SUBJECT: City Year New York

The City Year New York program is a public/private partnership between the New York City Department of Education (DOE), AmeriCorps and private entities. City Year organizes 17 to 24 year-olds to volunteer for a year of full-time service to their community and country. In New York City, City Year works in twenty (20) high-need public schools, placing City Year AmeriCorps volunteers as school-based mentors and tutors. Each participating school receives full-time services from a team of 8 to 12 Corps Members. Corps Members provide academic support, attendance monitoring and incentives, positive behavior support, after-school programming, and in-school programs and activities, such as assemblies and celebrations.

The program's goal is to help children attend school regularly by addressing social-emotional needs and supporting classroom instruction. Through interaction with City Year mentors, children learn about global issues, leadership, conflict resolution and acquire life-long social and academic skills. The program nurtures both the volunteers and the children by setting examples and by inspiring them to bring their skills back to their communities. DOE funds roughly 20 percent of the total program cost. The DOE funds primarily support personnel costs including portions of City Year program staff salaries and Corps Members' stipends.

The City Year New York allocation is displayed in Table 1. Each participating school receives $90,835 in tax levy funds. Funds will be auto-moded into the TL City Year New York allocation category under object code 685, program name "City Year." No budgetary action is required by the participating schools as OSYD would manage all the funds to be pre-encumbered for the City Year contract.
