

A c k n o w l e d g m e n t s

Virtual Enterprises, International, a program initiative of the Office of High Schools of the New York City Department of Education, wishes to thank the following individuals for their support of this project:

Dr. Diana Lam, Deputy Chancellor for Teaching and Learning
Ms. Rose Albanese-DePinto, Senior Superintendent for High Schools
Elizabeth Sciabarra, Superintendent for Specialized High Schools
Dr. Peter Kaufman, Director, Office of Career & Technical Education
Supervisors of Career and Technical Education in each high school superintendency:
Noma Blechman, Brooklyn;
Esta Abrons, BASIS;
Angela Lambert, Queens;
Evda Darios, Manhattan;
Martin Siegel, Bronx;
Robert Weinstein, Alternative.

A special thank you goes to Lloyd Bromberg, Director of Educational Services, Federal Reserve Bank of New York, for his guidance and development of these units.

Several writers collaborated on the framing and preparation of this unit:

Ms. MaryAnn Baldari, Teacher of Economics and Coordinator of Virtual Enterprises, Fort Hamilton High School.
Amy Strassler, MBA, Columbia University, Teacher of Economics and Coordinator of Virtual Enterprises, Leadership and Public Service High School.

The following individuals gave guidance and critical support to the project's development to ensure that it met program goals and objectives. They also assisted in the organization and delivery of professional development on the use of this document in the VE environment.

Iris Blanc, Director, Virtual Enterprises, International
Lloyd Bromberg, Director of Educational Programs, Federal Reserve Bank of New York
Phyllis Frankfort, President, Merging Business & Academics
Richard Levitt, Assistant Director, Virtual Enterprises, International
John Jastremski, Assistant Director, Virtual Enterprises, International
Amy Strassler, Teacher of Economics, High School for Leadership and Public Service

Finally, a special thank-you goes to Muriel Siebert, Founder and President of Muriel Siebert & Company, for her commitment to educating young people in economics and personal finance and for her support in developing the Personal Finance Program.

The manuscript was prepared for publication by the Office of Instructional Publications, Nicholas A. Aiello, Ph.D., Director; and Christopher Sgarro, Editor-in-Chief, who edited and formatted the book.