeted at the areas where they need instructional support which is determined by testing data, proficiency levels, and teacher observations. These students will also be given the opportunity to enroll in Saturday Academy and Title III after school program. Our Special Education ELLs in this category also receive services as per their IEPs.

There are 13 ELLs who have completed six years of services and are therefore now classified as Long Term ELLs. Seven of these students are in a Special Education class. To ensure that these students reach proficiency in the NYSESLAT, these students will also be included in our Saturday Academy and Title III after school program. Our Special Education ELLs in this category also receive services as per their IEPs.

ELLs who have reached proficiency on the NYSESLAT within the past two years are still given instructional and language support. These ELLs have also been grouped in the homeroom consisting of current ELLs so that they benefit from the support that our ESL teacher provides when she pushes in to the class. We plan to also include these students in any supplemental program created from Title III funds. All testing accommodations for ELLs are also given to students falling within this category.

7. What instructional strategies and grade-level materials do teachers of ELL-SWDs use that both provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English language development?

Teachers of ELL-SWDs use various strategies to provide access to academic content areas and accelerate English Language development. These strategies include using various visual and audio devices to appeal to the learning styles of the diverse student population. As our school uses the workshop model, lessons and activities are always modeled for students so that they have clear understanding of the task that needs to be completed. Various graphic organizers are used to scaffold information for students and help them organize their ideas effectively. Students are also given the opportunity to preview passages prior to delving into them and engage in accountable talk with peers. Materials tailored specifically for ELLs, such as Access Newcomers and Access World History and American History are used to teach language skills content matter to ELL-SWDs. In addition, the SIOP model is being implemented so that teachers are required to have a language and a content objective to make content more accessible. Throughout lessons, teachers use guiding questions to help students comprehend the material. Teachers also use various points of checking for understanding to ensure that students are on task and that they are understanding the material being delivered.

8. How does your school use curricular, instructional, and scheduling flexibility to enable diverse ELL-SWDs to achieve their IEP goals and attain English proficiency within the least restrictive environment?

To ensure that ELL-SWDs achieve their IEP goals, students' IEPs are reviewed to determine if the student is receiving the appropriate supports necessary to meet their goals. IEPs are revised based on the progress that students have made based on testing data and teacher observations. An ESL teacher is included in any session in which a revision of an IEP of an ELL-SWD is made to provide insight as to the student's language acquisition. Students are placed in the least restrictive environment based on their abilities. Students are also able to receive flexible programming if it is determined that the student is able to be mainstreamed into a less restrictive environment on specific subject areas. ELL-SWDs are provided with support through participation in the Title III after school program and Saturday Academy in which they receive additional instructional support.

Native Language Usage and Supports

The chart below is a visual representation designed to show the variation of native language usage and supports across the program models. Please note that native language support is never zero.

TBE and dual language programs have both native language arts and subject areas taught in the native language; ESL has native language supports.

9. Describe your targeted intervention programs for ELLs in ELA, math, and other content areas (specify ELL subgroups targeted). Please list the range of intervention services offered in your school for the above areas as well as the language(s) in which they are offered.

In ELA, all ELLs are provided instruction via the Teachers' College curriculum. Adaptations are made to this curriculum by adapting various text that meet the reading levels and skills of our various ELL subgroups. Low level, high interest books have been purchased to allow students access to reading material at their level. Intervention plans have also been made to target specific groups based on data and academic strengths and weaknesses.

In Mathematics, students are using the GO MATH program. This program is available in both English and Spanish for students that need the support in the native language. A bilingual mathematics certified teacher pushes in to various classes with ELLs to provide additional instructional support.

In Science, students receive additional support through ESL push in services. Currently, our eighth grade Science teacher is also completing her ESL license requirements and uses ESL strategies to teach students in our self-contained ESL classes.

10. Describe the effectiveness of your current program and how it is meeting the needs of your ELLs in both content and language development.

Our current program is allowing us to fully service all ELLs by an ESL certified teacher and allowing us to provide them with explicit ESL periods that give them the support necessary in English Language acquisition. We are also able to provide them with additional instructional support through strategic use of content area teachers to push in to classes with ELLs so that there is more targeted small group instruction. All teachers received class profiles for every class in the school that breaks down which students in each class are ELLs and their proficiency levels. These profile sheets are a quick reference guide for teachers so that they are aware that they cognizant that they are instructing ELLs and so that they are able to group students accordingly to provide targeted instruction.

11. What new programs or improvements will be considered for the upcoming school year?

For the upcoming school year, we will be considering restructuring the programming for ELLs by trying to provide them with an ESL certified teacher in Science. We will also be considering full implemetation of the SIOP program as we are rolling it out this year by components.

12. What programs/services for ELLs will be discontinued and why?

As of now, there are no plans to discontinue any programs or services for ELLs.

13. How are ELLs afforded equal access to all school programs? Describe after school and supplemental services offered to ELLs in your building.

ELLs are invited to participate in all after school programs available at the school. This includes boys' and girls' basketball, dance, musical theater, and band. ELLs are also invited to participate in our Title III program strictly designed for ELLs. ELLs will also be afforded the opportunity to participate in the Saturday Academy testing sophistication program.

14. What instructional materials, including technology, are used to support ELLs (include content area as well as language materials; list ELL subgroups if necessary)?

The following materials are available to support ELLs:

- * Smart Boards
- * Laprop carts
- * iPads
- * Document cameras
- * Bilingual glossaries
- * Native Language Libraries
- * ACCESS books
- * ESL ReadingSmart
- * iReady

15. How is native language support delivered in each program model (TBE, Dual Language, and ESL)?

Students in the TBE program receive one period daily of Spanish Native Language Arts. They also receive Mathematics and Science instruction in Spanish. Spanish classroom libraries are present in all bilingual classrooms. Students also use bilingual glossaries in courses taught in English.

Students in freestanding ESL have bilingual glossaries available to them to provide them with Native Language support.

Materials such as textbooks are also provided in both English and Spanish to provide additional support. Classroom libraries are available in spanish in all classrooms.

16. Explain how the required services support, and resources correspond to ELLs' ages and grade levels.

Upon initial enrollment students are placed in the grade level that corresponds with their age. This ensures that students are receiving the required support and resources that correspond to their age. After initial assessments, such as the SIFE Diagnostic, the staff determines if a student is at the current grade level that corresponds to his/her age. If the student is two grades below grade level and it is determined that they have interrupted formal education, students receive in classroom support and proper scaffolding during instruction to meet their educational needs.

17. Describe activities in your school that assist newly enrolled ELL students before the beginning of the school year. Please include activities for new ELLs who enroll throughout the school year.

Parents of newly enrolled ELLs are invited to an initial orientation session in which they choose the type of bilingual program that they would like for their child. In addition, parents are provided with resources at this session that will help them understand the curriculum and the Common Core Learning Standards. Newly enrolled students have the opportunity to participate in all after school activities available to students, including basketball, dance, music, musical theater, and academic support programs. In addition, the Guidance Counselor meets with these students to assess their readiness to assimilate in the new environment and follows up with students if needed to help them adjust to the new environment and instructional expectations.

18. What language electives are offered to ELLs?

Currently, there are no language electives being offered. Plans are being made to offer language electives for the 2014-2015 school year.

19. For schools with dual language programs:

- a. How much time (%) is the target language used for EPs and ELLs in each grade?
- b. How much of the instructional day are EPs and ELLs integrated? What content areas are taught separately?
- c. How is language separated for instruction (time, subject, teacher, theme)?
- d. What Dual Language model is used (side-by-side, self-contained, other)?
- e. Is emergent literacy taught in child's native language first (sequential), or are both languages taught at the same time (simultaneous)?

N/A

C. Professional Development and Support for School Staff

1. Describe the professional development plan for all ELL personnel at the school. (Please include all teachers of ELLs.)
2. What professional development is offered to teachers of ELLs (including ESL and bilingual teachers) in supporting ELLs as they engage in the Common Core Learning Standards?
3. What support do you provide staff to assist ELLs as they transition from elementary to middle and/or middle to high school?
4. Describe the minimum 7.5 hours of ELL training (10 hours for special education teachers) for all staff (including non-ELL teachers) as per Jose P.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND SUPPORT FOR SCHOOL STAFF

It is important that all staff members are knowledgeable of teaching strategies that are successful for teaching English Language Learners. Throughout our summer planning session, professional development was provided to all staff, including teachers, paraprofessionals and out of classroom personnel such as the guidance counselor, Special Education Coach, Instructional Coach, and Dean, regarding ESL methodologies. The ELL Liaison and ESL teacher attended a QTEL institute as well as sessions to provide assistance with the Language Allocation Policy and the planning for a new Transitional Bilingual Program. The ELL Liaison also held a Professional Development session for all staff outlining the process for identifying ELLs, ELL subgroups, and compliance issues.

Throughout the 2013-2014 school year, we are projecting to hold at least five professional development sessions for all staff hosted by the bilingual Coordinator or ESL teacher to help staff members become more knowledgeable of successful strategies for teaching ELLs. Possible topics for these professional development questions are:

- Analyzing NYSESLAT scores and proficiency levels in modalities to guide classroom instruction
- Scaffolding for ELLs
- Project-based learning for English language Learners
- Technology resources for English language Learners
- Total Physical Response
- Making instruction comprehensible for ELLs
- Using context clues to provide meaning for instruction
- Flexible grouping using NYSESLAT modality results

Staff members are also encouraged to attend professional development offerings from the Office of English Language Learners as well as the Leadership Support Organization. Plans are also being made for key staff members to attend the upcoming NYSABE conference.

D. Parental Involvement

1. Describe ELL parent involvement in your school. Include specific activities that foster parental involvement for parents of ELLs.
2. Does the school partner with other agencies or Community Based Organizations to provide workshops or services to ELL parents?
3. How do you evaluate the needs of the parents?
4. How do your parental involvement activities address the needs of the parents?

At the East Fordham Academy for the Arts, we understand that parental involvement is a key factor for the success of our students. We are committed to keep parents informed and to provide them with ideas and tools to assist their children at home. Throughout the year, we will be providing parents with workshops so that they can be partners in their children's learning. Topics for these workshops include:

- Informational sessions on programs for ELLs, identification process, and selection of a program best suited for their children
- Using ARIS to obtain their child's assessment data and identify areas of strength and weaknesses
- Looking at the NYSESLAT: Providing parents with their children's NYSESLAT results and giving them an in-depth look as to the structure of the exam and how they can help their child at home be successful
- Partners in Print: Giving parents ideas on how they can read with their children at home and games they can play with their children to help them retell and comprehend a story

Various staff members, including our ELL Liaison, Parent Coordinator, Guidance Counselor, Instructional Coach, and Family Worker will lead these workshops in conjunction with our Parent Association. Translation Services will be provided at all of our workshops.

LANGUAGE TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETATION 2013-2014 TO 2014-2015

Requirement under Chancellor's Regulations – for all schools

DBN: 10X459 School Name: East Fordham Academy for the Arts

Cluster: 5 Network: 534

Goal: To communicate whenever feasible with non-English speaking parents in their home language in order to support shared parent-school accountability, parent access to information about their children's educational options, and parents' capacity to improve their children's achievement.

Part A: Needs Assessment Findings

1. Describe the data and methodologies used to assess your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs to ensure that all parents are provided with appropriate and timely information in a language they can understand.

Upon initial registration of any student at our school, the primary language of the parent is determined. Our office staff, which includes school aides, a family worker, and the school secretary first communicate with the parent to assess their primary language and provide them with the support needed in order to complete relevant paperwork. The Parent/Guardian Student Ethnic Information (PSE) Form is included in the registration packet that is given to parents. If a student is a new admit to the NYC public schools, a Home Language Identification Survey (HLIS) will be administered by a licensed pedagogue in the language that the parent is more comfortable communicating in. This form clarifies the language of preference in which the parent would like to receive future communications from the school, including correspondences. Parents also complete an Emergency Contact Card that includes health information, a Parent Questionnaire that asks languages spoken at home and parents place of birth. The Parent Coordinator also meets with the parents at time of enrollment to provide assistance with the process and to determine in what language the parent prefers to communicate in. These forms all provide the information needed to determine the language that the parent speaks and to plan for translation services when needed.

Our school secretary meticulously enters this data in ATS and it is used to ensure that our parent's translation needs are fulfilled appropriately. The family worker uses the information to contact parents and inform them of their child's absences or latenesses. School Messenger is also used to communicate with parents of any important events. Messages are sent in the primary languages the parents speak as per the data.

2. Summarize the major findings of your school's written translation and oral interpretation needs. Describe how the findings were reported to the school community.

The data of our school's demographics show that approximately 86% of our students are of Hispanic descent. The language of majority spoken by the parents of our students at home is Spanish with the other parents speaking predominantly English. As such, a bilingual staff member is always available to assist in communicating with parents when they visit the school. All of the correspondence from the school is sent in both English and Spanish. Various staff members serve as translators when teachers contact parents to ensure that parents always remain informed of the progress of their children. Teachers also use the Parent Coordinator, who is bilingual, as a resource to outreach to parents by submitting a parent outreach request form. Translators are always made available at Parent Teacher Conferences

Part B: Strategies and Activities

1. Describe the written translation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Include procedures to ensure timely provision of translated documents to parents determined to be in need of language assistance services. Indicate whether written translation services will be provided by an outside vendor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

All correspondence sent home from the school are translated by in-house staff, which includes the Parent Coordinator or School Secretary, Documents from the New York City Department of Education, such as the Discipline Code, School Calendar, School Compact, and Bill of Parents Rights and Responsibilities are also ordered and sent home in both languages. Signs are posted throughout the school, including the main office, of availability of translation services at our school. Our school website powered through eChalk also has the feature of translating all of the content into various languages. The website has day to day information and helps keep our parents informed of important events in addition to correspondence sent home.

2. Describe the oral interpretation services the school will provide, and how they will meet identified needs indicated in Part A. Indicate whether oral interpretation services will be provided by an outside contractor, or in-house by school staff or parent volunteers.

The students in our school are predominantly Hispanic and as such Spanish is the predominant language for oral interpretation services. Our school is well equipped to meet the needs of our school community's oral interpretation needs. All of the main office staff are bilingual in English and Spanish and are available to translate for parents when needed. In addition, our Parent Coordinator is also bilingual and assists non-English speaking parents obtain the information they need from the school by translating when needed. In addition, many of our staff members, including the Assistant Principal, Parent Coordinator, Guidance Counselor, teachers, and paraprofessionals, are also bilingual and provide interpretation services when required. In the case of a parent who speaks a language other than English or Spanish, one of our office staff members will contact the Translation and Interpretation unit of the New York City Department of Education to provide interpretation services for low incidence languages.

3. Describe how the school will fulfill Section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 regarding parental notification requirements for translation and interpretation services. Note: The full text of Chancellor's Regulations A-663 (Translations) is available via the following link:
<http://docs.nycenet.edu/docushare/dsweb/Get/Document-151/A-663%20Translation%203-27-06%20.pdf>.

To fulfill section VII of Chancellor's Regulations A-663, all correspondence sent home from the school are translated by in-house staff, which includes the Parent Coordinator, School Secretary, or Assistant Principal. Documents from the New York City Department of Education, such as the Discipline Code, School Calendar, School Compact, and Bill of Parents Rights and Responsibilities are also ordered and sent home in both languages. Signs are posted throughout the school, including the main office, of availability of translation services at our school. Our school website powered through eChalk also has the feature of translating all of the content into various languages. The website has day to day information and helps keep our parents informed of important events in addition to correspondence sent home.

2012-13 Comprehensive Education Plan (CEP)

Title III Supplemental Program for ELLs

Directions: Title III supplemental services for ELLs must include all of the following three components:

- Direct instruction: activities must be used to support language development, English and native language instruction, high academic achievement in math, and/or other core academic areas.
 - The Title III supplemental instructional services must be based on student need
 - These supplemental services should complement core bilingual and ESL services required under CR Part 154.
 - Direct supplemental services should be provided for before school, after school, and Saturday programs as well as reduced class-size, and/or push-in services.
 - Teachers providing the services must be certified bilingual education and/or ESL teachers.
- High quality professional development that is “of sufficient intensity and duration to have a positive and lasting impact on the teachers’ performance in classrooms.”
 - Professional development activities should be well-planned, ongoing events rather than one-day or short-term workshops and conferences.
- Parent engagement and supports must ensure that there are appropriate translation and interpretation services to meet community needs.
 - These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

According to the results from the data of the 2012 New York State Testing Program, our English Language Learners are not meeting accountability measures and making progress based on the targets set by New York State. In English Language Arts, only 2% of our English Language Learners met proficiency (scored 3 or higher) compared to the 23% of students in general education that met proficiency. In Mathematics, 20% of English Language Learners met proficiency in comparison to 46% of the general education population. NYSESLAT data also shows that ELLs missed AMAO 1 by 6.85% and AMAO 2 by .64%. In order to help English Language Learners meet proficiency in ELA and Mathematics and make gains on the NYSESLAT, our school will implement a Saturday program for ELLs in which we will target deficiencies in skills needed to obtain proficiency and/or make progress on the New York State exams.

English Language Learners in grades 6-8 will participate in a Saturday program beginning in February for 6 weeks total, 3 hours each week. Instruction will focus on intense intervention in ELA and Mathematics through the integration of technology. In Mathematics, Smart Board Notebook software will be used to create interactive lessons to help students understand abstract Mathematical concepts. In ELA, My Access will be used as supplemental material to increase students' reading comprehension and writing skills. Students will rotate in 60 minute blocks of instruction in these core areas. Students will also receive a 60 minute block of explicit ESL instruction in which they will focus on developing the four modalities of language acquisition (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) using Empire NYSESLAT from Continental Press. To ensure that scaffolds and strategies for ELLs are being implemented, our ESL teachers and content area teachers will be collaborating through 1 hour co-planning sessions each Saturday. Total Physical Response (TPR) and scaffolding techniques will be used to increase academic language skills in English. The TPR approach is supported by scientifically based research that indicates that language is best supported by multi-sensory activities. Technology will be integrated through the use of Lenovo Ideapad netbooks, SmartBoards, and Smart Response systems to gather data. The program will include extensive writing activities using balanced literacy approaches and My Access to improve student reading and comprehension skills in English.

Part C: Professional Development

Describe the school's professional development program for Title III Program teachers as well as other staff responsible for delivery of instruction and services to ELLs.

- rationale
- teachers to receive training
- schedule and duration
- topics to be covered
- name of provider

Begin description here: It is important that all staff members are knowledgeable of teaching strategies that are successful for teaching English Language Learners and academic and social challenges that they may face in the classroom. The Assistant Principal and ESL teachers have attended QTEL institutes and SIOP training so that they may be able to turnkey and model for other staff members.

Throughout the 2012-2013 school year, we are projecting to hold a professional development session monthly for all staff members, including teachers (ELA, Mathematics, Science, Music, Physical Education, Special Education), paraprofessionals, administration, and out of classroom support personnel (guidance counselor, parent coordinator, SBST personnel, secretary, school aides) hosted by the Assistant Principal or ESL teacher to help staff members become more knowledgeable of successful strategies for teaching and working with ELLs. Topics for these professional development questions are:

- Analyzing NYSESLAT scores and proficiency levels in modalities to guide classroom instruction
- QTEL Strategies
- Project-based learning for English language Learners
- Technology resources for English language Learners
- Total Physical Response
- Making instruction comprehensible for ELLs
- Using context clues to provide meaning for instruction
- Flexible grouping using NYSESLAT modality results

Staff members are also encouraged to attend professional development offerings from the Office of English Language Learners as well as the Network Support Organization. Plans are also being made for key staff members to attend the upcoming NYSABE conference.

As per Jose P., all staff must receive a minimum of 7.5 hours of ELL training. In order to meet these requirements, the ELL Liaison will hold monthly professional development sessions in order to meet these requirements. These sessions will be held during Teacher Team meeting times, professional development days, or after-school professional development sessions. The following is a list of the planned professional development sessions:

ELL Identification Process (November: 1hr)

Collaborative Group Work for ELLs (December: 1.5 hrs)

QTEL Strategies for Success (January: 2 hrs)

Using Technology to Engage ELLs (February: 2 hrs)

Differentiating Instruction for ELLs Across the Content Areas (March: 1.5 hrs)

Understanding the NYSESLAT (April: 1 hr)

Part C: Professional Development

All staff members will be required to attend these sessions. Records of agendas for these professional development sessions as well as attendance records and materials used during presentations will be retained in a binder by the ELL Liaison.

Part D: Parental Engagement Activities

Describe the parent engagement activities targeted toward parents of ELLs that will impact higher achievement for ELLs. NOTE: These are in addition to mandated activities, such as parent orientation during ELL identification process.

- rationale
- schedule and duration
- topics to be covered
- name of provider
- how parents will be notified of these activities

Begin description here: At the East Fordham Academy for the Arts, we understand that parental involvement is a key factor for the success of our students. We are committed to keep parents informed and to provide them with ideas and tools to assist their children at home. Throughout the year, we will be providing parents with workshops so that they can be partners in their children's learning. Topics for these workshops include:

- Informational sessions on programs for ELLs, identification process, and selection of a program best suited for their children
- Using ARIS to obtain their child's assessment data and identify areas of strength and weaknesses
- Looking at the NYSESLAT: Providing parents with their children's NYSESLAT results and giving them an in-depth look as to the structure of the exam and how they can help their child at home be successful
- Partners in Print: Giving parents ideas on how they can read with their children at home and games they can play with their children to help them retell and comprehend a story

Various staff members, including our ELL Liaison, Parent Coordinator, Guidance Counselor, Instructional Coach, and Family Worker will lead these workshops in conjunction with our Parent Association. Translation Services will be provided at all of our workshops.

An Adult ESL program to assist parents in becoming proficient in English.

In order to assess the needs of the parents, our Parent Coordinator, Iris Torres, communicates and outreaches to parents on a daily basis through phone calls or correspondence to assess what services parents need from the school. The Parent Coordinator is the liaison between school staff and the parents. For the Adult ESL program that will be implemented, she will provide parents with information for the program and a survey to assess interest in the program and level of English proficiency. The

Part D: Parental Engagement Activities

Adult ESL program will be facilitated by one of our ESL licensed teachers. Records of attendance and topics of workshops are kept in the Parent Coordinator's Binder. By looking at the records from previous years and reflecting on the success of the workshop offerings, we are able to determine what workshops most interest parents and align those to the current workshop offerings.
